Continuation of TABLE XLVI.

ROMAN Republick.

This Year the War with the Volsci, and the Absence of the Military Tribunes gave the Senate an Opportunity again to bring in Consuls, tho' much opposed by the Tribunes of the People, who next Year got the People to chuse again

And the Senate next Year made Consuls again: but at the End of this Year such a Contention arose about two Quaestors or Treasurers, whom the Commons would have to be of their Body, that the Roman State seem'd to be dissolv'd, till Papirius took upon him the Office of INTERREX, and calling a Senate prevail'd again to admit of

Papirius also mov'd that Four Quaestors be chosen, Patricians or Plebeians, as the People in their Comitia pleas'd: but both Consular Tribunes and Quaestors were still all Patricians.

The Slaves conspired to fire the City, and seize the Capitol; but the Plot was timely discover'd. While the Aequi join'd the Men of Lavicum to distress the Roman Republick, the Military or Consular Tribunes quarrell'd for Superiority; but the Senate created a second Time

Servilius Puleius DICTATOR, who made his Son Aquila his Master of Horse: and Servilius having forthwith bravely attackt and repuls'd the Enemy, hid down his Office in Eight Days.

The Byzantines, Chalcedonians, and Thracians, massacred the People of Bithynia. Diod.

AMYTEUS the Saite having drove the Persians out of Egypt, began to reign there during 6 Years.

Old Contentions that reviv'd between the Patricians and Plebeians about the Agarian Law again dissolved the Government, till Junius took upon him to be INTERREX, and again brought in Consuls, who ruled five Years, tho' the Commons much oppos'd it.

In this 20th Year of the Peloponnesian War, the Athenians and Lacedaemonians fought with great Fury.

This is the last Year of the first 7 Weeks of Daniel's 70 Weeks, or the 49th Year of the 490 Years.

The Aequi and Volsci strengthen'd by Auxiliaries, having much distress'd the Roman Territory, and the Commons refusing to enlist themselves, the Senate again consented to set up three of the Quaestors of their Rank, the first Plebeian Quaestors; and also to allow again of

Military TRIBUNES, who ruled 16 Years,

But They not being successful in War, another DICTATOR was chosen, the brave Corneilius Cossus, who made Servilius Ahala his Master of Horse, overthrew the Enemy in Battel, wasted their Country, and return'd in Triumph.

AMYTEUS being dead, was succeeded by

NEPHERITES I. who now began to reign in Egypt during Six Years.

The Romans brought home much Plunder from Anxur or Terracina a Volscian City; and the Senate decreed to pay the Army with Brass Money, which was the first Time that Roman Soldiers receiv'd publick Pay. And now the Volsci sued for Peace, the Patricians and Plebeians were much reconciled, the Roman Territory was increas'd, hot War was proclaim'd against the Veientes, and their Capital Veii the Rival of Rome, was blockaded, from which the Romans were resolv'd never to depart Summer and Winter, till They had ruin'd it; and lay before it ten Years.

The Commons now got the Number of the Military TRIBUNES increas'd to Six, as at first design'd, but no Plebeian was yet elected.

Epistander General of the Lacedaemonians, having last Year beat the Athenians at the Goat's River in the Hellepont, laid Siege to Athens this Year, and having dismantl'd and ruin'd it, the Lacedaemonians gloriously finish'd the Peloponnesian War: a little after, within the same Year Darius Nothus died, and his eldest Son

ARTAXERXES Mnemon King of Persia, began to reign,

Alcibiades the brave Athenian General, was unjustly put to Death by Pharnabazus.

Nepherites being dead,

Achoris King of Egypt began to reign during 12 Years.

Isocrates the Orator flourish'd, and Democritus the Philosopher died.

Now Cyrus the younger Brother of Artaxerxes Mnemon, march'd to dethrone his Brother thro' Lesser Asia and the Straits of Cilicia, to the Plains of Carmania in Persia, where he was slain in Battel; and from whence the excellent Historian and brave General Xenophon made his glorious Retreat at the Head of 10 Grecians.

The Plebeians publish'd the Agarian Law among themselves, but not in the Senate; and this Year They first prevail'd to get a Commodor, Licinius Calvus, to be chosen one of the Military TRIBUNES.

ROMAN Republick.

The Siege of Veii was still carried on, but with various Success, and under divers Commanders; the Besiegers being aided by the Falisci, one of the 12 Nations of Hetruria, and the Romans were diverted by the Volsces. In the Third Year of the Siege the valiant Junius Camillus was made one of the Censors, and two Years after he was made a Military TRIBUNE, and again three Years after, or in the 8th Year of the Siege, when he repulsed the Falisci and Capenates; and in the tenth and last Year of the Siege, Camillus being made Dictator, made Cornelius Scipio his Master of Horse, totally routed the Confederates of the Veientes, undermin'd that great City, thro' which his Soldiers enter'd it, and took it, which enriched the Romans: and Camillus triumphed solemnly in a Chariot drawn by four Milk White Steeds, which offended the Romans, as what They thought too sacred for a Triumph.

Camillus prudently imploy'd the Commons, and kept them from going to settle at Veii; whereby many of them were again offended. Camillus not having performed his Vow of dedicating the Tenths of the Spoils to Apollo, the Priests cunningly put him in Mind of it: so that after the Soldiers had expended their Shares of the Spol, They were forced upon Oath to restore the Tenths to Apollo; and because They were poor, and there was little Money in Rome, the Ladies parted with their Jewels and Ornaments to enable them; for which the Senate decreed, that for the future They should have the Honour of funeral Orations; but many of the Commons were thus a third Time offended by Camillus.

This Year Conon beat the Lacedemonians at Sea, in the Battel of Cnidus. The Commons grew more turbulent, moving again for a Separation from the Patricians, but the War with the Falisci prevented it: but Camillus as Military Tribune led forth the Army, besieged Falerii their Capital, and for discouraging the Treachery of a Schoolmaster that offer'd to deliver up the Sons of the Nobility and Magistrates, the People surrender'd to that generous Roman, who only fin'd them, and receiv'd them and all the Falisci into Friendship. But his Soldiers expecting Plunder, were highly disgusted, and resolv'd to ruine him.

This Year Conon rebuilt Athens; and the Senate of Rome prevail'd to chuse again consuls, who rul'd two Years. The Lacedemonians were forced to make Peace with the Persians upon dishonourable Terms.

This Year Consuls ruled at Rome, after the Military Tribunes had ruled about 16 Years. But next Year The Romans would again have Military TRIBUNES, when the Tribunes of the People again mov'd for a Separation from the Patricians, and being sharply opposed by Camillus, They impeached him of Frauds in the Plunder of the late War; but he perceiving the Mob were resolved to condemn him, left the City, wishing They might stand in need of him; which soon came about: for

This Year also the Gauls, call'd Senones, inhabiting the Country now call'd Lombardy, wanting a larger Country for their Numbers, marched under their King BRENNUS into Hetruria, besieged Clusium a City in Alliance with Rome; and upon just Provocation marched towards Rome itself, and defeated the Romans at the River Allia. ROME was all in Consternation and Confusion, and was abandon'd by most of the Citizens, except a few that fortify'd themselves in the Capitol, and the old Senators that cloathed themselves in their most gorgeous Attire, and sitting in their Ivory Chairs in the Forum, waited there to die by the Gauls; who entering the City slew them all, and every Roman They found, plunder'd the City, burnt it down to the Ground, and laid Siege to the Capitol.

| ROME lying in Ashes, the Senators massacred, and the Capitol besieged, the dispersed Romans began to repent of their maltreating the great CAMILLUS, who living privately at Ardea, began to relent, and pity his Country's Wrongs; and exciting the Ardeans to Arms, He cut off a Party of the Gauls, without leaving one to carry the Tidings: upon which the Romans at Veii sent to him to take upon him the Command; but he declin'd it, except those in the Capitol, the true visible Remains of ROME, should empower him; and Pontius Cominius, by a Stratagem, got himself into the Capitol, and from thence brought an Order for him to be DICTATOR, who made Valerius Potitius his Master of Horse, and with an Army of 40000 Men marched against the Gauls. Mean while, the Gauls discovering the Footsteps of Cominius, King BRENNUS order'd a chosen Band in the Night to climb up the same Way, and take the Capitol by Surprise; which They would have done, if They had not been discover'd by the Gagling of Geese, when Manlius, a brave Patrician, and others joining him, tumbled the Gauls down the Rock, none escaping. Yet the Romans for want of Provisions, were forced to capitulate, agreeing to pay a thousand Pound Weight of Gold to BRENNUS, upon which He would forthwith return home. But while the Gold was weighing, and Brennus insulting with Va Vicis, CAMILLUS arriv'd with a choice Party, and took it out of the Scales, telling the Gauls, that it was the Custom of the Romans to deliver their Country with Iron, and not with Gold, and as DICTATOR he annull'd the Contract: upon This both Sides took to Arms, and fought a bloody Battel, wherein CAMILLUS gave Brennus a total Rout, and closely pursuing his Victory, soon clear'd the Roman Territories of the Gauls. Thus in Seven Months ROME was unexpectedly burnt by the Gauls,And They as unexpectedly destroy'd by CAMILLUS, who made a glorious Triumph as a Second ROMULUS. Achasis being dead, PSAMMITICHUS or Psammites King of Egypt reign'd this last Year, and next Year NEPHERITES II. reign'd 4 Months, when NECTENERIS began to reign during 18 Years. Euseb. CAMILLUS was obliged to hold the Office of DICTATOR a whole Year, in order to keep the People from settling at Veii, and to persuade them to rebuild the venerable and lofty Seat of their glorious Ancestors; which was done in a Hurry, and the City wanted much of its former Beauty. When CAMILLUS had served as DICTATOR a whole Year,Military TRIBUNES again were chosen, who ruled about 12 Years, till the Anarchy, But They were soon blockt up by a Confederacy of the Volsci, Aequi, and Hetrurians, till CAMILLUS a third Time DICTATOR, with Servilius Ahala his Master of Horse defeated them. CAMILLUS as Military Tribune defeated the Hetrurians again, with the Hernici and Latines; and this Year three Tribes were added, which made the whole Number 25. The War renew'd with the Volsci made the Romans chuse another DICTATOR, Cornelius Cossus with Quintius Capitolinus his Master of Horse, who soon return'd in Triumph, and put Manlius in Prison for affecting Popularity, with a View to Sovereignty, but soon releas'd him, because of the Clamours of the People: But Manlius growing more insolent, was condemn'd and thrown down the Tarpeian Rock, tho' he had lately saved the Capitol: so jealous was ROME of her Liberty, that no Merit could atone for an Attempt upon it. This Year DOEDALSUS founded the Kingdom of Bithynia, and reign'd at Astacus five Years. CAMILLUS again chosen Military Tribune, marched against the Volsci; and when his Collegue Lucius was defeated, CAMILLUS rose from his sick Bed, rallied upon the Enemy, and gave them a total Rout. Rome being in Convulsions by the Quarrels of Debtors and Creditors, the Men of Prænestæ, a Town of Latium, ravaged the Country to the Walls of Rome. But QUINCTIUS CINCINNATUS the DICTATOR, with Sempronius Attatinus his Major of Horse, defeated them, and took their City, with Eight Towns its Dependants, in 20 Days, and laid down his Office. Fabius Ambustus a Tribune, having married one Daughter to a Patrician, and another to Licinius Stolo a Plebeian, and the latter being uneasy at her Husband's wanting equal Honour, Fabius advised with his Son in Law Stolo and L. Sestius, about a Law to make one Consul a Plebeian. Stolo and Sestius being made Tribunes of the People, created such Animosities in the City, that from this Year about five Years running, no supreme Magistrate was chosen, and none acting but the Tribunes of the People and the Aediles, Rome was in Anarchy: Mean while Antiochus King of Persia sail'd in his Descent upon Egypt: and Evagoras King of Salamis in Crete being murder'd, his Son Nicoteles came to reign, the time for whom Isocrates wrote two of his Orations. The Trojan was agreed to the Peace of Antandrus, prepared to attack the Lacedæmonians, and beat them next Year in the Battel of Leuctra: when the Romans again chose | 360   | 120              | 1                  | 16               | 148                          | XCVII. 4   | 3615 }389 }        |                |                  |

Military Tribunes, who ruled 7 Years,

But See the Continuation.

Continuation of TABLE XLVII.

ROMAN Republick.

But the Contests being still kept up, the Senate made CAMILLUS a 4th Time DICTATOR, who, with Semilius Spamerminus his Master of Horse, } brought both Parties to a better Temper.

NECTANEBUS King of Egypt being dead, was succeeded by THEO, who reign'd two Years.

But CAMILLUS finding the People outrageous, soon laid down his Office; when They chose another DICTATOR, MANLIUS Capitolinus, who chose Licinius Stolo his Master of Horse, the first Plebeian that ever obtain'd that Honour, who had been the Occasion of these Confusions, and now prefer'd a Law, That no Man should possess above 500 Acres of Land.

Amidst these Contentions about the Consulship, the Alarm came of the Gauls, marching from the Adriatic towards Rome; which made them all unite in the common Safety; nay they made a Law, That all Men, even the Priests, should carry Arms against the Gauls, tho' at other Times exempted.

THEO King of Egypt being dead, NECTANEBUS succeeded, who reign'd 18 Years.

The Romans unanimously chose CAMILLUS the 5th Time DICTATOR, who, with Quinctius Cincinnatus his Master of Horse, furnish'd his Men with light Iron Helmets, made them bind their wooden Targets round with Brass, and taught them to fence, and to receive the Enemies heavy Blows without Hurt; whereby He overthrew the Gauls at the River Anio; and the Romans now despis'd them as much as They had fear'd them before.

But the brave and wise CAMILLUS had a sharper Fight with the People, who forced him and the Senate to consent to a Law, That Consuls should be revived, and that one of them should be a Plebeian; and the Patricians obtain'd a Prætor out of their Body, or a Deputy Consul, for the Administration of Justice in Causes both Civil and Criminal, or the Chief Judge: They also obtain'd two Ædiles Curules, so call'd from their Ivory Chair, or Cella Curulis; They were Magistrates, and had more Authority than the Ædiles of the Commons, and especially took Care of publick Games, were Licensers of Tragedies, Comedies, and other Writings: and when Generals return'd from War, They deliver'd the Prize of Corn and Provisions to the Ædiles Curules, and the Prisoners to the Prætor, and the Money to the Quæstor.

Thus an End was put to Military Tribunes,
And Consuls revived at ROME;

Now the People were reconciled to the Senate, and a Temple built to Concord, as CAMILLUS had vow'd. But another Alarm from the Gauls and the Hernici, made the Senate comply with the Commons, That every other Year the Curule Ædiles should be chosen out of the Commons. But afterwards They were chosen promiscuously.

The Plague rag'd at Rome, and swept away vast Numbers, among whom was the glorious CAMILLUS. The Romans to appease their Gods, foolishly brought in Stage Players from Hetruria; and Hister in the Hetrurian Language signifying a Player, } thence came the Roman Word Histrion, about 40 Years after the Death of the Greek Comedians Sophocles and Euripides.

The Plague still raging, and some old People affirming, That a former Plague was staid, by the Dictator's driving a Nail, the Senate forthwith made MANLIUS Capitolinus DICTATOR, who made Pinarius Petta his Master of Horse; and with great Ceremony and Superstition, drove a Nail in the right Side of Jupiter's Temple in the Capitol.

The Ground in the Forum cleaving to a vast Depth by an Earthquake, M. Curtius a brave young Soldier, rode arm'd into the Gulph with great Solemnity, that by being swallow'd up, he might purchase the Deliverance of his Country, according to the Declaration of their Gods, or rather of their Priests; for their Gods could not speak.

Cenucius the Plebeian Consul being slain, and his Army being routed by the Hernici, the Senate created CLAUDIUS Gressanus DICTATOR, } who made Cornelius Scipio his Master of Horse, and repulsed the Enemy.

The Gauls in vast Numbers marching within 3 Miles of Rome, the Romans chose QUINTIUS Pennus DICTATOR, who made CORNELIUS Malesianus his Master of Horse; when a Gigantic Champion of the Gauls, stept forth between the Armies, and challenged any Roman to fight him; but T. Caninius, a brave Youth, stept forth and slew him, and took away his Torques or Golden Chain, and from thence call'd Torquatus: upon which the Gauls discouraged, at Night retreated to the Tribartius in Latium, where, with the Hernici, They much damaged the Roman Territories; till

SERVILIUS Ahais was chosen DICTATOR, who made Quinctius Capitolinus his Master of Horse, and soon quell'd the Gauls.

Artaxerxes Minemon King of Persia being dead, was succeeded by his Son,

DARIUS OCHUS, who began to reign this Year;

When the Romans made Peace with the Latines, and from them had good Auxiliaries. But the Gauls Preparations made the Senate to create

SULPITIUS Peticus DICTATOR, who made Clalerius Poplicola his Master of Horse; when two new Tribes were added, in all now 27.

ALEXANDER the Great was born at Pella in Macedonia, and the Temple of Diana at Ephesus was burnt on his Birth Day.

ROMAN Republick.

The whole Body of the Hetrurians took up Arms against Rome, when the Romans chose a Plebeian, MARCUS RUTILUS DICTATOR, who made a Plebeian, PLAURIUS PROCULUS his Master of Horse; and having beat the Enemy, he triumph'd; tho' not with the Senate's Consent.

The Patricians join'd to take away the Consulship from the Commons; which occasion'd many Hears and Disturbances for three Years.

MAUSOLUS King of Caria being dead, his Sister and Widow the mournful ARTEMISIA began to reign; and built for him at Halicarnassus a Monument of the choicest Architecture, accounted one of the seven Wonders of Art.

The Incursions of the Hetrurians made the Romans chuse MANLIUS TORQUATUS DICTATOR, who made CORNELIUS CASSIUS his Master of Horse, and terrify'd the Enemy into Peace: But the Senate was forced to allow again of a Plebeian Consul, and to pay the poor People's Debts out of the Treasury. And so all was quiet at Rome: only a false Rumour of the Hetrurians uniting against Rome, made the Romans chuse CARIUS JULIUS DICTATOR, who made L. AEMILIUS his Master of Horse; but left all to the new Consuls, two Patricians, who beat the Tarquinius and Fabii. Yet this Peace in Rome lasted not long; for PATRICK RUTILUS the late Plebeian Dictator, rais'd new Quarrels by contending to be made one of the Censors: but tho' the Senate, to oppose him, chose M. FABIVS DICTATOR, who made Q. SERVILIUS his Master of Horse, yet the Plebeians prevail'd, and RUTILUS was made a Censor, the first Plebeian in that Office.

OCHUS King of Persia marched into Egypt, where the People revolted to him from King NECTANEBUS, who fled into Ethiopia, and was never more heard of, the last Egyptian that ever reign'd in Egypt: for now Egypt is again a Province of Persia.

The Romans obtain'd a great Victory over the Gauls; but one of the Consuls being wounded, and the other sick, the Senate made FURIUS CAMILLUS DICTATOR, who made CORNELIUS SCIPIO his Master of Horse, and call'd the Comitia for a new Election of Consuls, when he was chosen Consul for the Year ensuing; and leading a brave Army against the Gauls, a Gigantic and pompous Gaul came forth and challeng'd any Roman to fight him, but he was bravely slain by M. VALERIUS a young Colonel, who, because a Crow or Crow assisted him in the Duel, was call'd CORVINUS, and his Ouspring Corvini. This dispirited the Gauls, and the Romans gave them a total Rout.

MANLIUS TORQUATUS was chosen DICTATOR for a new Election of Consuls, who made CORNELIUS CASSIUS his Master of Horse; and VALERIUS CORVUS, tho' only 23 Years old, was chosen a Consul for his great Merit.

And now ROME at Concord, and deliver'd from foreign War, settled their Colonies, and concluded a League with the Carthaginians, who had sent Ambassadors to desire it.

The Arunci, a People beyond the Volsi, invading the Roman Territories, FURIUS CAMILLUS was made DICTATOR a 2<sup>d</sup> Time, who made PAULUS CAECILIUS his Master of Horse, and routed the Enemy in one Battel. This Year Aristotle was invited to the Court of PHILIP King of Macedon, and became the Preceptor of ALEXANDER the Great, then about 12 Years old.

A Temple was dedicated to Juno Moneta on the Capitol Hill; and soon after, several Prodiges frightned the Romans to create VALERIUS POPLICOLA DICTATOR, who made FABIVS AMBUSTUS his Master of Horse, and constituted certain Feasts and Holy Days for appeasing the Gods, and for diverting the Judgments threatned, by Processions and solemn Prayers. The Ediles also smartly punish'd the Usurers of Rome.

And now the Roman Territory was increas'd more than double the Extent of what it was at the Expulsion of the Roman Kings, comprehending all old Latium, and the Countreies of the Volsi, Aequi, Rutuli, Hernici, and Arunci, with most of Sabina, and a good Part of Hetruria: tho' hitherto their Wars were only Defensive, at least not begun without just Provocations, and all nigh home in their own Neighbourhood.

But now increasing in Power, the ROMANS began their Wars with

The Samnites, a warlike People, above 100 Miles South East of Rome, inhabiting a great Part of what is now call'd the Kingdom of Naples, having then seven other Nations their Dependents, viz. the Picentes, Vestini, Marrucini, Frentini, Peligni, Marsi, and Hirpini.

The Samnites had quarrell'd with the Silicini their Neighbours, who apply'd to their Neighbours the Campanians for Succour; and the Campanians being an effeminate People, sent to Rome for Aid, imploring it with Tears, and giving up their Country to the Protection of the Romans; and the Samnites scornning the Mediation of the Romans, the Senate sent their Consuls VALERIUS and CORNELIUS, each with a distinct Army, the one to Capua, and the other to Samnium, and both were victorious, having slain, after an obstinate Resistance, above 30000 Samnites, and both triumphed when DECIVS a Collonel under CORNELIUS, was highly honour'd for his great Bravery.

The Romans being inform'd that the Campanians were so corrupted by the Delicacies of Capua, that They form'd a Design of overthrowing it, and restoring the Trojan to its former Liberty, when it was discover'd. They being afraid of Punishment, gather'd in a great Number and march'd near to Rome. The Senate forthwith create VALERIUS CORVUS DICTATOR, who made SEMELIVS SAMERNIVS his Master of Horse; but the Rebels out of Fear yielded themselves, and were pardon'd. The same Year the Samnites sued for Peace, and obtain'd it, the Samnites being sent to their Merry. Soon after

The Samnites desired the Romans to command the Samnites and Campanians not to assist the Silicini; and these being affronted, that the Romans would not do it; They had both revolted from them, reviving the two Consuls SPONTIVS TORQUATUS and DECIVS QVIVS, march'd an Army to challenge the Latines; and finding by certain Dreams and Prognostications, That the General on one Side, and the Army on the other, were to be destroy'd, the Consuls agreed by Oath, That in what Part the Roman Army should be distress'd, the General of that Part should devote himself to the Gods, and die for his Country! And a strict Charge was given, that no Man upon Pain of Death should fight without Orders. Accordingly

The Latines in the Battel pressing hard upon the Romans under Decius, he rush'd into the midst of the Enemy, and lost his Life, but won the Battel. And the Son of Manlius before the Battel being challenged by Metius Captain of the Tusculans to a Duel, fought him without Orders; but tho' he slew him bravely in Sight of both Armies, his Father with Tears commending his Valour, condemn'd his Disobedience, and put him to Death; which was highly relented by all the Youth of Rome.

Jadduah or Jaddas the Highpriest of Jerusalem, began this Year to officiate, and held it 20 Years.

The People of Antium and Ardea making Incursions into the Roman Territories, Manlius being sick, nam'd PAPYRIUS CRASSUS for Dictator, who made Papyrius Cicer his Master of Horse, and kept the Field some Months in the Enemies Country; but without Action.

The Consuls Emilius and Publius again overthrew the Latines; but the Senate to get rid of them both, chose a Dictator, and Emilius having the Fasces that Month, named his Colleague PUBLIUS PHILLO, the second Plebeian Dictator, who made Junius Brutus his Master of Horse; and in Hatred to the Nobility made three remarkable Laws, 1. That the Plebeians should oblige all Ranks of Citizens. 2. That the Laws enacted in the Centuriata Comitia, should be pass'd or own'd by the Senate, before They were voted by the People. 3. That one of the Censors should always certainly be a Plebeian.

The Consuls Furius Camillus and C. Marnius order'd Padum to be taken by Storm, and pursued the Victory in the Conquest of all Latium, sent a new Colony to Antium, forbid that People to use Navigation, took their long Ships from them, some of which They brought to the Arsenal, and burnt others; but with their Rostra or Beaks the Gallery or Pulpit in the Forum was adorn'd, which from thence was call'd Rostrum.

Schus King of Persia was poison'd by his Favourite Bagoas the Eunuch, who also murder'd all the royal Seed, except

ARSES the King's youngest Son, who now began to reign under the Tutition of Bagoas, who rul'd all,

And this same Year Publius Philo was made Prætor, the first Plebeian in that Office.

PHILIP King of Macedon being made Captain General of all Greece, design'd to make War upon the Persians.

The Sidicini overcame the Arunci, who were neglected by the Romans till too late: but at length Valerius Corvus now the 4th Time Consul beat the Sidicini, and took the City Coles, where he planted a Colony of 2500 Romans.

PHILIP King of Macedon being murder'd by Pausanias, was succeeded by his Son ALEXANDER the Great.

ARSES King of Persia being murder'd by Bagoas, was succeeded by DARIUS Codomannus.

ÆMILIUS Mamercinus Dictator, who made Publius Philo his Master of Horse.

ALEXANDER the Great invaded Asia, and won the Battel of Ganuisus against the Persians.

ALEXANDER gave DARIUS a total Rout in the Battel of Issus in Syria.

ALEXANDER took in Tyre and Gaza, and invaded Egypt, went to the Temple of Jupiter Hammon in Lybia, and founded the City of Alexandria. And Ptolemy the Astronomer being a native of Alexandria, begins ALEXANDER's Reign over the East, or the Grecian Monarchy from this Year: but I begin it from the Death of DARIUS King of Persia.

This Year the Romans fearing an Invasion by the Gauls, created

PAPYRIUS CRASSUS Dictator, who made V. Poplicola his Master of Horse: but They had no Business to do. Two new Roman Tribes were made, being now in all 29 Tribes.

ALEXANDER gave DARIUS another total Rout in the Battel of Gaugameh, near Arbela in Assyria.

At Rome 170 Women were put to Death for using the Art of Poisoning, and the Romans created QUINTIUS Varius Dictator, who made Valerius Potius his Master of Horse, and drove a Nail into Jupiter's Temple to remedy the Distempers of the State.

The Romans defeated Virginius Vaccus an Aruncan, who had drawn in the Inhabitants of Privernum to join him.

And this Year of the Era of Nabonassar 418,

Beilus Governor of Bactria, basely murder'd his Master DARIUS Codomannus the last King of Persia, in his Flight from ALEXANDER the Great;

And so the PERSIAN Monarchy ended

| In the 15 th Year of the Roman Wars with the Samnites,   |       |                             |                    |                              |                             |            |                         |                |                  |
| ALEXANDER the Great, after the Death of DARIUS, and in the 7 th Year of his Reign over Macedonia, began to reign King of Persia, and founded the GRECIAN Monarchy: while the Romans took Vitruvius Prisoner, and Privernum surrender'd, whose Inhabitants were made free of Rome.  | 420   | 180                         | 61                 | 1                            | 1                           | CXII. 4    | 3675 2329 5         | 06             | 3680             |
| The Inhabitants of Paesopolis in Campania (where Naples was afterwards built) supported by the Samnites, and while a Plague raged at Rome, ravaged the Country about Cumae and Falernus.  | 421   | 181                         | 62                 | 2                            | 2                           | CXIII. 1   | 3676 2328 5         |                |                  |
| This Year ALEXANDER in cold Blood put to Death Calisthenes the Philosopher, for his good Admonitions.   | 422   | 182                         | 63                 | 3                            | 3                           |            |                         |                |                  |
| The Romans forced the Paesopolitans to surrender their City, took Three Towns from the Samnites, while ALEXANDER invaded India, and vanquish'd King PORUS.  |       |                             |                    |                              |                             |            |                         |                |                  |
| About this Time one Papirius a beautiful Youth, having made himself the Slave of one Publius a severe Usurer, to work out his Father's Debts; Publius being a Sodomite, attempted to abuse him; and upon Refusal, most cruelly scourged him. But Papirius complaining to the People, They in Resentment procured two Laws, viz. 1. That no Man should be detain'd in Slavery but for heinous Misdemeanors, and not after due Punishment. 2. That the Money and Goods, not the Body of the Debtor, should be responsible. Whereupon all Prisoners for Debt being set at Liberty, the Army was recruited, and Gaius Scipio the Consul defeated the Vestini, the Confederates of the Samnites, and took from them two Towns. Gaius Scipio the other Consul being sick at Samnium, nam'd  | 423   | 183                         | 64                 | 4                            | 4                           | 3          |                         |                |                  |
| PAPIRIUS CURSOR Dictator, who made Fabius Rullianus his Master of Horse, and going to Rome to renew his Auspices, left a strict Charge to Fabius not to fight till he return'd to the Camp: but Fabius finding a great Advantage over the Enemy, fought and overthrew them with a great Slaughter. The Dictator in a Rage return'd to the Camp, and would have put Fabius to Death, but that he was rescued by the Army; and the Senate and the People interceded for him with the Dictator.  | 424   | 184                         | 65                 | 5                            | 5                           | 4          |                         |                | 3684             |
| ALEXANDER the Great died at Babylon by hard drinking, in the 33 <sup>d</sup> Year of his Age, when the Empire was partition'd among his Generals. See Page 139.   | 425   | 185                         | 66                 | 6                            | 6                           | CXIV. 1    | 3680 2324 5         |                | 3683             |
| The Severity of Papirius so alienated the Hearts of the Roman Army, that he almost lost a Battel, till becoming more popular, he defeated the Samnites, and forced them to sue for Peace.   |       |                             |                    |                              | Philipus Arrid-aur Emperor. |            |                         |                |                  |
| ALEXANDER'S Generals not agreeing which of them should succeed him, set up his Bastard Brother PHILIPPUS Arridaurus, who began to reign after a poor Manner this Year, which is the first Year of the Egyptian Era from the Death of ALEXANDER, call'd from him the Philippic Era, commencing on the first Day of Tbeth, or 12 th of November, of the Year that Alexander died.  | 426   | 186                         | 67                 | 7                            | 1                           | 2          | 3681 2323 5         | 7              | 3687             |
| The Samnites revived the War, and growing very powerful, the Roman Senate created CORNELIUS ARFIDIA Dictator, who made Fabius Ambustus his Master of Horse, and routed the Samnites, who sent their Prisoners and Plunder to Rome, in order to purchase Peace, which was deny'd them by the Senate. Irraged at this Refusal, Pontius their General drew out the Samnites to Caudium, and sent ten Soldiers as Spies, in Shepherd's Habit, to misinform the Consul and the Roman Army at Collatia, that the Samnites were besieging Luceria in Apulia, and had almost took it: the Consuls Calpurnius and Posthumius thus deceived, marched forthwith to relieve Luceria, thro' the Straits of Caudium the shortest Way, and were there block'd up by Pontius, whose Father Herennius sent him Advice either to dismiss the Romans generously, which would be a perpetual Obligation on a most powerful Nation, or to cut them all off, which would be a great Weakning of a most formidable Enemy. Pontius followed not this good Advice, but gave the Romans Terms, 1. That the Army should pass under the Jugum or Gallows, in Token of Slavery; and march off divested of their upper Garments. 2. And quit all Samnium, and remove their Colonies. 3. And a firm Alliance made between the Nations. Which disgraceful Terms the Romans being forced to accept, They left 600 Hostages, and return'd to Capua disarmed and half naked; and from thence to Rome with great Shame, Anger and Confusion. The Consuls were asham'd to appear, and therefore the Senate created | 427   | 187                         | 68                 | 8                            | 2                           | 3          |                         |                |                  |

| Papirius Cursor and Publius Philo Consul, when the former Consul generously offer'd themselves to be deliver'd up to the Enemy, and to break the Caudian Treaty, being that only They two were oblig'd to perform the Articles, and not the State: but Pontius the Samnite refusing to receive them, and excusing against the Perfidy of the Romans, Papirius marched the Army inflam'd with Revenge and Fury, beat the Samnites in several Battels, recover'd the Roman Hostages and several Towns, made the Samnite Prisoners pass under the Jugum, and that Nation did with Difficulty obtain a two Year's Truce, during which Time two new Tribes were added, which made the Number 31.   | 429   | 189                         | 70                 | 10                           | 4                           | CXV. 1     | 3684 2320 5         |                |                  |

ROMAN Republick.

Roxana the Widow of ALEXANDER the Great, having in Macedonia put to Death King Philippos Aridaeus, ALEXANDER begus her Son about 7 Years old, was declared sole King of the Grecian Monarchy, tho' he had only the Title, and liv'd not above 7 Years; yet Ptolemy the Astronomer assigns to him 12 Years.
FABIUS PAPIRUS being chosen DICTATOR, made AULIUS CERETANUS his Master of Horse, took in Saticula, and managed the War with great Success against the Samnites.
 While the Successors of Alexander the Great were contending about the Partition of his Empire, the wife and brave Cumenes was basely deliver'd up to ANTIGONUS, who now became Master of all Asia, and expell'd Seleucus from Babylon, who fled to PTOLEMY in Egypt.
C. MENIUS was chosen DICTATOR, who made M. Fostius his Master of Horse, and suppress'd a Rebellion at Capua.
C. PATELIUS was chosen DICTATOR, who made the same Fostius his Master of Horse, and beat the Enemy.
Ptolemy, Seleucus, Lysimachus, and Cassander, had confederated against ANTIGONUS; and Ptolemy having defeated
Demetrius, the Son of Antigonus, at Gaza, drove him out of Phenicia; upon which Ptolemy gave SELEUCUS Nicator 1000 Foot, and 500 Horse, who marching to Babylon recover'd that City, where he had rul'd before, and all the Eastern Parts of the Empire.
 From the Spring of this Year begins the famous Era of SELEUCUS, or of the Kingdom of the Greeks, i Mac. that was uled all over the Ea, call'd by the Jews the Era of Contracts, and by the Arabs Latit Dilmarnam, or the Era of the two horned; because the Statues and Coins of SELEUCUS had two Horns. This first Year of this Era was the

 Year of Daniel's 70 Weeks, _____ 147

And This is reckon'd the first Year of SELEUCUS's Reign, tho' he wore no Diadem, till eight Years after This.

JUNIUS SUBULCUS was chosen DICTATOR this Year against the Hetrurians; but They gave him no Opportunity of Action.
 Now also Appius Claudius the Censor began the famous Cawsey call'd the Via Appia. The War with the Hetrurians continuing, PAPIRUS was chosen DICTATOR, who made Subulcus his Master of Horse, and beat the Enemy with a dreadful Slaughter of all their Chiefs; and the Hetrurians were henceforth never able much to oppose Rome.

ALEXANDER Argus the young Emperor, and his Mother Roxana were murder'd by CASSANDER: but Ptolemy the Astronomer assigns to him 5 Years more, even till the first Year of King PTOLEMY Soter in his Canon.

AGATHOCLES King of Sicily decoy'd Ophellas from Lybia with 20000 Men, to join him against the Carthaginians, and murder'd him to get the Command of his Men.

Detius Mus his Master of Horse.

ANTIGONUS and his Son DEMETRIUS Poliorcetes, now proclaim'd themselves Kings of Asia, wore Each a Diadem and Royal Robe, and us'd the Royal Title in all their Deeds.

And now the Samnites, after many and great Losses, obtain'd Peace from the Romans, and the ancient League was renew'd, about 12 Years after They broke the Truce, and 37 Years after the Beginning of the Wars with the Samnites.

PTOLEMY the Son of Lagus, call'd Soter or Savior by the Rhodesians, proclaim'd himself King of Egypt, and This is his first Year according to Ptolemy the Astronomer's Canon, tho' he had ruled with Royal Power in Egypt, from the Death of Alexander the Great 19 Years.

ANTIGONUS.

The Romans now turn'd their Arms against the Aequi, and chastis'd them for having assisted the Samnites; whereby many other
Italic Nations submitted themselves to Rome, whose Dominions daily increas'd.

King Demetrius took Sicyon and Cerinth in Greece, from King PTOLEMY Soter, and reduced Cassander in Macedonia to sue for Peace. But Cassander finding Demetrius's Terms exorbitant, join'd with Lysimachus, Ptolemy, and Seleucus, against the Designs of ANTIGONUS and Demetrius, and began the War in the Hellepont.

JUNIUS SUBULCUS was chosen DICTATOR, who made M. Titinius his Master of Horse, and clear'd the Country of the Remains of Rome's Enemies.

Continuation of TABLE XLVIII.

ROMAN Republick.

VALERIUS Maximus was chosen Dictator, who made Emilius Paulus his Master of Horse, and marched against the Hetrurians, the Umbrians and Sabines, now Confederates against Rome. He conquer'd all Hetruria, annexing it to the Roman Territories, and a great Part of Umbria, that lay North of Hetruria, and made all foreign Wars to cease.

This same Year SELEUCUS and LYSIMACHUS slew Antigonus in the decisive Battel of Ipsus in Phrygia, and made Demetrius flee to Ephesus. Upon which the Confederates made a new Partition of the Grecian Monarchy, viz.

PTOLEMY Soter got Egypt, Libia, Cyrene, Arabia, Phenicia, Judaea, and Cale Syria.

CASSANDER got Greece and Macedonia.

LYSIMACHUS got Thrace and Bithynia, the Hellepont and Bosphorus.

SELEUCUS got all the Rest.

Home now at Peace abroad, began to quarrel at home, for the Tribunes of the People complain'd, that no Plebeians could be made Priests and Augurs: but the Senate yielded to their Motion, and allow'd five Chief Priests and five Augurs to be added out of the Commons. And Valerius the Consul prefer'd a Law of Appeal more carefully enacted, and subdued the Aequi now in Rebellion, that had nothing left but their bare Courage. SELEUCUS now founded the City Antioch.

This Year there was a Roman Lustrum, and two new Tribes made, being now in all 33.

King CASSANDER died in Macedon, leaving two Sons, Antipater and Alexander, who contended for Succession: and the Samnites again broke their League with the Romans.

PYRRHUS King of Epirus having been kept out of his Kingdom by Demetrius the Usurper, had long follow'd King DEMETRIUS in his Wars; and upon a Peace made between Demetrius and Ptolemy, PYRRHUS as the Hostage of Demetrius went to Egypt with Ptolemy, who gave him to Wife Antigone, the Daughter of his Queen Berenice by her former Husband Philip, a noble Macedonian: and Berenice got Ptolemy to assist PYRRHUS in recovering his Kingdom.

The Romans had overcome the Samnites in several Battels; but now the Samnites having got the Umbrians and Gauls, and some of the Hetrurians to assist them, made a brave Resistance, but were as bravely defeated by the Consul Fabius Maximus and Decius Mus, when Decius follow'd his Father's Example (47 Years before) devoting himself to the Gods, and so lost his Life in the Battel to gain the Victory.

King DEMETRIUS slew Alexander the Son of Cassander, and became King of Macedon during 7 Years.

About this Time Papirius Cursor crected a Sun Dial at Rome, but a very poor one.

PTOLEMY Soter King of Egypt, founded the College and the famous Library of Alexandria.

Papirius the Son of Papirius obtain'd this Year a glorious Victory over the Samnites, took 15000 Prisoners, gain'd several of their Towns, and had a splendid Triumph.

But the Samnites gain'd a signal Victory over the Consul Fabius Curges, whom the Senate would have deposed if his Father Fabius Maximus had not undertook to be his Lieutenant, defeated the Enemy, and obtain'd a Triumph for his Son. And Pontius being taken and slain, the Samnites sued for Peace, and the League was renew'd with them a fourth Time.

Yet the Samnites broke the League in less than a Year, and were justly punish'd with the Loss of several Battels, and more Towns; and the Consul Dentatus triumphed over them twice in one Year, and the Romans sent Colonies to Castrum, Sena, and Adria.

The Strumbiti were now created, or Three Chief Judges to punish Malefactors; and 273000 free Citizens of Rome were cess'd.

King DEMETRIUS left Macedon and Greece with 10000 Men to invade Asia, in order to recover his Father's Dominions; but he was miserably defeated by the Confederates, and at last taken prisoner by SELEUCUS, and died a Prisoner; while SELEUCUS added the Lesser Asia to his Syrian Kingdom.

The Commons of Rome oppress'd with Debts, and quarrelling with the Patricians, withdrew to the Hill Janiculum; this being their third Separation: but the Senate could not.

Publius Valerius their Dictator, who arriv'd to settle them together, promising that their Patricians should have the Force of 100000 Men, and that the Patricians should have the Force of 100000 Men.

| Here end the Roman Wars with the Samnites.And their Wars with PYRRHUS King of Epirus begin.   |       |                            |                    |                              |                 |                 |                  |            |                        |                |                       |
| PYRRHUS King of Epirus arrived at Tarentum, shut up their Gaming Places, and made the Tarentines apply themselves wholly to War. PYRRHUS sent to Lacinus the Roman Consul, in full March against Tarentum, offering to be a Mediator: but Lacinus leading the Messengers thro' the Camp, bid them tell their Master what They had seen, and sent him for Answer, I had be neither esteem'd him as a Mediator, nor fear'd him as an Enemy. Upon which PYRRHUS advanced towards him on the Plain between Pandesia and Heraclea, where a bloody Battel was fought, and the Romans being at length put into Confusion by the Elephants, and then sharply charged by the Thessalian Cavalry, were put to a total Rout, with the Loss of 15000 Men, and 1800 Prisoners; tho' Pyrrhus lost 13000 Men, and was sore wounded himself. PYRRHUS treated his Prisoners with much Courtesy, and observing the slain Romans had stern Countenances, and were all wounded before, he lifted up his Eyes and Voice, saying, O how easily might I conquer the World, were I Master of such Soldiers! and generously buried them. | 469   | 229                        | 110                | 50                           | 5               | 33              | —                | CXXV. 1    | 3724 2280 5        |                |                       |
| PYRRHUS being join'd by the Samnites, Lucani, and Brutii, marched towards Rome; yet sent his Orator Cineas to treat of a Peace, a Man of great Eloquence: but he could not persuade any of the Nobility or their Ladies to accept of his Presents. When Cineas enter'd the Senate, he offer'd to return the Prisoners without Ransom, and to assist them in conquering all Italy, only asking their Friendship and Alliance for his Master and the Tarentines: nay he had almost persuaded the Senate to comply, till Appius Claudius, an old blind Senator, by a warm Oration excited the Senate to dismiss Cineas with this Answer, that They would not treat with Pyrrhus till he had withdrawn his Forces from Italy. When he return'd, Pyrrhus askt him what he thought of Rome? and Cineas reply'd, That the Senate was like an Assembly of Kings, and the People like the Hydra, whose Numbers increas'd by their Defeat; for that the Consul had rais'd twice as great an Army.   |       |                            |                    |                              |                 |                 |                  |            |                        |                |                       |
| The Romans sent C. Fabricius, with others, to PYRRHUS, about the Ransom of Prisoners; and Pyrrhus receiv'd him kindly, first trying him with Gold; but finding that Method fruitless with one that scorn'd Gold, Pyrrhus try'd to frighten him by an Elephant brought into the Room: but Fabricius smiling said, Neither your Gold Yesterday, nor your dreadful Beast to Day, can make any Impression upon me! Upon which PYRRHUS amaz'd at the Greatness of his Soul, generously releas'd the Prisoners, upon his promise, That if the Senate accepted of Peace, They should return to his Camp: and the Senate generously order'd them to return upon Pain of Death. Mean while, the other Consul   |       |                            |                    |                              |                 |                 |                  |            |                        |                |                       |

| SELEUCUS King of Syria, the last of Alexander's Generals, was murder'd by Ptolemy Ceraunus, the elder Brother of Philadelphus.  |       |                            |                    |                              |                 |                 |                  |            |                        |                |                       |

| Sulpicius Sabinus and Decius Mus, the Roman Consuls, now marched against Pyrrhus with a well recruited Army, and met him near Arundum, where They fought a drawn Battel till the Night parted them: but in the Morning PYRRHUS by a Detachment took Possession of the Woods, and forced the Romans to fight on the Plain; where, after a long obstinate Fight, the Romans were so overpowered by the Egyptians, and Archers mix'd with them, and by the Grecian Cavalry, that They retreated to their Camp with the Loss of 6000 Men; yet had slain near 4000 of the Enemy. After the Battel, PYRRHUS said to a Friend, If we overcome the Romans once more, we are utterly ruin'd, for he had lost most of his Friends and his best Troops. And so the Campaign ending, both Sides began to recruit for another.  |       |                            |                    |                              |                 |                 |                  |            |                        |                |                       |
| C. Fabricius and Semilius Papus being chosen Consuls, at the nigh Approach of the Armies, Fabricius receiv'd a Letter from the King's principal Physician, offering to take off Pyrrhus by Poison, if duly rewarded: but the virtuous Fabricius forthwith wrote to Pyrrhus, to let him know what an ill Office he made both of his Friends and himself; that he was at War with honest People, who lov'd Justice and promoted Valour: that the Romans abhor'd Treachery, and us'd to conquer by the Power of their Arms, and not by the Treason of their Enemies Suggests. Upon which PYRRHUS cry'd out, This is that Fabricius, whom it is harder to turn from  |       |                            |                    |                              |                 |                 |                  |            |                        |                |                       | from the Way of Virtue and Honor, than the Sea from its Course! Pyrrhus put to Death his Physician, and not to be behind with the Romans, he sent all the Prisoners to Rome without Ransom, and Cineas to renew the Treaty of Peace: The Romans releas'd as many of the Tarentines and Samnites, but would not treat till PARRHASIUS had sail'd back to Epirus.

The King was much contended, was loth to continue the War, and as loth to quit it dishonourably: but he was soon reliev'd by an honourable Invitation from the People of Sicily, to come over and rescue them from Tyrants, and to expel the Carthaginians from that Island: therefore sending Cineas before, and putting a Garrison in Tarenium, He embarked for Sicily with an Army of 30000 Foot, and 2000 Horse, after he had been in Italy two Years and four Months. Mean while Erasmus, Belgius, Arichorius, and other great Men of the Gauls, who had brought an Army into Greece of 152000 Foot, and 6000 Horse. were many destroy'd there. P. 46.

While PYRRHUS warred successfully in Italy, the Romans were as successful in Italy, punishing his Confederates: and the Remains of the Gauls in Greece pass'd the Hemphox, and enter'd into the Service of NICOMEDUS King of Bitbynia, who gave them that Country to dwell in, call'd Gallio-Græcia and Galatia, and their Offspring were call'd Galatians.

The Tarentines and their Confederates having wrote to Pyrrhus an Account of their being shut up in their Towns by the Romans, and his Conduct in Italy having given much Offence to the Sicilians, Pyrrhus was glad of the Occasion; and so return'd to Tarentum with 20000 Foot, and 2000 Horse.

And this Year Antigonus Gonatas, the Son of King Demetrius Polyorcestes, began to reign King of Macedonia during 34 Years. And Philadelphus King of Egypt caused the Pentateuch of Moses to be translated into Greek by the Septuagint. And the Plague raging in Rome, Cornelius Rufinus the last Year's Consul was chosen Dictator, to perform the Ceremony of driving a Nail into Jupiter's Temple for curing the Plague. At length

Curtius Scutarius and Cornelius Leuculus being chosen Consuls, recruited the Army in Spite of the turbulent People that had refused to fit themselves; and Pyrrhus having recruited his Army, and made new Levies, marched to Samnium, sent one Part of his Army into Lucania, to hinder Leuculus from joining his Colleague, and marched with the other Part against Curtius, then advantageously posted near Beventum, and attempted to surprize the Romans by marching upon them thro' the Woods in the Night; but his Lights fail'd him; and at Break of Day, his Approach being discover'd by the Romans then marching to meet him, Curtius in haste fell upon his Vanguard, kill'd many, put the rest to Flight, and took some Elephants; whereby Pyrrhus's Men were much discouraged.

Curius thus encouraged, ventur'd into the Plain, where the decisive Battel was fought: In one Wing Curius repuls'd the Enemy, but in the other he was repuls'd, by the Violence of the Elephants, back to his Trenches; and thence order'd his Corps de Reserve to fall upon the Beals with Darts and lighted Torches, that the Elephants ran furiously back upon Pyrrhus's Men, bearing them down, and breaking all their Ranks, which Curius improv'd for giving them a total Rout: slaying 23000 of the Enemy, and taking Pyrrhus's Camp, which the Romans admir'd, and from it will learn'd to incamp their whole Army within a Trench; for before this They ignorantly pitched their Tents without Order, like Boats amidst their Battalions. And from their Wars with Pyrrhus They learned also to use a Plain, and how to sustain the Shock of well equip'd Cavalry, which before They had despis'd.

CURIUS DENTATUS obtain'd a most glorious Triumph over PYRRHUS, which was graced with 4 Elephants, and 1300 Prisoners of several Nations, with many Rarities and the Implements of the Tarentine Luxury. A few Days after, his Colleague LENTULUS triumph'd over the Samites and Lecorians, whom he had overthrown much about the same Time.

This same Year the Consul Fabius and Æmilius expelled Rafinus out of the Senate, for having ten Pound Weight of Silver Plate for the Use of his Table, tho' he had been twice Consul and once Dictator. And at the Lustrum 271224 free Citizens were call'd or poll'd.

Pyrrhus bore his Defeat with an undaunted Mind, and sent to Greece and Aſia for Succours, but in vain; yet concealing it from the Tarentines, and telling them a Lie, that Aſſiſtance would ſoon come, he went aboard his Fleet in the Night, with 80000 Foot, and 500 Horſe, and ſail'd over to Epirus, leaving a Garriſon in Tarentum, more for Reputation than for Uſe; about 6 Years after he firſt came into Italy. And having reſided in Epirus, He march'd into Macedon, and bravely beat Antigonus Gonatas out of that Kingdom, where he reſid'd a few Months.

Presents now before the Council of Cardinals, working out into Letters he befriended Santa, which the Women offered to the King and after to him, and then to the King's Men, who recovered Macein, and led all the Kings of the Kingdom.

which They thsnably accepted of him: but next Day crown'd his Statues with them: and at parting He loaded them with rich Presents, which, upon their Return, They put into the publick Treasury, before They appear'd in the Senate.

The Tarentines got the Carthaginians next to assist them; but the Romans defeated them both; and Milo the Commander of PYRRHUS's Garrison, perhaps hearing that his Master was murder'd by a poor old Woman at the Siege of Argos, got Leave from the Consul Papirius to depart with his Men, when the Romans took Possession of the Castle, easily master'd the City, and demolish'd its Walls: whereby Peace and Liberty were restored, and both the Tarentin and Samnite Wars were finish'd. The Samnite Wars, with some Intermissions, had lasted in all 72 Years, and over them the Romans had triumphed 30 Times. After this

The Campanian Legion, who had revolted and seiz'd the City Reginum, were forced to surrender it, and were all put to Death by 50 at a Time: and the Inhabitants of Apollonia in Illyricum sent Ambassadors to Rome, who being maltreated by some unruly Noblemen, the Senate deliver'd up the Rioters to the Apollonians: and the same Year the Picentes were subdued, and Roman Colonies were sent to their Capital Ariminum, and to Beneventum, a City of the Samnites.

The Romans growing rich by Conquests, now first coin'd Silver Money; for till now They had only us'd Brass Money. —

ANTIGONUS Gonatas King of Macedonia became formidable to all Greece, and seiz'd Athens. The Sabines that had been long Devisors of Rome, were now also admitted to vote at Elections.

MAGAS the Son of Berenice late Queen of Egypt (by her first Husband Philip the Macedonian) revolted from Philadelphus, and made himself King of Lybia and Cyrene.

The Number of the Roman Quaestors were now increas'd from four to eight; and the Romans this Year having reduced the Umbri and Salentini, and the City Brundisium, their Conquest of all old Italy was completed, their Dominions being about 500 Miles long, and 150 broad, about one Half of what is now call'd Italy.

TABLE XLIX.

The CHRONOLOGY of the ROMAN Republick during the first Punic War, containing 24 Years.

THE Carthaginians were originally a Colony of Phœnicians, call'd by the Romans Pœni and Puni, from Phœnix and Phœnicia. They came from Tyre, first under Zor and Carchedon, in the ninth Year of GIDEON Judge of Israel, about 48 Years before the Fall of TROY, and next in the Eleventh Year of King DAVID, after the Death of Ishbosheth, about 148 Years after the Fall of TROY, when this second Colony was call'd Karthada, or the New Town. And after this, viz. A. M. 3135, before Christ 869, after the founding of Solomon's Temple 143, after the Fall of TROY 315, before the Founding of ROME 120 Years, Dido or the Lovely, call'd also ELISSA, or the divine Woman, fled from her Brother PYGMALION King of Tyre into Africa, and founded, or rather enlarged Carthage, by building the Castle of Byrsa in the Heart of the City Karthada, (see Page 220.) and they had now become a very large and powerful Commonwealth (having long thrown off the Yoke of Kings) their Dominions extending along the North Coast of Barbary on the Mediterranean Sea Side, about 2000 Miles in Length, and were also possess'd of the Islands of Sardinia, Corfica, many little Islands, and a great Part of Sicily. And now about 604 Years after the enlarging of Carthage by Dido, The Carthaginians joining with HIERO King of Syracuse, against the Mamertines in the Siege of Messana in Sicily, the Mamertines sent to Rome for Succour. But the former Conduct of that People not being very justifiable, the Romans chose rather to declare War against the Carthaginians, upon Pretence of their having assisted the Tarentines against the Romans.

And so in the Varonian Year of ROME founded 490, or,
In the 13th Year of ANTIGONUS Sonatas King of Macedonia, who reign'd 21 Years more.
18th Year of NICOMENES I. King of Bitbynia, who reign'd 18 Years more.
20th and last Year of PHILETERUS, the Foxender of the Kingdom of Pergamus.

Appius Claudius the Cæsar, in a small Fleet of Boats, sail'd over to Sicily with an Army, soon rais'd the Siege of Messana, and defeated King HIERO and the Carthaginians in two Battels; and returning to Rome he made the first Triumph over Foreigners, when 292224 free Citizens were cess'd, and Fencing Matches, or Gladiators at Funerals, were introduc'd by D. Junius Brutus.
Both the Cæsars were now order'd for Sicily with all their Legions, and after They had took Catana, going to invest Syracuse, King HIERO was frighted into a Peace, upon restoring all their Prisoners without Ransom, and paying 100 Talents of Silver: which the Romans were glad of; because They had no Fleet, while the Carthaginians were Masters of the Sea.
Galerius the Cæsar was now call'd Mellala from Messana, and he brought from Catana a SUN Dial, which, tho' not perfect, was the best at Rome for 99 Years to come: and the Plague raging at Rome,
FULVIUS Sapius was made DICTATOR, who made Spurius Philippus his Master of Horse, for driving a Nail into Jupiter's Temple.
EUMENES I. King of Pergamus, succeeded to his Brother Philetaerus this Year, and reign'd 22 Years.
Posthumius and Samnites the Cæsars, with only two Legions in Sicily, overthrew Hannibal the Carthaginian Admiral, who had landed to relieve Agrigentum besieged by the Romans, which after a long Siege They took. Mean while the Carthaginians being Masters of the Sea, got the maritime Towns on their Side, and grievously infested Italy, while Africa was out of Danger; which made the Romans begin to apply themselves to maritime Affairs, and to build 100 little Vessels of five Oars on a Side, and 20 of three Oars, which They rigg'd out after an odd Manner. But tho' They had neither Power nor Skill at Sea; yet
Cornelius and Scipio the Cæsars ventur'd aboard their poor Fleet, but with Men of great Courage: Cornelius with 17 little Gallies failing to reduce the Island Lipera, was overpower'd and taken by the Carthaginians: But Scipio by a grappling Invention defeated the Carthaginians, took 50 of their Vessels, rais'd the Siege of Aggesta, and took Maceila by Storm; for which he was greatly honour'd, and had the Glory of the first Naval Triumph. But at Land the Roman Legions quarrelling with the Auxiliaries, made a Separation; which Amilcar the Carthaginian General improv'd, and cut off 4000 of them.
3. ANTIOCHUS Epus the Son of Antiochus Soter King of Syria, began to reign,
And Berolus the Babylonian Priest of Belus, dedicated his History to this King.
This Year Cornelius Scipio the Cæsar went aboard, and landing Sardinia and Corfica, cut off Hanno the Carthaginian Admiral and all his Army; and afterwards he rais'd and rais'd Hannibal's Fleet, new come out of Carthage; for which that unhappy Admiral was executed by his own Men.
Towns in Sicily were now gain'd and lost on both Sides; and the Cæsar Scipio being hemm'd in by the Enemy, without Hopes of escaping, Calpurnius Flaminius a Roman Colonel, with 300 chosen Men of amazing Courage, so charged the Carthaginian Army, that the Cæsar's Army handomely escap'd off, tho' Calpurnius alone escap'd of all.

ROMAN REPUBLIC.

Antius Regulus the Consul went aboard, and subdued the Islands Lipara and Melita, (now call'd Malta) and this Year certain Prodigies at Rome made them create OGULNIUS Gaius DICTATOR, who made Letorius Plancianus his Master of Horse.

1. ARSACES a noble Parthian revolted from Antiochus, and founded the Kingdom of Parthia. This Year the Romans sent the Consuls Regulus and Manlius with a Fleet of 330 Sail, and a good Army aboard, to carry the War into Africa; and the Carthaginians sent out a Fleet of 350 Sail, and They fought thrice in one Day: but the invincible Romans, by Help of their grappling Engines, boarded 54 Ships, which they took with all their Complements of Men, and sunk 20 more; while They lost but 24 Ships without Men: and in pursuance of this Victory, the Romans made a Descent upon Africa at Clupea, a City near the Promontory Hermæa, which surrender'd to them; and having ravaged the Country, Manlius return'd to Rome with Part of the Forces, leaving Regulus with 40 Ships, 15000 Foot, and 500 Horse, as Pro-Consul of Africa, where at the River Begrada he slew by his battering Engines a monstrous Serpent, whose Skin sent to Rome was 120 Foot long.

The Carthaginians attack Regulus, but not having Room for their Horse and Elephants, They were put to the Rout, and He took Tunesum or Tunis.

But the Carthaginians sent for Antippos a brave Lacedemonian, to be their General, who defeated Regulus, and took him Prisoner, and besieged the rest of the Romans in Clupea: but raised the Siege to oppose the Succours coming under Antullius Paulus and Fabius Cunctator, the Consuls, with 350 Sail, who beat the Carthaginian Fleet near their own Doors, sunk 104, and took 30 Sail, with the Loss only of nine Roman Ships. Then They took in the Roman Garrison of Clupea: but in their Way home a Storm swallow'd up most of their Ships, and the rest were split upon Rocks, both the Consuls perish'd, and the few that escap'd were kindly used by King Hiero.

Carthago the Carthaginian hearing of the Romans late Misfortune, laid Siege to Agrigentum, took it, and demolish'd its Fortifications: while the Romans not discouraged by their Losses, built 220 Ships in three Months Time, and sent their Consuls Antullius and Cornelius into Sicily, who took several Towns, in spite of Asdrubal, who arrived there from Carthage, aboard 200 Sail with his Veteran Troops and Levies.

2. ARSACES TIRIDATES King of Parthia, the Brother of the first ARSACES, began to reign,

The next Consuls, Servilius and Sempronius, sail'd with the whole Fleet first to Sicily, and thence to Africa, landing often, but performing nothing memorable; They were like to be lost on the Quick-Sands of the Island Meninx, near the Lesser Syris, difficultly return'd to Panormus, and in their Way to Rome thro' the Straits, They lost by a Storm 150 Vessels. This Year the Censors turn'd out 13 Senators for Misdemeanors, and at the Lustrum 297797 free Citizens were cess'd.

These Losses at Sea made the Romans omit Naval Preparations, and depend wholly upon their Strength by Land, yielding the Sovereignty of the Sea to the Carthaginians, and sent the Consuls Cæcilius and Metellus with the Legions into Sicily. Asdrubal the Punic General perceiving Cæcilius was return'd with Half the Legions, and that the Romans of all Things dreaded the Elephants, ravaged all the Country about Panormus with the more Secarity, that Metellus kept within the Walls: but the wary Consul found an Opportunity when Asdrubal came near the City, to give him a dreadful Overthrow, slaying 20000 Carthaginians, and taking 26 Elephants, for which he had a noble Triumph, and all Sicily fell into his Hands, except Drepanum, and Lilybæum, to which Asdrubal escap'd, at the South West Cape of Sicily over against Africa. The Carthaginians condemn'd him, and put him to Death upon his Return.

The Carthaginians became weary of this unfortunate War, and sent their Ambassadors to Rome to treat of Peace, and with them sent Regulus that had been near 5 Years a Prisoner, whom They bound with an Oath to return, if there be no Peace concluded.

But Regulus discover'd to the Senate of Rome the Weakness of the Carthaginians, and advis'd against making Peace with them, shewing also the Advantages of prosecuting the War. The Senate relish'd the Advice, if it could be follow'd without raising the generous Adviser, and therefore advis'd him to stay at home: but he with an undaunted Resolution told them, that tho' He knew the Carthaginians would treat him with Torture and Death, he would return thither: and so contrary to all Advice, without seeing his Wife and Children, he bravely return'd with the Punic Ambassadors to Carthage, where They first cut off his Eye-lids, and set his Face turn'd up to the Sun, and at last was put into a narrow Barrel stuck with Nails, and there starved in the Extremity of Pain. O barbarous Cruelty! Upon which

The Roman Senate deliver'd to Marcia the Widow of Regulus, some noble Carthaginian Prisoners, whom she shut up in an Armory stuck round with Spikes, where Boastar was starv'd, but Damilecar held it out ten Days, till the Senate relented, and took him out, ordering all Prisoners to be well used, and sent Boastar's Ashes home, to shew, the Romans were too generous to insult over the miserable, or to countenance Cruelty, tho' ever so much provoked.

Continuation of TABLE XLIX.

ROMAN Republick.

The Romans rig'd out another Fleet under the Consul Claudius Pulcher, who besieged Lilybaeum by Sea and Land; but he losing most of his Fleet near Drepanum, the Senate chose for carrying on the War, ATTILIUS Calpurnius DICTATOR, who made Caecilius Metellus his Master of Horse, the first DICTATOR that led an Army out of Italy; but effected nothing memorable till his Time expired.

Arctinoe the Queen of Ptolemy Philadelphus fell sick, and died this Year, And PHILADELPHUS himself, aged 63 Years, died for Grief of her Loss, 3. PTOLEMY Euergetes King of Egypt, the Son of Philadelphus, began to reign, and NICOMEDES I. King of Bitbynia died in Peace.

This Year Antiochus Euxus King of Syria, being murder'd by his Queen Laodice. 4. SELEUCUS Callinicus his Son began to reign, And This is the first Year of ZELAS King of Bitbynia, who reign'd 16 Years. King PTOLEMY returning from his Conquests in Syria, call'd in at Jerusalem, and gave great Sacrifices to be offer'd to JEHOVAH in the Temple for his Victories; and carrying home the Idol-Images that Cambyfes had long ago captivated from Egypt, the Egyptians gave him the Name of Euergetes, or the Benefactor. The Romans by this long War had lost many free Citizens, and almost exhausted their Treasure, and now in the Absence of the Consuls, the Senate for making a new Election chose

CORUNCANIUS Lepos DICTATOR, who made Fulvius Flaccus his Master of Horse. Aratus the Prator of the Acheans now subjected Counth to their Republick. Antigonus Gonatas King of Macedon being dead, was succeeded by his Son DEMETRIUS, who now began to reign.

Amilcar much infesting the Coasts of Italy, the Romans join'd at private Charge to rigg out a great Fleet, after They had neglected Naval Preparations about seven Years, and having built their Ships after the Pattern of a Rhodian Ship taken formerly at Lilibaeum, They sent their new Fleet to Sea under the Command of the Consul Lutatius, who defeated Amilcar at the Aegatian Isles, taking and sinking 120 Carthaginian Ships of Force: upon which the Carthaginians sued for Peace, and obtain'd it upon these Terms, 1. That they should pay down to the Romans 1000 Talents of Silver, and 2200 more in ten Years. 2. That They should quit Sicily, and the little adjacent Islands. 3. That they should never molest the Syracusians or their Allies, nor send any Ships of War within the Roman Dominions. 4. That They should deliver up Roman Deserters and Prisoners without Ransom.

Thus the first Punic War ended, 23 Years before the Beginning of the second. C. Lutatius Catulus and A. Posthumius Albinus being Consuls.

The 14th Year of ARSACES Tiridates King of Parthia.
The 2<sup>d</sup> Year of ATTALUS King of Pergamus.
The 6th Year of ZELAS King of Bithynia.
The 3<sup>d</sup> Year of DEMETRIUS the Son of Conatas King of Macedonia.
Anno Urbis Condite Marciano.

514

The warlike ROMANS now triumphant, and enjoying profound Peace, began a little to apply themselves to Learning, especially to Poetry; and now the first Tragedies and Comedies were made according to the Grecian Method, by Livius Andronicus a Grecian Poet, just the Year before Ennius the Poet was born; and some new Games were instituted.

The Carthaginians were plagued by the Rebellion of their mercenary Troops, that wanted both Pay and Employment, and who were reduced by Amilcar after three Years War, tho' with great Loss.

HIERO the generous King of Sicily, came now to Rome to behold the Roman Games, and was very liberal to the Poor.

During this War, the Carthaginians had seiz'd several Roman Ships, for fear of supplying the Enemy; but when the Roman Ambassadors complain'd of it, the Ships, Men, and Goods, were handsomely restored; which excited the Senate of Rome generously to send home their Carthaginian Prisoners without Ransom; and there was an extraordinary Friendship between these two great Republicks, till

The Sardinians invited the Romans to send them Colonies, which provoked the Carthaginians their Sovereigns to prepare to send Forces to that Island; and the Romans, judging those Preparations were made against them more than against the Sardinians, proclaim'd War against the Carthaginians: but these not being yet able to cope with Rome, were frighted, rather to yield Sardinia than go to War, and further to pay 1200 Talents; which prov'd the Occasion of the 2<sup>d</sup> Punic War: for AMILCAR enraged at the growing Power and Insolence of Rome, went to reduce Spain in order to prepare to fight the Romans again; where he made his young Son HANNIBAL, tho' but nine Years old, swear at the Altar to be ever the Enemy of Rome. Romanum sevis puerili in pectore bellum; and he kept his Oath with a Witness.

In this sixth Year, after the End of the first Punic War, the Romans being in perfect Peace with all their Neighbours, the Temple of Janus was shut the second Time, having been open ever since the second Year of TULLUS Hostilius King of the Romans, during 433 Years, according to this Chronology.

The first Divorce in Rome happen'd in this Time of Peace, by Sp. Carvilius.

Quintus Fabius Maximus the Consul triumph'd over the Ligurians.

ANTIGONUS II. who married the Widow of Demetrius last Year dead, King of Macedonia, began to reign. And Marcus Porcius CATO Major was born.

C. DUILLIUS was chosen DICTATOR, who made Aurelius Cotta his Master of Horse, for holding the Comitia.

The Illyrian War.

After the Temple of Janus had been shut five Years, it was open'd by a War with the Illyrians, a People near Greece, whose Country is now call'd Dalmatia, on the upper Coast of the Adriatic Sea, for their Queen TEUTA having given her Subjects Leave to turn Pyrates, had barbarously used some Italian Merchants at Sea: upon which the Senate sent Caius and Lucius Cornucanius their Ambassadors to demand Satisfaction. TEUTA told them, That she Romans should suffer no publick Injury, but that she could not hinder her Subjects from their private Gains by the Sea: but Lucius smartly reply'd, That the Romans had learnt to relieve the oppress'd, and to punish private Injuries with a publick Revenge, and would, by the Help of the Gods, reform her Princely Customs. The Queen was so enraged at this Freedom, that she sent after them, and slew Lucius, against the Law of Nations: but she paid dearly for it.

Queen TEUTA prepared for War, and so did the Romans with all Expedition.

PRUSIAS I. the Son of Zelas King of Bithynia began to reign, when the Colossus of Rhodes fell down by an Earthquake; and this Year

See the Continuation.

The Roman: being justly provoked by the Murder of their Ambassador, sent Consul Fulvius with a Fleet, and Posthumius with a Land Army against the imperial Queen of Illyricum. Fulvius forthwith had Corcyra surrendered to him, and then he took Apollonia, and joining Posthumius, They reliev'd Dyrrachium that was invested by the Illyrians, and took most of the Illyric Towns, driving Queen TEUTA to Rhizon a strong Fort; and next Spring Her Majesty was humbled to sue for Peace, and glad to accept of it upon these Terms, 1. To quit all Illyricum except a few Places. 2. To pay an yearly Tribute to the Roman Republick. 3. Not to send above two Barks, and arm'd, beyond the River Liris.

The Romans generously treated their conquer'd Countries, and gain'd the People's Love, who thought themselves rather deliver'd from Captivity than conquer'd: and extending their Dominions to the Neighbourhood of Greece, the Athenians highly honour'd them, and the Corinthians decreed them free of the Isthmian Games, one of the four solemn Exercises of Greece.

The Gallick Cisalpine War.

The Gauls enter'd Hetruria, and wasted all with Fire and Sword, as far as Cladium, within three Days Journey of Rome, where the Cassels before them, with 50500 Foot, and 4200 Horse, and the Prætor on their Back, surrounded them, and forced them to make two Fronts; and the Gessæ being so vain as to fight naked, were soon broken, upon which the Rest fled: but the Romans being possess'd of the Passes, slew 40000 of them, and took 10000 Prisoners, among whom was CONCOLITANUS a King of the Gessæ. Next Year

6. ANTIOCHUS ~~Seignior~~ King of Syria began to reign.

Scetellus left the Army at Acerra with a Detachment of light armed Footmen, and a third of the Cavalry; and notwithstanding his fatiguing March, Night and Day, to Clafidium, and the Enemy's superior Number and Strength, He fell upon them, and, after a bloody Battle, overthrew them, slaying with his own Hand VIRDOMARUS another King of the Gessars. And this Year

Scarrillus had a noble Triumph, and dedicated these ibid Opima Spolia, or Royal Spoils, to Jupiter Feretrius. PHILIP the Son of Demetrius II. and Grandson of Gonatas King of Macedonia, began to reign. ———

The Gauls that escaped having fled to Mediolanum (now Milan) the Capital of the Insubrian Gauls, the Roman besieged it, and took it; whereby They finish'd the Gallie War after six Years, and much enlarged the Roman Dominions in Italy, planting their Colonies there, and soon after in Cremona and Placentia.

The Libri have been used by Remmius and Livius the Confabuli, tho' with no final

But that which caused the Romans to attack Hannibal in Spain, having also taken Saguntum, a city near Agrigento, after he was sent to Italy, was that the Ambassadors of Carthage required Hannibal to be delivered up to Rome, to put them to death. When the Romans, not regarding their Treaty, agreed to a War with the Romans, called this Hannibal's War, after the last Peace near 24 Years.

HANNIBAL the Great having the War committed to his Conduct by the Senate of Carthage, and over-run all Spain to the Pyrenean Mountains, and leaving Banna in Spain with a good Army, He marched into Gaul with 50000 Foot, and 9000 Horse of different Nations; and having difficultly cross'd the Rhofne, He marched in Ten Days to the Foot of the Alps; and after nine Days painful March in the Midst of Winter, tho' ignorant of the Roads, and much distress'd by the Savage Inhabitants, and the Fears of his own Men, He reached to the Top of the Alps, where he refresh'd his Men two Days, and pointing down to Italy, told them, That like hardy Soldiers They had mounted the Walls of Italy, and of Rome too! From thence he marched forward till obstructed by the Snows and an high Rock, thro' which he cut his Way by indefatigable Toil in four Days, whereby his Elephants and heavy Carriages could pass into a low Ground, where They found some Pasture for the Beasts, and the Soldiers had some Rest on the 15th Day after They came to the Alps, and his Army was reduced to 18000 Foot and 6000 Horse, with whom he continued his March.

Anno U. C. Marstoniana 536.

P. Cornelius Scipio the Consul hearing of HANNIBAL's March, hastned with an Army to encounter him, before his Men were well refresh'd, and fought him at Ticinum; (now Parva) but in a few Hours Scipio was defeated by the Nomidian Horse falling on his Rear, and being wounded, he was narrowly saved by the Valour of his young Son who was afterwards call'd Africanus.

T. Sempronius Longus the other Consul, came from Sicily with an Army, and join'd Scipio at the River Trebia; and having been successful in some Skirmishes, resolv'd to fight Hannibal before the Gauls could join him, contrary to the Advice of Scipio: but HANNIBAL by equal Skill and Bravery gave him a total Rout, 26000 Romans being then kill'd or drown'd, or taken: tho' Hannibal received much Damage too in the Battel, and by the Colds lost many Men, and almost all his Elephants and other Beasts.

HANNIBAL having well recruited his Army in Cisalpine Gaul, now march'd forward into Uetruria towards Rome, the shortest Way, thro' the Fens; and being forced to march four Days and Nights thro' Water without Rest or Sleep, his Men were sorely distress'd, many of his Beasts left dead in the Mud, and himself riding on the only Elephant left, caught an intolerable Pain in his Eyes, and lost one of them intirely.

When he came on firm Ground, he soon decoy'd the Consul Flaminius to a Battel, by marching by him and seeming to fight him; who being a fiery Man, would not stay till his Colleague Cn. Servilius Geminus should join him, but march'd up to Hannibal at the Lake Torossymene, his Army being follow'd with a Rabble that carried Chains, Bonds, &c. for the Prisoners.

HANNIBAL being possess'd of the Mountains, artfully surrounded the Romans when They came into the Valley, and attackt them on all Sides, before They could see the Enemy, by reason of a Mist. Flaminius lost his Life and all his Army; 15000 Romans were slain in the Valley, and 6000 that escap'd to a Village, were forced to yield themselves Prisoners.

Geminus the other Consul from Ariminum detached 400 Men to join Flaminius; but coming too late were attackt by Maharbal with a Detachment from Hannibal, who slew the one Half, and took the other Half doubting of always beating the Enemy, and of destroying Rome when he pleas'd; and so his dilatory Conduct this Summer gave the Romans a Breathing Time.

They soon recover'd Themselves, were inspired with new Courage, made new Resolutions of prosecuting the War without Fainting, and made great Preparations for another Campaign, chusing

FABIUS ~~Sulla~~ their DICTATOR, without a Master of Horse, and before the last DICTATOR was out of Office, but abroad. He fill'd up the Senate that wanted 177 Members, and arm'd some Thousands of the Slaves; while HANNIBAL winter'd at Capua, a wealthy luxurious City, where his brave hardy Soldiers were enervated by effeminate Pleasures, and ever after impatient of Labour and military Discipline.

And now Hannibal's Fortune began to change; for in the next Campaign, Marcellus the Prætor sallied out of Nola upon him, and beat him off that City, and again repulsed him from Casilinum, even after he had reduced that City to Extremities;

Mean while the two Scipio's gain'd great Ground in Spain, where they defeated Magus and Asdrubal the Brothers of Hannibal, who had been order'd by the Senate of Carthage to go and join Hannibal; but that Project was broke for this Time, for They lost more than 40000 Men.

The Romans in Sardinia slew 30000, and took many Prisoners, before Asdrubal Calvus was arrived with a Fleet from Carthage; and even after that the Romans slew 12000 Carthaginians in Sardinia.

PHILIP King of Macedonia sent Ambassadors to HANNIBAL, and made a League with him against the Romans, who, tho' plunged in bloody Wars within and round about, had the Magnanimity to proclaim War against King PHILIP, and sent Valerius Laevinus with an Army against him.

HIERO King of Syracuse died, aged 94 Years, leaving a Grandson King HIERONYMUS, murder'd this Year: the Murderers Faction had join'd the Carthaginians; and Marcellus having a third Time repulsed HANNIBAL near Nola, was now sent into Sicily, and besieged them in Syracuse by Sea and Land; but could not storm it, being always hinder'd by the amazing Skill and ingenious Devices of the learn'd Archimedes: while the War in Italy was wisely manag'd on both Sides.

But in Spain the Romans had great Success this Year.

Marcellus was forced to remove out of the Reach of Archimedes's Engines, till on a great Festival he master'd an ill guarded Tower, and took the City: but tho' he gave strict Charge to save Archimedes, a common Soldier kill'd him, while the great and learned Man was employ'd in some Mathematical Speculations, without minding the Uproar in the City: for whom Marcellus shed Tears, and gave him an honourable Burial. Marcellus also wept, because he could not hinder his Soldiers from ruining so glorious a City, 22 Miles in Circuit: and Marcellus having beat the Enemy out of the Field near Agrigentum, return'd to Syracuse to prepare to return to Italy.

But both the brave Scipio's were now slain in Spain, tho' They sold their Lives dear; and Martius the Lieutenant of Cn. Scipio soon surpriz'd the Enemy, and slew 37000 of them.

While HANNIBAL had Tarentum betray'd to him, but not the Cattle, the Romans laid Siege to Capua; upon which Hannibal marched to relieve it: but tho' he bravely attackt the Roman Trenches, assisted by a Sally of his own Garrison with the Inhabitants, the Romans repulsed him with great Loss. Therefore to draw the Romans from Capua, he marched towards Rome: but the wise Fabius Cunctator, the Buckler of Rome, prevail'd with the Senate not to recal the Army from before Capua, but only to send for Fulvius Flaccus the Proconsul with 15000 Foot, and 1000 Horse, to defend Rome.

HANNIBAL had first incamped about eight Miles from Rome, and then within three Miles of it, and with a Party of 2000 Horse came to view the City; but Fulvius sent out a Body of Horse that fell upon him, and forced him to retreat. The next two Days the Romans and Hannibal both drew out to fight, but could not, because of great Storms of Hail and Rain; but after both Armies retired from the Field to their Camps, the Weather was calm and fair: This struck the Carthaginians with a religious Awe, and made HANNIBAL to say, That one while his Mind, and another while his Fortune kept him from that mighty City! Wherefore he decamped to the River Tarica, and thence to the Lake of Feronia, where he plunder'd a Temple of that Goddess, and treated cruelly the Countries of the Lucani and Bruttii, which lost him much Credit. Mean while

Fulvius Flaccus return'd to the Siege of Capua, which was surrender'd to him; and he cut off the Heads of 53 Senators of Capua, demolish'd its Government, and reserv'd it for the Use of Plowmen and Mechanicks.

Claudius Nero the Governor of Spain, having been imposed upon by the Cunning of Asdrubal, the Comitia met to chuse a Proconsul to succeed him, and no Candidate appearing, because of the Hazards attending the the Spanish War, the People were much grieved; till P. Scipio, a Youth under 24 Years, the Son of the Consul Scipio slain in Spain, stood up and offer'd himself; and being well accomplisht for his Years in Prudence, Virtue and Valour, the People joyfully accepted of him by all their Votes, and he departed thither.

Galerius Laebinus having return'd from Greece, for his Success against King PHILIP, was chosen Consul a second Time with Marcellus, and sent into Sicily, where he took Agrigentum, and soon reduced the whole Island, the first Time that the Romans were Masters of all Sicily: while Scipio took in new Carthage in Spain. The Romans now made a League with the Aetolians in Greece, against PHILIP King of Macedonia.

Bar tho' Cn. Fulvius was defeated by HANNIBAL and slain, with 7000 Romans; yet Marcellus gave him Betel, and forced him to retire: and SYPHAX King of Numidia enter'd into a League with Rome.

Both the Consuls being abroad, FULVIUS FLACCUS was chosen DICTATOR, who made LICINIUS CRASSUS his Master of Horse, and held the Comitia to chuse Consuls for the next Year, who were Fabius Maximus the 5th Time, and the said Dictator. Fabius got Tarentum betray'd into his Hands; but the War in Italy between Marcellus and Hannibal was doubtful; and the Romans found They had lost many brave Men: for at the Lustrum there were only left 137108 free Citizens.

Scartellus and Crispinus being Confels this Year, were both slain, HANNIBAL having laid an Ambuscade for them: Scartellus was kill'd on the Spot, much lamented as the Sword of Rome, and had been 5 Times Confel: but Crispinus retreated, and soon died of his Wounds, having first nominated MANIUS ~~Sorquatus~~ to be Dictator, who made C. Servilius his Master of Horse, and held the Comitia for a new Election of Consuls, viz.

M. Livius Salinator: S HANNIBAL his Brother, and Livius was sent to oppose him, while Pero kept Hannibal in Play; but Pero with a choice Detachment of 6000 Foot, and 1000 Horse, marched secretly and join'd Livius; and having surrounded Asdrubal, They slew him and all his Army: and Pero returning to his own Camp before Hannibal knew of it, cast his Brother's Head into his Camp; whereby HANNIBAL was exceedingly perplexed.

Scipio in Spain sent Titus with 10000 Men against Spago and Hanno the Carthaginians, who slew Mago and captured Hanno.

Scripto having reduced all Spain return'd to Rome. —————
LIVIVS was chosen DICTATOR, who made Cæcilius Metellus his Master of Horse, and held the Comitia for a new Election.

HANNIBAL in Italy was idle, being overcome by Grief; while Scipio had reduced all Spain, expell'd the Carthaginian Commanders, and gain'd as much by his mild and generous Temper as by his Valour: and now being return'd to Rome, he gave a good Account of the Spanish War, and desired of the Senate to be sent into Africa, nor doubting of forcing the Carthaginians to recall HANNIBAL for defending Carthage. This was oppos'd much by Fabius, but accepted of by the People, who got him sent with an Army into Sicily, with Leave to pass into Africa, if he found it good for the Commonwealth. While Mago the Brother of Hannibal brought by Sea from Minorca, an Army into Lizzia.

Cæcilius Servilius chosen DICTATOR, made Cicertius Philo his Master of Horse, and held the Comitia for new Consuls, viz.

P. CORNELIUS SCIPIO, afterwards call'd Africanus, tho' only 29 Years old; when he pass'd into Sicily whose Colleague was Firminus Grassus.

Scipio having prepared Necessaries, left Sicily, and invaded Africa with a brave Fleet, where he was join'd by MASINISSA King of Numidia, who had join'd him in Spain, and was soon encounter'd by Hanno, who was defeated and slain with 2000 Carthaginians.

5. PTOLEMY Epiphanes the Son of Pharinator King of Egypt, aged 5 Years, began to reign. ———

Scripto was encouraged to invert Uria, but was drove from it into Winter Quarters, by SYPHAX King of Nomadia, (who had dispossessed MASISSA, and broke his League with Rome) and a fresh Carthaginian Army that incamped against him: but Scripto utterly lost his own Mars, Reeds, and Engines with him. They used instead of Reeds, and were making it same by Artillery: they were in a Hurry and Confusion. He fell upon them and flew about, and took some Prisoners, and took advantage gave them another Overthrow; which reversed the Carthaginians to send Ambassadors to Rome for a Cession: but the Romans refused it, knowing their Drift was only to give Hannibal Time to return home.

Continuation of TABLE LI.

ROMAN Republick.

As for SYPHAX, perceiving how Matters went, he rais'd a numerous Army of raw Men, and fought Scipio, but was defeated, and taken Prisoner; upon which MASINISSA marched with a strong Detachment to Cirta his Capital, and shewing the People Syphax in Chains, They open'd their Gates to him; when Queen SOPHONISBA the Wife of Syphax humbly requested him, that she might not be deliver'd up to the Romans; and her powerful Charms so inamour'd young MASINISSA, that he forthwith married her: but when Scipio came up, he was offended, saying, That the Romans had a Title to her Head as their Captive, one of their greatest Enemies, and the principal Cause of Syphax's Treachery. Upon which MASINISSA, in a desperate Passion, sent her a Cup of Poison, which she boldly drank off, saying, That it was a poor Token for a new Wife, and that her Death had been more honourable if she had not been so lately married. and Scipio to comfort the melancholy Prince, had him proclaim'd King of Numidia with great Solemnity. Mean while

SULPICIUS Galba was chosen DICTATOR, who made Servilius Geminus his Master of Horse, and held the Comitia for a new Election of Consuls: while Cornelius Cethegus defeated Mago in the Country of the Infabrian Gauls.

HANNIBAL and his Brother Mago was recall'd by the Senate of Carthage to their Relief, (as Scipio well foresaw) who with great Reluctancy was forced to quit Italy, after he had warred in it 15 Years; blaming the Senate of Carthage for not duly supporting him, and blaming himself for giving the Romans Time to recover their Courage, after he had so often overthrown them: and so having gone aboard melancholy, he landed at Leptis, and from thence marched to Zama, five Days Journey from Carthage; where, after a fruitless Interview with Scipio about Peace, these two great Generals fought the decisive Battel, each acquainting their Soldiers, That this Battel would shew whether Rome or Carthage should give Laws to the World. But tho' HANNIBAL acted the Part of a brave and wise Commander, he was routed by Scipio with the Loss of 20000 Men, and as many taken Prisoners. Upon which HANNIBAL advis'd his Countrymen to send Ambassadors to Rome, and sue for Peace.

The Egyptian Court now sent their Ambassadors to Rome, to desire the Senate to be Guardians of their minor King.

C. SERVILIUS was chosen DICTATOR, who made Aelius Pactus his Master of Horse, and held the Comitia for a new Election of Consuls: but the Power of concluding Peace was by the People left to Scipio, (now call'd Africanus) and Ten more, who at last gave the Ambassadors these Terms, 1. That the Carthaginians should hold their Territories in Africa, but that the Romans should have Spain, and all the Islands in the Mediterranean. 2. That all Roman Deserters should be deliver'd up to Rome. 3. And all the Carthaginian Ships having Beaks, except ten Triremes, with all their tamed Elephants, and to tame no more. 4. That They should make no War without Leave from Rome. 5. That They should restore to MASINISSA what belong'd to him, and make an Alliance with him. 6. That They should supply the Roman Army with Money and Corn, till their Ambassadors return. 7. And pay 10000 Talents of Silver in 50 Years Time: and for the Performance of all, They must give 100 Hostages. And Scipio Africanus obtain'd a most glorious Triumph.

| THE ROMAN Republick, tho' almost ruin'd by HANNIBAL, yet upon its Recovery now found They had by these Wars gain'd much Honour, Dominion, and Experience; as They acquired daily Knowledge also by their Acquaintance with the Greeks: and now They began to be as much delighted in Comedy as in Games; the Drammatic Poets Ennius, Lucilius, and Licinius Tegula flourishing much about this Time: tho' They were not without foreign Wars: for now the first Macedonian War began to be hot.  | U. | PHILIP King of Macedon, the Ally of HANNIBAL, having broke his Faith with the Ætolians, and other Allies of Rome, and distress'd ATTALUS King of Pergamus, and the Rhodians (who complain'd of him to the Senate of Rome) and at the earnest Request of the Athenians, was declared again the Enemy of the ROMAN Republick, and the Senate a 2 <sup>d</sup> Time proclaim'd open War against him. The Consul Sulpicius Galba, sent with an Army into Greece, had almost taken him Prisoner; and by the Assistance of King ATTALUS and the Rhodians, Galba rais'd the Siege of Athens. Mean while | 549   | 309                         | 130                          | 113              | 5               | 23              | 17                | 42                 | 30                 | 21                  | CXLV. 1    | 3804 200                |                |                       |
| Furius the Prætor defeated the Gauls near Cremona, slaying 30000 of them, with Amilcar a Carthaginian Captain: but next Year   | 550   | 310                         | 131                          | 114              | 6               | 24              | 18                | 43                 | 31                 | 22                  | 2          |                         |                |                       |
| Scipio the Prætor was surrounded by the Insubrian Gauls, who cut off 6600 of his Men.  | 551   | 311                         | 132                          | 115              | 7               | 25              | 19                | 44                 | 32                 | 23                  | 3          |                         |                |                       |
| Quintus Flaminius the Consul was sent against King PHILIP, and beat him out of the Straits; while the Consul's Brother Lucius, with ATTALUS, by Sea, regain'd several Towns, and invested Corinth, but could not take it.  | 552   | 312                         | 133                          | 116              | 8               | 26              | 20                | 1                  | 33                 | 24                  | 4          | 3807 197                | 38             | 3844                  |
| Attalus King of Pergamus now dying, aged 72, was succeeded by his Son EUMENES II. the Founder of the famous Library at Pergamus, who began to reign  |       |                             |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                     |            |                         |                |                       |
| The Tribunes objecting, that the Custom of the New Consuls taking the Provinces from their Predecessors, much retarded the War, obtain'd that Flaminius should continue in his Government; who being ready to take in the Castle of Opus, King PHILIP sent to him about a Treaty; but it came to nothing, after several Meetings. But Flaminius following PHILIP into Thessaly, routed him in the Battel of Cynocephalas, slaying 8000, and taking 5000 Prisoners: upon which PHILIP sued for Peace, and obtain'd it for 1000 Talents.   | 553   | 313                         | 134                          | 117              | 9               | 27              | 1                 | 2                  | 34                 | 25                  | CXLVI. 1   | 3808 196                | 15             | 3822                  |
| Thus ended the first Macedonian War.   |       |                             |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                     |            |                         |                |                       |
| Sextus and Læpsachas sent to the Roman Army for Protection against ANTIOCHUS Magnus King of Syria, who had now marched over the Hellespont into Thrace; and the Roman Ambassadors had Audience of him at Schæbria, but to no Purpose.  |       |                             |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                     |            |                         |                |                       |
| Artabanes PERIAPATIUS the Son of Artabanus King of Parthia, began to reign.  | 554   | 314                         | 135                          | 118              | 10              | 28              | 2                 | 3                  | 35                 | 26                  | 2          |                         |                |                       |
| About this Time, the Romans obtain'd two great Victories over the Gauls, and Atilius the Prætor quell'd a Rebellion of the Slaves in Hetruria.   |       |                             |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                     |            |                         |                |                       |
| Flaminius and 9 more eminent Romans were sent Commissioners by the Senate, and at the Isthmian Games in a general Meeting of all Greece, proclaim'd Liberty to all the People of Greece, in the Name of the Senate and People of Rome. This unexpected and surprising Act of Generosity, made the Grecian Orators harrangue, saying, That at last a People appear'd for the Safety of all others that cross'd the Seas, and made Wars at their own Cost and Peril, to relieve the oppress'd, to establish Laws, and maintain publick Security throughout the Earth!                              | 555   | 315                         | 136                          | 119              | 11              | 29              | 3                 | 4                  | 36                 | 27                  | 3          |                         |                |                       |
| HANNIBAL fearing that the Roman Ambassadors now at Carthage came to demand him, timely fled from thence to ANTIOCHUS Magnus King of Syria.   |       |                             |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                     |            |                         |                |                       |
| Flaminius, with EUMENES King of Pergamus, and the Rhodians, were obliged to attack Nabis the cruel Tyrant of Lacedæmon, but could not yet force him to submit.   |       |                             |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                     |            |                         |                |                       |
| At Rome Porcius Cato the Consul, a Stoic Moralist, rail'd at the Females for wearing rich Ornaments, and did all he could to support the Oppian Law; but it was repeal'd in spite of him. Then Cato went to Spain his Province, which he intirely reduced, and by his Severity he restored the old Roman military Discipline there.  |       |                             |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                     |            |                         |                |                       |
| Blænius the Comedick now flourish'd at Rome. HANNIBAL the Great came to ANTIOCHUS at Ephesus, and determin'd the King's Mind to make War upon the Romans: for HANNIBAL had been accus'd of this by the Romans at Carthage, and the Carthaginians being ungrateful to him. He fled to Antiochus to deserve the Accusation.  |       |                             |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                     |            |                         |                |                       |
| Pub. Corn. Scipio Salicæ was made Prætor of the fourth Spain beyond Iberia, where he did many great Things.  |       |                             |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                     |            |                         |                |                       |

| Lucius Cornelius Scipio Asiaticus the Consul obtain'd to succeed to Atilius, by the Offer of his Brother Scipio Africanus to go as his Lieutenant or Legate; and ANTIOCHUS having foolishly abandon'd Lyfimachia and the Hellespont, the Scipios came up, took his great warlike Stores which he had left, and peaceably past the Hellespont, the first Roman Army that ever came into Asia; where the Consul forced ANTIOCHUS to fight, while the King offer'd fairly for a Peace.   |  |     |   |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                              |                               |                                |            |                             |                   |                                     |
| The Syrians were 70000 Foot, and 12000 Horse, 54 Elephants, and many Chariots armed with Sythes: but the Consul Scipio, with a far less Army, turn'd the Chariots back upon the Syrians, and in a few Hours gave ANTIOCHUS a total Rout under Mount Stippus near Magnesia, who fled home to Antioch the shortest Way, and was now glad of Peace upon the following Terms, viz. To pay 15000 Talents for the Expence of the War, to quit all on this Side Mount Taurus; to deliver up HANNIBAL. Thoas the Aetolian, and others, and to give 20 Hostages, among whom the King's Son Antiochus was one. From this glorious Success the Consul was call'd Scipio ASIATICUS.   |  |     |   |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                              |                               |                                |            |                             |                   |                                     |
| HANNIBAL was not in the Battel, being shut up in Pamphilia; nor Scipio Africanus, being sick at Sardis: but Hannibal happily escaped to Crete.  |  |     |   |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                              |                               |                                |            |                             |                   |                                     |

| This Year at Rome Scipio Africanus was maliciously accused of having been too much in the Interest of ANTIOCHUS Magnus, and of defrauding the Treasury of some Booty, &c. Cato the Stic (who had been offend- ed at Scipio's being frequently saluted King while in Spain) excited the Tribunes to set him a Day to answer it before the People. But the Great Scipio enter'd the Assembly with a mighty Train of Friends and Clients; and having, with an undaunted Air, put on his Triumphal Crown, he cry'd out with the Voice of a Conqueror, This Day, O Romans, I overcame the fierce Hannibal, and vanquish'd the powerful Carthaginians; therefore let us lay aside private Contests, and go to the Capitol to thank the Gods for giving me the Will and Power of doing such eminent Services for my Country! then leaving the Place, the whole People follow'd him to the Capitol, and to all the great Temples in the City. |  |     |   |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                              |                               |                                |            |                             |                   |                                     |

ROMAN REPUBLIC.

Sea Town in Campania, and there liv'd retired; yet the Tribunes in his Absence would have condemn'd him, but that one of them Quartius, (the son of a Señor, of a more generous Temper than Cato), strenuously prevented it, and also quash'd the Impeachment of Attatius.

This Year many scandalous Practices in the Feasts of Bacchus were reformed at Rome. The Romans now began to compose Differences between Philip of Macedon, and Eumenes of Pergamus, and the Grecian States.

HANNIBAL left Crete this Year, and retired to several Places, till he came at last to PRUSIAS King of Bithynia.

P. SCIPIO Africanus, and the Comedian Plautus both, now died. Africanus is supposed to have died at Linternum, where he was buried, and order'd this Inscription on his Tomb, Ingrata Patria, ne ossa quidem mea habes, O my regretted native Place. Thou hast not so much as my Bones.

This Year is famous for the Death of HANNIBAL, aged 70 Years, at Lybissa in Bitynia, where he poison'd himself, rather than be taken alive by the Romans, and led in Triumph, when King Perseus gave them Leave to seize him.

DEMETRIUS the youngest and legitimate Son of Philip King of Macedon, came to Rome, and wisely pleaded his Father's Cause before the Senate, against his Accusers, and obtain'd the Favour of all the Senators, which made him too popular at home: for his Brother Perseus (supposed to be illegitimate) began to be envious, and plotted his Death.

And this Year the Ligerians, that dwell on the Tuscan Sea Coast, turn'd Pyrates, and infest'd the Sea as far as Hercules Pillars.

5. GISARES PHRAHATES I. the Son of Phriapatius King of Parthia, began to reign, —————
 And MASINSSA King of Nemidia quarrelling with the Carthaginians about Lands, the Senate of Rome decided it in that King's Favour. And this Year

2. Fulvius Flaccus fought the Enemy in Spain, who were 35000 strong, slew 23000 of them, and took 4500. Also

L. Semilius Paulus bravely defeated the Ligurians, slaying 15000 of them, and taking 2500: upon which They gave Hostages and submitted.

PHILIP King of Macedon, at the Instigation of his Son Perseus, order'd his younger Son DEMETRIUS to be murder'd, upon Suspicion of corresponding with the Romans.

And the 14 Books in Greek and Latin of NUMA Pompilius King of the Romans, were digg'd out of the Ground by Accident, that had been buried in a Stone Chest near his Stone Coffin, about 490 Years; which were publicly burnt as unfit for the People.

6. PTOLEMY Philometor, the Son of Epiphanes King of Egypt, began to reign.

The Senate for securing the Peace, transported many of the Ligurians to the Country of the Samnites.

2. Fulvius Flaccus leading his Army out of Celtiberia, was attackt by the Enemy, of whom he slew 17000, and took above 3000, with 277 Standards.

EUMENES King of Pergamus sent his Brother Attalus to Rome, to complain of PHARNACES King of Pontus. See the Catalogue of the Kings of Pontus.

The Romans forced PHARNACES to make Peace with his Neighbours.

Tib. Sempronius Gracchus in Spain overcame the Celtiberians, slaying 22000, and taking 300, with 72 Standards.

PHILIP King of Macedon coming to know the Innocence of his late hopeful Son DEMETRIUS, broke his Heart and died at Ampbipolis; and so PERSEUS OR PERSES his SON, the last King of Macedonia, began to reign in the first Year of the 3<sup>d</sup> Calippic Period. See the Catalogue of the Kings of Macedonia.

The Consul Publius Curius led an Army against the Histrions in Italy near Illyricum, who by the Histrion were terrify'd, and run away, leaving all to the Conquerors: but Publius gathering his Men, rally'd upon the Enemy, and recover'd all, slaying the Histrions without Quarter.

Claudius Pulcher the Consul totally subdued the Hirriani, slaying Seso, and the rest yielded, when their Towns were taken, and their King kill'd himself, that he might not be led in Triumph. Then the Consul flooded the rest of the Ituriani, slaying Agroo, while the other Consul Scemponius Gracchus subdued the Sermones.

At Antioch, the emperor, when Herod's soldiers had been ordered to depart to reign, but Antiochus opportunistly

| PERSEUS King of Macedon was fomenting a new War against the Romans.   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  | 575   | 335 | 156                            | 139                             | 7                  | 2               | 8               | 24                  | 13                   | 5                    |                       | 3         | 3831 2173 3 |                       |                |                          |  |  |  | 3867 |  |  |  |  |
| 6. Ariates MITHRIDATES I. the Brother of Phrabates I. King of Parthia, began to reign.  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  | 576   | 336 | 157                            | 140                             | 8                  | 3               | 1               | 25                  | 14                   | 6                    |                       | 4         | 3831 2173 3 |                       | 37             |                          |  |  |  |      |  |  |  |  |
| EUMENES King of Pergamas went to Rome to inform the Senate of the warlike Preparations of PERSEUS, who had got 30000 Foot, and 5000 Horse.  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  | 577   | 337 | 158                            | 141                             | 9                  | 4               | 2               | 26                  | 15                   | 7                    | CLII.                 | 1         | 3832 2172 3 |                       |                |                          |  |  |  |      |  |  |  |  |
| And now the Second Macedonian War begins.   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  | 578   | 338 | 159                            | 142                             | 10                 | 5               | 3               | 27                  | 16                   | 8                    |                       | 2         |                 |                       |                |                          |  |  |  |      |  |  |  |  |
| PERSEUS broke the League made with his Father, and began the War, in which PERSEUS at first was victo- rious against the Consul Licinius. But Laeticius the Praetor intirely subdued the Beroians, that had made a League with PERSEUS.   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |       |     |                                |                                 |                    |                 |                 |                     |                      |                      |                       |           |                 |                       |                |                          |  |  |  |      |  |  |  |  |
| ANTIOCHUS Epiphanes sent an Ambassador to Rome, to justify his Egyptian War. PERSEUS perceiving the vast Preparations of the Romans, sent to Quintus Marcius now come against him, to treat of Peace; and Marcius wisely diverted him from Action by a Truce, till he should send to Rome.  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |       |     |                                |                                 |                    |                 |                 |                     |                      |                      |                       |           |                 |                       |                |                          |  |  |  |      |  |  |  |  |
| The Senate refused to grant Peace to PERSEUS, but upon too hard Terms, that he could not comply with; and sent the Consul Aemilius to seize Larissa the Capital of Thessaly: when PERSEUS rais'd a vast Army.   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |       |     |                                |                                 |                    |                 |                 |                     |                      |                      |                       |           |                 |                       |                |                          |  |  |  |      |  |  |  |  |
| Hostilius Mancinus the Consul was sent against him, but little was done this Year. Mean while   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  | 579   | 339 | 160                            | 143                             | 11                 | 6               | 4               | 28                  | 17                   | 9                    |                       | 3         |                 |                       |                |                          |  |  |  |      |  |  |  |  |
| Appius Claudius was worsted by the Illyrians, and lost many Men.  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |       |     |                                |                                 |                    |                 |                 |                     |                      |                      |                       |           |                 |                       |                |                          |  |  |  |      |  |  |  |  |
| Hostilius the Praetor performed not much against PERSEUS, only he reduced the Roman Army to the ancient Discipline, neglected by Licinius, and sent Legares to all the States of Greece, who promised either to assist the Romans, or to be neuter: while   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  | 580   | 340 | 161                            | 144                             | 12                 | 7               | 5               | 29                  | 18                   | 10                   |                       | 4         |                 |                       |                |                          |  |  |  |      |  |  |  |  |
| PERSEUS made a League with GENTIUS King of the Illyrians, against the Romans, and sent to the Rhodians, and to ANTIOCHUS Epiphanes for Assistance, but in vain.   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |       |     |                                |                                 |                    |                 |                 |                     |                      |                      |                       |           |                 |                       |                |                          |  |  |  |      |  |  |  |  |
| Marcius Philippus the new Consul was quickly sent to take the Command of the Army in Macedonia, who might have been defeated in the Passes, or blockt up in the Plains, if PERSEUS, struck with Fear, had not retreated to Pydna.   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |       |     |                                |                                 |                    |                 |                 |                     |                      |                      |                       |           |                 |                       |                |                          |  |  |  |      |  |  |  |  |
| At length Sempronius Paulus, again Consul, came to command the Army, and gave PERSEUS a total Rout near the River Erpeus. PERSEUS fled to Samothrace, where he was forced to surrender himself and his eldest Son to Octavius the Praetor; and being carried to Rome He and his Children were led in the Triumph of Aemilius; while L. Anicius routed the Illyrians, and took their King Gentius with his Wife and Children Prisoners, who were led in the Triumph of Anicius at Rome. | ANTIOCHUS Epiphanes King of Syria, having oppress'd Egypt by several Descents upon it, PTOLEMY Philometor, and his Brother PHISCON, and their Sister Cleopatra, sent to Rome for Protection; and the Senate's Ambassadors, C. Pompidius Laenas, C. Decimus, and C. Hostilius arrived at Alexandria this Year, and meeting ANTIOCHUS marching to besiege it, forced him in the Senate's Name forthwith to quit Egypt, and all Pretensions to it, and let the two PTOLEMYS reign jointly in Peace. ANTIOCHUS vented his Rage upon the Jews in his Return, sending Apollonius to massacre the People of Jerusalem, pull down its Walls, and with the Ruins to build the strong Fort in the City of David, call'd Mount Actra: and having sent into Judea |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |       |     |                                |                                 |                    |                 |                 |                     |                      |                      |                       |           |                 |                       |                |                          |  |  |  |      |  |  |  |  | cruel Oppressors to extirpate the Jewish Religion, Mattathias the Priest, the Father of MACCABÆUS, took up Arms against them.

EUMENES King of Pergamus, oppress'd by the Galatians, was reliev'd by the Mediation of the Romans. The Roman Grandeur in vast Wealth and large Dominion, was now a Terror to all the World, and all Nations made their Presents to the Senate, and sent their Congratulations upon the Conquest of Macedonia.

The Romans also by their Conquests and Familiarity in Greece acquired great Learning, which They much wanted; and Eloquence, Poetry, and all curious Arts now began to flourish at Rome, under the Patronage of Scipio and Laelius. And this Year the first Comedy of Terence was acted at Rome, when at the Lustrum 212051 free Citizens were cens'd. But from Asia They learned Pride, Luxury, and Effeminacy too soon, and were now determin'd to conquer the whole World.

1. JUDAS Maccabæus the Priest, and the first Prince of the Asmonæan Race, in the Year of the 2<sup>d</sup> Temple 370, and of Daniel's 70 Weeks 293, took up Arms against ANTIOCHUS Epiphanes, began to reign in the Field, and slew Apollonius.

And this Year Sempronius Paulus, leaving Salpinius Gallus at the Head of the Army, travelled round Greece with a great Retinue, and celebrated Games at Amphipolis with great Splendor.

PRUSIAS King of Bithynia came to Rome with his Son Nicomedes to congratulate the Senate, and, like a Fool, would be made a free Man of Rome: but the Senate would not permit EUMENES King of Pergamas to come; because his Conduct with Respect to Persius had been suspected; and therefore made a Law that no more Kings should be permitted to come thither: but next Year

EUMENES sent Attalus and Archæus his Prothers to Rome, who vindicated him before the Senate. The Romans allow'd the Romans their Friendship again.

Antiochus Epiphanes dying in the East, was succeeded by his Son

9. ANTIOCHUS Epiphanes, King of Syria, a Minor 9 Years old, under Lyffas the Governor.

Persius the deposed and captive King of Macedonia died in Prison at Alba, being deprived of Sleep by his Keepers, but was honourably buried.

10. DEMETRIUS Soter the Son of Seleucus Philopator King of Syria fled from Rome, and began to reign. The two PTOLEMY's, Philometor and Physcon, Brothers, having reign'd jointly during seven Years, and Physcon having expell'd Philometor, the Romans as Arbitrators appointed PHILOMETOR to reign over Egypt and Cyprus, and PHYSCON over Cyrene and Lybia, where Each reign'd 17 Years. See Table XL. Then PHYSCON went to Rome and courted Cornelia the Mother of the Gracchi, and Daughter of Scipio Africanus; but she scorn'd him: yet he got the Senate to annex Cyprus to his Kingdom, tho' Philometor did not consent to it; and was therefore declared to be no Ally of Rome.

JUDAS Maccabæus sent Ambassadors to Rome, who obtain'd a Decree of the Senate to declare the Jews their Allies, with a Letter to King DEMETRIUS, requiring him not to molest the Jews: but before They return'd the glorious Hero JUDAS Maccabæus was slain in Battel; and was succeeded by

2. JONATHAN his Brother, who began to reign in the Field. Page 164.

King EUMENES dying this Year, left the Crown not to his own Son a Minor, but to his beloved Brother,

5. ATTALUS II. King of Pergamus, call'd Philadelphus, who began to reign.

And about this Time L. Sempronius Paulus the Conqueror of Macedonia died.

King DEMETRIUS last Year obey'd the Senate's Orders in giving Peace to the Jews, and this Year he sent to the Senate a large and rich Crown of Gold, with Thanks for his kind Usage while an Hostage at Rome.

M. Sempronius Lepidus was made the Prince of the Roman Senate; and

P. Scipio Calpurnia set up an Hour Glass, or an Instrument to measure Time by Sand or Water. About this Time the severe Law was made against Ambition and Bribery, call'd Lex Cornelia Fulvia.

ARIARATHES King of Cappadocia, lately crown'd by Diodotus his extended older Brother, came to Rome, where the Senate sent him back, and sent Attalus King of Pergamus to succeed him.

Phylarchus the Historian of the Romans, coming to the Father of the Emperor, whose Ambassadors were sent from Rome to the Emperor. And

| ALEXANDER Balas the pretended Son of the late King Antiochus Epiphanes , and Laodice that King's real Daughter, came to Rome , and were own'd by the Senate , who decreed to assist him in recovering the Kingdom of Syria : While Attalus the Son of the late King Eumenes of Pergamus , and Demetrius the Son of King DEMETRIUS Soter were at Rome .   |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                               |                               |                                |            |                            |                   |                                     |
| The Senate now decreed, that the Consuls should henceforth commence in Office, on the Calends or first Day of January , and not on the Ides of March , as formerly.  |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                               |                               |                                |            |                            |                   |                                     |
| This Year JONATHAN Prince of the Jews , was by BALAS the pretended King of Syria , appointed High Priest of Jerusalem : and the double Office of Prince and Priest continued in the Asmonean Family till King HEROD the Great's Time.   |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                               |                               |                                |            |                            |                   |                                     |
| PRUSIAS King of Bisbynia twice defeated ATTALUS King of Pergamus , and because he would not desist upon the Mediation of the Romans , They renounced his Friendship.   |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                               |                               |                                |            |                            |                   |                                     |
| The Consul Fulvius Pebilius began the Celtiberian War in Spain .   |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                               |                               |                                |            |                            |                   |                                     |
| About this Time the first Theatre at Rome was erected by the Censors ; but soon removed by the Influence of Scipio Nasica .   |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                               |                               |                                |            |                            |                   |                                     |
| A poor young Fellow of Adramitium in Myfia , call'd Andriscus , pretending to be the Son of PERSEUS late King of Macedonia , (after the Example of Balas ) call'd himself Philip ; and applying to DEMETRIUS for Assistance, that King honestly sent him Prisoner to Rome .   |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                               |                               |                                |            |                            |                   |                                     |
| Lucius Lucullus the Consul (the Grandfather of Lucullus , who routed MITHRIDATES ) and Scipio Emilianus his Legate , and Sulpitius Galba the Prætor , had all great Success in Spain .  |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                               |                               |                                |            |                            |                   |                                     |
| Scipio Emilianus being sent by Lucullus from Spain into Africa to get Elephants from MASINISSA King of Numidia , beheld from an high Ground the old King at the Head of his Army fighting Adrubal General of the Carthaginians , a whole Day, and kept the Field, and gain'd his Point, even to make the Carthaginians call home those that had been exiled upon his Account.   |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                               |                               |                                |            |                            |                   |                                     |
| The Syrian Kings came now to a decisive Bartel, in which Demetrius Soter was slain, and so  |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                               |                               |                                |            |                            |                   |                                     |
| II. ALEXANDER Balas call'd Epiphanes , the Impostor King of Syria , began to reign.   |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                               |                               |                                |            |                            |                   |                                     |
| Andriscus , neglected at Rome , escaped into Macedonia , rais'd an Army, and proclaim'd himself King.   |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                               |                               |                                |            |                            |                   |                                     |
| Phyllas being slain by ATTALUS King of Pergamus , was succeeded by  |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                               |                               |                                |            |                            |                   |                                     |

But Cato's Opinion prevail'd, and for breaking the League, War was proclaim'd against the Carthaginians , who were sore afraid, and offer'd all desirable Satisfaction: but the Romans Answer was, That They must first send 300 of their most noble Children as Hostages in 30 Days to Sicily , and perform what the Consuls should farther enjoin. This was punctually done, and when the Consuls landed at Utica soon after, They sent Commissioners to know their further Commands: the Consul Censorinus demanded all their Arms; which were faithfully deliver'd up by the Carthaginians , who imploring Mercy with Tears, and all possible |   |  |                          |                       |                       |                              |                               |                               |                                |            |                            |                   |                                     |

possible Submission, desired to know their last Doom, which was, That their City must be levelld with the Ground, and that They might build another any where, but not within ten Miles of the Sea! This too severe Doom put them in a Rage, and They desperately resolved to suffer the last Extremity, rather than abandon their ancient magnificent City.

Censorinus commanded the Roman Fleet that was augmented with an auxiliary Fleet sent by MITHRIDATES Euergetes King of Pontus: while Manlius the other Consul commanded the Army.

Andronicus was at first hinder'd from invading Thessaly, by the Achaeans, that helped the Romans in those Parts.

Spurius Postumus Cato saw not Carthage destroy'd, but died this Year, aged 85 Years, and also MASINISSA King of Numidia, aged 90 Years, died, leaving his Crown to MICIPSA his youngest Son, who began to reign after the Death of his two Brothers Pastanabal and Sulussa.

The Consuls were dilatory in beginning the War, thinking now that the Carthaginians wanting Arms could make no Resistance; but They were mistaken: for all Hands in Carthage went to work Arms Night and Day; and when They wanted Iron and Brass, They made Use of Gold and Silver, the Women freely cutting off their Hair to supply the want of Tow or Flax; and Asdrubal, tho' lately condemn'd, was now their General, who with an Army of Desperadoes beat off the Romans several Times from besieging the City, with great Loss; and had been greater Losers if Scipio Aemilianus had not artfully drawn to his Side Phaneas, with 2200 of the best Carthaginian Horse.

Andronicus in Macedonia fought the Roman Prætor Iuventius, who was slain and all his Army routed and cut off; upon which the Pretender invaded Thessaly, laid waste the most Part of it, and got the Thracians to join him.

The Carthaginians having baffled the Consul Piso, and made him rise from the Siege of Hippo, sent Ambassadors to Andronicus, exhorting him to persist in his War against the Romans, and promising to furnish him with Money and Ships.

But Metellus the Prætor at length coming with a great Roman Army into Macedonia, and King ATTALUS assisting him with a Fleet, Andronicus could not get Possession of any Sea Coast to open a Correspondence with Carthage; and being routed by Nicellus in several Conflicts, with the Loss of 25000 Men, he fled to Byzæa a Thracian Prince, who deliver'd him up to Metellus.

Metellus also drove away one Alexander another pretended Son of the late King Perseus: and so in the latter End of the Consulship of Posthumus and Piso, Macedonia was intirely reduced by Metellus, now call'd Macedonicus.

The People of Rome admiring the Conduct of Scipio Aemilianus, and imagining that Africa could not be conquer'd but by a Scipio, instead of the Ædileship which he only expected, They made him Consul this Year, tho' under Age, (with Lucius Drusus his Collègue) and was sent to command alone in Africa, who carried with him Polypius the Historian, and Panætius the Philosopher; for he affected always to have the Learn'd about him as their known Patron: and his first Attack was upon the Carthaginian Fleet, which he beat, and dispers'd under the very Walls of Carthage; in which the Romans were much assisted by the Fleet of MITHRIDATES Euergetes King of Pontus, which he lent them last Year. Mean while

The Achæans having quarrell'd with their Neighbours the Lacedæmonians about Jurisdiction, the last appeal'd to the Romans, who sent their Legates to compose the Difference; and the Roman Legates being very ill used by the Achæans at Corinth, and forced to flee for their Lives: because They decided it in favour of the Lacedæmonians, (and indeed of all the Grecian Cities which the Romans had formerly restored to Liberty) War was proclaim'd at Rome against the Achaean Republick.

Scipio next new modell'd the Roman Army: and having restored the old military Discipline, he soon took that Part of Carthage call'd Megara, and drove the Inhabitants into the Citadel call'd Byrsa, which he beleagu'd, cut off their Supplies from the Country, by securing the Syrtis, and blockt up their Haven: while ASDRUBAL brought the Roman Captives to the Walls, and in sight of the Roman Army. He tortured and butchered them to Death.

But the Besieged having, with almost miraculous Industry, cut out a new Passage to the Sea, by which They received Necessaries from the Army without; Scipio thought fit to attack their Army in the Field, and gave them a total Rout, slew 70000, and took 10000 Prisoners, in the Winter.

In the Spring Scipio took the Wall leading to the Haven Citbe, and after that the Forum itself, where was a most deplorable Sight of slaughter'd mangled People in Heaps: yet still the Citadel held out, till Scipio made Proclamation, That all who would come forth should have their Lives, except Revolters; upon which 50000 Carthaginians came forth, and were saved, among whom was Asdrubal himself; for which the Revolters revil'd him, and being desperate, They set Fire to the Temple, and burnt Themselves in it; as did also Asdrubal's Wife, who threw herself and her two Children into the Flames.

Then Scipio set this magnificent City a Fire, which was 24 Miles in Compass, and was 17 Days a burning; which made Scipio seriously consider of the Changes of human Affairs, as he confess'd to his Master Polybius. Appian. And hereby he got the Title of SCIPIO AFRICANUS junior: he was the Son of Æmilius, and being adopted by Scipio the Son of Scipio Africanus, he was call'd Scipio Æmilianus.

The Senate joyfully received the News, dispatched some of their Number to join Scipio in disposing of the Country, ordering that there should be no Remains of Carthage left, and denouncing heavy Curses on any that should dare to rebuild it, causing all the African Cities assisting the Carthaginians to be demolish'd, dividing the Lands among the Romans and their Friends, selling all the Captives, except a few principal ones, and appointing a Prætor to govern the Country, and the tributary Towns. Cornelius Lentulus and Nummius Alchæus being Consuls.

This same Year the Consul Nummius was sent into Greece against the Acheans, who receiving the Army from Metellus, at the Isthmus of Corinth, routed Diaeus the last Prætor of the Acheans, and Author of this War: Three Days after the Battel, Nummius enter'd Corinth; and having given his Soldiers leave to spoil it, he utterly destroy'd that great and learned, and wealthy City; and from hence he was called Achæus. He brought from Corinth two famous Pictures, viz. an Hercules tormented with Deianira's Coat, and a Wacchus drawn by Aristides the Theban, and placed them in the Temple of Ceres at Rome, with other Grecian Ornaments.

Here ends the Republick of Achæa, of which Polypius was a Native, which was made up of several little States, all now subject to the ROMAN Republick, which, together with Epirus, and the other Parts of Greece, made up the new Roman Province call'd Achæa.

MCCCXCV. 609 ROME now deliver'd from her great Rival CARTHAGE, and her Dominions being extended far and wide from Mount Taurus in Asia eastward, to Lusitania or Portugal westward, became exceeding wealthy and terrible to all Nations: and having still hot Work in Spain. Fabius Maximus Arminianus the Consul, the Son of Aemilius Paulus, and Brother of Scipio Aemilianus, was sent against Viriatus in Spain, who from a Shepherd became first a Robber, and now a General, and created much Vexation to the Romans. Physcon upon the Death of his Brother Philometor now began to reign alone King of Egypt: and — DEMETRIUS Sicator reign'd 5 Years contemporary with ANTIOCHUS Theos and TRYPHON Kings of Syria, till Demetrius was taken Prisoner by the Parthians. The Consuls Sulpicius Galba an avaricious Man, and Aurelius Cotta a very poor Man, contending which should be sent to Spain, Scipio Aemilianus declared against them both; and to Fabius was continued as Proconsul. 2. SIMON the Brother of Jonathan, and Maccabeus the King and High Priest of Judaea, began to reign } and officiate. The wife and brave Scipio Aemilianus now Censor with Mammius Achaicus, first complain'd of his Colleague's Laziness; and when at the Laetrum a publick Prayer in a Song was made to the Gods, That the State of Rome might be made better and more ample! Scipio said, It was good and ample enough already, and alter'd the Prayer, That the State of Rome might be ever preserved safe! Stellus Macedonicus Proconsul of Spain, finding his Enemy the Consul Pompeius Rufus was to succeed him, disbanded all that desired it, neglected the Magazines, and left every Thing to Wreck and Ruin. And Fabius, tho' he perform'd great Things in Lusitania; yet pursuing his Victory with too little Caution, he was so straiten'd by Viriatus, that he was glad of Peace upon equal Terms: and Pompeius Rufus overcome by the Numantines, was forced to make a dishonourable Peace. DEMETRIUS Sicator being a Prisoner in Parthia, his Brother 15. ANTIOCHUS Sictes King of Syria, began to reign, Cepio the Consul being sent into Spain, disapproved of Fabius's Peace, and got Leave from the Senate to renew the War against Viriatus, and set upon him unprovided, forcing him to flee: nay when he sent Ambassadors to treat of Peace, Cepio corrupted them to murder Viriatus at their Return, to the great Disgrace of the Roman Name; and then Tullius or Tentamus the Spanish General surrender'd himself and his Army to Cepio. See Appian in Ibericis. Consul Popilius was sent into Spain to succeed Pompeius, and when Pompeius return'd to Rome, he narrowly escaped Punishment. The wife King ATTALUS being dead, 6. ATTALUS III. Philometor the Son of Eumenes II. King of Pergamus began to reign, Junius Brutus the Consul sent into the farther Spain, much distress'd the Lusitanians, and defeated the Gallaci or Gallitani, (being thence call'd Gallaci) slaying 50000 of them, and taking 6000, for which he afterwards triumphed. Publius the Consul being worsted in Spain by the brave Numantines, and by them besieged, was forced to enter into a League or Friendship with them, which highly disgusted the Romans; and the Senate sent Emilius Lepidus to succeed him, and brought him to a Trial before the Ambassadors of Numantia: Mancinus laying the Blame upon Pompeius for not leaving him a better Army, desired the Senate to deliver him |                             |                             |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                           |                  |            |                        |                |                       |

| 7. Arſaces PHRAHATES II. the Son of Mithridates I. King of Parthia , began to reign,   | 613   | 373                        | 194                          | 177              | 10              | 5               | 1                 | 3                  | 14                 | 8                        | 22               | CLXI.      | 1                      | 3868 2         | 3876                   |
| King Simon being murder'd with two of his Sons by Ptolemy the Son of Abubus , and his Son in Law,  |       |                            |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                          |                  |            |                        |                |                        |
| 4. John HYRCANUS his Son, King and High Priest of the Jews , began to reign and officiate,  | 614   | 374                        | 195                          | 178              | 11              | 6               | 2                 | 4                  | 15                 | 1                        | 23               |            | 2                      | 3869 2         | 3897                   |
| Here ends the History of the first Book of Maccabees , which is really the second Book.  |       |                            |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                          |                  |            |                        |                |                        |
| Scipio Æmilianus alias Africanus junior, now again Consul , was sent into Spain against the Numantines .  | 615   | 375                        | 196                          | 179              | 12              | 7               | 3                 | 5                  | 16                 | 2                        | 24               |            | 3                      | 3869 2         |                        |
| He scour'd the Camp of Whores and Luxury, and restored the old Roman military Discipline; and Micipsa King of Namidia sent him Auxiliaries under the Command of Jugurtha the Son of the King's late Brother Mastanabal .   |       |                            |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                          |                  |            |                        |                |                        |
| This Year MITHRIDATES Eupator was born to his Father Mithridates Euergetes King of Pontus .  |       |                            |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                          |                  |            |                        |                |                        |
| ATTALUS III. the ridiculous King of Pergamus , dying, left all his Goods to the People of Rome ; upon which the Romans also seiz'd that Kingdom as his Goods. But the Will was said to be forged: therefore  |       |                            |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                          |                  |            |                        |                |                        |
| 7. Aristoniscus his bastard Brother rais'd a Party, and usurped to reign. And now also the Servil War in Sicily began by Cunus a Syrian Slave. | The Troubles of ROME by the Gracchi.  |       |                            |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                          |                  |            |                        |                |                        |
| Tiberius Sempronius Gracchus that was twice Consul , married Cornelia the Daughter of Scipio Africanus senior, who bore to him two Sons, viz. Tiberius and Caius Gracchus . Tiberius Gracchus being angry at the Senators for condemning the League made with the Numantines by Pancinus , (whose Quæstor he had been) and for reflecting on him as being concern'd in it, forsook the Patricians ; and by his ready Wit and fæshious Eloquence, got himself chosen this Year a Tribune of the People, when he prefer'd an Agrarian Law , That no Man should possess above 500 Acres of publick Lands, and the rest to be divided among the Poor; and propos'd to divide the Kingdom of Pergamus among them also; nay affirmed, That the Senate should be cut off, and all Things govern'd by the People. |       |                            |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                          |                  |            |                        |                |                        |
| Upon this the Senators determin'd the Death of Gracchus : but Matius Scaevola the Consul declining or afraid to punish him, Scipio NASICA cry'd out, Let every Man that would defend the Authority of the Laws follow me! so saying, He walkt to the Capitol with the Senators and Knights , and some Plebeians , arm'd only with Sticks and Clubs, or what next came to Hand; where They fell upon Tiberius Gracchus , harranguing the Mob to chase him a Tribune , kill'd him in his Flight by a Blow with a Piece of a Bench, and also 300 of his Hearers. This is the first Sedition at Rome that ended in Blood.  |       |                            |                              |                  |                 |                 |                   |                    |                    |                          |                  |            |                        |                |                        |
| And this Year Scipio Æmilianus Africanus in Spain starv'd the Numantines by a close Siege of 15 Months, and levell'd their City with the Ground: while Calpurnius Piso the Consul carried on the Servil War in Sicily . to Rome; but Perpenna fell ill and dy'd at Pergamus: while

SCIPIO AFRICANUS with Hummius and Metellus travell'd to inspect Asia, and other distant Parts, particularly Egypt, where They were splendidly entertain'd by foolish King PHYSCON at Alexandria.

While Aquilius Nepos the Consul went to finish the Aristonic War, Caius Gracchus the Brother of Tiberius, with Fulvius Flareus and Papirius Corbo, the Triumvirs for dividing the publick Lands of Italy, according to the Agrarian Law still in Force, oppress'd the Italians, who came under the Patronage of SCIPIO AFRICANUS: He advis'd to take that exorbitant Power from the said Triumvirs, and the Senate lodged it with Teutates the Consul; but he hated the ingratul Office, and march'd to the War in Illyricum.

The People of Rome were incens'd at SCIPIO for favouring the Italians more than them, and for approving of the Death of Tiberius Gracchus: therefore one Morning he was found dead a Bed, as was suspected, by the Treachery of his own Wife Sempronia, the Sister of the Gracchi, and of their Mother Cornelia: He was one of the wisest and bravest Romans that ever liv'd, the Bulwark and Glory of Rome.

JOHN Hyrcanus King of Judea sent Ambassadors to Rome, with whom the Senate renew'd the League.

Phnabates I. dying without Issue, his Uncle

8. Arfaxes ARTABANUS II. the Son of Phriapatius King of Parthia, began to reign, —

CLEOPATRA leaving Egypt, PHYSCON return'd in Peace, and suborn'd Zebinna to call himself the Son of Balas, who fought Demetrius Sicator, routed him, and slew him.

16. ALEXANDER ZEBINNA King of Syria began to reign, while Seleucus the eldest Son of Demetrius reign'd in some Parts of Syria, and his Mother CLEOPATRA reign'd at Ptolemais.

The Allobrogian War.

The Consul Fulvius Flaccus march'd an Army over the Alps, and subdn'd the Gauls that had distress'd Massilia, a City most faithful to the Romans.

L. Cassius Longinus and Cn. Servilius Caelpio, the Censors, made a Lustrum, and cess'd 390726 free Citizens.

9. Arfaxes MITRIDATES II. call'd the Great, the Son of Artabanus King of Parthia, began to reign, —

19 ANTIOCHUS Gryphus King of Syria began to reign,

Caius Gracchus again chosen Tribune, endeavours in all Things to please the Plebeians, and to oppose the Patricians at Rome: while

Cecilius Metellus the Consul subdn'd the Balearic Islands, that had lately turn'd Pyrates, and was hence call'd Balearicus.

Caius Sertius the Proconsul in Gallia, having defeated the Salvians, settled a Colony at the Sextian Waters, so call'd from him.

Polybius of Megalopolis the excellent Greek Historian died this Year, and Mithridates Euergetes King of Pontus and Lesser Armenia being murder'd at Sinope,

MITRIDATES Eupator, the great Enemy of the Romans, began to reign, being only 12 Years old, when the same Comet appear'd as at his Birth. See Appian, Justin, Salast, Memnon, &c.

Domitius Ahenobarbus the Consul overcame the Allobrogians chiefly by frightening them with his Elephants, to them a new Spectacle.

Caius Gracchus, continued in the Tribuneship, inspect'd into the Corruptions of the Senate, their taking Bribes, selling Offices, &c. found Means to transfer the Power of trying corrupt Officers from the Senators to the Equites or Knights; which was a great Innovation upon the Constitution: for the Equites, tho' instituted by ROMULUS, had no Rank, Order and Authority in the Republick till now, when They come to make the Third Order, call'd the Equestrian; whereas before there were only the Senatorial and Plebeian Orders, the Equites being hitherto only distinguish'd from other Plebeians or Commoners by their Way of Service. Gracchus had a fair Opportunity for this Law, because the Senators had become odious, by acquitting the Money Gesta, Salustius, and Asinius, who had been capital v. guilty of Corruption.

The Fourth Order became the Commoners of the City, and Strangers of the State, who made up the Fourth Order, and were Publicans, who were Publicans, who were Publicans, who were Publicans: but in Time their Power became exorbitant and burdensome, till by Degrees their Authority was diminish'd.

Continuation of TABLE LIII.

ROMAN Republick.

Gracchus taking all Care to please the People, caus'd the High Ways to be mended, erecting a Stone at each Mile. He also propos'd that a Roman Colony should be sent to Tarentum, and that the Latines should be made Roman Citizens. but being frustrated, He departed into Africa with Fulvius Flaccus his Colleague, designing to rebuild Carthage with a Roman Colony, calling it Junonia; and being there likewise disappointed,

He return'd again and stood to be Tribune a Third Time; but his Collegues offended at his violent Carriage, got Spurius Rufus to be chosen into his Place, who began to abrogate the Laws of Gracchus, being seconded by the Consul Opimius; and Gracchus afraid of his Life resolv'd with Flaccus to raise Forces, and with many Friends went to the Capitol with secret Arms; when one Attilius a Serjeant of the Consul coming down from the Capitol while They were going up, cry'd out, You seditious Citizens, make Way for honest Men! They forthwith slew him. This Murder rais'd a Tumult, and the next Day Opimius having order'd the Equites to take Arms, Gracchus and his Friends were forced to fortify themselves in Mount Aventine, when the Consul by Proclamation offer'd for the Head of Gracchus or Flaccus its Weight in Gold: Flaccus flying to a Friend's House was betray'd and slain; and Gracchus soon fled to a Grove beyond the Tiber, and got his Servant to kill him, who also kill'd himself; and Opimius cut off about 3000 of that Party.

Thus ten Years after his Brother Tiberius Gracchus was cut off. Caius Gracchus, and all the Party of the Gracchi, were cut off, for the same Practices; even for changing the Constitution of the Republick, breaking the publick Peace, disuniting Clients from their Patrons, and affecting to govern All: whereby the Roman State became very unsettled, and liable to any Revolution, as will afterwards appear.

This happened,

While the other Consul Q. Fabius Maximus (the Son of Fabius Maximus Emilianus) subdued the Allobroges and Arverni in Gaul, a People inhabiting the Country now call'd Savoy and Dauphinee; and having slain 120000 of them, and captivated one of their Kings, he was call'd Allobrogicus.

And this Year the famous Opimian Wine was found, so call'd from the Consul Opimius, some of which was preserved 200 Years.

ROMAN Republick.

had got the better Part by bribing the Roman Legates that came to make the Partition, he was not contented, but besieged Adherbal in Cirta, took him and cut his Throat.

Therefore War was proclaim'd against JUGURTHA, and L. Calpurnius Bestia the Consul, was sent with an Army against him, who at first took in some Towns, but was too soon overcome by Jugurtha's golden Weapons, to consent to a Treaty of Peace. This, and the exorbitant Power of Scaurus the Consul's Intimate, so alarm'd the Senate, that They wrote to Cassius Longinus the Prætor in Africa, to prevail with Jugurtha to come to Rome upon the publick Faith, that from him They might know the Truth of the Bribery and Corruption justly suspected; and Jugurtha came accordingly to Rome, tho' in poor Habit.

When Jugurtha was beginning to open, Caius Bæbius a Tribune, corrupted by Money, order'd him to be silent, and so the People were disappointed. Nay Jugurtha perceiving that Albinus the Consul wanting to go to War in Numidia, had got one Passina to beg that Kingdom of the Senate (being the Son of Gelussa, the Grandson of Masirissa, the Nephew of Micipsa, and first Cousin of Jugurtha) he employ'd his Friend Bomilcar to cut him off, and sent Bomilcar home safe to Numidia, and at the Order of the Senate Jugurtha himself soon departed out of Italy, looking back on the City, and saying, O Rome, Thou wouldst be all sold if there were a proper Chapman to buy Thee!

Albinus follow'd him with an Army, but did nothing, and left it with his Brother Aulus: but the other Consul Spinthius Rufus defeated the Scordisci, Thracians, Triballians, and Dacians.

Silanus the Consul was well beaten by the Cimbri and Teutones: and JUGURTHA bribed Aulus not to invest Sertal, where his chief Treasures lay; nay he corrupted the Centurions, and did what he pleased with the Roman Army; till at last the other Consul Cæcilius Metellus came thither, and revived the Army, by renewing the old military Discipline.

Metellus wisely and bravely defeated JUGURTHA in several Conflicts, whose Legate or Lieutenant Caius Marius by Frugality, Patience, and Indulgence, conciliated to him the Hearts of the Soldiers, and let the People of Rome know, That with the Help of the Army he could bring Jugurtha to Rome in Chains, charging Metellus with Neglect: and Marius going to Rome, obtain'd to be made one of the Consuls, and got the Command of the Army in Numidia; yet Metellus was honour'd with a Triumph, and with the Name of Pumidicus.

L. Cassius Longinus the other Consul, and his Legate L. Piso were both defeated and slain by the Tigurini or Helvetians in Gallia, the Confederates of the Cimbri, and their Army made to pass under the Jugur. Cæsar Lib. 1. de bello Gallico.

5. ARISTOBULUS I. the Son of Juba Hyrcanus King and High Priest of Judea, began to reign and officiate.

Marcus Tullius CICERO the Father of Roman Eloquence, was now born.

Marius having taken the strong City Capsa, JUGURTHA got Bocchus King of Mauritania his Father in Law, to join him with an Army of Cavalry; but in the Battel of Cirta, tho' the Romans were three Days sore distress'd, yet Marius beat them both out of the Field. And now Lucius Cornelius Sylla the Quæstor of Marius began to learn to be a great Soldier.

2. Servilius Cæpio the Consul warring against the Tectosagani, took the City Tolosa in Gaul, where he found an immense Treasure.

6. Alexander Jannæus the Brother of ARISTOBULUS, King and High Priest of Judea, began to reign and officiate.

Marius having taken Cirta, and again defeated the Enemy, King Bocchus thought fit to sue for Peace, and to enter into a League with Rome; but tho' the Senate pardon'd him, They would not make a League with him till he should deserve it: therefore, by Sylla's Advice, He betray'd JUGURTHA to a private Conference, and deliver'd him to Sylla, then present with him, who brought him in Chains to Marius.

But Manilius the Consul, and Cæpio the Proconsul in Gaul, by Envy and Quarrelling came to be overthrown, and They and all their Army cut off, about 50000, near the Rhone, by the Cimbri, the Teutones, the Tigurini, and Ambrones, the confederated Gauls and Germans, to the great Dishonour of the Roman Name.

The second Servile War in Sicily.

The News of JUGURTHA's being taken made Marius to be chosen Consul a second Time, tho' in his Absence; and returning to Rome, JUGURTHA with his two Sons were led in his solemn Triumph; (tho' Sylla had

2 Seal Ring made, on which was ingraven King Bocchus delivering JUGURTHA to Sylla, with which he ever kept all his Deeds) and JUGURTHA being put to Death by Order of the Senate, the Jugurthin War ended, and a more terrible War began, or rather was continued and carried on,

Viz. The Cimbrian and Teutonic War continued.

For It had lasted ten Years already in Gaul and Spain, where They had been very prosperous against the Romans: and having got many Nations to join them, They resolved to march over the Alps into Italy; the News of which put all Rome in great Consternation, and the Consul Marius had this threatening War committed to his Care. He raised a good Army, and

While the Enemy had gone to Spain, Marius a third Time Consul, train'd his Men up to regular Exercise, and first order'd the Eagle to be the Ensign or Standard of every Legion, a Silver Eagle with Wings expanded on the Top of a Pole; but in Process of Time the Roman Eagles were of Gold. Marius marched against the Tolosani in Gaul, where Sylla his Lieutenant took their King Copilus Prisoner.

Marius a 4th Time Consul, having made sufficient Preparations for War, marched again over the Alps, to meet the Enemy upon their Return from Spain into Gaul, and to prevent their passing the Alps into Italy: and so as the Rhone, his Army being straitned for want of Water, and the Enemy lying between him and the Sextian Waters, He was forced to fight, and routed the Teutones and Ambrones in two Battels, slaying 200000 of them, and taking 80000, with their Leader or King Teutobachus, or Teutobodus. But the Cimbri escaped him, and pass'd over the Alps, tho' in the Depth of Winter, and twice repulsed the other Consul Catulus at the Alps, and at the River Arbefis near Verona.

Marius a 5th Time Consul, and Catulus the Proconsul, marched against the Cimbri now in Italy, and near the Arbefis in a large Field, upon the Enemy's Challenge, fought the decisive Battle, and defeated the Cimbri, slaying 140000, with their King Boiorix, and taking 60000. And their Women, who fought fiercely from their Carts and Chariots, seeing all lost, first kill'd their Children, and then Themselves.

Thus ended the Cimbrian and Teutonic War, that had lasted in all 13 Years.

The Romans being deliver'd from that dreadful Invasion, quaffed it to Marius as They used to their Gods, reckoning him the Third Founder of Rome, after ROMULUS and CAMILLUS.

And this Year AQTILIUS Nepos the other Consul happily finish'd the Second Servile War in Sicily, which had lasted four Years.

MITHRIDATES the Great, King of Pontus, had enlarg'd his Dominion, by conquering the Scythians near the Palus Meotis (now Crim Tartary) and from thence about as far as Colchis, was possess'd of the Kingdom of Bosphorus, King Pericles yielding it to him; and then subdued the Kings near the River T'basus, even to the Countries beyond Mount Caucasus. Therefore the Romans jealous of his Projects, had commanded him to restore to the Scythian Kings their paternal Kingdoms. But instead of obeying their Orders, MITHRIDATES sent Ambassadors to Rome with a great Sum for corrupting the Senate. Mean while, ROME was not without intestine Broils, for Saturninus a Friend of Marius being angry at the Senate for turning him out of being the Quaestor at Ostia, in Revenge, had got himself made a Tribune of the People, in order to follow the Example of the Gracchi.

When his Year was out, Metellus Numidicus being Censor, endeavour'd to thrust him out of the Senate, but was retarded by the other Censor: therefore Saturninus enraged, stood Candidate last Year again for the Tribuneship; and having murder'd his Competitor Novius, obtain'd it, and preferr'd an Agrarian Law for dividing the Conquests in Gaul, and made the Senate to swear to it: but Numidicus refusing the Oath, Saturninus set him a Day to answer it before the People; and Numidicus afraid of Marius now the 6th Time Consul, rather chose a voluntary Banishment, and went to Rhodes and Smyrna, where he apply'd himself wholly to Learning. And now

Saturninus having reproach'd the Ambassadors of Mithridates, and those Senators that received Money from them, was brought into Danger for violating the sacred Rights of Ambassadors, but rescued by the People, who a second Time chose him to be a Tribune. Saturninus being much Harred upon himself, by causing Memmius to be murder'd, and at the same Candidate for the Consulship, to make Way for his intimate Glaucius, and Marius perceiving him in a declining Condition, desired him, and by Warrant from the Senate fell upon him and his Accomplices Glaucius and Sufennus in the Forum, drove them to the Capitol, and by cutting off the Water Pipes made made them yield for want of Water: but tho' They had the publick Faith for their Safety, and rely'd upon Sarius, giving out that They were only the Actors and Instruments of his Plots, They were cut in Pieces by the Knights in the Hesilian Court.

Caesar Julius CESAR was born this Year on the 4th of the Ides of the Month Quindilius, afterwards call'd July from him.

Marcus Antonius Nepos a fine Orator, (the Grandfather of Mark ANTONY the famous Triumvir) was this Year Consul with Posthumus Albinus.

Q. Metellus Pius in mournful Habit, and upon his Knees to every Citizen, with Prayers and Tears beg'd They would recall his Father Pumidius from Banishment; which, tho' contrary to Law, the People granted for the Pity of the Youth.

But Sarius not bearing to look upon Metellus Pumidius at his Return, sail'd into Cappadocia and Galatia, pretending to perform his Vows to the great Mother Idea; but really to foment new Wars: for he visited MITRIDATES King of Pontus, who entertain'd him royally; and Sarius advis'd that King either to endeavour to do greater Things than the Romans, or to yield to their Commands! which Liberty of Speech that King had never been us'd to.

About this Time, or a little before, the Poet Lucretius flourish'd, and all Sorts of Learning were encouraged at Rome, for all their Corruptions and Diffentions.

Antiochus Syppus being murder'd this Year, his Son

20. SELEUCUS King of Syria, began to reign,

Pharnaces the Son of MITRIDATES Expator King of Pontus was born; for he liv'd 56 Years.

PTOLEMY Apion King of Cyrene and Lybia, the Ballard Son of Physcon, dying, left all to the People of Rome by his last Will; which They not scizing, many little Tyrants distress'd that Country, till at last It was made a Roman Province.

TIGRANES the Son of Tigranes King of Great Armenia, an Hostage in Parthia when his Father died, was releas'd by Asfaxes MITRIDATES II. King of Parthia, and sent home to mount his Throne.

Q. Marius Securobula was sent Proconsul into Asia, where he staid but nine Months; chusing for his Legate the just, wife, and virtuous P. Aulius Rufus: Marius chastis'd the Publicans, and by his good Administration reconciled the whole Province to the Romans: nay the Greeks there made annual holy Days to his Honour, call'd Maria; and afterwards the Senate always recommended his Example to all Magistrates, whom They sent into that Province.

ANTIOCHUS Ctesibes the Son of Cyzicenus King of Damascus, vanquish'd Seleucus King of Syria, and forced him to flee to Mopsaestia, where the Mob burnt him in his House.

21. PHILIP the Son of Syppus King of Syria began to reign,

10. NICOMEDES III. and last King of Bithynia, began to reign,

MITRIDATES King of Pontus had subdued Colchis, and extended his Dominion beyond Pharnacia and Trapezus, (where the Taurians and Chaldeans dwell) even to little Armenia, where the petty Kings yielded their Power to him.

He travell'd incognito over all the Asiatic Countries near him, to know how to carry on his Wars; and when return'd he narrowly escaped being poison'd by his Wife and Sister Laodice, who had in his Absence been too familiar with others.

He had made a League with NICOMEDES II. King of Bithynia, and They having invaded Paphlagonia, divided it between them: upon which the Romans sent Legates to them both, requiring them to restore the Country to its right Owners; but MITRIDATES bravely reply'd, That he only took Possession of his hereditary Dominions, and wonder'd the Romans would meddle in a Controversy not yet reject'd to them! and scorning their Threats he took Possession of Galatia too. Next

He employ'd Gordius a Cappadocian to murder ARIARATHES King of Cappadocia, (the Son of him slain in the Asiatic War) tho' ARIARATHES had married his Sister the other Laodice; but while deligitig to cut off her two Sons next, NICOMEDES II. invaded Cappadocia, and married the Widow Queen: upon which MITRIDATES beat all the Bithynians out of Cappadocia, and set his Nephew young ARIARATHES on the Throne.

| But MITHRIDATES offering to restore Gordius from Banishment, the young King oppos'd it, and met his Uncle at the Head of an Army, consisting of 80000 Foot, 10000 Horse, and 600 Hook-Chariots. MITHRIDATES de-sired an Interview with ARIARATHES alone before Battel, with a solemn Promise of his Safety; but when theYouth came, his Uncle cut off his Head with a private Weapon, in Sight of both Armies, and without aBenefit seiz'd that Kingdom, which he bestow'd upon one of his Sons 9 Years old, call'd ARIARATHES, and madeGordius his Regent.   |       |  |  |                          |                       |                       |                           |                               |  |                       |            |                              |                   |                                     |
| The Cappadocians sent for their late young King's Brother, call'd also ARIARATHES, and made him theirKing; but MITHRIDATES soon expell'd him, and falling sick the Youth died.   |       |  |  |                          |                       |                       |                           |                               |  |                       |            |                              |                   |                                     |
| And now NICOMEDES III. being justly afraid of the growing Power of Mithridates , suborned a Youth to callhimself the third Son of the late ARIARATHES; and getting his Mother in Law, Queen Laodice , to own him,sent her with him to Rome to put in his Claim: and MITHRIDATES sent Gordius to Rome to assure the Senatewith all Impudence, that the Youth he had set upon the Throne ( viz. his own Son) was the Son ofARIARATHES King of Cappadocia .  | 658   | 418  | 239  | 222                      | 26                    | 2                     | 34                        | 2                             | 15                                     | 32                    | CLXXII. 2  |                              |                   | 253                                 |
| But the Senate was not to be impos'd upon, condemn'd both their Claims, order'd Mithridates to leaveCappadocia , and NICOMEDES to leave Peoplogonia , (which his Father had seiz'd) and to restore their KingPYLEMENES.   |       |  |  |                          |                       |                       |                           |                               |  |                       |            |                              |                   |                                     |
| The Senate decreed the Cappadocians should become a free People; but, to the Wonder of the Romans , Theywould not be free, declaring They could not subsist without a King: therefore They got Leave to chuseARIOBARZANES one of their Noblemen to be their King.  |       |  |  |                          |                       |                       |                           |                               |  |                       |            |                              |                   |                                     |
| Mean while at Rome the Senatorian Order was much offended at the judicial Power given to the Equites ,by the Laws of Cassius Saccus ; for that the Commonwealth was bought and sold by the Equites , who werealso Publicans ; Dynus a Tribune endeavouring to make all easy, pleas'd no Party, except the Italian Allies,whom he propos'd to be made free of Rome ; and was basely stab'd in the Croud of his Attendants, by the Contri-vance of the Knights , as was suppos'd; for being influenced by the Publicans of Asia , the Knights gotRutilius Rufus late Quæstor of Sacerdola , condemn'd upon a false Accusation of having pilloin'd someMoney while in Asia , and had confiscated his Estate, tho' his All amounted not to the Half of what hewas charged with. But he had severely punish'd the Publicans , which was Crime enough; and besides, He wastoo honest to concur in the Measures of Sarius , who concur'd therefore with the Knights against Rutilius :and Rutilius sailing from Rome , came to Mycelene , where all the Princes and Cities of Asia made himwelcome, and contributed to make up for him a far better Estate than he had lost. He is call'd by Historians thebest Man that ever liv'd. |       |  |  |                          |                       |                       |                           |                               |  |                       |            |                              |                   | 2511                                |
| The Senate order'd Sylla then Prætor of Cilicia , to march and put ARIOBARZANES in quiet Possession ofCappadocia , which he did. And while Sylla was in those Parts desjaces MITHRIDATES II. King of Par-thia , sent Ambassadors to him to sue for Friendship with the Romans ; which was the first Intercourse betweenthose Nations.   |       |  |  |                          |                       |                       |                           |                               |  |                       |            |                              |                   |                                     |
| The Social or Civil War began this Year.  | 659   | 419  | 240  | 223                      | 27                    | 3                     | 35                        | 3                             | 16                                     | 33                    |            | 3                            |                   |                                     |
| For the Italians finding that the Knights were banishing all great Men that were not for their Purpose, and theirHope being extinct with Drausus of being made free of Rome by Petition, were resolv'd to be free by Arms, andmany Italian Nations, as the Lucani , Apulii , Marfi , Peligni , Samnites , and others, join'd to raise an Army withequal Diligence and Secrecy of 100000 Foot and Horse. They cut off Servilius the Proconsul at Asculum ; yetsent Ambassadors to complain of their not being admitted to their Right of the Freedom of Rome , which Theythought They deserv'd as much as the Romans ; for that by their Valour, Rome had arriv'd at her Greatness:but the Senate would not hear their Ambassadors, till They had repented of what They had done; and so com-mitted the War to the Consul Lucius Julius Caesar , and P. Rutilius Lupus , with Sarius , Sylla ,Cneius Pompeius Strabo (the Father of Pompey the Great) and others, who had Proconsular Authority.   |       |  |  |                          |                       |                       |                           |                               |  |                       |            |                              |                   |                                     |
| The Romans received many Defeats, the Consul Rutilius was slain in an Ambuscade by the Marfi , and theRoman Army was confin'd to Marus and Lucus , till Sylla was sent by Popeianus an Italian General, andthe Sarius and Sylla were of the side and of Cappadocia . Mean while   |       |  |  |                          |                       |                       |                           |                               |  |                       |            |                              |                   |                                     |
| MITHRIDATES being in Parthia prevail'd with Tigranes , King of Armenia to join in his destined Wars againstthe Romans , and sent him his Daughter Cleopatra in Marriage, upon which TIGRANES sent an Army intoCappadocia .   |       |  |  |                          |                       |                       |                           |                               |  |                       |            |                              |                   |                                     |

Cappadocia, and expell'd ARIOBARZANES, restor'd ARIARATHES the Son of Mitbridates: and MITHRIDATES the same Time took Part with Chrestus, the Brother of NICOMEDES III. King of Bithynia, (who had murder'd his Father) and expell'd NICOMEDES.

Marius slew 6000 Italians, and disarm'd 7000 of them; when The Consuls Pompeius Strabo and Lucius Porcius Cato took the Command of the Army. Pompey slew 18000 Italians, with Afranius their General, took 3000, and took in Asculum, where he caused the chief Men to be first scourged, and then beheaded. Cato perform'd well too; but boasting that he had done as great Things as Marius, he was slain in the Hurry of a Battel by Marius's Son. Sulpicius the Lieutenant of Pompey, wasted the Sarrucini and Ugentini; and Sylla the Lieutenant of Cæsar last Year, and of Cato this Year, had destroy'd the Marchians, that had fled from before Marius, and now routed Cleuentius: Then Cleuentius rais'd an Army of Gauls, and marched towards Sylla, but was again defeated by Sylla, who slew 50000 of the Enemy at Nola; whereby he finish'd this War, in which 200000 of the Youth of Italy were cut off. Yet the Italians were made free of Rome, tho' not incorporated in the 35 Tribes, but placed behind them, and left in voting; (which was the Occasion of Wars and Mischiefs afterwards) therefore Sylla towards Winter return'd to Rome to demand the Consulship, and obtain'd it.

Thus the Social War ended, Anno U. C. Marconiano, 665

TABLE LV.

The CHRONOLOGY of the ROMAN Republick from the Beginning of the first Mithridatic War, To the perpetual Dictatorship of SYLLA, and the End of the second Mithridatic War, containing 8 Years.

In the 28th Year of PTOLEMY Lathyrus King of Egypt.
4th Year of PHILIP King of Syria.
36th Year of Arsaces MITHRIDATES II. King of Parthia.
4th Year of NICOMEDES III. King of Bithynia.
17th Year of ALEXANDER Jannæus King of Judea.
And 34th Year of MITHRIDATES the Great King of Pontus.
Anno U. C. Marcianiano, 665

In the same Year that the Social War in Italy was almost finish'd.

MITHRIDATES the Great King of Pontus, having expell'd Nicomedes III. from Bithynia, while his Confederate TIGRANES King of Armenia expell'd Ariobarzanes from Cappadocia, both these injured Kings came to Rome to complain, and the Senate sent Manius Aquilius (who had finish'd the Servile War in Sicily) and M. Altinus, their Legats to restore them, with an Order to L. Cassius, and also to MITHRIDATES himself to assist the Legates. MITHRIDATES laugh'd at the Order, but Cassius with a little Army assisted Aquilius, and restored those Kings: But the same Time advised them both to distress MITHRIDATES, in order to provoke him to go to War. Accordingly, Nicomedes rais'd Forces, ravaged Pontus, and return'd with great Spoils: for MITHRIDATES would not oppose him, that he might have many just Causes for going to War; but sent Pelopidas his Ambassador to the Roman Commanders, to complain of the Wrong; whom the Romans did not treat with Civility, but dismiss'd him with a dubious Answer, That They would not have Nicomedes and Mithridates wrong each other.

Therefore MITHRIDATES judging himself sufficiently provoked by the Romans, sent an Army to expel Ariobarzanes, and again set his Son Ariarathes on the Throne of Cappadocia; and again sent Pelopidas to the Roman Generals and Legats, to acquaint them that he would complain of them to the Senate, and to charge them not to begin Hostilities without the publick Decree of the Senate and People of Rome: but Pelopidas being dismiss'd with Indignation,

The Roman Chiefs in Asia not waiting for Orders from Rome, forthwith began The first Mithridatic War.

L. Cassius, Manius Aquilius, and Q. Oppius, Each form'd an Army of 40000, and pitched in several Parts; while King Nicomedes took the Field with 50000 Foot, and 6000 Horse, and Minutius Rufus, and C. Popilius commanded the Roman Fleet at the Mouth of the Pontic Sea.

MITHRIDATES had 250000 Foot, and 40000 Horse, 300 Deck Ships, and 100 Two-Oar'd-Gallies, and his Son Archathias brought to him 10000 Horse from Lesser Armenia. Proptolemus and Archelaus two noble Brothers, before the King came up with the Phalanx or Main Body, attackt Nicomedes in the Plains near the River Amnia; and tho' They were inferior in Numbers, yet by the Means of the Armenian Horse, and 130 hooked Chariots commanded by Dorpius, They routed him with a great Slaughter, and made him flee to Paphlagonia.

Next They beat Aquilius and Oppius, and made him flee to Pergamus: and They got all the Fleet of Nicomedes into their Power, when the Roman Fleet retired.

MITHRIDATES sent home all his Prisoners with Provisions to their respective Countries; whereby he gain'd many to his Side, as the Saviour of Asia from a foreign Yoke: and Nicomedes going to Rome, MITHRIDATES seiz'd all Bithynia, enter'd Phrygia with a great Army, lay in the Bed of ALEXANDER the Great in great State, as an happy Omen; and having subdued all the Roman Province in Asia, and also Pamphilia and Lycia, He beat King Phylarcus out of Paphlagonia. The Laodiceans near the Lycus delivered up to him Oppius, whom he carried about for a Show; and the Mitylenians next deliver'd Aquilius, whom he set upon an Ass, forcing him to proclaim to the People, I am Aquilius the Author of the War! and at last being often whipt, and much tormented, They had melted Gold poured into their Mouths at Pergamus, in Derision of Roman Covetousness. The revolted Italians invited MITHRIDATES into Italy against the Romans; but he answer'd, That when he had conquer'd Asia, he would lead his Troops into Italy; whereby the Italians were dispirited.

ROMAN Republick.

Sylla and Pompeius Rufus being Consuls, the Romans decreed an Expedition against MITHRIDATES, wherein Sylla was to command: but while Sylla was finishing the Remains of the Social War, P. Sulpicius, the Tribune got Marinus to be appointed instead of Sylla to command the Army against MITHRIDATES; which was opposed by Pompeius the other Consul, whose Son had married Sylla's Daughter, and was now slain in this Tumult. But Sylla hearing these Things, hastned to Rome with the Army, and seized the Capitol; when the Marinians dispers'd, and Sulpicius was put to Death. And thus began

The first Civil War at ROME.

Marinus, now aged 70 Years, in his Flight, hid himself in the Fens, whence he was brought to the Prison of Minturnam, where a Gaulic Slave was sent to kill him: but the Gaul was so dash'd at the Majesty of his Presence, that he run away crying for the sad Fate of so great a Man; nay the Minturnians moved with Pity, let him escape, and he went to Africa: while Sylla, the first in Rome that acquired Dominion by Arms, disposed of the City as he pleased, and left the Remains of the Social War to be finish'd by Pompeius Strabo: But the Senate sending Pompeius Rufus the Consul to receive the Army from Pompeius Strabo, his Soldiers slew the Consul; the News of which made Sylla not a little afraid, and hastning to the Army at Capua, he sail'd over into Greece. Mean while

MITHRIDATES gather'd immense Wealth from the Asiatic Cities, the labour of ancient Kings; and returning from Ionia, he took in Stratonice, and took the charming Donna Daughter of Philopamenes into his Seraglio.
But his terrible Hatred of the Romans prompted him to contrive and execute the Massacre of 80000 Italians and Romans in Asia in one Day. Then he pass'd into the Island Coos, where he found the great Treasure of Cleopatra Queen of Egypt, with her Son Alexander, to whom he gave a Royal Education. But the Rhodians were faithful to the Interest of Rome, and their Island was the Asylum of the Romans in Time of the said Massacre: therefore MITHRIDATES came and attackt it with his grand Fleet, but was shamefully beat off by the Rhodians small Fleet, and narrowly escaped being taken himself.

Then MITHRIDATES sent Archelaus into Greece with 120000 Men, who soon had Athens deliver'd to him by Aristion, and soon got almost all the Greek Nations on his Side.

10. Artases MNASKIRES, the Son of Phrabates I. King of Parthia, began to reign,
Sara the Legate of Sensins, the Prator of Macedonia, defeated Metrophanes's Fleet, which was sent against Magnesia by MITHRIDATES; till Sylla came into Asica, who sent a Detachment to besiege Aristion in Athens, and with his main Body marched to Piræus where Archelaus was; while MITHRIDATES at Pergamus was dividing Lordships and Wealth among his Friends.

Quintus Probus and Coznelius Cinna being Consuls, the Italians declared their Uneasiness, that tho' now free of the City, They were not incorporated in the old 35 Tribes, but made up Eight new Tribes, and gave their Votes last, whereby They were not often needful; and Cinna declared for the new Citizens, and recall'd
Marinus and his Associate Exiles from Africa to assist him: but Quintus so warmly opposed it, that Cinna was by Force drove out of Rome, and Perula put in his Place. Cinna went about the Italian Cities, telling them he was a Sufferer upon their Account; and assuring them he would obtain for them equal Privileges at Rome with the old Romans, he rais'd considerable Sums for carrying on the projected War.

Quintus and Perula fortified the City, and sent for Pompeius Strabo with his Army to defend it, who no sooner came, than Cinna came also with an Army from Capua; and Marinus landing in Hetruria, rais'd 6000 Men there, and join'd Cinna.

Marinus marched and took Ustia, and returning, posted himself on the Hill Janiculum near Rome, where Cinna join'd him. The Consuls sent to Samnium for Petellus with his Army; but he not agreeing to their Terms, soon join'd Marinus and Cinna. But tho' They broke in upon Rome, They were bravely repulsed by Pompeius Strabo, who soon after was kill'd by a Thunder-bolt.

Marinus straitned Rome by taking in several Towns about it, where Provisions lay; and Cinna by promising Liberty to the Slaves, drew many of them out of Rome: which made the Senate send Ambassadors to Marinus and Cinna to come peaceably to Rome, and spare their Country Men: but Cinna would not be address'd as a private Man, and therefore They were forced to invite him as Consul, requiring him to swear he would shed no Blood, which he refused: and Marinus would not come till They had revers'd the Decree for his Banishment.

Continuation of TABLE LV.

ROMAN Republick.

But when Sarius and Cinna enter'd Rome, They fill'd it with Blood and Death, cut off the Heads of Stabius and Antonius, (the Grandfather of the Triumvir) and set them on the Rostra: all Sylla's Friends were slaughter'd without Mercy, his House demolish'd, his Goods put to Sale, and He was declared an Enemy to Rome. Scruia and Catullus chose rather to kill themselves, and dismal was the State of Rome; when Sarius and Cinna made themselves Consuls for the Year ensuing.

Catullus the Poet was born this Year. Mean while Sylla, after a long Siege, took in Athens in December, tho' it is said to be on the Calends of next March, by the Error of the Roman Calendar: and the Rhodians not being able to cope with MITHRIDATES at Sea, wisely advis'd L. Lucullus, Sylla's Legate, to sail to Syria, Egypt, and Lybia, and hire a Fleet to join them; which he did in the Middle of Winter.

But Sarius, while contriving great Things against Sylla, died in the first Month of his 7th Consulship; being succeeded by L. Valerius Flaccus another Enemy of Sylla.

Arifio the Tyrant was forced for want of Water to surrender the Castle of Athens to Curio, and was with his Associates put to Death. Then SYLLA march'd into Boetia with 15000 Foot, and 1500 Horse, and at Cheronea fight Archelaus, who had 120000 Men, routed him, and slew above 100000 of them; for Archelaus brought not off 10000, and SYLLA lost not above 15 Men.

While Lacallas arriv'd at Cyrene settled their Commonwealth, and gave them Laws; and tho' he lost most of his Ships by the Pyrates, in sailing to Alexandria, He was handsomely treated by PTOLEMY Lathyrus King of Egypt, who gave him a good Fleet, and with it he sail'd to Cyprus, and thence to Rhodes.

Salust the Historian was born this Year at Amisernum, a Sabine Town. Mean while

Cinna sent his Colleague Flaccus with two Legions into Asia, to manage the War against MITHRIDATES; and Fimbria a Senator, an expert Soldier, went as his Legate; with a Charge to assist Sylla, if They found him firm in the Senate's Interest, if not to oppose him: but Sylla knowing all this, march'd into Thessaly to meet them, where a good Part of their Army having Flaccus as a coverous cruel Man, desert'd to Sylla.

Archelaus made Havock among the Islands by his Fleet; and his Master MITHRIDATES began to make new Levies, and cut off most of the Tetrarchs of Galatia, with their Wives and Children, and many more, only for fear They should go over to Sylla: and sent Zenobius to ruine Cbians, and transport the People to Pontus; but They were sav'd in their Passage by the People of Heraclea, who sent them back safe. Then Zenobius marching to Ephesus, was there intercept and slain; when the Ephesians, terrify'd by the Usage of the Cbians, asserted their Liberty, as did also the Men of Sardis, Colophon, and Smyna.

Dorylaus the Favourite of MITHRIDATES, and Priest of Comana in Pontus, the Son of Philaterus, and Nephew of Dorylaus Tacitus, was sent against Sylla with 80000 Men, and Archelaus with 10000 join'd him, and at Orcomenus fought Sylla, but were defeated by him with the Loss of 15 or 20000: and renewing the Battel, Sylla beat them again, and slew 20000 of them, while as many perish'd in a Lake, Archelaus narrowly escaping to Celchis to gather the Remains of the Army. Sylla having spoil'd Boetia winter'd in Thessaly, expecting Lucullus with a Fleet, and not hearing from him, Sylla built some Ships there; tho' Livy says that Archelaus betray'd his Master's Fleet to Sylla, and which MITHRIDATES afterwards discover'd, and complain'd of in his Letter to Ariates. Salust. Lib. 4.

Flaccus perceiving Fimbria's Designs, dismiss'd him in Bitynia, and going home thro' Bizantium, Fimbria got Flaccus's Garrison there to revolt, and with them return'd to Bitynia, driving Flaccus to flee to Nicomedia, where he catch'd him hid in a Well, and having cut off his Head, threw it into the Sea, leaving his Body unburied, took the Command of his Army, was by them declared Imperator, gave them Leave to spoil Nicomedia, march'd to subdue the Cities of Asia, us'd many Cruelties, exacted great Sums, defeated Mithridates the Son of King MITHRIDATES, by crossing a River in the Night, and falling upon his Army asleep, followed that Prince to Pergamus, from whence he made him and the King his Father flee to Patana, where he blockad'd them by Land, and sent to Lucullus, then with a great Fleet in the Neighbourhood, to block him up at Sea, whereby the King had certainly been taken. But Lucullus having Fimbria and all his Party, would not concur; and so the King getting Ships escap'd to Myndus. But Lucullus bravely repuls'd Neoptolemus and the Pontic Fleet, near Treas and Teneas.

ROMAN Republick.

Fimbria severely punish'd those Cities that had refused him Entrance, particularly old Ilium, that had been long rebuilt a fine City, into which he cunningly enter'd; and tho' Sylla had sent to him, not to molest it as being under his Protection, yet he cut off the innocent People, and burnt it down, just 1100 Years after the Fall of TROY.

But the Consuls Cinna and Carbo, by their Cruelties, made most of the Nobility flee from Rome to Sylla's Camp, where there was the Appearance of a Senate, and all pray'd him to make Haste, and return to save his Country, which he was earnest for; tho' not before he had finish'd the Mithridatic War.

While thus uneasy in his Mind, Archelaus came from MITHRIDATES to sue for Peace: Sylla treated him with all Marks of Honour, and sent him back with Terms to his Master, viz. That MITHRIDATES should restore to Phicometes and Ariobarzanes their Kingdoms, should be contented with his ancient Kingdom of Pontus, and the Countries beyond the Halys, should pay 3000 Talents for the Charge of the War, and yield to the Romans 70 of his Capital Ships.

When Archelaus return'd to Sylla, signifying his Master's Acceptance, He marched his Army from Philippi thro' Thrace to the Hellespont, where Lucullus was at Hand with a Fleet, that safely transported his Army into Asia; and meeting with MITHRIDATES at Dardanium near Troy, the Peace was concluded to the Satisfaction of both. MITHRIDATES then sail'd home in State to Pontus, and Sylla marched strait towards Fimbria, then incamp'd at Thyatira, and refusing to deliver up the Army, Sylla drew Lines against him: but Fimbria perceiving his Soldiers to desert him, fled to Pergamus, where he stab'd himself, and died; when his Army came over to Sylla, who order'd Curio to see Phicometes and Ariobarzanes restored, and the City Ilium to be rebuilt, reconstituted the Province of Asia, declared the Ilians, Chians, Rhodians, Lycians, Magnesians, and others, that had suffer'd in the Cause of Rome, to be the Friends and Allies of the Roman Republick, made the Slaves that had been freed by MITHRIDATES to return to their Masters, dismantled many Towns in Asia, sold many People under the Spear, and summoning the prime Men of the Asiatic Cities before him at Ephesus, he fined them in 20000 Talents to be paid in 5 Years, leaving Lucullus to gather it.

But he neglected to clear the Coast and Country of Pirates and Robbers, being in Haste to return to Rome. He desired good Publius Rufus to return with him, who refused it, and retiring to Smyrna spent all his Time in learned Studies: but SYLLA brought with him Alexander, the Son of ALEXANDER late King of Egypt, who had fled to him from MITHRIDATES; left Surena the Prætor to command in Asia with Lucullus as Quæstor; and sailing from Ephesus, Sylla in three Days, arriv'd at Piræus; and marching to Athens, he was initiated in the Athenian Mysteries, and seiz'd the Library of the late Apellicus, where were the Works of Aristotle and Theophrastus, with which he adorned his own Library at Rome. From Athens He marched his Army through Macedonia to Dyrrachium; and here we may begin

The Second Civil War of the Romans.

The Consuls Cinna and Carbo had made a Law to direct Sylla of his Command, and to proclaim War against him as an Enemy of Rome; but upon his Letters to the Senate, threatening speedily to revenge both publick and private Injuries; the Senate sent Ambassadors to him to reconcile him to his Adversaries, and order'd Cinna to discontinue his Levies: but Cinna and Carbo having got themselves chosen Consuls for the next Year, They travell'd over Italy, and rais'd Legions, some of which They transported to Dalmatia to oppose Sylla; but the rest being driven back by a Storm, flatly refused to fight against their victorious Country Men, and none would go aboard: upon which Cinna went to harangue them; and a Mutiny arising, Cinna was cut off in the Tumult, and Carbo was sole Consul. Mean while

MITHRIDATES King of Pontus having slain his Son Mithridates a brave Youth, suspecting him to be an ambitious Rival; because some of his distant Subjects desired him to be their King, prepared a great Army against the Bithyrians that had revolted from him; and Archelaus his General, afraid of being cut off for his Intimacy with Sylla, fled to Surena, and easily excited him to War, who was most ambitious of obtaining a Triumph: and so began

The Second Mithridatic War.

Surena pretending that MITHRIDATES had not restored all the Territories of ARIOBARZANES, and that his great Preparations were made for War against the Roman, marched an Army thro' Cappadocia to Comana, a great City of Mithridates, famous for its magnificent Temple and High Priest, and began Hostilities.

ROMAN Republick.

Sylla sent the Senate Answer, That he would never be reconciled to Cinna and Carbo; but the Messengers coming to Brundisium heard of Cinna's Death, and went strait back to Sylla, who forthwith sail'd over to Brundisium with a Fleet of 1600 Ships, and 60000 Men, in the Beginning of the Consulship of Cornelius Scipio and Gaius Baebius Pilo.

The same Year the Syrians quite weary of the Seleucidae, deposed the whole Race at once, and chose 22. TIGRANES King of Armenia, who as King of Syria began to reign, Mithridates sent Ambassadors to Murena to complain of breaking the League lately made with Sylla; but Murena deny'd he had seen any written League made by Sylla. Upon which the King sent to Sylla and the Senate of Rome to complain of Murena. Mean while Sylla from Brundisium marched into Campania, being join'd on the Road by Metellus Pius with a little Army; and next by CNEIUS POMPEIUS, (call'd afterwards POMPEY the Great) and even by Cethegus his old Enemy, who had reconciled himself to Sylla. At Cannus he fought the Consul Norbanus, and made him flee to Capua, with the Loss of 6000 Men slain: but the other Consul Scipio's Army deserted him, and Sylla dismiss'd him safe; and Sertorius fled to Spain his Province. Sylla sent to Norbanus to treat of Peace, but receiving no Answer. He marched forward in an hostile Manner.

Carbo marched into Rome, and got Metellus and all Sylla's Party declared Enemies of the State.

The Day before the Nones of July, and while both Parties were harassing Italy, and raising Forces, the famous Capitol of Rome was burnt, none knowing which Way it happen'd, about 430 Years after it was built by TARQUINIUS Superbus King of the Romans: when all its Rarities perish'd, particularly the Sibyllin Verses.

Publius Carbo and young Caius Marius (the Nephew and adopted Son of the Great Marius) being Consuls, the civil War was fiercely carried on by both Parties: for Metellus Pius defeated Carinas the Lieutenant of Carbo; and Carbo pursued Metellus and besieged him; but hearing that Marius was overthrown by Sylla, Carbo retreated to Ariminum, while Sylla blockaded Marius in Praeneste. Marius grown desperate, and hating that his Enemies should survive him, wrote to Damasippus the Praetor of Rome to call the Senate, and cut off Marcus Scaevola the High Priest, with Antistius, Domitius, and other Senators; which was done, and their Bodies thrown into the Tiber. Metellus having again defeated Carbo, and Pompey having routed Marcius, Sylla had no Stop to his marching into Rome, where he sold his Enemies Goods under the Spear; and bidding the People be easy, for that his Enemies forced him to act so, he left a sufficient Garrison in Rome, and marched to Clusium, where he fought Carbo a whole Day, till Night parted them, neither Side knowing who won the Day. Carbo now upon the Defensive, sent Marcius with 8 Legions to relieve Marius; but Pompey met them in a narrow Lane, and drove them back. Lamponius, Tefesinus, and Capuanus, marched from different Parts with 70000 Men to relieve Marius; but Sylla took Possession of the Passes, and kept them out: while Norbanus and Carbo were overcome by Metellus at Faventia, with the Loss of 10000, and 6000 yielded, and the Lucanian Legion deserting to Metellus, their General Albinovanus follow'd them, and was reconciled to Sylla, by murdering some of Carbo's chief Captains. Norbanus fled by Sea to Rhodes, where fearing to be deliver'd up, he kill'd himself in the Forum. Carbo sent Damasippus with two Legions to relieve Marius, but he could not force the Passes that Sylla had fortify'd. And now Metellus was Master of all Gallia Cisalpina, while M. Lucullus (the Brother of L. Lucullus in Asia) defeated another Carbonian Army at Fidentia: upon which CARBO fled into Africa, leaving 30000 Men at Clusium, whom Pompey defeated, slaying 20000 of them, and the rest went Home.

Damasippus, Marcius, Carinas, Tefesinus, Lamponius, and other Carbonian Chiefs, not being able to relieve Marius, marched in the Night to the Walls of Rome, and Sylla strait followed them; where a most fierce Battel was fought at the Gates all Day, and with much ado SYLLA got the bloody Victory at Night: about 50000 on both Sides were slain, and 8000 of the Carbonians taken Prisoners, the most Part being Samnites, were afterwards cut off by Archers: Marcius and Carinas being taken in their Flight, their Heads were cut off and sent to the Neighbourhood of Praeneste, whose Inhabitants were frighted to surrender the Place to Lucretius; and Marius kill'd himself, whose Head Sylla set upon the Rostra at Rome. Lucretius took all the Senators Prisoners found in Praeneste, whom Sylla, when he came thither, put to Death; and 12000 of the Inhabitants, brought out into a Field, were cut off by Darts, only the Romans and the Women and Children escaped, and that very opulent City was plunder'd.

All Italy being thus brought under the Power of Sylla, He sent Pompey into Africa to hunt Carbo, whom he drove into Sicily, and thence into Corcyra, where Pompey took him and sent his Head to Sylla; while Metellus was sent into Spain against Sertorius. Mean while

ROMAN Republick.

Sylla at Rome harrangued the People, assuring them, He would settle the State, but would prosecute his Enemies with Rigour; which he forthwith did, proscribing 40 Senators and 1600 Knights: He was the first that brought up the Usage of Proscription, promising Rewards to the Discoverers, and threatening Death to the Concealers of them; some of them were slain in their Houses, others in the Streets, others at his Feet begging Life, and the Goods of those that fled were seiz'd; the Brother of Marius had his Eyes first pull'd out, then his Hands and Legs cut off by Degrees, that he might die in Torment: Caius JULIUS CÆSAR a promising Youth, (afterwards Imperator) having married Cinna's Daughter, narrowly escaped, of whom Sylla was wont to say, that in Cæsar were many Marius's: all Sorts of People suffer'd, 8000 together in the Villa Publica, a large House in Campus Martius, and the Soldiers had Leave to kill all they met, Men, Women, and Children; till Furfdius put Sylla in mind of sparing some to reign over: nay the Proscription and the Massacre were carried round all the Cities of Italy.

Both the Consuls being destroy'd, Sylla retired from Rome, and order'd the Senate to create an Inter-Rex, and They chose Valerius Flaccus, to whom Sylla wrote to advise the People to chuse a Dictator, not for a certain Time, but till all Affairs were settled; and having all Power in his Hand the People chose him. Thus

SYLLA was the first perpetual Dictator, after that Office had been disused about 120 Years, with this Inscription on his Statue, L. CORNELIO SYLLÆ IMPERATORI Felici.

In Asia this Year Murena pass'd over the Halys, and having plunder'd 400 Villages of MITHRIDATES (who made no Resistance, expecting the Return of his Messengers from Rome) return'd into Phrygia and Galatia loaded with Spoils: but tho' he was warned by Callidius (who came on Purpose from Rome) to desist, Murena pursued his Game, and marched to besiege Sinope, and the Royal Palace; when MITHRIDATES could no longer bear it, but drew out his Army and defeated Murena, forcing him to retreat into Phrygia with great Loss, and to draw off his Garrisons out of Cappadocia, which again became subject to MITHRIDATES; and that King making a great Bonfire on the Top of an high Mountain, offer'd Sacrifice to Jove the Mighty in War, for his Success.

And now the second Mithridatic War ended; for there was no more fighting, and the former Peace was confirm'd next Year.

ROMAN Republick.

routed Perperna, and Sertorius routed Pompey, and wounded him in the Thigh. Soon after They met again at Seguntum in a great Battel, where Memmius the Legation, and Brother in Law of Pompey was slain: but Sertorius reduced his Enemies to great Straits, forced Mithridates to winter in Gaul, and Pompey to write for Succours of Men and Money.

CICERO now Quæstor in Sicily well supply'd Rome with Corn in Time of a great Scarcity. And Julius CESAR, aged 25 Years, going to Rhodes to learn Eloquence of Apollonius Mada, was taken by the Cilician Pirates, who both admired and fear'd him: but after 35 Days he was ransomed, and getting a few Ships he took those Pirates, and crucify'd them at Pergama, as he had often threaten'd in Jest while with them.

The Terra Bythronic War.

MITHRIDATES having sacrific'd to Jove mighty in War, and sunk in the Sea Coniots with white Horses to Neptune; and having made a pious Speech to his Army, began the War, by invading Bythnia at the Head of 140000 Foot, and 16000 Horse in the Spring; L. Licinius Lucullus and Marcus Aurelius Cotta being Consuls.

Cotta was sent to govern Bythnia, and protect it with a Fleet and Army; and after him Lucullus was sent to fight MITHRIDATES. But Cotta, willing to gain a Triumph alone before Lucullus came up, made Haste to fight, and lost his Triumph; for Marius and Emmaceus fell upon Radius the Lieutenant of Cotta, and slew him with most Part of his Army at Chalcedon, where MITHRIDATES blockt up Cotta, and slew most of his Men. The same Day the King attackt the Harbour, burnt four Roman Ships, spoil'd 60, and destroy'd above 10000 Romans, whereby he acquired a mighty Name, and got all the Malecontents of Asia to join him. Mean while

Lucullus with 30000 Foot, and 2500 Horse, march'd towards the King, and was loth to engage such vast Numbers; but that Marius attackt him by Skirmishes: yet both Armies, when ready to join Battel, were frighten'd by a flaming Prodigy from Heaven.

The wife and brave Servilius Isauricus, now return'd from Cilicia, had his well deserved Triumph, the most joyfull that ever was seen.

The King with a vast Army laid Siege to Cyzicus on the Propontis, the Key of Asia, a most friendly City to the Romans: but Magius the Roman Refugee (by a private Concert with Lucullus) perswaded the King to let Lucullus pitch any where without Disturbance, in Hopes that Fimbria's two Legions would revolt; and so Lucullus quickly fortify'd a Mountain, whereby he besieged the King, and cut off his Provisions: so that after a long Siege, the King was forced to break up by Famine, Distempers and Death: He escap'd by Sea in the Night; but Lucullus fell upon his Army in their Retreat, and cut off many Thousands.

Sertorius in Spain became remiss in his Conduct by conversing chiefly with Women, and jealous of the Romans about him, would have only Celtiberian Guards, and cruel in punishing those he suspected; wherefore Perperna and others conspired to cut him off at a Feast: but POMPEY hotly pursued Perperna and took him; nay tho' he offer'd to make great Discoveries for his Life, Pompey prudently cut him off, and burnt all his Papers, that nothing might be discover'd to create more Broils in the State. And thus an End was put to the Spanish War.

Having given large Accounts of the Roman Affairs in Asia, from Page 178. to Page 211 inclusive, I shall be the shorter now, referring the Reader to those Pages.

The Rebellion of Spartacus.

This Year, Spartacus a Thracian Gladiator at Capua, got 70 of his Sort to join him in asserting their Liberty, rais'd a vast Army, took Possession of Mount Vesuvius, defeated the Prætor Clodius, and afterwards Varinus, that were sent against him.

MITHRIDATES aboard his Fleet in returning to Pontus, lost 60 of his Ships by Storm: then he sent from Sinope to his Son, MACHARES King of Bosphorus, and to his Son in Law TIGRANES King of Syria, for Aids to his new Army; while Lucullus recover'd Bythnia, and march'd into Pontus.

Scribonius Curio Proconsul of Macedonia, having subdued the Dardanians and Mæsians, was the first Roman General that pursued his Enemies to the Danube.

Arminius King of the Germani, pass'd over the Rhine, and subdued Gaul.

Spartacus the Rebel gather'd 12000 Men, march'd over the Apennine Mountains towards Gaul, routed both the Centurion Gellius and Lentulus, and the first time sent several Roman Captives in Revenge of the Death of his Wife Therisia. He was then met by Cassius the Prætor, who was slain, and Spartacus march'd on.

He was then met by Lucullus, and forced to flee.

M. Lucius Crassus a new Roman Legate, was sent to go against Spartacus as Prætor with Six Legions.

ROMAN REPUBLIC.

Legions: but Spartacus routed his Legate Mummius with two Legions, and marching to the Sea, got some Pirate Ships of Cilicia to transport him to Sicily; but the Cilicians carried him to the Peninsul of Rhegio, where Crassus blockt him up by fortifying the Isthmus with a Ditch: but Spartacus filling Part of the Ditch, got over a Third Part of his Army, and fought Crassus, tho' with the Loss of 12000; yet getting the rest of his Men, he bravely defeated the Romans at the Pentus Mountains: and being now flush'd with Success, Spartacus would not decline Battel, nor would Crassus; because he heard that Pompey, return'd from Spain, was marching to join him, and Crassus willing to gain the Victory alone, fought and defeated Spartacus, who was kill'd in the Field, and his Men dispers'd were slain by Pompey in his March.

Marcus Lucullus, Brother of the Great Lucullus, Proconsul of Macedonia, was the first Roman that warred against the Scythians beyond the Euxin Sea.

At the Lustrum 450000 free Citizens were cess'd: but as the City increas'd in Numbers and Learning, so in Factions and Corruption.

While at Rome Pompey and Crassus were Consuls, Lucullus now possess'd himself by Surrender and by Siege of all the great Cities of Pontus, and MACHARES King of Bosphorus, the Son of MITHRIDATES, sent to Lucullus a Crown of Gold, and was admitted to be an Ally of Rome.

TIGRANES royally treated his Father in Law MITHRIDATES, but did not soon admit him into his Presence, nor before he return'd from his great Expedition into Palestine; and at his Return He refused to deliver up MITHRIDATES to Lucullus, who had sent his Brother in Law Clodius to demand him, or declare War. This Year Virgil, the Prince of Roman Poets, was born near Mantua: and ALEXANDRA the good Queen of Judaea dying, aged 73, was succeeded by Hyrcanus her eldest Son for three Months, till deprived by his Brother

8. ARISTOBULLUS II. who began to reign and officiate as King and High Priest of Judaea, _____

12. Asfates PERAHATES III. the Son of Sinatrakes King of Parthia began to reign, _____

Lucullus having crush'd the Publicans in Leffer Asia, sent Cotta to take in Heraclea on the Pontus, and settled that Province under Surnatius with 6000 Soldiers, took 12000 Foot, and 3000 Horse, and marched over the Euphrates towards Tigranocerta; and leaving Marena to invest it, Lucullus marched with about 10000 Men to meet TIGRANES, who brought an Army of 360000 Men to relieve his new Capital, despising the Romans as too many for Ambassadors, and too few for an Army: but Lucullus bravely defeated his left Wing, and turn'd them upon his Right, and gave this haughty King of Kings a total Overthrow; one of the most glorious Victories ever obtain'd by the Romans. Lucullus return'd to the Siege, took that great City, and gave the Spoil to his Army. And TIGRANES now left the War to the Care of MITHRIDATES. Mean while

Cotta, return'd to Rome, was honour'd by the Senate with the Name of Ponticus, for having taken the City Heraclea. The Consul Spurilius dying the Beginning of the Year, and his Successor too, the other Consul Marcius Rex officiated alone.

MITHRIDATES had carefully raised an Army in Armenia of 70000 Foot, and about 30000 Horse, choice Men, train'd to the Roman Exercise, designing to starve or wear out Lucullus without fighting: but Lucullus marching to besiege Artaxata, where the Treasurers, the Women and Children of TIGRANES were lodged, brought him to a Battel, in which MITHRIDATES terrify'd by the warlike Noise of the Roman Legions, ran away and left TIGRANES to be again totally routed by Lucullus; while

MITHRIDATES return'd to Pontus, of which he recover'd a great Deal.

The Pirates of Cilicia, very numerous and powerful, scorn'd the Power of Rome, and used their Prisoners with great Barbarity and Cruelty.

Lucullus could not persuade his Men to march Northward in the Winter, and besiege Artaxata, but Southward to take Nisibis from the Partians, where Clodius his Wife's Brother began to toment a Mutiny in his Army; nay by Letters got many People at Rome, from Envy, to narrangue against him for procrastinating the War.

MITHRIDATES overcame Fabius in Pontus, and besieged him in Caesra, till relieved by Triarius, who made the King twice flee before him: but the King afterwards being reinforced, found Means of decoying Triarius to a Battel at Mount Scarus in Pontus, totally routed him, and had slain all the Romans, if he had not been wounded, but above 7000 Romans were slain with Triarius, 150 Centurions, and 14 Tribunes.

MITHRIDATES marched into Leffer Armenia, when he heard of Lucullus's March into Pontus.

2. Marcius Rex, sent Proconsul into Cilicia with three Legions, would not assist Lucullus, tho' earnestly desired; nay made Clodius (who fled to him) his Admiral against the Pirates.

ROMAN Republick.

Anlus Gabinus, a Tribune of the People, justly represented the wretched State of the Seas, by innumerable audacious Pirates; and got a Law made to appoint POMPEY to be Admiral or Imperator of the Seas, with unlimited Power for three Years over All at Sea, and within 40 Miles of the Sea, in order to suppress the Pirates. He was now indeed POMPEY the Great, having under his Command 500 Ships of War, 120000 Foot, 5000 Horse, 25 Senators his Lieutenants, two new Quaestors, with 6000 Astic Talents. He posted his Lieutenants in the several Bays or little Seas of the Mediterranean, with force to disturb the Pirates; that when They sail'd from one Creek, They might be catch'd before They could hide themselves in another; while He, like a King of Kings, superintended them all with Art and Diligence; so that in 40 Days he scoured the Seas clear of Pirates, from the Straits of Gades to Brun-dafum, when They fled to Cilicia their common Resort, whither he follow'd them with 60 Sail, and upon his Approach They submitted to his Mercy, by the Terror of his Name: so that in 40 Days more, all Cilicia became peaceably obedient to Rome. In this hot maritime War, POMPEY took 120 Forts, and 400 Ships, and slew 10000 Pirates; but transported the rest into Inland Countries with great Clemency.

Q. Caelius Metellus who had been sent to Crete, conquer'd it; for which he was call'd Creticus. By the same Gabinian Law, the Consul Manius Acilius Glabrio was sent to succeed Lucullus in Pontus and Bithynia; upon the News of which, the Soldiers deserted from Lucullus, and MITHRIDATES and TIGRANES ranged at Pleasure.

On the very Calends of January, when Sullus and Lepidus commenced Consuls, the Senate having revers'd the Law that Mamilius the Tribune had made the Day before, for allowing the Liberti or freed Men an equal Vote with those free born; Santilius, always vendable and a mere Tool, to curry Favour with POMPEY, prefer'd a Law to appoint POMPEY Generalissimo of Asia, and to supersede Lucullus, Glabrio, and Marcus Rex, and to commit the Mithridatic and all Wars to him by Sea and Land. This gave great Offence to the Nobility, who were already jealous of POMPEY's unheard of and exorbitant Power; yet Cicero, out of Fear, harrangued for it, and CÆSAR out of Cunning favour'd it, as a Precedent for himself in Time: when POMPEY, then in Cilicia, received the News of this great Honour and Power conferred upon him at Rome, he knit his Brows, beat his Thigh, and seem'd uneasy at the Trouble; tho' it was all Diffimulation and Cantr.

POMPEY renew'd the League with PHRAHATES King of Parthia. See what he did then, Page 181. when old TIGRANES submitted to him, and yielded all Syria, which now became a Roman Province, after the SELEUCIDÆ had reign'd (accounting TIGRANES the last, tho' he was none of them) just 247 Years. As for poor Antiochus Asiaticus, POMPEY retored him not. See more of POMPEY and MITHRIDATES Page 186. See also Table XXXIII. or the Catalogue of the SELEUCIDÆ.

The Alexandrians having expell'd Ptolemy ALEXANDER II. chose 14. Ptolemy AULETES, the Bastard Son of Lathyrus, who now began to reign, See Table XL. the Catalogue of the PTOLEMYS.

P. Sulla and P. Autronius were chosen Consuls for this Year, but being accused of Bribery, their Accusers were substituted in their Room, viz. Aurelius Cotta and Manlius Torquatus. This so displeas'd Marcus Crassus and Julius CÆSAR, that now They join'd to contrive how to attack the Senate: besides, CÆSAR now an Ædile, was provoked by their refusing to send him into Egypt.

POMPEY had defeated MITHRIDATES last Year, who fled round thro' Scythia into the Cimmerian Bosphorus, and cut off his Son MACHARES the King of it, for being an Ally of Rome: but POMPEY not being able to follow him, return'd to Damascus, and constituted Syria a Roman Province, where he was attended by 12 Kings. See more Page 186.

This Year Horace the famous Lyric Poet was born at Venusium in Apulia. MITHRIDATES sent to POMPEY an Offer of being a Tributary of Rome as TIGRANES was, but was rejected, unless he would come and submit himself as Tigranes had done. But that great Prince scorn'd such a Submission, or could not trust POMPEY; and therefore prepared for a vigorous War. Mean while Cassius his General revolted at Peausgorium, slew Tryphon the royal Eunuch, and made the King's Children in the Castle his friends themselves. Antiochus, Oxathus, and his Panther Eupatra; but his other Eunuchs were not so easily won, and they were by the King's Order put to death. Cassius sent the rest to the Roman Legation at Antioch, and sent some of his Legions to Cilicia, and sent some of his Legions to Lybia, and to demand Antioch from the Seleucids. In March 104. he cut off the Eunuchs, and carried the Royal Maids to POMPEY, who was now come from Syria to Parthia.

Continuation of TABLE LVI.

ROMAN Republick.

POMPEY, tho' MITHRIDATES was alive reigning in Bosphorus, added Pontus to Galatia and Bithynia, in one Roman Province, call'd the Bithynian Province; made ARCHELAUS (the Son of Archelaus the late Friend of SYLLA) the High Priest of Comana, with princely Power; made Antalus and Pylmenes Lords of Paphlagonia, and gave Lesser Armenia to DEJOTARUS the Tetrarch of Galatia, for assisting the Romans against MITHRIDATES, and made him a King.

MITHRIDATES, tho' thus divested and distressed, had still an unconquerable Soul; and now resolved to march thro' Scythia and Pannonia, along the Danube, and join the European Gauls, in passing over the Alps, and to carry the War, like Hannibal, into Italy: but his Soldiers were terrify'd at the Length and Dangers of that Expedition, and join'd with his beloved Son PHARNACES to dethrone MITHRIDATES, and forced the brave old King to poison himself, uttering his Curse upon his barbarous Son, and gave Poison also to his Wives, Concubines, and Daughters in the Castle of Panticopæa in Bosphorus, while besieged by PHARNACES; and the Poison not working fast enough he stab'd himself; and that not dispatching him, he got a Gaulic Soldier to kill him, as an Office of Friendship, rather than fall into the Hands of the Romans, as PHARNACES design'd. See Appian. Orosius, &c.

Thus ended the Third Mithridatic War that had lasted about 12 Years,

Marcus Tullius Cicero and Caius Antonius Seppos being Consuls.

POMPEY had lately return'd to Damascus to oppose ARETAS King of Petrea who submitted; and marching towards Jerusalem POMPEY had the News of the Death of MITHRIDATES, and that PHARNACES submitted to Rome. When he came to Jerusalem; he deposed ARISTOBULUS II. and restored his Brother

9. HYRCANUS II. who this same Year began to reign and officiate as King and High Priest of Judea,

See Table XXXVIII. and Pages 186. 187. See also Orosius and Josephus about POMPEY's Conduct at Jerusalem, and in the Temple, who carried off Aristobulus for his Triumph.

Caius Octavius, afterwards call'd AUGUSTUS CÆSAR, was this Year born. Mean while at Rome Catilin's Conspiracy was discover'd, and detected by the vigilant Care of the Consul Cicero. CATILIN, with Aurelius Cotta, Manlius Torquatus, Cethegus, Lentulus, and others, had plotted to burn Rome, and seize the sovereign Authority of Italy; but when he fled, his Accomplices were taken, and by Order of the Senate put to Death in Prison, which Cicero saw executed.

POMPEY leaving his Quæstor Stancus to govern Syria, marched into Cilicia, which submitted; and from thence into Pontus, where he found the immense Treasures of MITHRIDATES. And now PHARNACES sent his Father's dead Body to POMPEY, who order'd it to be honourably buried in his Royal Sepulchre at Sinope. This Year also the great LUCULLUS, in spite of all his malicious Enemies, had a most solemn Triumph for his great Victories over MITHRIDATES and TIGRANES. Lucullus had brought from Asia a fine Library that stood open for all that understood Greek; He first brought the Cherry Tree out of Pontus to Italy, and much advanced the high Taste of the Romans for Architecture, Furniture, and Feasting.

As for Catilin, he had raised a little Army, and was marching into Transalpin Gaul to gather Strength, and return with a Vengeance to Rome; when C. Antonius (Cicero's Colleague last Year) overtook him with a superior Force at the Alpi; yet Antonius being in Catilin's Plot, feign'd himself sick, and left the Battle to be conducted by Petrcius, who slew Catilin and all his Men in Rank and File, obstinately fighting to the last Man, without asking Quarter, Salust, Dio, Cassiodorus, &c.

Julius CÆSAR had been Quæstor and Ædile, had obtain'd to be High Priest of Rome, and this Year is made Pretor: and now by his great Learning, Eloquence, Art and Liberality, began to make a very great Appearance in Rome, being also the most high born of all the Romans: but was much disturb'd at this Time by Publius Clodius Pulcher, the Brother in Law of Lucullus, a Nobleman, deep in Love of his Wife Pompeia, who to gain his Point enter'd the High Priest CÆSAR's House in Woman's Habit, where certain sacred Rites were performed, to which none but Women were admitted. This cost Clodius much Trouble, and induced CÆSAR to put away Pompeia privately, saying to those that pleaded for her, That he believed her innocent, but that CÆSAR's Wife should not give Cause to be suspected. POMPEY restored the City Empasoria, calling it Magnopolis, and Cubira, calling it Decopolis; and having given a Body of Laws to the People of Pontus and Bithynia, he left Pontus and winter'd at Ephesus, where he gave great Rewards to all his gallant Soldiers.

Metellus Creticus triumph'd at Rome for his great Service in subduing Crete. CATO came to Ephesus to salute POMPEY his Senior, who received him with the utmost Veneration, as his most virtuous Kinsman; yet glad of his Departure, as thinking himself eclipsed in his Presence. At length Stancus being left President of Syria, and Flaccus Pretor of Asia, POMPEY, after he had war'd with 22 Kings and Princes, had taken 1050 Castles and 900 Cities, had restored 39 ruin'd Cities, had increas'd 5 Regions and Cities with Colonies, and had given Laws and a new Constitution of Government to many Nations, left Ephesus, and began to return thro' the Islands and Greece towards Italy in great imperial Splendor.

About the Beginning of the Consulship of Piso and Messala, POMPEY arrived at Brundisium, where, contrary to all Mens Thought, He dismiss'd the Army, and came without a military Retinue to Rome; where, after he had recited his meritorious Achievements, Achievements, his Triumph was decreed, which he delay'd till his Birth Day. He prevail'd to reverse the Decrees of Lucullus, and to restore the Tribunes of the People to their former Power, in which he was assisted by CÆSAR.

Quintus Cicerō the younger Brother of Marcus, was sent to succeed to Valerius Flaccus as Prætor of Asia; and Marcus Philippus to succeed to Sextus as Prætor of Syria; and Clodius was try'd for the former Mutiny at Nisibis against Lucullus, for polluting the female sacred Rites in the High Priest CÆSAR's House, for debauching the Wives of Metellus and Cæsar, and for being too familiar with his own Sister; but he bribed the Judges to acquit him.

Julius CÆSAR was envious of POMPEY's Glory, and having finish'd his Prætorship, he procured the Government of Spain; but being much in Debt by his Liberality, or rather Bribery and Prodigality, he was forced to apply himself to Crassus the wealthiest Man in Rome, who became his Security for 830 Talents, at the Request of his Wife Tertulla, who passionately lov'd CÆSAR; and Crassus was glad of Cæsar's Assistance to keep down POMPEY.

CÆSAR thus rigg'd out, went to Spain, where he subdued the Gallicians and Lusitanians, and all the Spanish Nations that had never been conquer'd before; and coming round by Gades, he wept at the Statue of ALEXANDER the Great in the Temple of Hercules, for that he had done nothing great at an Age when Alexander had conquer'd the World! but in a short Time he amassed such a vast Treasure to himself, (tho' in the Name of the Republick) as enabled him to imitate Alexander. After CÆSAR went to Spain,

At length on the 28th and 30th of September, (POMPEY's Birth Day, and the Day before it, when aged 45 Years) POMPEY's Triumph for two Days was held over the known Earth, viz. over Africa, Europe, and Asia, when 324 noble Captives were led before him, among whom were TIGRANES the Son of Tigranes King of Armenia, with his Wife and Daughter, and Zosime his Mother in Law, ARISTOBULUS II. King of Judea, also the Sister of Mithridates, and his five Sons (Artabernes, Cyrus, Darius, Oxathres, Xerxes) and two Daughters Oxathris and Exparsa: also OLTHACES King of Colchis, several Tyrants or petty Princes of Cilicia, some royal Ladies of Scythia, two Dukes of Iberia, two Dukes of Albania, with Menander Duke of Laodicea, the General of Mithridates's Horse, also the Hostages of the Albanians, the Iberians and Commageniens, with many Trophies, and the Effigies of old MITHRIDATES and TIGRANES. Then marched POMPEY himself now truly Great, in a Chariot set with Gemms, and clothed with the Cloak of ALEXANDER the Great, and his Chariot was followed by his General Officers, and with such Heaps and Loads of precious Things taken in War, as the like was never seen in Rome; the Gold, Silver and Jewels, amounting to 20000 Talents, or 3740000 Pounds Sterling: when he arrived at the Capital, he slew none of his Captives, but sent them all home at the publick Charge, except the Royal ones. He advanced the Revenue of the Republick to 120000 Talents; and his meanest Soldier was worth 40. l.

PHRAATES III. being murder'd by his two Sons Mithridates and Orodes, was succeeded by his Son,

13. Artabes MITHRIDATES III. King of Parthia, who began to reign, POMPEY had prevail'd, by his Money and Interest, to get Metellus Creticus and Afranius chosen Consuls for this Year, in Hopes of getting the Senate to confirm all his Transactions in Asia, his Promises to Kings and Cities and Favourites, and certain Lands for his Soldiers; but he was mistaken: for Afranius being indolent, had no Authority, and Metellus opposed him for divorcing his Sister Mutia, upon Suspicion of too much Familiarity with CÆSAR: Cato and Crassus likewise opposed him, and sent for Lucullus from his Country Pleasures, who, with many Senators, demanded and obtain'd that POMPEY should account for his several Transactions separately, and not have them all approved in the Lump; that the Decrees of Lucullus, reversed by Pompey, should be restored to their due Force; that Pompey's Promises to the conquer'd Princes of Asia be made void, and that no Lands be granted to his Soldiers: nay Lucullus and his Friends affirm'd, That POMPEY only pursued the Shadows of War, and, like a ravenous Bird, fed upon the dead Carcass that another had slain.

POMPEY thus cast in the Senate, had Recourse to the Tribunes, and got one of them, Flavius, to propose a Law for rewarding the Soldiers; which Metellus opposed, till They came to Blows, and the Tribune sent him (tho' Consul) to Prison, when the whole Senate offer'd to be Prisoners with him; but Flavius kept them out by setting up his Tribunal at the Prison Door; upon which the Senate caused the Walls in another Place to be broke down; and their Firmness frightening the People, POMPEY desired the Tribunes to accommodate the Matter, too late repenting of giving up the Army.

Mean while CÆSAR came home from Spain, and waved his Triumph, in order to be made Consul; got POMPEY's Interest upon promising to confirm all his Transactions: nay CÆSAR made POMPEY and CRASSUS good Friends, and these Three join'd to ingross the whole Power of Rome, resolving that nothing should be done in the Republick without their Approbation; which They confirm'd by an Oath: and so the first Triumvirate commenced, which prov'd, in the End, the Destruction of the Roman Republick, and of themselves too.

TABLE LVII.

The CHRONOLOGICAL of the ROMAN REPUBLICK, from the first Triumvirate of POMPEY, CRASSUS, and CÆSAR, To the Battel of PHARSALIA, and the miserable Death of POMPEY, containing 12 Years.

In the 7th Year of Ptolemy AULETES King of — Egypt.

ROMAN Republick.

The first Triumvirate of ROME.

Caius Julius CÆSAR being made Consul, made a Cypher of his Colleague Sibullus, and by the Concurrence of POMPEY and CRASSUS, despis'd the Senate, by depending on the Consent of the People; made an Agrarian Law for the Benefit of poor Citizens, divided large Lands in Campania among those that had three Children each, and sent 20000 such Citizens to possess it; confirmed all the Transactions of POMPEY, and remitted a Third Part to the Publicans, whereby he gain'd all the Knights to his Side, seiz'd Cato for opposing him, and put him in Prison, pleas'd the People with Shows and Hunting, and by great Liberality obtain'd the Province of Gaul for five Years, with four Legions, (which was the Commencement of his mighty Power) married Calpurnia the Daughter of Calpurnius Piso, and gave his Daughter Julia to POMPEY in Marriage.

Cicero openly blamed the Triumvirate as dangerous to the publick Liberty; and therefore CÆSAR got Clodius to lay down his Patrician Order, and to be adopted by a Plebeian, that he might be made a Tribune of the People for opposing Cicero.

And this Year Titus Livius the famous Roman Historiographer was born.

CÆSAR having got his two Friends Calpurnius Piso and Aulus Gabinius made Consuls, departed quickly for Gaul as Proconsul, for fear of being accused of his last Year's Proceedings; leaving all to be managed at Rome by POMPEY and CRASSUS. And here CÆSAR begins his Book of Commentaries. Clodius now Tribune, having accused Cicero of putting to Death some Roman Citizens without an hearing before the People, viz. those in Catilius's Conspiracy, he rais'd the People against him, forced him to flee from Rome in the Night, got an Act to banish him 400 Miles from the City, demolish his Villages and House, with his Temple of Liberty, and set his Goods to Sale; and so poor Cicero deserted by POMPEY, travell'd an Exile to Thessalonica in Macedonia.

While CÆSAR overcame the Helvetians at the Rhone, and King ARIOVISTUS at the Seine.

Cornelius Lentulus and Caecilius Metellus being Consuls, Clodius not pleas'd with Cato's Presence, got him sent in an Expedition against PTOLEMY King of Cyprus, the Brother of Auletes, to make that Island a Roman Province, on Pretence that ALEXANDER late King of Egypt had made the Romans his Heirs. Gabinius was sent President of Syria, with Mark Antony his Lieutenant and General of his Horse. See Page 188.

But Cicero's becoming insolent to POMPEY, and an intolerable Plague to the Nobility, POMPEY repented of deserting Cicero, and found Means to have him honourably call'd home; and after 16 Months Banishment, Cicero return'd in Splendor, and had all restored to him: while AULETES King of Egypt, banish'd by his Subjects, came to Rome to solicit Assistance. Page 188.

CÆSAR in Gaul subdued the Belge, and with Difficulty the Nervians; for which at Rome a Festival of 15 Days was decreed.

Lentulus Scaurinus and Marcus Philippus being Consuls; Cornelius Lentulus, the last Year's Consul, got the Province of Cilicia and Cyprus: CÆSAR intending for Italy, sent Servius Galba with the 12th Legion to subdue the Nations between the Rhone and the Alps, in order to clear a Passage, and secure the Traffick: then CÆSAR marched back and defeated the Veneri, and the Celti that had revolted in the West: while he sent Crassus another Lieutenant to subdue the Southerns, and the greatest Part of Aquitain; and Sabinus to subdue the Lusitani, and the maritime Parts; when CÆSAR put all his Men into Winter Quarters, and travell'd himself into Italy: and coming to Lucca sent for POMPEY and CRASSUS, and got them to set up for the Consulship, fearing that otherwise he might be recall'd from Gaul. Here CÆSAR was waited on by a great Concourse of People, and 200 Vesters.

POMPEY and CRASSUS became Consuls by more Violence, against the Mind of the Senate, and Advice of Cato, (who protested against the Triumvirate as dangerous to Rome's Liberty, and was wounded by POMPEY's Party) wherefore POMPEY hinder'd Cato's being chosen Prætor, by corrupting the Tribes with Money; and by the Assistance of Trebonius the Tribune, the Consuls got Laws made to continue CÆSAR in his Government of Gaul for five Years more; to assign Syria and the Parthian War to CRASSUS, and Spain and Africa to POMPEY with four Legions, two of which he lent to Cæsar: and the Triumvirate obtain'd also an unheard of Power to employ what Forces They pleas'd, against whom They pleas'd, without waiting for Orders from the Senate or People of Rome.

Gabinius, and his brave Lieutenant Mark Antony, by virtue of Letters from POMPEY, marched and restored AULETES to the Throne of Egypt for 10000 Talents. Page 188. And Gabinius returning to Syria, prepared to return home, to make Way for CRASSUS, who, against the Consent of the People of Rome, made vast Preparations against the Parthians, tho' then at Peace with Rome: therefore the People followed him out of the City, tho' then Consul, with great lamentations, and he prosper'd accordingly.

at mean while, return'd to Gaul, and had his Work in scouring that Province of 430000 Germans of various Sorts, that were sent by the Saxons, and had pass'd the Rhine; but he cut them to Pieces, and laying a Bridge upon the Rhine, march'd into Germany Days; and returning into Gaul, cross'd the Sea over into Britain; because the Britons had supply'd the Gauls against the Romans. He with much Difficulty, beat them several Times, reduced them to sue for Peace, and give Hostages; and then sail'd back to Gaul, sent us and Cotta to harass the Gauls that had revolted, and sent his Army into Winter Quarters in Belgium.

CÆSAR finding the Britanni had broke their Articles, imbarked with 5 Legions, and 2000 Horie, at Iccius (now Calais) and landed at or near Dover without Opposition, in the Spring, and soon forced one of their Camps: upon which the Trinobantes yielded to him, and CÆSAR set over them Mandubratius, a Youth who had fled last Year to CÆSAR in Gaul, when their chief King Calibvelaun slew his Father the King of the Trinobantes, and now return'd with CÆSAR. While CÆSAR besieged Calibvelaun's City, four Kentish Kings, Cingetorix, Carvolizis, Tiximiguluz, and Segonax, attackt his Fleet in Harbour; but 10 Cohorts and 300 Knights left to guard it, sallied upon them, and repul'd them with great Slaughter, and took Prisoner King Cingetorix: but hearing his Fleet was greatly damaged by a Storm, CÆSAR retired to the Coast, and in ten Days refitted it, and wrote to Labienus to build more Ships. Then CÆSAR marcht against Calibvelaun, and having routed him in a bloody Bartel, He advanced and cross'd the Thames. his Men wading up to the Neck, while Calibvelaun kept within the Woods: and finding his own City, and several more had been surrender'd to CÆSAR, Calibvelaun sued for Peace; and CÆSAR having received his Submission, took Hostages, impos'd a Tribute on Britain, and return'd to Gaul with many Captives and great Glory. Mean while

14. ORODES King of Parthia began to reign alone,
 ORODES marched with one Army towards Armenia to oppose Crassus, if he came that Way, and sent another Army under his bravest General Surenas, who at Charrae (or old Charrax) miserably overthrew the Romans, slew Crassus and his hopeful Son, and 20000 more, and took 10000 Prisoners; Crassus his Quæstor only retreated with 500 Horse into Syria, to take Care of that Province. See Page 189.

Here ends the first Triumvirate.

POMPEY had managed his Provinces of Spain and Africa by his Lieutenants, pretending he could not leave Rome, because the general Charge of Provisions was committed to him; whereby his Authority was extended over all Provinces. But the Fame of CÆSAR'S Conquests made him uneasy; for he hated a Rival in Point of Glory: and therefore he used all possible Means to lessen CÆSAR'S Reputation; especially after the Death of his Wife Julia, Cæsar's Daughter, who, by her Prudence, kept them in good Friendship. She died when CÆSAR was last in Britain, much lamented by the People of Rome, who buried her in great State in the Field of Mars. Now POMPEY began to have a separate Interest from CÆSAR, and to pursue only his own Advancement, as CÆSAR also pursued his: and Crassus, who was a Check to them both, and ballanced their Interests, being dead, They had an open Field for their Ambition and Emulation.

P. Clodius demanding to be made Prætor of Rome, was kill'd in an accidental Rencontre by his great Enemy Milo, and his Body all bloody brought to Rome, exasperated the People to attack Milo in his House, but were repulsed with Loss; and returning, pull'd down all the Benches of the Magistrates to make a Funeral Pile, which burn'd with so much Rage, that the stately Curia, where the Senate used to meet, was consumed. Clodius's Body, thus even to the last he prov'd the Senate's Enemy: nay the enraged Mob here pretending to search for the murderers of Clodius, a new War, Murders and Confusions, that the Senate was forc'd to create Servius Sulpicius Interrex, who was the first that ever bore that Name, and Cicero by the Name of Tato, that Pompey might be afterwards accountable, whereby he had the Honour of the Name, and the Name allow'd him, and Milo slain yearly, raising his new Troops, and continuing with him the Government of Rome for four Years longer; and Milo, to please the People, was banish'd to Marseilles.

ROMAN Republick.

CÆSAR willing to have POMPEY his Friend, offer'd him his Niece Octavia, and demanded POMPEY's Daughter for himself, but was rejected by POMPEY, who married the beautiful Cornelia, the Widow of young Crassus, and Daughter of Scipio Metellus, the Son of Scipio Aſtica, and adopted Son of Metellus Pius.

POMPEY executing the Office of DICTATOR, assumed for his Collegue as Consul Scipio Metellus his Father in Law; whereby he strengthened his Interest in order to blast CÆSAR, when Affairs were once ripe for Execution. But CÆSAR was aware of all these Things, and secured an Interest at Rome, but durst not go thither; because the News of the Troubles at Rome had imboldened the Nations of Gallia Transalpina to revolt, chusing VERCINGETORIX for their Imperator. CÆSAR in the Winter marched thither thro' the Snows, and after various Success routed Vercingetorix, who retreated to Alesia with 80000 Men, and CÆSAR there besieged him, where he himself was soon besieged also by the Gaulick Chiefs with 240000 Foot, and 8000 Horse, that surrounded his Intrenchments of Contravallation: but CÆSAR by his wonderful Management repulsed the Relievers, and soon after took that great and strong City; upon which all other Places submitted.

Antones being dead, order'd by Will that his eldest Son and Daughter should be married, and reign jointly, viz.

15. PTOLEMY Diopylus, aged about 12 Years, } They were never married, and He was drown'd the Year that CÆSAR and } was in Egypt, after he had reign'd four Years. See Table XL.

16. CLEOPATRA IV. the famous lovely Queen, aged 17 Years, }
But CLEOPATRA now began to reign,

Sulpicius Rufus and Marcus Claudius Marcellus being Consuls, CICERO lately made Augur in the Room of young Crassus, was made Procurator of Cilicia, and Bibulus of Syria, which Callius bravely preserved against the Parthians; and when Callius was besieged in Antioch, CICERO made a Diversion that caus'd the Parthians leave the Siege; and when They besieged Antigonis, Callius marched and gave them a total Rout; after which Callius resign'd the Government to Bibulus, and return'd to Rome; while CICERO subdued the Eleuthero-Cilices that had never been conquer'd; for which his Army saluted him Imperator.

The Gauls once more confederated against the Romans in and about Aquitain, upon which CÆSAR march'd against them, and having conquer'd some of those Nations by his Lieutenants Fabius and Caninius, He came up and join'd them in the Siege of the strong City Uxellodunum, which he took by diverting their Water Courses: upon which the rest of Aquitain submitted, and he wisely disposed of his Army into Winter Quarters about Narbon, commodiously for executing his grand Project.

Thus the eighth and last Year of CÆSAR's Wars in Gaul ended, after a Series of Victory and Conquest, much to his Honour, and the Inlargement of Rome's Dominion.

NOW CÆSAR very rich and illustrious by Birth and Valour, by the Grandeur of his Person, his Learning and Eloquence, his unbounded Generosity, his magnificent Entertainments, his gaining the Affections of his Soldiers, resolv'd never to admit a Superior; at the great POMPEY resolv'd never to admit an Equal.

CÆSAR had lent great Sums to many Senators without Interest, and his Army was a Refuge to all Criminals and Debtors; some of their Debts he discharged, and us'd to say to the more desperate Debtors, That one civil War would make all even: but all these Acts of Liberty were at the Expence of Gaul; which made some observe, That CÆSAR conquer'd the Gauls with Roman Steel, and the Romans with Gaulick Gold. CÆSAR sent from Gaul to demand the Consulship in his Absence, and the Government of Gaul to be continued with him, which was successfully opposed by the Consul Marcellus; upon the Footing of a Law made by POMPEY last Year, to forbid all absent Persons to demand any publick Employment.

Lucius Aemilius Paulus and Caius Claudius Marcellus being Consuls, CÆSAR, tho' in Gaul, gain'd Paulus, by sending him a Present of 1500 Talents; but this Marcellus was as bitter an Enemy to CÆSAR as the other last Year. Curio, a Tribune of great Eloquence in Pleading, and firm in his Purposes, had been CÆSAR's violent Enemy; but CÆSAR knowing his Capacity and Worth, and also that he was plunged in Debts for himself, and for his Collegue Marc Antony, wisely gain'd him, by sending him enough to discharge those Incumbrances; and now becoming his fast Friend, Curio sought an Occasion of breaking with POMPEY, by demanding an Office which he knew would be deny'd: and so when the Consul Marcellus warmly propos'd to recall CÆSAR from Gaul, his Collegue Paulus was silent, and Curio applauded Marcellus's Wisdom, saying, It was but just that POMPEY and CÆSAR should both be recall'd together; all understood his Meaning, and Appius the Censor, one of POMPEY's Friends, threatned to expel him the Senate; but Paulus protected him. Next Curio propos'd the same to the People, who testify'd their Applause and Satisfaction, by giving Power to CÆSAR to demand the Consulship, without removing out of his Province. Upon which POMPEY left Rome, and from his Country House wrote to the Senate, That he would readily resign if CÆSAR did likewise; to which Curio reply'd, That POMPEY should begin to perform his own Proposal, and engag'd that CÆSAR should follow his Example: but nothing came of it, tho' publicly debated, only that POMPEY and CÆSAR should detach a Legion Each to go against the Parthians; and POMPEY recall'd the Legion he had lent to CÆSAR, who, tho' he saw the Design was to weaken him, yet surrender'd the two Legions.

Continuation of TABLE LVII.

ROMAN Republick.

Pompey having gone to CAESAR's Camp, upon returning publish'd, That his Soldiers had no Esteem of him, and would certainly desert him as soon as They came over the Alps. This elated POMPEY, so that when Cicero askt him, What Forces he had to oppose CAESAR? POMPEY reply'd, That upon stamping with his Foot, an Army would start out of the Earth! nay many Senators talkt against CAESAR, and Cato threaten'd to call him to an Account, and send him after Miles.

The Civil War between CAESAR and POMPEY.

CAESAR had often writ to the Senate, either to be continu'd as POMPEY was, or both to be recall'd together, or to allow him to stand for Consul by Proxy; but all his Proposals were rejected, while he decently march'd over the Alps, with some of his hardy Veterans, as far as Revenna; and from thence wrote to the new Consul, Cornelius Sullus and Lucius Cornelius Lentulus, That he was ready to resign all his Power, if POMPEY would at the same Time resign his; for that otherwise he would come and revenge his own and his Country's Wrongs. Upon which the Senate, on the Calends of January, after violent Debates, cry'd out by a Majority, That CAESAR had by his Letter declared War; and decreed That CAESAR should disband all his Forces within a certain Time, or otherwise should be declared an Enemy of the Republick. And on the 7th of the Ides of January, it was decreed, That the Consuls and other Magistrates should take Care that the Republick suffer no Damage; and POMPEY was order'd to command what Troops were in Readiness, and Domitius was appointed CAESAR's Successor, Scipio Metellus got Syria, Septimus got Cilicia, and Servilius got Asia, and all Rome was up in Arms: while Cicero and Isidorus return'd from Asia; but their Triumphs were delay'd, because of the Civil War, and never happen'd.

Antony and Callius, now Tribunes of the People, join'd with Curio, and being threaten'd by the Consuls, fled disguis'd in Slaves Habits to CAESAR, who shew'd them to his Army with a mournful Oration, tearing his Robes and shedding Tears, conjuring them to defend his Honour, who had fought successfully under him these nine Years past! and They all vowing to revenge his Wrongs, CAESAR first sent a choice Party only with Swords to convey themselves privately into Arminum, situated on the Rubicon that parts Cisalpine Gaul from the rest of Italy; and the next Night went after Them with a few Friends, and after some fluctuating melancholy Thoughts about the Consequences, was for some Time undetermin'd, saying to Asinius Pollio, 'Tis now in our Power to return, but if we pass this fatal River, our only Retreat must be to Arms! at length observing some happy Omens, and finding it best to prosecute his Design, he said, Let us go where the Gods direct us, and the Fury of our Enemies drive us! and so crossing the Rubicon, He took Possession of Arminum without Opposition; and with only 6000 Men began the dreadful Civil War, ordering his other Troops to follow with Expedition.

How the People of Rome were in Consternation upon the News, how CAESAR march'd forward, and what Exploits he perform'd in the Way; how the Consuls and almost all the Senate left Rome under POMPEY, and went to Capua, and from thence to Brundisium; how CAESAR took in Corfinium, spared Lentulus and Domitius, the Senators and Knights found there, took nothing from any of them, declaring, He came not from his Province to injure any Man, but for his own Security, the Restoration of the Tribune's Office, and the Liberty of Rome: how CAESAR pass'd by Rome, and march'd to Brundisium, but could not hinder POMPEY from transporting himself and his Troops by Sea to Durrachium in Epirus, on the 16th before the Calends of April; are all punctually narrated by most Roman Historians, and would take too much Room here.

POMPEY not yet prepared to fight CAESAR, chose to go to Epirus, that he might be near the Eastern Provinces, which were all at his Devotion, as Gaul was at the Devotion of CAESAR, who had now also conquer'd all Italy in 60 Days, and returning to Rome before the Calends of April, he visit'd Cicero in his Way, and by Force seiz'd on the publick Treasure, out of which he took 3000 Pound Weight of Gold for his Army, and ever afterwards had the Treasures at his Command in all his Wars. CAESAR releas'd ARISTOBULUS the captive King of Judea, and sent him to raise Forces to make some Diversion to the Pompeians; but They poison'd him, and beheaded his Son Alexander at Antioch. Then CAESAR sent Forces under Curio to Sicily, who drove out Cato thence, and also into Sardinia, who drove out Cotta; assembled at Rome what Senators he could, whom he call'd the Senate, put Emilius Lepidus over the City, and leaving Italy under the Government of Mark Antony, He march'd for Spain thro' Gaul, laid Siege to Marseilles in his Way, where Domitius had gather'd Forces; and leaving the Siege to be carried on by Trebonius and Brutus, he arriv'd in Spain, and joining Fabius with three Legions, had a good Army, with which he fought POMPEY's Lieutenants, Afranius, Petrenius, and Varro, till after various Motions he reduced them to surrender for Hunger and Drought, and dismiss'd them with Civility, sending them home laden with Shame, and Obligations from the most generous Enemy that ever liv'd; and having soon settled all Spain, he return'd to Marseilles, that forthwith surrender'd to him, Domitius escaping by Sea. CAESAR spared the City for its Antiquity, as he said, and not for the Merit of the Inhabitants, and having put a Garrison there, He march'd on to Rome.

When CAESAR came to Rome, he was created Dictator, to which he had been names by Lepidus in his Absence, and held the Office for a short Time, during that Office he Executed Servilius Sulpicius as his Collegue, but more for the sake of the Dictatorship, than for the Crime, he also condemn'd Julianus to the Gallies, and in the Roman History is call'd Indignus. When CAESAR was at Brundisium, he receiv'd the News that his Father in Law Scipio was in Syria, and Cato in Asia, and that the Parthians had rais'd in India many Ships and many Forces.

ROMAN Republick.

Quintus Sertius POMPEY's Lieutenant in Africa, assisted by JUBA King of Mauritania, had routed and slain Curio, CAESAR's Lieutenant; while in Illyricum the Pompeians drove out Dolabella, and took Caius Antony Prisoner, the Brother of Mark: upon which many flockt to POMPEY at Dyrrachium, so that he form'd a Senate of 200 there, who, by Cato's Advice, decreed, That no Roman Citizen should be put to Death out of Battel, and that no Town subject to Rome should be plunder'd. This was laudable and popular Conduct, gain'd them great Reputation, and the People's good Wishes, retarded CAESAR's Success, and afterwards was used to justify the Manner of his Death. But CAESAR in December left Rome, and about the Nones of January, transported 7 Legions from Brundisium to Epirus; and having seiz'd the Towns Oricum and Apollonia, he marched towards Dyrrachium, which was POMPEY's Magazine, and by him protected with his great Army and numerous Fleet; while CAESAR had no Naval Force, which made Mark Antony the longer in following him with the rest of the Army: but when They arriv'd, CAESAR and POMPEY discover'd great military Skill, and CAESAR drew Lines to surround POMPEY's Army, and sorely distress'd him at Dyrrachium, till he skillfully got out to a Camp by the Sea, where he had both Forrage, and Access to his Fleet, and coming to a Battel, CAESAR was fairly beat with great Loss by POMPEY, who pursued him to his Intrenchments; and if he had pursued his Victory there, POMPEY had gain'd All; as CAESAR afterwards own'd.

CAESAR retired to Apollonia, encouraged his Men, and wanting a Fleet, thought fit to march quickly towards Macedonia, to join his Lieutenant Calvinus with 3 Legions; and POMPEY imprudently marched after him to join Scipio, who had brought thither the Syrian Legions; and when both these great Men were join'd by their said Friends, They met in the Plains of Pharsalia in Thessaly, POMPEY at the Head of 45000 Foot, and 7000 Horse, and CAESAR at the Head of 22000 Foot, and above 1000 Horse: on the one Side Domitius Ahenobarbus commanded the Right Wing, Scipio the Center, and Pompey himself the Left Wing, all in three Lines; on the other Side, Mark Antony commanded the Left Wing, Domitius Calvinus the Center, and Spilla the Right Wing, where CAESAR placed himself at the Head of the 10th Legion, over against POMPEY: POMPEY's Word was Hercules, the Invincible; and CAESAR's Word was Deus, the Victorious. And now the Fate of ROME was decided in a fierce Battel, by those two great Captains; and Victory hanging doubtful till Noon, at last fell on CAESAR's Side, who well knew how to improve it, causing his Men to cry out at the Beginning of POMPEY's Disorder, Kill the Foreigners, but save the Romans; upon which the Right Wing under Ahenobarbus, then slain, threw down their Arms, and CAESAR pursued those that fled till Night; and in the Morning They came down from their Hill, begg'd Quarter, and received it from CAESAR in the most obliging Manner, forbidding his Soldiers to plunder their Baggage. Thus CAESAR, with a very small Loss, obtain'd a complete Victory, slaying 15000, and taking 24000 of POMPEY's Men.

This decisive Battel was fought near the 20th Day of July. Anno U. C. Varroniano 706.

As for POMPEY, he fled to Larissa, and from thence, not to his fine Fleet, as he should have done, but in a private Ship to Mitylene, where he took up his Lady Cornelia, and his Son Sertius, and disputed about Providence with the Philosopher Cratippus, who told him, That the ill Conduct of the Republick, made Monarchy at Rome necessary; and askt, How it could be known, that if he had conquer'd CAESAR, he had used his Fortune to better Purposes: POMPEY had no Prospect of Relief in Asia, Syria, or Parthia, but got some Ships in Cilicia, and 2000 Men, and 60 Roman Senators escaped from Pharsalia.

Scipio, Labienus, Afranius, and others, had fled to Dyrrachium, where CATO had been left, with 15 Cohorts, and 300 Ships, aboard which he and CICERO had sail'd to Corcyra, where the main Fleet was, and there received their Friends, particularly Octavius, and POMPEY's eldest Son Enrius, and where They threatened to murder CICERO for not assuming the Command, but CATO protected him: the Navy being divided, one Part of it was led by Cassius to PHARNACES King of Beiphorus, now recovering Pontus his Father's Inheritance, to excite him against CAESAR; and Scipio sail'd with another Part to Africa, depending on Darro with his Forces there, and the Aids of JUBA King of Mauritania; and CATO carried another Part of the Fleet to Cyrene and Lybia: and now POMPEY, too late, repented his going to fight so far from his Fleet.

From Cilicia POMPEY went to Cyprus, where hearing that the Antiocheans had declared for CAESAR, who was pursuing him thro' Lesser Asia, POMPEY sail'd to Pelusium in Egypt, hoping King PTOLEMY Dionysius, tho' a Minor, and his Sister Queen CLEOPATRA, would, in Gratitude, assist him: but all was in Confusion there, Dionysius's Tutors having expell'd CLEOPATRA, who had brought an Army of Syrians to restore her, and incamped near his Army hard by Pelusium at Mount Casius; and POMPEY sent Messengers ashore to Dionysius, whose Tutors (by Advice of Theodotus the King's Preceptor in Rhetoric, who told them, that Dead Folks dont bite) determin'd to cut him off: and so Achillas their General, with Septimius a Roman military Tribune, and Salvius a Centurion in the Egyptian Service, who had both served under Pompey, came in a Boat, and by Lies and fair Promises decoy'd poor infatuated POMPEY ashore, and at landing stabbd him in Sight of his Wife and Friends, cut off his Head, and left the Body unburied on the Shore, (which was burned soon after by Philip his freed Man, and an old Roman Soldier, with the Boards of an old Boat) on the 3<sup>d</sup> before the Calends of October, the Day before his Birth Day, the Day he had triumph'd over MITHRIDATES King of Pontus, and the Pirates, when aged 53 Year. complete. For the Republick seem'd to exist till the Beginning of AUGUSTUS's sole Reign, as in the following Table.

The Rest of the Roman History concerning the Great Julius CÆSAR, the Second Triumvirate, the Battels of Philippi and Actium, the creating of HEROD the King of Judæa, the Death of ANTONY and CLEOPATRA, when the Greecian Monarchy and Egyptian Kingdom ended, is already printed in the Tables XXXVI and XXXIX.

And for connecting of Table XXXIX with the next Table LVIII. we may recollect, that

ANTONY and CLEOPATRA kill'd themselves, and were buried in the same Tomb, when the Greecian Monarchy ended, and the ROMAN Empire began under AUGUSTUS Cæsar, then call'd only Octavianus.

OCTAVIANUS, while in Egypt, cut off Carfarion (the Son of CLEOPATRA by Julius CÆSAR) Canidius ANTONY's General, Mutillas the eldest Son of ANTONY by Fulbia, &c. but he was very kind to Antony's other Children by Fulvia, Octavia, and Cleopatra; and from ANTONY's two Daughters, Three of the Roman Emperors were descended: See their Genealogical Table.

OCTAVIANUS, while in Egypt, was curious to see the imbalmed Body of ALEXANDER the Great, preserved in a Case of Glass, (ever since the Case of Gold was taken away by Seleucus Cybisactes) with a Crown of Gold, to which He paid great Reverence; only handling the Body he broke a Bit of its Nose. But he scorn'd to visit the Bodies of the PTOLEMYS, or the Egyptian God Apis.

The Egyptians now laid aside their Philippic Period, computed from the Death of ALEXANDER the Great, being now 294 Nabonassarian or Astronomical Years; and began their New Era on their New Year's Day, the 29th of August, (which should be the 31st of August) not of Philippic or Nabonassarian Years, but of Julian Years. It should be call'd the Era of the Alexandrian Victory; but to avoid owning their being conquer'd, the Egyptians call'd it the Era of the Actian Victory, tho' the Battel of Actium was fought near a Year before: and it was so call'd till the first Year of the Emperor Dioclesian, A. D. 284. when It came to be call'd the Era of Dioclesian, and the Era of the Martyrs.

OCTAVIANUS came to Alexandria the Beginning of August, and left it the Beginning of September; making Cornelius Gallus the Præfekt of Egypt. The Conqueror was attended by King HEROD as far as Antioch, where he restored to HEROD the Territory of Jericho, and gave him also Gadara, Hippin, Samaria, Gaza, Authedon, Joppa, and Straton's Tower.

PHRAHATES IV. King of Parthia being last Year expell'd by Tiridates and the Nobility, ARTAVASDES did then recover Media, and CLEOPATRA to gain him to her Side, then sent him the Head of his old Enemy ARTABAZES late King of Armenia, whom ANTONY had brought Captive to Alexandria: but after the Battel of Actium, the Mede adhered to OCTAVIANUS. And this Year PHRAHATES rais'd an Army, and Tiridates being beat out of the Field, fled into Syria; and now at Antioch apply'd to OCTAVIANUS for Assistance, while the Ambassadors of PHRAHATES address'd him likewise: but he would assist neither of them; only allow'd Tiridates to stay in Syria till his Fortune mended, and received from him a younger Son of PHRAHATES that had fallen into his Hands, who was carried to Rome as an Hostage: and having made Maffala Corbinus Præfekt of Syria, OCTAVIANUS marched into Lesser Asia, where he winter'd.

OCTAVIANUS, on the Calends of January this Year at Samos, enter'd upon his 5th Consulship; and having settled the Eastern Provinces, return'd to Rome in the Month Septembris, (call'd afterwards August from him) a glorious Conqueror, entering the City with Three Triumphs during three Days; on the first Day for Victories over the Dalmatians, Pannonians, and some of the German and Gaulick Nations; on the 2<sup>d</sup> for his Sea Victory at Actium, and on the third Day for his Conquest of Egypt, very magnificent. Then He shut the Temple of Janus, that had been open 206 Years, and assumed the Title, not of King, as hateful to the Romans, but of Imperator, or EMPEROR; not as it was given by Soldiers to their victorious General, but as it is now understood, or as King of Kings.

The Emperor generously restored the learned Prince JUBA (who had been led in the Triumph of Julius CÆsar) to his paternal Kingdom of Mauritania.

The Senate was now reform'd. and increas'd to a Thousand; and the Constitution of the Empire being settled, the Emperor wisely began to reconcile to himself Antony's Adherents, to please the Populace, and to convince the Republican Party, that the People enjoy'd as much Liberty as ever, except that They could not so easily create Disturbance. He also encouraged all the Arts and Sciences, especially Architecture, Painting, Poetry, Eloquence; for under him flourish'd Vitruvius, Virgil, Horace, Liby, Ovid, and many more.

King HEROD being deceived by the Artifice of his Mother Cyprus and Sister Salome, became jealous, without Cause, of his charming Mariamne; and in a Rage packt a Bench of Judges, who condemn'd her, and He caus'd her Head to be publicly struck off; but afterwards He felt great Remorse, and turn'd almost stark mad.

OCTAVIANUS enter'd upon his 6th Consulship, and PERAHATES IV. King of Parthia growing intolerable, was again expell'd by his Nobles, who recall'd TIRIDATES to mount the Throne.

A grievous Pestilence in Judea, made HEROD retire to Samaria; where, hearing that Alexandra the Mother of Mariamne was again plotting against him at Jerusalem, he sent Orders to cut her off. He recover'd his Health and return'd to Jerusalem, but never recover'd his Temper, being ever after fierce and cruel.

Jesus the Son of Phebes succeeded to Ananias as High Priest of Jerusalem.

Here ends the IV. and last Calippic Period.

The Emperor, in his 7th Consulship, to gain the Peoples Favour, barrangued the Senate with an Offer to resign the Government into the Hands of the Senate and People, or to restore the old Constitution of the Republick: but the Senators being all his Friends or Creatures, press'd him to take upon him the sole Administration, which, with a feign'd Reluctancy, he accepted of for Ten Years: but he often renew'd his Lease during his Life.

The Senate also gave Octavianus the new Name of AUGUSTUS, in Greek SEBASTOS; and he, in Requital, resign'd to the Senate the Power of appointing Governors to the peaceable Provinces, but wisely reserv'd to himself the frontier Provinces, and those that required ing Armies: the first were call'd the Senatorial, and the others the Imperial Provinces.

And now the ROMAN Republick had another finishing Stroke, by this formal Resignation of the Senate to AUGUSTUS, who made a Po. of 4063000 Roman Citizens: After the Republick began, upon the Banishment of TARQUIN 482 Years; and after the Death of Julius CÆsar 17 Years.

And now properly the ROMAN Empire began, which was extended in Europe over Italy, Gaul, Spain, Greece, Illyricum, Dacia, Pannonia, with some Parts of Germany and Britains; and in Asia over Asia Minor, Armenia, Syria, Judea, with Part of Mesopotamia and Media; and in Africa over Egypt, Lybia, Proper Africa, Numidia, Mauritania, besides Sicily, Sardinia, Corfica, the Balearic, and other Islands, in all near 4000 Miles in Length; and its annual Revenue was, by a sober Computation, reckon'd to be near 40 Millions Sterling.

And this is the 1st Year of the Roman Emperors call'd by the Name of AUGUSTUS, Anno U. C. Macroniano, 727.

Salome the Sister of HEROD, after her first Husband and Uncle Joseph was cut off, had married another Idumean, Costobarus; but being weary of him, she gave him a Bill of Divorce, contrary to Law, and had gone to live with her Brother.

And now she form'd a Plot to cut off poor Cybilarn, and many more. HEROD having also cut off all the Asmonæan Race, thought himself secure, deviated from the Jewish Usages, and introduced many foreign Customs, built a Theatre at Jerusalem, where he order'd order'd Games to be celebrated every 5th Year in Honour of Augustus, in Imitation of those at Rome for the Adiac Victory.

Corneilius Gallus, recall'd from Egypt, was declared infamous, for speaking amiss of Augustus; and for Male-administration was banish'd, when he kill'd himself; and Petrinus was made Præfēt of Egypt. At this Time Britain, and Gaul, preparing for an Insurrection, and Part of Spain being up in Arms, AUGUSTUS, in his 8th Consulship, open'd the Temple of Janus, and march'd with an Army into Gaul, where the British Ambassadors, by fair Promises, prevent'd his Defeat upon that Island; and the Gauls submitting, He march'd into Spain against the Cantabrians and Asturians, whom he drov to their Fastnesses in the Mountains, where he blockt them up by building Forts round them, and starv'd the most Part of them.

PHRAHATES IV. King of Partbia, by an Army of Sarmatians, had expell'd Sitaces, who now fled to AUGUSTUS in Spain; and PHRAHATES got the Partbians again to own him their Sovereign, tho' most unworthy of Royal Dignity, as Horace observes, Lib. II. Od. 2.

Augustus, in his 9th Consulship, found hard Work in Spain, by the Obstinacy of that People, who rather chose to starve and slay themselves than yield; but at length he subdued them all, tho' the Romans own'd They had never encounter'd so fierce and cruel Enemies.

While at Tarracena, AUGUSTUS was address'd by Ambassadors from the remotest Nations of the North and East, the Scythians, Sarmatians, Indians, and Seres or Chinese, who with rich Presents courted his Friendship: so famous was his Name.

Marcus Crassus this Year subdued the Masians and Basternians beyond the Danube, slaying their King DEDDO.

SEPTIMIUS JARRO subdued the Salassi, a People upon the Alps, and built the City Augusta Prætoria, now Aouste; while VINCINUS appeas'd the Germani: and at the End of the Year, AUGUSTUS having founded the City Saragossa, return'd to Italy, and order'd the Temple of Janus to be shut again.

ROME was now adorn'd with several noble Structures by AGRIPPA, who also, at his own Charge, finish'd the famous Pantheon, or Temple of All Gods, (now the Temple of all Saints) and made curious Aqueducts for the City.

AUGUSTUS not coming to Rome because of a raging Distemper, got his Favourite Agrippa to celebrate the Marriage of his Daughter Julia with Marcellus, the Son of his Sister Octavia; and the Marriage of the learned Juba King of Mauritania, with ANTONY's Daughter Cleopatra Selene, and committed to his Care his Queen's two Brothers, Alexander and Ptolemy, all three born to ANTONY by the famous CLEOPATRA.

This Year HEROD discover'd a Conspiracy against his Life at Jerusalem, punish'd the Plotters severely, and to be more safe, began to fortify Samaris, which he call'd Sebaste, (after Augustus) and put a Garrison into Seraton's Tower. And Palestin and Syria being sore afflicted with Drought, Barrenness, Famine, and Pestilence, HEROD, wanting Money, melted down all his fine Plate into Coin, and bought Corn in Egypt to preserve his People; for which he was deservedly esteem'd.

AUGUSTUS entering on his 10th Consulship, the Senate voted him free from the Obligation of Laws, and intrusted him with absolute Power, to act in all Things as he pleas'd.

So farewell ROMAN Liberty.

When he came to Rome, He sent Aelius Gallus with 10000 Men against the Southern Arabs, that had affronted him: HEROD assisted Gallus with 500 of his Guards; and OSODAS King of the Nabathæan Arabs, sent him 1000 Men, with Syllaxus to be his Guide.

HEROD, now in profound Peace, began to build his magnificent Palace on Mount Zion, as fine as the Temple; and in this XXIX. Year of JUBILEE. HEROD falling in Love with another Mariamne, the beautiful Daughter of one Simon the Son of Boethus a Priest, removed Jesus the Son of Phibes, and in his Stead made Simon the High Priest; that he might with more Honour marry his Daughter. After these Nuptials, HEROD founded his lorty Palace Herodium seven Miles South of Jerusalem.

AUGUSTUS, in his 11th Consulship, now gave Audience to the Ambassadors of PHRAHATES, who demanded his Son, and also his Servant Sitaces: but tho' He would not deliver Tiridates, he sent home the young Prince with his dry Nurse Thermusa, a lovely Italian Virgin, upon Condition of having the Roman Captives and Ensigns restor'd, that had been taken from Crassus and ANTONY.

Aelius Gallus deceas'd the Enemy, but by the Treachery of his Guide Syllaxus, lost the Half of his Army by long Marches thro' Arabia, and shamerully brought back the Rest to Alexandria. Mean while CANDACE Queen of Ethiopia, South of Egypt, invaded the Upper Egypt, took in Syene, and carried off many Captives: but Petrinus the Præfēt having routed her in Battel, pursued her 800 Miles into Ethiopia, destroy'd her Metropolis Napata, garrison'd Premis, and return'd with his Captives to Alexandria.

AUGUSTUS fearing that Marcellus his Nephew and Son in Law and his adopted Son and Heir, was jealous of Agrippa his prime Favourite, wisely sent Agrippa to govern the Asiatic Provinces: and AUGUSTUS falling dangerously ill, was cured by his Physician Antonius Musa, who us'd the Cole Bæbe: but it would not do with dear Marcellus, for it kill'd him: whose immature Death, at the End of this Year, is much lamented by Virgil, Æneid 6. But the Empress Livia was suspected to have poison'd Marcellus, for the advancing of her own Son Tiberius.

HEROD having finish'd Sebaste, (formerly Samaris) founded Cæsarea (formerly Seraton's Tower) a 12 Years Work of prodigious Labour and Expence, and made it the best Harbour in all Phœnicia. HEROD now sent his two Sons (by his first Mariamne) Alexander and Antipater, to Rome: for the Education of them, and the special Care of them; adding also to HEROD's Kingdome the Galilee, Trachonitis, Lebanon, and Hamath. He then return'd to Jerusalem, to wait upon Agrippa, who assur'd him, that he should be crown'd King: and that he should be able to settle his Succession upon which of his Sons he pleas'd.

ROMAN Empire.

AUGUSTUS went into Sicily, to settle that and the other Provinces Eastward; and sent to Mitylene for Agrippa, made him divorce his Wife, (tho' the Daughter of Octavia the Sister of AUGUSTUS) and marry his Daughter Julia, the Widow of Marcellus, sent him to Rome to consummate his Marriage, and to reside there as chief Ruler, in his Absence. The divorced Wife of Agrippa, was afterwards married to Antony, the Son of ANTONY the Triumvir.

AUGUSTUS now refused to be perpetual Dictator, and Censor, when press'd to accept of them both, and took great Care of Decency and Discipline at Rome.

AUGUSTUS having settled Affairs at Rome and in Sicily, sail'd into Greece, and winter'd in Samos, where he was address'd by the Ambassadors of CANDACE Queen of Ethiopia, who sued for Peace and obtain'd it.

In the Spring, He pass'd over into Asia, and from thence into Syria; when Zenodorus, and others, accused HEROD before him at Antioch of many heinous Crimes; but failing in their Probation, They made away with themselves the Night before the Decision, for fear of being delivered up to Herod. Upon which AUGUSTUS readily absolved HEROD, gave his Brother Pheloxas a Tetrarchy, and gave himself the Tetrarchy of Zenodorus, and his Lands near Mount Paneas and the Fountain of the Jordan, where HEROD built a Temple of white Marble to AUGUSTUS, making him thus an Idol God.

The Armenians accused their King Artabazas (the Son of Artabazes that was carried Captive by Antony, and murder'd by Cleopatra) before AUGUSTUS of Male-administration, desiring his Brother Tigranes to be their King; and AUGUSTUS sent Tiberius to see it done: but before he got thither, They had privately cut off Artabazas; and TIGRANES having peaceable Possession, Tiberius had a peaceable Expedition.

PHRAHATES IV King of Parthia, having begot a Son by Thermusa the beautiful Italian, exalted her to be his Queen; and the influenced him to deliver to AUGUSTUS all the Roman Ensigns, and Prisoners taken from Crassus and ANTONY, and to submit to Caesar's Terms; nay to give his four eldest Sons, with their Wives and Children, as Hostages, who remain'd long at Rome. PHRAHATES was a wicked Tyrant, and afraid that his People should dethrone him, if CESAR should declare War against him; and therefore put his Sons thus out of the Way of being set up by the People, who were superstitiously attach'd to the Race of ARSACES: and Thermusa design'd thus to get the Crown for her young Son, tho' she was justly disappointed in the Issue.

AUGUSTUS brought the Conquer'd Countries under the Roman Laws, but left the others to use their old Laws and Customs. He restored Zamblichus to his paternal Principality in Arachia, and Sercandimotus to his in Cilicia, made Archelaus King of Lesser Armenia, and Antiochus King of Commagene; and returning to Samos, he winter'd there again.

HEROD having convoy'd CESAR to the Sea Side, return'd to Jerusalem; but found the People mostly alienated from him, because of his Conformity to Heathen Usages; which made him forb'd all Clubs and Feasts, had Spies in every Place, sinartly punish'd his Enemies, and would have had all his Subjects swear Fidelity to him, if it had not been refused by the Rabbins Hillel and Shammai, with the Pharisees and Essenes. Yet to regain their Affection, he propos'd at the Passover (which happen'd properly in the Beginning of his nineteenth Year) to rebuild the Temple, and not to pull down the old Temple, til he had gather'd Materials for the new one. Accordingly he forthwith prepared 1000 Waggon, 10000 Artificers, and 1000 Priests that were skillful Master Builders or Architects, to direct and oversee the Work.

While CESAR winter'd at Samos, Julia at Rome bore to Agrippa his Son Catus; and Ignatius Rufus, M. Genucius, and Plautus Rufus, were executed by the Senate for plotting to cut off CESAR upon his Return. At Samos also He was address'd by three Ambassadors from Porus King of India, who made a League with him, and gave him great Presents, and some Tigres, Beasts that the Grecians and Romans had never seen before: one of the Three Ambassadors, Zarmarus a Gymnosophist, follow'd CESAR to Athens, and there burnt himself on his Funeral Pile, in his Presence, with a cheerful Countenance; according to the Custom of these People, when They think They have liv'd long enough.

At length AUGUSTUS in his Return to Rome, was met at Athens by his Poet Virgil, who had retired to Greece in order to finish his Aeneis; and returning with CESAR, he contracted a Dissemper, which encreasing a Shipboard, cut him off a few Days after he landed at Brundufium, in the 52<sup>d</sup> Year of his Age.

CESAR enter'd Rome with an Oration on Horseback, marching thro' a Triumphal Arch; the People rejoycing at the Sight of the Ensigns redeem'd from Parthia, which were hung up in the New Temple of Mars the Avenger, in the Capitol, that AUGUSTUS had vowed to build before the Battel of Philippi. The Senate now order'd 12 Axes and Fasces to be carried before him, and directed him to sit in a Curule Chair between the Consuls.

AUGUSTUS now prorogued his Imperial Power to five Years more, gave to Agrippa Tribunitial Power for the same Time, whom he had sent to prevent Insurrections in Gaul and Spain, and order'd the Priests of Rome to transcribe the Sybillin Books with their own Hands.

Actius Gallus succeeding Petronius in the Præfecture of Egypt, made a Progress thro' it as far as Ethiopia, and carried with him Strabo the learned Geographer, who was born at Anafsa in Pontus, and afterwards publish'd his Geography in the 4th Year of Tiberius.

This is the last Year of the Second Temple of Jerusalem.
After ZERUBBABEL was founded 11 618 Years. Anno U. C. Clatroniana, 736.

TABLE LIX.

The CHRONOLOGY of the ROMANS, JEWS, PARTHIANS, and their Contemporaries, from the Founding of the 2d Temple by King HEROD, To the Dedication of it, containing 10 Years.

| The Third Temple of Jerusalem was founded by King HEROD, who had prepared Materials for two Years past, which, with the Materials of the Old Temple, would be enough to begin with; tho' the 2 <sup>d</sup> Temple was not now pulled down all at once, but Piece by Piece: only according to Josephus, the Foundation was much enlarged, and the 3 <sup>d</sup> Temple was almost twice as large as the 2 <sup>d</sup> . This Creation was begun just 46 Years before the first Passover of our Saviour's Ministry, for Job. ii. 20. The Jews said, 46 Years has this Temple been already in building: for tho' in nine Years and an Half it was made fit for divine Service; yet It was not completed, nor the contiguous Apartments, and its Appurtenances finish'd, till Gessius Florus came to be Procurator of Judea, Anno Christi 65. when 18000 of the Artificers, discharged at one Time, for want of Work, began those Mutinies and Seditions, which in about Six Years occasion'd the Destruction of Jerusalem and the Temple by Titus Vespasian. | 732   | 29     | 13    | 20    | 21     | 1      | 442    | 4697   | 17      | 3987  | CXC.       | 4      | 13 |
| AUGUSTUS prov'd an excellent Magistrate, reform'd the City and Army, renew'd the great secular Games, and obliged the Players to be modest and decent.   |       |        |       |       |        |        |        |        |         |       |            |        |    |
| LUCIUS the Son of AGRIPPA was born by Julia; and her Father AUGUSTUS forthwith adopted him, and his Brother Caius, to prevent Plots against his Person.  |       |        |       |       |        |        |        |        |         |       |            |        |    |
| HEROD now sail'd to Rome, and in his Way stop't in Greece, where he presid'd at the Celebration of the CXCI. Olympiad; and for his Liberality to the Elians, They made him the AGONOTHEA, or President for Life. At Rome AUGUSTUS magnificently entertain'd him, and delivered to him his Sons, well educated about seven Years in the Roman Way, with whom he return'd to Judea; where he found the Holy Place, and the Holy of Holies, and the Porch leading to both, well finish'd in 18 Months, during which no Rain fell in the Day Time, and in Eight Years more the Rest was built that HEROD had propos'd.   | 733   | 30     | 14    | 21    | 22     | 2      | 443    | 4698   | 16      | 3988  | CXCI.      | 1      | 14 |
| The Suevri, Usipetes, and Teucteri, People of Germany, invaded Gaul, and beat Lollius the Proconsul; but tho' he rallied and beat them over the Rhine, AUGUSTUS thought fit to march and settle Gaul, and also to make his Presence more valuable at Rome; while he sent AGRIPPA to settle the Asiatic Provinces.  |       |        |       |       |        |        |        |        |         |       |            |        |    |
| The Rharians about Treas made Irruptions into Italy and Gaul, but were entirely subdued by Drusus and Tiberius, the Sons of Livia the Empress.   | 734   | 31     | 15    | 22    | 23     | 3      | 444    | 4699   | 15      | 3989  |            | 2      | 15 |
| HEROD married his two Sons by his first Mariamne; ALEXANDER the eldest to Glaphyra, Daughter of Archelaus King of Cappadocia; and ARISTOBULUS to Berenice, the Daughter of Salome HEROD's Sister. These Youths by their Comeliness, good Behaviour, and many Accomplishments, gain'd the Favour of all the Jews; but wicked Salome, fearing They would one Time revenge on her their Mother's Death, began to plot their Destruction.  |       |        |       |       |        |        |        |        |         |       |            |        |    |
| When HEROD heard that AGRIPPA was come to Asia, He waited on him, and prevail'd to bring him into Judea, where he shew'd him all his new built Castles and Cities, and was met at Jerusalem by all the People in their Festival Apparel. He order'd an Hecatomb to be offer'd on the great Altar, and return'd by Sea to Ionia before Winter.  |       |        |       |       |        |        |        |        |         |       |            |        |    |
| PHARNACES (the Son of MITRIDATES the Great, King of Pontus) having been expell'd from his Kingdom of Bosphorus, and slain by ASANDER, his Daughter Dynamis was married to Asander; and he being now dead, she married one Scribonius, that pretended to be the Grandson of MITHRIDATES, and to have a Grant from Augustus to be King of Bosphorus. Upon which AGRIPPA sent Polemon (whom the Romans had made King of Pontus) to expel Scribonius; but before his Arrival, the Bosphorans had discover'd Scribonius to be a Cheat, and cut him off; nor would They submit to POLEMON, tho' he had defeated them in one Battel. Wherefore  | 735   | 32     | 16    | 23    | 24     | 4      | 445    | 4700   | 14      | 3990  |            | 3      | 16 |
| AGRIPPA march'd against them; and HEROD, of his own Accord, came to his Assistance, with a Fleet and Army, when AGRIPPA much wanted it, who soon entirely reduced the Bosphorans, married POLEMON to Dynamis, and made him King of Bosphorus, which he held, by the Confirmation of AUGUSTUS, with Pontus and Lesser Armenia; not all Pontus, but that Part call'd Pontus Polemoniacus. When AGRIPPA return'd to Ionia, HEROD accompanying him, obtain'd from him great Favour to the Jews that had been first settled in Lydia, and the adjacent Countries, by ANTIOCHUS Magnus, and were now increas'd over all Lesser Asia and the Isles, but had of late been sorely oppress'd by the other Inhabitants, and deprived of living according to their own Religion, and of their other Immunities: but HEROD obtain'd a Redress of all their Grievances, and indeed was Mecenor with AGRIPPA for the Iliads, and all the vintners.  |       |        |       |       |        |        |        |        |         |       |            |        |    |
| When AGRIPPA sail'd over to Rome, HEROD return'd by Sea to Caesarea, and thence travell'd to Jerusalem, where he was joyfully received, and remain'd a Part of the Time  |       |        |       |       |        |        |        |        |         |       |            |        |    |

| Lepidus, the Triumvir, who had been long ago made High Priest of Rome, and not deposed, now dying, AUGUSTUS, now return'd from Gaul, took upon him the Office of High Priest, as did all the CÆSARS his Successors; till the Emperor GRATIAN, a zealous Christian, declin'd it, as did all his Successors. And now Augustus CÆSAR, as High Priest, call'd in all the prophetic Books, that had created vain Hopes and Fears among the People, as they were interpreted for or against the Government; and caused above 2000 Volumes of them to be burnt as spurious, and some of the Sibyllin Verses too, after Examination: but those accounted genuine he put into two golden Cabinets, under the Pedestal of Apollo Palatinus. Many of the Sibyllin Verses were afterwards burnt by TIBERIUS, and the rest by Order of the Emperor HONORIUS, Anno Christi 399. after They had been convicted of gross Falshood. Alexander and Arifobulus, the Sons of HEROD, having utter'd Threatnings against the Authors of their Mother Mariamne's Death, the chief Authors of it Salome, and her Brother Pheroras, related the same perversly to their Brother HEROD, and excited him to bring to Court Antipater his Son, by Doris his first Wife, (who was divorced upon his Marriage with Mariamne) in order to humble the two royal Brothers; but it made them outrageous. AGRIPPA being call'd home, left Sentius Saturninus and Titus Volumnius to govern Syria and Phanicia; but before he left Asia, HEROD waited on him, and sent with him his Son Antipater to Rome. Upon his Return to Rome, AGRIPPA refused the Triumph that was decreed for him by the Senate: and so Others following his Example, the good old Custom of Triumphs was laid aside, and Ensigns of Triumph only were used. AGRIPPA was now sent against the Pannonians, who submitted to his Terms by the Terror of his Name; but returning he fell sick in Campania, and died much lamented by All, especially by AUGUSTUS, who himself made his funeral Oration, and buried him in his own Tomb. AUGUSTUS finding it necessary to have another Assistant, chose his Step Son TIBERIUS, (the Son of Livia by her former Husband) causing him, sore against his Will, to divorce his beloved Wife Agrippina, (the Daughter of Agrippa by his first Wife, who was the Daughter of Pompey's Asicas) tho' she had bore to him his Son Drusus, and was now pregnant; and AUGUSTUS made him to betroth his Daughter Julia the Widow of AGRIPPA, and thus become also his Son in Law: while Drusus the Brother of Tiberius defeated the Germans, sail'd down the Rhine, subdued the Frisians, and was the first Roman that saw the German Sea. And Sulpicius Quirinius Consul this Year, obtain'd the Ensigns of a Triumph, for subduing some Castles in Cilicia. Antipater at Rome, being an artful Man, ingratiated himself with AUGUSTUS, and wrote artful Letters to his Father HEROD, to excite him in his own Defence against the Sons of Mariamne. HEROD impatient, took his said two Sons, and carried them before CÆSAR at Aquileia in Italy; where he accused them of undutiful Behaviour, and of a Design to poison him: but the young Men having purged themselves from the last Accusation, CÆSAR acquitted them, and reconciled them to their Father, to whom he gave Power to appoint which of his Sons he pleased for his Successor. When he had sail'd back to Cæsarea, he found there ARCHELAUS King of Cappadocia, who was overjoy'd at the Reconciliation, and that Alexander his Son in Law had been acquitted. And when HEROD came to Jerusalem, he call'd the People to the Temple, and nominated his eldest Son Antipater to be his Successor, and after him his two Sons by Mariamne. Tiberius reduced this Year the Dalmatians and Pannonians; while his Brother Drusus pursuing the Sicambrians and the Cherusians over the Rhine, was almost insnared by them. Lutius Biso Governor of Pamphilia overcame the Bessi and Sialletæ, that had invaded Thrace and Macedon; for which he obtain'd Triumphal Honours. Julius Antony, the Son of Mark ANTONY the Triumvir, by his Wife Fulvia, was this Year Consul, when the Marriage of Tiberius and Julia was now consummated, and she bore to him a Child that soon died: but she had born to her last Husband AGRIPPA five Children, viz. Caius, Lutius, Agrippina, (afterwards the Wife of Germanicus) Julia, (afterwards the Wife of L. Æmilius Paulus) and Agrippa a posthumous Son. OCTAVIA, the Sister of Augustus died this Year, leaving two Daughters by Mark ANTONY, viz. 1. Antonia Major, Wife of L. Domitius Aenobarbus. 2. Antonia Minor, Wife of Drusus, the Brother of Tiberius. Cneius Domitius, 1. Germanicus. 2. Libilla. 3. CLAUDIUS born this Year, and was Emperor after Caligula. The Emperor NERO, CALIGULA the Emperor. HEROD having finish'd his new City Cæsarea, dedicated it solemnly with Games, appointed for every 5th Year, for the Honour of CÆSAR. Agrippa the Son of Aristobulus, the second Son of HEROD by Mariamne, was now born; for when aged 54 Years he was consum'd of Worms, Acts xii. 23. |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  | 736   | 33           | 17              | 24                | 25              | 5                     | 446              | 4701           | 13             | 3991  | 4          | 17             |    |

Continuation of TABLE LIX.

ROMAN Empire.

Claudius Drusus Rhenus, and L. Quinctius Crispinus being Consuls, Drusus drove the Germans into their Woods and Deserts, following them till a gigantick Woman met him, and in the Roman Language said, Drusus, Whither will thy boundless Ambition hurry Thee? declaring, That the Fates permitted him not to see all Places; and bid him retreat, for that the Period of his Life and Actions approach'd! Dion.

Accordingly Drusus died in his Retreat, before he reach'd the Rhine, aged 30 Years, lamented by All: his Body brought to Rome was honourably burnt, and He justly obtain'd the Surname of Germanicus.

After Cæsarea, HEROD began to build Antipatris, Cyprus, and Phasaelis, so call'd from his Father, Mother, and Brother, and the Tower of Phasael at Jerusalem, as large as the Pharos of Alexandria.

The Jews of Afria and Cyrene, oppress'd against Law, petition'd CÆSAR and got Redress. HEROD wanting Money, open'd the Royal Sepulchre of DAVID (as Juba Hyrcanus had done) hoping to find Store of Money; but found only precious Things and golden Furniture, which he took away.

Salome and Pheroras, with their Nephew Antipater, turn'd HEROD almost mad, by false Stories of the two Sons of Mariamne, whose Servants he rackt to confess what never was done; nay he put the eldest, Alexander, under Chains in Prison, who, to be avenged of his jealous Father, sent him a written Confession of great Plots against him, carried on by Salome, Pheroras, and others; which HEROD believing, he turn'd more mad, and made his Palace a Slaughter House, where he tortur'd People to Death, for not confessing what never had a Being.

ARCHELAUS King of Cappadocia came to Jerusalem, and again reconciled his Son in Law Alexander with his Father HEROD; for which prudent good Office, HEROD made him rich Presents, and convoy'd him to Antioch, where he reconciled ARCHELAUS with Titus Volumnius the President of Syria: and then while HEROD went to Rome, to acquaint CÆSAR with this new Reconciliation, the Thieves or Free-booters of Trachonitis ravaged his Kingdom, being protected by Syllaeus, the prime Favourite of OBODAS King of the Nabathæan Arabs; because HEROD had refused to give him his Sister Salome in Marriage, unless he would turn Jew, and had given her to Alexas.

The Roman Priests having made every Third Year a Leap Year, ever since JULIUS Cæsar mended the Calendar, now found that in 36 Years, Three Days were added to the Julian Year: wherefore AUGUSTUS as High Priest order'd, that for 12 Years to come there should be no Leap Year, and that afterwards the Leap Year should be every fourth Year, according to the Institution of Julius; which is observed to this Day in the Julian or Old Style: and the Senate decreed to call the Month Sextilis August, Marcus Censorinus, and Afinius Gallus being Consuls; who made a Poll of 4233000 Roman Citizens.

HEROD upon his Return, celebrated the Dedication of the 3<sup>d</sup> TEMPLE, that had been 9 Years and 6 Months in building; and with the greater Solemnity, that it fell out on the same Day of the Year on which He at first received the Crown. HEROD offer'd 300 Oxen, and Others offer'd, according to their Ability, without Number.

This Dedication was just four Years before the Birth of Christ.

This Year Horace, aged 57 Years, died, and his wife Patron Mæcenas, both great Favourites of AUGUSTUS.

| Augustus CESAR now offer'd to lay down his Imperial Dignity, but was persuaded to retain it for ten Years more; which Limitation tended to his Security. He gave the Title of Imperator to Tiberius, this Year Consul, and the Honours of a Triumph over the Germans, whom he had quieted more by Craft than by Arms. HEROD's Kingdom was still infested by the Free-Booters of Trachonitis, which made him apply to Saturninus and Volumnius the Governors of Syria for Redress; and They decreed that Syllaeus should pay to HEROD 60 Talents he had borrowed of him, and to deliver up to him all Fugitives, and no more to protect the Thieves: but instead of obeying this, tho' he had took an Oath to do it, Syllaeus went to Rome: wherefore HEROD got Leave from the said Roman Governors, to march into Arabia with an Army, and destroy the City Repta the Refuge of those Thieves; where He slew many of them, with Nabbus, an Arabian Captain that came to their Relief; and returning, placed 3000 Idumeans in Trachonitis, to prevent further Depredations. Syllaeus at Rome complain'd grievously of this to CESAR, which he aggravated with Lies: therefore CESAR wrote a smart Letter to HEROD, who was now quite out of the Emperor's Favour. Mean while King OBODAS dying of the Poison prepared by Syllaeus, the Nabatheans, without Leave from CESAR, forthwith made one AENEAS their King, whom They call'd Hareth, which in the Greek is Aretas. Dionysius of Halicarnassus this Year began to write his Roman History. Tiberius offended at the Insolence of Cains and Lucius, the Grandsons of AUGUSTUS, and at his Wife Julia's frequent Adulteries, whom he durst not accuse, pretended to be weary of Honour and Toil, and got Leave, with Difficulty, from CESAR to retire to Rhodes for a studious Life, where he liv'd very privately. HEROD's Quarrel with the Sons of Mariamne again revived, and the Trachonites hearing that He was out of CESAR's Favour, (who would not give Audience to his Ambassadors) got Arabians to join them in expelling his Idumean Garrisons, and renew'd their Depredations, which He durst not now remedy; but sent Nicolaus Damascenus his Ambassador to CESAR, and he wisely join'd the Ambassadors of the Nabatheans, who came with Presents from their new King, and to accuse Syllaeus of poisoning King OBODAS. Caesar would not own ARETAS, but appointed a Day for hearing the Accusation against Syllaeus, which Nicolaus pleaded handsomely, and at the same Time accused him of imposing upon CESAR by telling Lies, as in the Case of the Trachonites and Repta; and Syllaeus not being able to contradict it, was by CESAR condemned to be carried back, to pay what he ow'd to HEROD, and to be put to Death, which was done. AUGUSTUS then accepted of their Presents, and confirm'd ARETAS in the Kingdom of Petrea; and receiving Letters from HEROD about his two Sons, CESAR wrote to him a kind Answer, giving him Leave to try his Sons at Berytus, by a Council of eminent Persons: and HEROD having got them condemn'd, carried them to Sebastie, where he order'd them both to be strangled: and so Salome had her cursed Ends. TIGRANES King of Armenia being dead, CESAR made his Brother ARTAVASDES King. Zacharias the Priest had now the Vision in the Temple, and the Promise of a Son, mention'd in the first Chapter of St. Luke; and when he went home, his Wife Elizabeth conceived of their Son JOHN Baptist. Cains now put on a Man's Gown, and CESAR in his 12th Consulship, made him the Prince of the Youth, and the Praefect of a Tribe, as Lucius was afterwards. Alexander and Antipater, the Sons of MARIAMNE the Assyrian, being dead, Antipater next wanted to get rid of his Father HEROD, and join'd with his Uncle Pheroras to poison him: for Pheroras, instead of marrying HEROD's eldest Daughter by Mariamne, married his own Maid for her Beauty and Wit; and HEROD having married his said Daughter to Phasaël, the Son of his Brother Phasaël, again offer'd to Pheroras his other Daughter by Mariamne; but tho' he had swore to marry her in a Month, he did not, because he would not divorce his pretty Wife. Besides, about 7000 Pharisees refusing to swear Allegiance to CESAR, as not being of the Stock of Israel, HEROD fined them; and the Wife of Pheroras being a strict Pharisee, paid their Fines; for which the Pharisees, pretending to prophecy, gave out that God had translated the Kingdom from HEROD to Pheroras and his Issue by this good Woman; which occasion'd Sedition: HEROD being inform'd hereof by Salome, cut off several of them, and commanded Pheroras to put away his Wife; which he flatly refusing, HEROD forbid Pheroras his House. And so Pheroras came into Antipater's Plot. But to conceal the Treason, Antipater went to Rome, and Pheroras to his Tetrarchy, where he soon died; when HEROD discover'd the Plot, how Antipater had got the Poison prepared at Alexandria, and had deliver'd it to his Mother's Brother Theudion, who sent it to Pheroras, who gave it to his Wife to lay up till a convenient Time, which she confess'd, only affirming, that her Husband repenting, on HEROD's kind Visit in his last Sickness, order'd her to cast it into the Fire; which she did, except a little she reserved for herself. | 742           | 39              | 23                      | 30                           | 31                    | 11                               | 452                    | 4707             | 7                 | 3997  | CXCIII. 2  | 23                     |

Upon which HEROD poorly turn'd out of his Court his Wife Doris, the Mother of Antipater, and his other Wife Mariamne, as concern'd in the Plot; put out of his Will her Son Herod from the Right of succeeding to him, and turn'd out her Father Simon from the High Priesthood, placing in his Stead one Matthias of Jerusalem as High Priest. Mean while

At Rome the Temple of Janus, that was open in Time of War, was now shut by Augustus CÆSAR, the whole Earth being at Peace. It had been shut, 1. In the Reign of King NUMA. 2. At the End of the first Punic War. 3. Upon the Death of ANTONY and CLEOPATRA. 4. Upon AUGUSTUS's finishing the Spanish War. 5. And now for 12 Years running, upon the general Peace, it was shut, when the PRINCE of Peace, the promised Messiah, and Saviour of Men, was to be born of the Blessed Virgin.

For in Six Months after the Vision of Zachariah in the Temple, God sent the same Angel GABRIEL to Nazareth in Galilee to MARY a Virgin of King DAVID's Race, that had been lately espoused, but not married, to her Cousin Joseph, to declare to her the glad Tidings that She was to be the Mother of Messiah. And she being overshadow'd by the Holy Eternal SPIRIT, conceived the human Nature of CHRIST.

The Virgin MARY having thus conceived, went to Hebron to visit her Cousin Elizabeth, the Wife of Zachariah the Priest, and staid with her Three Months: and Joseph her betrothed Husband perceiving her pregnant, was to have dismiss'd her privately, but was warned by an Angel to receive her; for that she had conceived, not by knowing a Man, but by the overshadowing of the Holy SPIRIT.

When Elizabeth's good Time came, she bore to Zachariah a Son, whom he now cured of his Dumbness, call'd JOHN, the Fore-runner of CHRIST, afterwards call'd JOHN the Baptist.

AUGUSTUS having Three Years ago made an Edict for making a Survey of the whole Roman Empire, or an Account of all the Persons, Possessions and Estates therein, and the Taxes issuable from them; it came this Year to be executed in Judea by Saturninus, the Roman President of the Province of Syria, to which Judea belong'd; but no Tax was there levied for the Emperor, till about 12 Years after this, when Archelaus the Tetrarch of Judea was deposed, and that Land was intirely reduced under the Roman Government, and when Cyprenius or Quirinius was Governor of Syria. Luke ii. 1, 2.

But the Jews not living like any other People, were to be taxed not according to their Place of Abode, but according to their Tribes and Families: therefore Joseph and MARY being of the House of DAVID, came from Nazareth in Galilee to Bethlehem in Judah, where DAVID was born, in order to be registred there by the Poll Makers against a certain Day.

And her good Time being come, and the Town being crouded with rich People, she was reduced, being poor, to lodge in a Stable; where she was delivered of the promised Messiah, the Son of DAVID, and the Son of God; as is generally computed, on the 25th Day of December, or about the End of the Second Month of the Year of the World 4000, and of the Julian Period 4710, Anno U. C. Marroniano 749 ending, the Emperor AUGUSTUS CÆSAR the 12th Time, and Cornelius Sylla being Consuls.

This is the Computation of Archbishop Usher, and many Others: but Abbo Emnius, and other accurate Chronologers, compute the Birth of CHRIST at the End of September.

Calpurnius Sabinus and Pallienus Rufinus commencing Consuls, CHRIST was circumcised on the 8th Day, or the Calends of January, when his Name was call'd JESUS.

Soon after, Three Wise Men from the East, of the Sect of the Magians, following the Guidance of a Star, came and worshipped CHRIST at Bethlehem.

On the 40th Day after her Delivery, the Blessed Virgin MARY went to the Temple of Jerusalem for her Purification, and for presenting her Son JESUS before God, according to the Law about the first born; when Simeon, divinely inspired, took him in his Arms, and sang his sweet Song, Bene Dimittis; as did also Anna the Prophetess.

Joseph and MARY having performed what was proper, according to the Law of Moses, return'd to their Dwelling in Nazareth; where soon the Angel of JEHOVAH warn'd Joseph in a Dream, to flee from HEROD's Cruelty, with the Child and his Mother, into Egypt; where They staid till HEROD was dead. Mean while

HEROD, alarm'd at the Birth of one of DAVID's Offspring that should be King of the Jews, according to the Prophecies of the Old Testament, sent his Cut-Throats to Bethlehem, (where he thought the Child JESUS still resided) and to be sure to cut him off, order'd them to cut off all Infants found there and thereabouts, under two Years old.

HEROD decoy'd his Son Antipater home from Rome, without knowing what had been discover'd against him; and arraigning him before Quintilius Varus the new President of Syria, Antipater was condemn'd for plotting the Death of his Brothers; and the poisoning of his Father.

While HEROD sent to Rome to get the Sentence confirm'd by AUGUSTUS, He was taken with a Complication of most horrible Distempers, and made a New Will, leaving the Succession to his youngest Son Herod Antipas, being exasperated at Archelaus and Philip, by the Craft of Antipater.

Judas the Son of Sarigheus, and Matthias the Son of Margabithus, two learned Rabbins, with 40 Youths their Scholars, hearing Herod's Distemper was incurable, came in broad Day, and cut down the Roman Eagle from the great Gate of the Temple; but being brought by the Captain before the King, and boldly owning the Fact as just, They were sent to Jericho and burnt alive. And HEROD suspecting suspecting Marthias the High Priest, deposed him, and made Joazar High Priest, the Brother of Mariamne, and Son of Simon, late High Priest.

When AUGUSTUS heard that HEROD had slain the Infants at Bethlehem, and among them one of his own Sons, (as was then reported at Rome) he said, 'Tis safer to be HEROD's Sow than his Son. Macrob. Saturn. L. 11. Cap. 4. Yet AUGUSTUS sent to HEROD Leave to banish Antipater, or to cut off his Head, as he pleased, which refresh'd him a little: but his Disease growing more violent, he would have stab'd himself with a Knife, if he had not been hinder'd by his Nephew Achiabus.

HEROD justly thinking that the Jews would not put on Mourning for him, seiz'd all the most noble of the Jews, and shut them up in the Hippodrom at Jericho, ordering his Sister Salome, and her Husband Alexas, to cut them off as soon as he was dead, that the Jews might put on Mourning at his Death.

Antipater believing his Father was really dead, tamper'd with his Keepers to let him out of Prison; which HEROD hearing of, order'd, tho' in Bed, one of his Servants forthwith to cut off Antipater, and to bury him obscurely. Then altering his last Will, He made Antipas only Tetrarch of Galilee and Perea; but left the Kingdom to his Son Archelaus, and made Philip Tetrarch of Gaulonitis, Trachonitis, Batanea, and Panaca: he left to his Sister Salome, the Cities Jamnia, Azotus, and Phasaelis, with 500000 Pieces of coin'd Silver; and left good Estates to all his Kindred; to CESAR Ten Millions of coin'd Silver Pieces, and all his Vessels in Gold and Silver, and a vast Number of precious Garments; and to Libia the Empress, and other Friends, Five Millions of Pieces. And having thus disposed of all Affairs;

HEROD the Great the King of Judea, died at Jericho, five Days after he had cut off Antipater his Son.

A little before his Death was publish'd, Salome and Alexas releas'd the noble Jews out of the Hippodrom of Jericho, as if by HEROD's Order; and calling the People together, publish'd his Death and his Will, and forthwith ARCHELAUS began to rule.

After HEROD's Death in the first Year of ARCHELAUS the Ethnarch of Judea,

Joseph and MARY being warned in a Dream by an Angel, return'd from Egypt home to Nazareth in Galilee, not under the Dominion of Archelaus; where JESUS grew and dwelt with them, increasing in Wisdom and Stature, and in Favour with God and Man, till the Time he enter'd on his publick Ministry. Hence CHRIST was call'd a Nazarene, and Christians Nazarenes.

ARCHELAUS, after he had sumptuously buried his Father's Corps in the Castle of Herodium, came to Jerusalem; and after seven Days publick Mourning, according to the Jewish Customs, he feasted the People, offer'd Sacrifices, and took upon him the Government, but not the Title of King; quell'd the Sedition of the Friends of those that were punish'd for pulling down the Roman Eagle, slaying 3000 of them about the Temple, and driving the rest to the Mountains.

Then He, with his Mother Salbace of Samarita, Nicolaus Damascenus, Ptolemy HEROD's Procurator and many Friends more, sail'd to Rome; as did also his Aunt Salome, with all her Progeny, and many of that Kindred, apparently to assist ARCHELAUS, but really to oppose him.

Antipas also his Brother with his Mother Cleopatra of Jerusalem, his eloquent Orator Irenaus, and many Friends came to Rome, who was excited by his Aunt Salome, to petition CESAR for the Crown that had been settled upon him by HEROD's former Will: yet tho' at Rome all the Kindred deserted ARCHELAUS, and attended Antipas, CESAR upon hearing both Sides, courteously rais'd up Archelaus from his Knees, pronouncing him worthy of a Kingdom, and promising to transact the Jewish Affairs according to HEROD's Will.

Mean while Varus came from Antioch, and repress'd Insurrections in Judea, leaving one Legion at Jerusalem. Upon his Return, Sabinus the Procurator by the Help of that Legion possess'd the Castles there, and rais'd great Sums: upon which, at Pentecost, many Thousand Jews came armed from all Parts to Jerusalem, and besieged Sabinus; while Tumults and Insurrections were over all that Kingdom: particularly Judas (the Son of Hezekiah the Captain of Robbers, long ago defeated by HEROD) rais'd a Band of desperate Men at Sephoris in Galilee, and became very formidable, aspiring to be a King: He is the same call'd Therudas by Gamaliel, Acts v. 36.

Simon also, HEROD's Slave, an handsome clever Fellow, would be a King; but was defeated and slain by Gratus, Captain of the royal Guards, now of the Roman Side.

Archonagus also an obscure giantick Shepherd put on a Diadem, rais'd his Posse, and ruled as a King in some Parts, till ARCHELAUS return'd from Rome. So that Quintilius Varus finding all Judea to be in Confusion and War, marched thither with his two other Legions and his Auxiliaries; and with much ado dispers'd the Rebellions, relieved his Third Legion besieged in the Castle of Jerusalem; and having crucified 2000 Ringleaders, and settled the Country, Varus return'd to Antioch: only first he permitted 50 eminent Jews to go to Rome as Ambassadors from the rest, who were join'd by 8000 at Rome, and solemnly petition'd CESAR to be no more govern'd by Kings, but to be added to the Roman Province of Syria: but CESAR, having also heard the Reply of Nicolaus Damascenus, consiured

ARCHELAUS, not King, but Ethnarch over the Half of his Father HEROD's Dominion, viz. the Countries of Judea, Idumaea, and Samarita, with a Promise to make him a King, if he behaved himself well.

CESAR divided the other Half of Herod's Dominions between his two other Sons, giving to Antipas Galilee and also Perea beyond the Jordan; and to Philip Batanea, Trachonitis, and Aulonitis; and to Salome the Cities Jamnia, Azotus, and Phasaelis; observing the Disposition of HEROD's Will very much.

ROMAN Empire.

A Jewish young Man bred up at Sidon, resembling somewhat the late Alexander the Son of Herod. set up to be the real Alexander, as if preserved from Execution by the Clemency of his Keeper, when his Brother Aristobulus was cut off; and persuaded many thousand Jews in Crete and Melos to believe in, to advance him Money, and attend him to Rome, in order to obtain the Kingdom; where the Jews also believed him, and were very fond of him; till Caesar sent for him, made him own the Cheat, and being a lusty Fellow, sent him to row in his Gallies.

Archelaus the Ethnarch, when return'd to Jerusalem, deposed Joazar for conniving at the Tumults, and made his Brother Eleazar High Priest in his Room.

Now Augustus enter'd upon his 15th Consulship, when he brought his Grandson Lucius into the Forum, conferring on him the same Honours as on his Brother Caius three Years ago. But while Augustus was amusing the People of Rome with sham Sea-Fights, and other Shows, Tigranes (the Son of Tigranes late King of Armenia) afforded him other Employment; for Pompey had reduced the Armenians to have their Kings all approved and confirmed by Rome: but having dethroned last Year Artavasdes, (whom Augustus had confirmed) They rebell'd against Rome, and introned this Tigranes assisted by the Parthians, Phraates having now broke with Caesar.

Augustus was now too old to take the Field against the Armenians and Parthians; nor was willing to imploy Libertus: and therefore he chose his Grandson Caius, tho' not above 19 Years old, bestowing on him Proconsular Authority.

Caius first went to Egypt, and from thence to Jerusalem; where he would not worship in the Temple by Prayer and Sacrifice, (as Agrippa his Father had done) thereby expressing his Contempt of the Jewish Religion: which Augustus commended him for when he heard it.

But when Phraates King of Parthia, and Tigranes King of Armenia, heard that Caius was arrived in Syria, They both sued for Peace, and obtain'd it.

Thus I have finish'd the principal CHRONOLOGY of the World, from the Creation to the first Year of the CHRISTIAN Era; which was thought necessary for the better understanding of the Genealogies prior to this Era, and was enjoin'd upon me by many of the Encouragers of this Work, instead of the Genealogical Questions at first propos'd.

The CHRISTIAN Era begins four Years after the Birth of CHRIST, by the Mistake of its Author Dionysius Exiguus, a Scythian and a Roman Abbot, who A. D. or of this Era 527. design'd this Era by computing the Years from CHRIST's Nativity, but began it four Years later: so that to find the true Year from CHRIST's Birth, we must add four Years to the Christian Era; which by long Use is call'd the Era of CHRIST, and its Year call'd (Anno Domini) the Year of our LORD; tho' strictly it should be call'd (Anno Erae Christianae) the Year of the CHRISTIAN Era, according to which, the Genealogies that are posterior to its Commencement, are stated.

And thus the first Year of the CHRISTIAN Era is, Anno U. C. DCCCLXIV, ————— 754

The GENEALOGY of the High Priests from AARON to the Captivity.

I. AARON the Son of Amram, the Son of Keath, the Son of Levi, was made High Priest in the second Year after the Exodus, when his Brother Moses erected the Tabernacle near Mount Sinai, A. M. 2514. when aged 84 Years, and † on Mount Hor, in Arabia, eight Months before Joshua made the Tribes, A. M. 2552. aged 123 Years. His Wife Elisheba, the Daughter of Aminadab the Son of Ram, the Son of Hezron, the Son of Pharez, the Son of JUDAH. See Table VI. VII. and XI.

II. ELEAZAR commenced upon Aaron's death, and with Ithamar made the Ingress under Joshua, into Canaan, which was A. M. 2553. Before Christ 1451.

IV. PHINEAS, who, for his Zeal, got the Promise of an everlasting Priesthood, ruled at Shiloh, in time of the Anarchy, which ended in the Year of Ingress 59. A. M. 2612. Table VIII.

- V. Abiathar.
- VI. Bukki.
- VII. Elzi.
- VIII. Zerahiah.
- IX. Meraior.

All these have no Dates, but they officiated at Shiloh as High Priests, during the first five Servitudes of Israel and the Government of seven Judges, viz. Othniel, Ehud, Deboziah, Othniel, Ammizadai, Tolah and Jair, 241 Years, reckoning from the end of the Anarchy, which happened.

In the Year of Ingress 59 }
To which add 241 }
Total 300

The first Year of L.L.I.

X. Amariah must have died in the last Year of Jalt the Judge of Israel, A. M. 2852 }
Before Christ 1152 }
And leaving his Son Abiathar a Minor, he was succeeded by

III. ITHAMAR, his Collegue, commenced with Eleazar upon Aaron's death.

The Genealogy of Ithamar is recorded in holy Writ, till the Days of Eli.

XI. Eli of the House of Ithamar, who, because Abiathar of the House of Eleazar, was a Minor, succeeded Amariah to be High Priest, and was also the Judge of Israel at Shiloh, during 40 Years, commencing A. M. 2853. In the Year of Ingress 300 And † A. M. 2892 }
Before Christ 1112 } 4004

See Table VIII.

XII. Abiathar succeeded to Eli, but seems to be joined with his Name-take and Cousin Abiathar, the Grandson of Eli, in the Office; and afterwards with Abiathar and Amielah. He continued long during the Rule of SAUL, and most of the Reign of DAVID, till DAVID came to the Throne. For not being of the Family of Abimelech, he perished not by Saul, when his Collegue Amielah and 85 more Priests, with their Wives and Children, were cut off, A. M. 2941. See Table X.

XIII. Zadok, Collegue of Abiathar, till the first Year of SOLOMON, A. M. 2939 when Abiathar was deposed and sent home to Aniathab, and Zadok alone High Priest officiated at the Dedication of Solomon's Temple, and lived to a great age, even a great Part of Solomon's Reign. The High Priesthood returned wholly to the House of Phineas, and the House of Eli reduced to be private Priests.

XIV. Abimelech, High Priest in the Reign of Solomon.

Azariah the Priest, one of Solomon's Priests. 1 King iv. 2.

XV. Abiathar I. High Priest in the Reign of Rehoboam King of Judah.

XX. Jonathan the Son of Abiathar and Azariah the Priests of Judah.

These Three are only mentioned by Josephus but omitted by Nepherus.

XXI. Azariah II. Also in the Reign of Ahab. And because it is said (1 Chron vi. 1) that he executed the Priest's Office in the Temple that Solomon built in Jerusalem. Some have took him for Jotham, and others for that Azariah who opposed King Uzziah when attempting to burn Incense. But both are impossible, because of their Chronology. For his Son

XXII. Amariah was High Priest in the Reign of Jehoshaphat. 2 Chron xix. 11. And his Son Abiathar being under age, was succeeded by his Brother, viz.

XXIII. Jotham, the Brother of Amariah, might commence with King Jehoram A. M. 3112. (2 Chron xxi. 35) Officiated also under Ahab, and his Mother Queen Athaliah, and lived and crowned King Joash, A. M. 3121. His Wife Jehocheb, Daughter of King Jehoram, and lived 15 Years. 2 Chron xxiv. 15 † in the Reign of Joash

XXV. Joash being of age, might well succeed his Cousin Amariah in the latter end of Joash's Reign, and officiated during the Reign of Amaziah. 2 Chron xxv. 1. A. M. 3153 }
Before Christ 913 }
Before Christ 913 }

XXIV. Zachariah slain in the Temple between the Porch and the Altar, by King Joash. Joel omitted by Nepherus.

Joash, Tho' some think he was the same with his Son, viz.

XXVI. Jehocheb officiated in the first part of the long Reign of Uzziah, and leaving his Son a Minor, he was succeeded by his Cousin, viz.

XXVII. Azariah III. the Minor, of his Cousin Zadok, officiated and bravely withstood King Uzziah, when the King attempted to burn Incense. 2 Chron xxvi. 17. Nepherus called Sobna by Nepherus, in Shema the Secretary and Treasurer under King Hezekiah.

XXVIII. Azariah being of age, succeeded Amariah in the Reign of King Joash.

XXIX. Azariah in the Reign of King Ahab. 2 Kings xvi. 13. Azariah the Son of Zadok not being of age

XXX. Azariah IV. in the Reign of Hezekiah. 2 Chron xxxi. 13.

Joashab the Wife of King Uzziah

XXXII. Quiriah High Priest under good King Joash. He found the Book of the Law hid in the Temple and published it.

XXXIII. Azariah V. High Priest under King Jehonadab the Son of Joash

XXXIV. Azariah under King Zedekiah. He was slain with his King at Riblah, by Nebuchadnezzar, A. M. 3416. Before Christ 588. When the Temple was burnt.

TABLE LXXII.

The Old PERSIAN Monarchy.

The first mentioned in History since the Days of Chedorlaomer, King of Elam (who was slain by ABRAHAM, A. M. 2092. Before Christ 1912.) is one Perles, a Governor in Elam, (afterwards call'd Persia) under some King whose Name is unknown.

ACHEMENES came to be a petty King of the Elamites, about the Time of Sardanapalus, from whom all his Race were call'd Achaemenidae.

Perles King of Elam, which perhaps from him was called Persia.

Cyrus King of Persia.

Asyages King of Media.

Cambyses King of Persia, married the Median Dame Mandane, in whose Time Elam was not used, but Persia generally the Name used.

Cyaxares King of Media.

I. CYRUS the Great married 1. his Cousin Barbanc. 2. Callandane, Sister of Ozanes, one of the seven PEERS of Persia, the Son of Pharnaspes. 3. Spurius Daughter of Apries, the late King of Egypt. CYRUS was Heir of Persia by his Father, and Heir of Media by his Mother and Wife, and having conquer'd the Empire of Babylon, made his Uncle and Father-in-law CYAXARES or Darius the Mede, King of it, who reigned two Years there, from the Death of Belshazzar: And upon the Death of Cyaxares CYRUS the Great began to reign alone over all the vast Empire, now united, — A. M. 3468 ? When the Persian Monarchy began, Before Christ. 535 } and reigned 7 Years. + A. M. 3474. and buried at Pajargada in Persia.

II. CAMBYSES, who conquer'd Egypt and reigned 7 Years and 5 Months. + A. M. 3482 by his own Sword falling out of its Scabbard and wounding his Thigh, on his March home thro' Syria, in order to punish the Impostor and Usurper, &c. Wives, 1. Atossa, his own Sister. 2. Perse his other Sister. 3. Phaedyma, Daughter of Ozanes, one of the 7 PEERS.

CAMBYSES, when dying, owned he had murder'd his Brother Smerdis, and charged his Nobles to cut off the Impostor, and to chuse one of their Number to be his Successor. Accordingly Ozanes, Spardanes, Megabyses, Gobryas, Aspathines, Intaphernes and Darius the Son of Hystaspes, the 7 PEERS or Princes of Persia, joined to cut off Smerdis and all the Magians, and to chuse one of themselves to be King, while Horses should neigh first, at a certain Place without the City: And the Horse of Darius neighing first (by the Art of his Groom, he was by the rest saluted King of Persia.

Smerdis, a strong and valiant Youth, of whom Cambyses being jealous, ordered Prexaspes to murder him privately, and to conceal it as long as possible.

Parmys, the Wife of DARIUS Hystaspes

Perse, the Wife also of her Brother CAMBYSES, who killed her by a kick in the Belly, when pregnant, only for lamenting the Murder of her Brother Smerdis.

Atossa the Wife of DARIUS, and the Widow first of her Brother CAMBYSES, and next of Smerdis the Impostor. Artistona, the third Daughter of Cyrus, and best beloved Wife of Darius Hystaspes.

III. SMERDIS a Magian of Media, of the same Name with the true Smerdis; and knowing of his Death (which very few knew of) he usurped the Throne, as the Son of CYRUS, while Cambyses was in Egypt, and reigned 7 Months after Cambyses died. Wives, Atossa and Phaedyma, both the Wives of CAMBYSES.

Cambyses.

Cyrus.

Theispes.

Ariaranes.

Hystaspes Governor of Susa, under CYRUS the Great.

IV. DARIUS Hystaspes began A. M. 3483. reigned 36 Years. + A. M. 3518. Before Christ. 480. Wives, 1. Amysis, or Amisa, Daughter of Gobryas, one of the 7 PEERS. 2. Atossa the Widow of Cambyses. 3. Artistona, the fair Virgin Daughter of CYRUS, his best beloved Wife. 4. Parmys, Daughter of the true Smerdis. 5. Phaedyma, Daughter of Ozanes and Widow of Cambyses, who had discovered the cropt Ears of Smerdis the Magian, whereby the 7 PEERS knew he was an Impostor.

Artabanus. Artaphernes, Governor of Sardis and Lesser Asia. Artaphernes a General.

V. XERXES I. as the Grandson of CYRUS, succeeded in the Throne of Persia, before his eldest Brother the Son of Amysis. Reigned 21 Years. Wife the cruel Hamastria. He was murder'd a Bed by Artabanus, his General, who set up the youngest Son of Xerxes, viz.

Three other Sons and also four Daughters married 1. Wife of Danrises. 2. Wife of Hymenaeas. 3. Wife of Ozanes. 4. Wife of Mardonius (the Son of Gobryas, his General, one of the 7 PEERS) his Brother in Law.

I. Artabazanes, or Artemines, or Ariamenes, got the Kingdom of Pontus. See the Table of PONTUS. I. Achaemenes. I. Asistates.

VI. ARTAXERXES Longimanus, or Abasuerus reigned 21 Years, and + A. M. 4030. Before Christ 424. Wives, 1. Waspiti, whom he divorc'd without Issue; and 2. the fair Hadassa, called Esther, the Jewess, whom he married in the 7th Year of his Reign, when he sent Ctrah to restore Jerusalem, A. M. 3546. Before Christ 458. which is the first Year of the 490 Years of Daniel's 70 Weeks. He had also two Concubines, 1. Damaspia, 2. Cosmartidene.

Darius the eldest Son, Governor of Bactria. Both cut off by the Fraud of cunning Artabanus, who was then cut off himself by ARTAXERXES, for attempting to slay him too.

TABLE XCI.

The Kings of the Cimmerian Bosphorus, Pontus, Thrace, Armenia, and Cappadocia, after the Death of MITHRIDATES the Great.

MITHRIDATES VI. Emperor the Great, King of Pontus, &c. conquer'd Bosphorus; and among his other Children had two Sons Kings of Bosphorus, viz.

MACHABEUS made King of Bosphorus by his Father, when he conquer'd it; but during his Father's Wars in Asia. He was reconcil'd to the Romans, and repaid in Peace, till his Father, flying from POMPEY thro' SCYTHIA into Bosphorus, threaten'd to slay him, and he rather chose to fly himself.

Cæsar much offended at the Murder of PHARNACES, created MITHRIDATES PERGAMUS King of Bosphorus, (the Bastard of MITHRIDATES the Great by AIOLOGUS, the Widow of PERGAMUS of Pergamus) for he had saved CÆSAR in Egypt with his Syrian Troops; but this nominal King fell in Battle, attempting to dispossess ALEXANDER.

PHARNACES aged 35 Years, revolted with the Armenians in Bosphorus, and drove his old valiant Father to the Dilemma of either slaying himself or being deliver'd up by this ungrateful Son to POMPEY; but the Great King chose the first by Poison and Wounds, A. M. 3640. Before Christ 64. And the Parricide, having sent the Royal Corps to POMPEY, was by him confirmed King of Bosphorus. But PHARNACES during the Civil Wars of CÆSAR and POMPEY, attempted to recover his Father's Dominions in Asia, and after the Battle of PHARSALIA defeated CALPURNIUS the Lieutenant of Cæsar, and ranged at Pleasure, till CÆSAR, leaving Egypt, march'd into Pontus, view'd PHARNACES's Army, and in four Hours fell upon him, saying, Ergo jam non dabit panem Parricide? Shall not this Parricide now be punish'd? and gave him a total Rout, as CÆSAR wrote to AMINTIUS, VENI, VIDI, VICI, I came, I saw, I overcame! A. M. 3957. Before Christ 47. When PHARNACES fled to Sinope, which he soon surrender'd to CALPURNIUS upon Terms of Peace; but returning to Bosphorus, PHARNACES was cut off by his immediate Successor ALEXANDER.

LEON the Great of Pontus's Brother, and the Parthians A. M. 3569. His Wife, Before Christ 41 N. N.

ALEXANDER the Lieutenant and Son in Law of PHARNACES, took him Prisoner and cut him off; but afterwards was by AUGUSTUS confirmed as Emperor of the Bosphorus, for aiding him in the Battle of Actium. He † without Issue, A. M. 3989. Before Christ 16.

SCRIBONIUS a Roman Officer in those Parts reign'd some little Time, pretending to be the Grandson of the Great MITHRIDATES, and to have a Grant of that Kingdom from AUGUSTUS; but the Fraud being detected, the Bosphorians cut him off, without Issue.

POLEMON I. a wife and valiant Man, who for his Assistance in the Battle of PHILIPPI, was by ANTONY created King of that Pontus which lay next to Cappadocia, and the same Time that DARIUS the Son of PHARNACES got the other Pontus, viz. A. M. 3963. Before Christ 36. ANTONY gave him off a Part of Cilicia, and afterwards the Lesser Armenia, for his good Offices against the Medes and Persians, A. M. 3968. Before Christ 31.

ARCHELATUS, whom POMPEY made Royal High Priest of Cilicia in Pontus, became King of Egypt by marrying BERENICE Daughter of ALEXANDER. He reign'd 6 Months, till a Battle by GABRIUS A. M. 3569. Before Christ 49. Wife, Cleopatra beloved by ANTONY.

POLEMON closely adher'd to ANTONY, but afterwards being reconcil'd to AUGUSTUS, he was sent with an Army, by Agrippa, against SYRIANUS who was cut off before he came, and Agrippa next going in Person with an Army into Bosphorus, subdu'd that Nation, and made POLEMON King of Bosphorus, and the Husband of Queen DYNAMIS, A. M. 3970. Before Christ 14.

POLEMON this King of Pontus, Cilicia, Armenia and Cimmerian Bosphorus, under the Emperor AUGUSTUS, enlarg'd his Dominions by seizing the Cities PHARNACIA, TRAPEZUS and COMBIS, and also all the Country towards the River TIGRIS, but endeavouring to conquer the ALPUS MOUNTAINS in SYRIA, he fell alive into their Hands and perish'd; tho' the Time is not recorded. His second Wife was PYTHODORIS Daughter of PYRIDIUS the Arab, whom he left Queen Sovereign, and three Children by her.

POLEMON II. succeeded his Mother PYTHODORIS, A. D. 38. by the Grant of CALIGULA and the Senate of Rome. But CLAUDIUS, in the Beginning of his Empire, A. D. 43. depose'd him and gave Bosphorus to MITHRIDATES VIII. and in lieu of it, gave to POLEMON TRACIA or THRACE, which ARCHELATUS and ALEXANDER, his Mother's last Husband, had during life.

HEROD IV. King of CHALCIS dying in the 8th Year of CLAUDIUS, his Niece and Widow BERENICE, after living together with her Brother AGRIPPA II. persua'ded POLEMON, call'd King of Cilicia, to be circumcised, and to marry her, which he consented to, for obtaining her Wealth; but she soon abandon'd him for his Intemperance, and he abandon'd the Jewish Religion. Nero soon gave him Pontus, Paphlagonia. But in the 11th Year of Nero it was taken from him, and reduc'd to a Roman Province, A. D. 65. And POLEMON † A. D. 70. without a Kingdom.

ZENO, who, when CICONES the Parthian was remov'd out of Great Armenia, was by the Election of that People made their King, and GERMANICUS put the Crown upon his Head, A. D. 17. when the People saluted him by the Name of King ARTAXIAS, from the Capital Artaxata, which got that Name at first, from ARTAXIAS a General of ANTIOCHUS MAGNUS, who first founded that Kingdom.

ZENO reign'd 15 Years, and † A. D. 32. We read not of his Issue.

PYTHODORIS Junior, the Wife of COTYS IV. call'd Sapeus, King of Thrace.

MITHRIDATES VIII. call'd Bosphorinus, the last of the ACHÆMENIDÆ, being an Infant, was depriv'd of Pontus, and carried with his Mother into THRACE, where she was now the Queen of COTYS V. But when grown up he went to Rome, and from CLAUDIUS obtain'd the Kingdom of Bosphorus, A. D. 43. But being of the same Genius with MITHRIDATES the Great, he invaded his Neighbourhood, and rebell'd against CLAUDIUS, who sent a Fleet and an Army against him, and the War continued several Years, till Aulus DIDIUS, the Roman General, came, and with COTYS, the uterine Brother of Mithridates, join'd DIDIUS against him, for which DIDIUS made COTYS VI. King of Bosphorus, which was confirm'd by CLAUDIUS.

MITHRIDATES VIII. being expell'd, he wander'd to excite People against the Romans, and at the Head of a Band of Wanderers, MITHRIDATES expell'd the King of the DANDARIDES, and mounted his Throne, getting ZORINUS King of the STRUCANS at Mount CAUCASUS to join him. But the Romans, by the Help of the Bosphorians, and of EUNONES King of the ARSANS in SCYTHIA, expell'd MITHRIDATES again, who having no other Shelter, came prostrate to EUNONES, saying, I Mithridates, hunted by the Romans so many Years, present myself before you, and you may treat as you please, the Offspring of the Great ACHÆMENIDÆ, the only Thing that my Enemies have left me! EUNONES receiv'd him generously, and wrote in his behalf to CLAUDIUS, before whom he was brought at Rome, A. D. 49. saying to him, with a loud Voice and stern Aspect, before the People, I am not sent to thee but only return'd; but if you won't believe it, let me go and then hunt for me! CLAUDIUS entertain'd him like a Prince, and so did NERO; but he was at last cut off by GATHA, when he began his Empire, for being concern'd in the Plot of NYMPHIDIUS, A. D. 69.

SADALEUS II. King of Thrace, of the Odrisian Family.

COTYS IV. King of Thrace, call'd Sapeus, was murder'd by his own Brother. His Wife PYTHODORIS Junior, Daughter of POLEMON I. King of Pontus Paphlagonia.

RHÆSCYPTORIS the Fratricide, was by order of COTYS IV. brought to Rome, and being accus'd in the Senate by PYTHODORIS the Widow of COTYS IV. was condemn'd to be depriv'd of all Succession.

COTYS V. being an Infant, the Romans sent TRIBELLIUS RUFINUS, a Prætorian Man, to be his Tutor, A. D. 18. And when of age, he married the Widow of MITHRIDATES VII. King of Old Pontus; And CALIGULA, having given all Thrace to his Cousin RHÆMETALCES, gave to this COTYS the Lesser Armenia and some Towns in Arabia, that lay next to Armenia.

RHÆMETALCES not guilty of his Father's Crime, got from COTYS a Part of Thrace, and afterwards from CALIGULA all Thrace, A. D. 38. But in four Years was depose'd by CLAUDIUS; And no more of him.

COTYS VI. at his Father's Death having no Estate, fled to his uterine Brother MITHRIDATES VIII. in Bosphorus, and obtain'd his Kingdom.

The Kings of Bosphorus of the Thracian Race, after COTYS VI.

The Dukes, Generals or Imperators of the CARTHAGINIANS.

After Bachæus and his Son Cartholon,MAGO, was the next Imperator of the Carthaginians, who greatly enlarg'd the Carthaginian Empire; of whom Justin, Lib. 18, and 19.ASDRUBAL the General or Imperator with his Brother, as Collegue; made War upon the Africans, for not paying their Tribute.AMILCAR, General, Duke or Imperator of the Carthaginians, in whose Time the Ambassadors of DARIUS Hystaspes King of Persia are reported to have come to Carthage, Justin. Lib. 19.ANNIBAL with his Brethren, made War upon the Numidians and Mauritanians: They appointed 100 Judges from among the Senators, who might require of the Generals an Account of their Exploits, and execute Justice at home.ASDRUBAL was Sappho. Co-partner with Annibal in Exploits and Actions.Hanno, of whom mention is made by Herodotus, Lib. 7.Gisco. AMILCO or Himileo, succeeded his Father in the Command in Sicily; and after some successful Engagements, he lost his Army by the Pestilence; and thus so griev'd him, that upon his return home, he kill'd himself.AMILCAR was declar'd General or Imperator of the Carthaginians, he was Cotemporary with XERXES, and in the Time of Gelon, King of Syracuse, coming with a vast Army into Sicily, by the Valour of the said Gelon he perished with his Army. Herod. Lib. 7. Diod. Lib. 11.Gisco, on Account of his Father's Misfortunes, was banish'd, and spent the rest of his Life at Selinuntis.ANNIBAL General of the War against the Selinuntij, in the Cause of the Aggestans; he besieged and severely fined the City Selinuntis; took Himera, rag'd against the Citizens, and return'd home in Triumph. Again being sent into Sicily against the Syracusans, he overcame them in a Naval Engagement, and besieg'd Agri-gentum, where he was taken ill of the Pestilence that rag'd in the Army, and thereof died. Xenoph. Ellen. Lib. I.HIMILCO the Collegue of his Kinsman Annibal, and after his Death, his Successor in the military Government, besieg'd, took and destroy'd Agri-gentum; he took and plunder'd Gela. Having vanquish'd Dionysius of Sicily, he return'd in Triumph to Carthage. He was again twice sent into Sicily, against Dionysius, where he perform'd great Exploits, till his good Fortune left him, he return'd home and kill'd himself. Xenoph. Ellen. 1. Diod. 13. Polyen. 1.AMILCAR perform'd great Exploits in Sicily; but being Guilty of affecting Tyranny, and thereof accused, he was depriv'd both of his Life and his Goods.Gisco fought first in Africa, then in Sicily against Timoleon: Being oppress'd with Calumnies, he became an Exile, but being fully vindicated and restor'd, he was at last forc'd to come into Terms with Timoleon, not as he would, but as he could.HANNO, Mago's Collegue, was an unfortunate General against Timoleon. Diod. Lib. 16. Plutarch of Timoleon.AMILCAR fought against Agathocles, King of Syracuse; while he besieg'd Syracuse, he was taken, tormented and slain, and his Head sent to Agathocles, then in Africa.

Gisco, a Man of mean Fame.

HANNO having Enmity at his Collegue Bomilcar, in the War against Agathocles, fell in Battle.ANNIBAL Senior, was General in the first Punic War; he was, for ill Conduct, crucified in Sardinia by his own People.HANNO fought unfortunately in Sicily and Africa: Being unfortunate in Sardinia, he was crucified by his own Men.ANNIBAL Junior overthrew the Romans at Lilybæum; he destroy'd the Navy of Publius Claudius, which he had overcome.

TABLE CI.

The noble Family of BARCHA among the Carthaginians.

Mago was a General in Sicily against Dionysius King of Syracuse. He was not very successful under Himilco the chief General, at last he was in Sicily slain in the Field of Battel. Diodorus Lib. 14.

MAGO the General was sent into Sicily with 150 Ships, and 60000 Men, and made himself Master of Syracuse, except only the Castle; but being frightened by the Arrival of Timoleon, he departed home, and slew himself, because his Affairs prov'd unfortunate: His Body was hung upon a Cross. Plut. of Timoleon.

Annibal of an obscure Name.

ASDRUBAL General in Sicily, elder than his Brother Amilcar, was vanquish'd by Lucius Metellus, when he lost his Army and Elephants, at last he † of a Wound in Sardinia, and the Government was convey'd to his Brother.

AMILCAR, surnamed Barcas, in the first Punic War laid waste the Coast of Italy. He fought in Sicily, was overcome by Lutatius Catulus in a Sea Fight near the Island Agates, which put an End to that War: He was General of the War against the Africans and the Numidians; He was also General in Spain, and often Conqueror: at last his Command being continued, he † in Battel.

ASDRUBAL succeeded his Father in-law Amilcar in the Government of Spain. He made a League with the Romans there. He was slain by his Servant Gallus, because his Master had punish'd him unjustly.

N. N. a Daughter married to Asdrubal.

ANNIBAL, or Hannibal the Great, the most famous Imperator or General, and the most deadly Enemy of the Romans, was Generalissimo of the 2<sup>d</sup> Punic War, and gave the Romans many Overthrows in Italy: at last being broken by the Valour of Publius Scipio Africanus, and flying from Carthage, he came to ANTIOCHUS Magnus. In fine he poison'd himself in Bithynia, being betray'd by King Prusias.

Hanno General of the Cavalry, being circumvented by Masinissa, perish'd.

ASDRUBAL was General of the War in Spain; and from thence coming into Italy to join his Brother, he † fighting at the River Metaurus.

Mago after the Victory of Cannæ, was sent to Carthage to relate their Exploits, then was General of the War in Spain: at last fighting in Insubria, he receiv'd a Wound, of which he † in Liguria.

N. N. She was married to Barba King of Numidia.

TABLE CII.

Some Generals of the Carthaginians:

Gisco a Man of a turbulent and seditious Temper, stirr'd up the People to maltreat the Roman Ambassadors. At last being cast into Prison, had his Hands and Feet cut off, and all the Members of his Body torn in Pieces, and while yet breathing was cast into a Pit. Polyb. Lib. 1. Liv. Lib. 48.

ASDRUBAL General of the Carthaginians in Spain, pursuing the Remains of the Army of the Scipio's, he receiv'd a great Overthrow from Marcius: again being vanquish'd and broken at Gades, by Publius Scipio, he fled to Syphax; and was again, after he had recover'd Strength, conquer'd and put to flight. Being falsely accus'd by Hanno, he was forced to go into Exile, and returning to Carthage, he was accus'd of betraying his Trust; when he was search'd for to be punished, he poison'd himself in his Father's Sepulchre, whither he had hid himself, from whence his Body was drawn out, and maltreated. Livius Lib. 28. and 30. Appian of the Carthaginians. He was the Father-in-law of Masinissa King of the Numidians, as also of Syphax who was Masinissa's Rival. He also married a Daughter of Masinissa his second Wife.

ASDRUBAL was falsely accus'd of Treachery by the other Asdrubal, (who affected his Authority in the City) as if he had pernicious Designs with Gulussa his Wife's Brother: he was slain in the Court with Pieces of the Benches, during the 3<sup>d</sup> Punic War. He was born of the Daughter of Masinissa. Appian.

SOPHONISBA was by her Father espous'd to Masinissa, but with her said Father's Consent, she married Syphax King of the Masifians, with whom being taken at Cirta by Masinissa her first Bridegroom, she again allured him to love her by her Wit and Beauty; but Scipio being displeas'd at it, Masinissa sent her a Cup of Poison rather than offend Scipio.

Hanno being overcome in a Horse Engagement, and taken Captive, he was exchange'd for the Mother of Masinissa, a Prisoner, and dismiss'd. Yet Livius thinks he was cut off in the Field of Battel. Lib. 29.

ASDRUBAL the Rival and Overthrower of the other Asdrubal, (the Brother of Sophonisba) took Care of the War abroad: being call'd back from Exile, he was Generalissimo of the 3<sup>d</sup> Punic War: He was cruel to the Roman Captives, and for his Cruelty hated by the Senate and People: he affected Tyranny more for Fear than Love. At last when Carthage was taken, he too meanly surrender'd himself to Scipio; while his Wife, a Woman of a Masculine Soul, did, in Scipio's Presence, throw herself alive into the Flames of the burning Town, having first slain her Sons in the Sight of their Father and Scipio.

Besides these, there were a great many other illustrious Carthaginian Generals, whose Exploits are recorded by Historians, but whose Generalities cannot be connected. Of whom are AMILCAR the Son of Gisco, and ROMILCAR the Grandchild of the said Gisco, these fought against Agathocles King of Syracuse. And HANNO conquer'd by the same Agathocles in Africa: likewise AMILCAR Son of the said Bomilcar, was General under Asdrubal warring in Spain, the Son-in-law of Amilcar Barchinus. And HANNO in the first Punic War was overcome in a Naval Engagement by Gaius Duilius the Roman Consul, and the following Year slain fighting near Corsica, and his Son ASDRUBAL, because of the bad Success of his Affairs in Sicily, was call'd home and crucified. Likewise another AMILCAR, who in the first Punic War fought against the Romans in Sicily and Africa with various Success, and fought against the Africans, he had two Sons Annibal and Hanno. Then ASDRUBAL Hædrus, an Enemy to the Family of Barcha, who flourish'd in the 2<sup>d</sup> Punic War, and at that Time he endeavour'd after Peace more than Hanno. Also in the 3<sup>d</sup> Punic War, HIMILCO surnamed Phæneus, who revolted to the Romans, and Hanno Galla, who was, to no Purpose, sent as an Ambassador to the Romans to treat of Peace.

The Kings of Numidia.

I. NARVA King of the Numidians, was a Man of a cheerful and martial Nature, faithful to the Carthaginians, and the Companion of Amilcar Baribinus in the African War. He was the Son-in-law of the said Amilcar, and the Brother-in-law of Annibal the Great. Some think he had the following Sons.

II. GALA King of a Part of Numidia, he was famous in the Time of the 2<sup>d</sup> Punic War, of whom Livius, about the End of Lib. 27. and more largely Lib. 29.

III. DESALCES being come to Years, succeeded his Brother: He † not long after.

His Wife was born of Annibal's Sister, and after him was married to Mezetullus.

N. N. a Numidian, He † very hastily.

N. N. a Daughter married a Numidian Prince.

VI. MASINISSA was the chief Ornament, and most bright Luminary of the whole Family, fighting first with the Carthaginians against the Romans, then with the Romans against the Carthaginians, after which Time he perilled most constantly in Friendship and Society with the Romans, even unto Death. He † very old, in the Beginning of the 3<sup>d</sup> Punic War. His Wives, 1. Sophonisba. 2. N. N. 3. A Concubine.

IV. CAPUSA his Father's Successor in the Kingdom, he was slain along with many Nobles by Mezetullus Prince of Masfyllia.

V. LACUMACES a Child, enjoy'd only the Title, being plac'd by Mezetullus instead of his Brother Capusa; while Mezetullus himself govern'd all, who a little after was expell'd along with his Pupil.

MASSIVA, in Spain taken captive in the Field of Battel, was brought to Scipio, who honourably sent him back to his Uncle MASINISSA, at that Time fighting for the Carthaginians.

N. N. a Daughter; married Asdrubal the Son of Gisco.

VII. MICIPSA succeeded his Father in the Kingdom of Numidia, was a Prince excelling for Learning and Virtue, a constant Friend to the Romans. He greatly encreas'd his Palace Cirtba, and survived his Brethren. Wife N. N.

VIII. GULUSSA was his Father's Legate along with Micipsa to the Carthaginians; being afterwards also sent to Rome, he was saluted King by Publius Scipio. He † before his Brother Micipsa. Wife N. N.

Spanastabales was elder than his Brother Gulussa, was born of the same lawful Marriage with Micipsa and Gulussa. Wife N. N. he had also a Concubine.

Phisagenes was born of a Concubine, and by his Father sent to aid the Romans in their War against Perseus King of Macedonia.

Phallagada also of the Concubine, was his Father's Ambassador to the Senate and People of Rome. Wife N. N.

Stemba was born to his Father in the 86 Year of his Age, and was adopted by Micipsa.

HIEMPSAL was more fierce than his Brother, an Enemy to Jugurtha, by whose Snares he was slain.

IX. ATHERBAL or Adherbal, with his Brother Hiempsal, and his adopted Brother Jugurtha, receiv'd the Kingdom from their dying Father; he was overthrown and murder'd by Jugurtha, after his Brother.

Passiva adhering to his legitimate Cousins, and demanding the Kingdom from the Romans, in Opposition to Jugurtha, was slain by his Tricks at Rome.

X. JUGURTHA born of the Concubine, for his bright Genius was adopted by his Uncle Micipsa: having overthrown his Co-heirs, He alone wickedly possess'd the Kingdom; but being weaken'd and reduced by the Romans, he was led in Triumph, and † in Prison at Rome. His Wife N. N. Daughter of Bocchus King of Mauritania.

Gauda was by Micipsa enroll'd among his next Heirs: having offended his Brother, he fought against him under Mezetullus.

Dabar was sent to Lucius Sylla, by Bocchus the Mauritanian King.

Bocchus King of Mauritania.

XIII. HIEMPSAL II. of the Posterity of Phalinnissa, and as some think his great Grandson by Hiempsal, was King of Numidia. He was by Diarrhas, the Son of Gauda, a petty King, expell'd his Kingdom, but restor'd again by Pompey: of him Cicero speaks in his first and 2<sup>d</sup> Orations against Rullus. Wife N. N.

Cirtba (so call'd by Appianus, but Phalinnissa by Sueton) was by Pharbus along with his Father led in Triumph; he was brought out of the Venusian Prison in the Civil War.

N. N. another Son was also by Pharbus led in Triumph.

A Daughter married to Bocchus King of Mauritania, who betray'd Jugurtha to Sylla.

XII. Diarrhas, by others Hierra the Son of Gauda, as some think, tho' others make him the Son of Bocchus: joining Pharbus, he was by Pompey depriv'd of his Fortune, and slain by Bogudes the Mauritanian.

XI. HIEMPSAL I. for his Father's betraying Jugurtha, was made King of Numidia. He relieved Pharbus in his Exile.

XIV. JUNA I. King of Numidia, and Part of Mauritania, the Son of Hiempsal, as witnesseth Dion: He join'd Pompey in the Roman Civil War, and being overcome by Cæsar, and flying back to his Kingdom, he, together with Marcus Petreius, flew himself at his own House by the Hand of his Slave. Wife N. N.

Thus by the Fall of CARTHAGE, and the Death of JUNA I. all the African Nations near the Mediterranean became subject to Rome: but their Memory was utterly defaced by the Inundations of the Arabs, that afterwards conquer'd them; so that we have no Vestiges of them now.

CLEOPATRA Selene junior, the Daughter of Mark ANTONY the Triumvir by CLEOPATRA, was carried Captive by Augustus, led in Triumph, and then married to JUNA II. She is call'd Selene by Sueton.

XV. JUNA II. while a Child, was taken by Julius Cæsar and led in Triumph: he was endued with excellent Learning, and numbred with the best Writers, of whom Strabo, Pliny, Plutarch, Dion, and others: He was beloved by Augustus; by whom, instead of his Father's Kingdom, he was invest'd with Getulia, and Part of Mauritania and Lybia.

Glaphyra the Daughter of ARCHELAUS King of Cappadocia, she † without Issue.

XVI. PROTFMY while a Youth succeeding his Father in the Kingdom, by his Vices gave Occasion to the Youth of Tarfarnia of encroaching their Power under Tiberius the Emperor, by which Tiberius he was call'd King: but being summon'd by Caius Caligula the Emperor, was for the Riches he possess'd put to Death.

Drusilla was married to

Felix the Brother of Pallas, President of Judea, Act. xxiv.

Drusilla Daughter of HEROD Agrippa, is in Table LXV. said to be also the Wife of Felix.

We read no more of them till the Invasion of the Arabs.

TABLE CIV.

The Kings of Mauritania.

Bocchar King of Mauritania, assisted Massinissa to recover his paternal Kingdom.

Bogus, Contemporary with Ptolemy Physcon, and Ptolemy Lathyrus, Kings of Egypt.

Bocchus King of Mauritania, Jugurtha's Son-in-law, and Father-in-law too flourish'd in the Time of the Jugurthine War; he deliver'd up his Father-in-law, to Jugurtha, Sylla and the Romans.

The Daughter of JUGURTHA, King of Numidia, was married to Bocchus.

Volux war'd with his Father against Marius; and brought Sylla to his Father.

Bogud join'd Sylla against Marius, afterwards was call'd King by Cæsar; he continued constant on his Side, and fought for him in divers Places. He forc'd Juba, fighting for Pompey, to return to his Kingdom; then he was depriv'd of his Kingdom by one Bocchus, and finally taken and slain by Agrippa.

Cunoe, a Mauritanian, the Wife of Bogud; she was belov'd by Julius Cæsar, who then granted many Things to her and her Husband.

TABLE CV.

The ARSACIDÆ Kings of Parthia. See Vaillant's Arsacidarum Imperium.

I. ARSACES Senior, the Founder, a noble Parthian, descended (as some think) from Artaxerxes Mnemon King of Persia: Being uneasy under the Tyranny of the Syro Macedonian Governor Agathocles, (who also attempted to commit Sodomy with his Brother Tiridates,) revolted from ANTIOCHUS Theos, King of Syria, who neglected his Eastern Provinces, slew Agathocles, and founded the new Kingdom of Parthia, a little Country next to Hyrcania in Greater Asia, which in Time was extended to the greatest Part of the ancient Persian Monarchy, and set Bounds to the Roman Empire. ARSACES began A. M. 3748. Before Christ 256. An. U. C. Fabiano 493. or Varreniano 498. (which last I shall use in this Table) An. Eræ Seleuci 57. and ruled 3 Years in perpetual War till slain in Battle, † without Issue. From him all his Successors were call'd ARSACES.

II. Arsaces Magnus, call'd TIRIDATES, his Brother, succeeded the Founder, and reign'd 37 Years, as famous among the Parthians as CYRUS among the Persians. His Wife N. N.

III. Arsaces ARTABANUS I. reign'd 20 Years. His Wife N. N.

IV. Arsaces PHRIAPATIUS, or Pampatius, reign'd 15 Years. His Wife N. N.

V. ARSACES PHRAHATES I. reign'd 8 Years, and left the Crown to his Brother Mithridates by Will, tho' his own Son was then 21 Years old. Wife N. N.

VI. Arsaces MITHRIDATES I. call'd Theos reign'd 37 Years. He conquer'd all the Kingdoms from Mesopotamia to India, and from Scythia to the Indian Sea, a vast Empire. He took DEMETRIUS Sicator King of Syria Prisoner in Battle, who married his Daughter Rodaguna. † in a glorious old Age. Wife N. N.

VIII. Arsaces ARTABANUS II. intron'd by the People, reign'd 3 Years: in warring against the Scythians, he was wounded in his Hand, of which he †. His Wife N. N.

X. Arsaces MNASKIRES was rival'd by his Cousin Sinatrockes, and reign'd 11 Years. † without Issue.

XI. SINATROCKES, or Sinatruces, or Sintruces, was banish'd at first, but upon the Death of Mnaskires, the Parthians call'd home

SINATROCKES from Scythia, who reign'd 7 Years.

TIGRANES the Great, the King of Armenia, during the Contentions in Parthia, seiz'd a great Part of that Empire, and became a most potent Prince, till defeated by Lucullus, and restor'd by Pompey.

SINATROCKES being old, put his Son at the Head of the Army against Tigranes, viz.

VII. Arsaces PHRAHATES II. reign'd 9 Years; detain'd Nicator till his Brother ANTIOCHUS Sidetes came with an Army against the Parthians, when Nicator was sent home to make a Diversion in Syria: PHRAHATES defeated Sidetes, and slew him. † in Battle by the Scythians. His Wife N. N. Daughter of Sidetes, found among the Captives.

Several Children, laid aside, because of the Age and Wisdom of Artabanus II.

IX. Arsaces MITHRIDATES II. call'd the Great, reign'd 37 Years; assisted Tigranes, King of Armenia, and protected Antiochus Eusebes the banish'd King of Damascus: Sent Sinax his General into Syria, who joining Philip King of Syria, defeated Demetrius Eucharus King of Damascus, whom his Brother Philip sent as a Present to MITHRIDATES, who used him well till he died in Parthia.

King MITHRIDATES sent Orobarus, his Ambassador, to Sylla, then in Asia, which was the first Correspondence between the Parthians and Romans. MITHRIDATES dying without Issue, Parthia was involved in Civil-Wars by his two contending Successors.

XII. Arsaces PHRAHATES III. call'd also Theos, reign'd 9 Years. He was courted by Mithridates Eupator King of Pontus, to assist him and Tigranes, and by Lucullus to assist the Romans; but he did neither. Pompey made a League with him. His 5th Year is the last of the Era of Seleucus, viz. Anno Eræ Seleuc. 147. A. M. 3938. Before Christ 66. U. C. 148. when the Parthian Monarchy had lasted 191 Years from its Founding; when the Seleucidæ were finally deposed by POMPEY, and Syria became a Roman Province.

PHRAHATES III. was poison'd by his two Sons and Successors. Wife N. N.

XIII. Arsaces MITHRIDATES III. reign'd 6 Years: Began in the Year that old Tigranes of Armenia died, forced his Brother Orodes to run his Country in his 2d Year; but in his 3d Year ORODES was recall'd by the People and crown'd by Suraenas, and permitted his Brother to reign in Media: But there Mithridates, plotting against ORODES, was by him expell'd, when he fled to Galinus; by whom being receiv'd, he join'd the Arabs and got Possession of Seleucia on the Tigris, where ORODES long besieg'd him, and when taken, caused him to be flung before his Eyes. † without Issue.

XIV. Arsaces ORODES, or Hyrodes, reign'd (after he cut off his Brother Mithridates) 18 Years: in the 2d Year he discomfited Crassus and the Romans, at Carrha; the first that sent Armies into Syria, and much distress'd the Romans there; Wherefore the Senate of Rome proclaim'd War against him, which Julius Cæsar the Dictator was to have manag'd; but he was murder'd on the Ides of March, when preparing to go. His Armies were defeated by Crentinius, the only Roman that triumph'd over the Parthians, and slew in battle the brave Pacorus the Son of ORODES, whose Death turn'd Orodes's Brains, which threw him into a Dropsy. He foolishly made his eldest Son PHRAHATES his Partner in the Throne, who first poison'd his Father; and that only curing him of the Dropsy, the vile Parricide flisted the brave old Man a Bed, and murder'd also all his Brothers. His Wives, 1. a Parthian Dame, 2. N. N. Daughter of ANTIOCHUS Eusebes, King of Damascus.

N. N. she was married to Tigranes Junior, Son of Tigranes the Great.

N. N. she was married to Sauriasar, Son of Tigranes the Great, King of Armenia.

PACORUS the wife and brave General of his Father's Parthians, slain in Battle by Ventidius the Roman, in Syria, A. M. 3965. Bef. Christ 39.

XV. Arsaces PHRAHATES IV. reign'd 40 Years: After he slew his Father, he cut off his 30 Brothers, with most of the eminent Nobility, and even his own Son, that none might be left to rival him. Upon which the illustrious Vonones fled from Parthia to ANTONY in Syria, and persuaded him to the Parthian War. Being a vile and cruel Prince, Tiridates set up against him, and by him was drove into Syria: but PHRAHATES growing more insolent, was expelled by the Parthians, who recall'd Tiridates to the Throne. PHRAHATES, by the Help of the Syrians, recover'd his Kingdom, and drove Tiridates to Augustus in Spain, with a Child of Phrabates, which Child Augustus sent back with his Nurse Thermusa, an Italian Maid, whom PHRAHATES afterwards married. He made Peace with Augustus, and sent to Rome the Colours, Ensigns, and Standards that were formerly taken by the Parthians from Crassus and ANTONY.

PHRAHATES, persuaded by cunning Thermusa, sent his four Sons (born by his former Wives) with their Wives, and each a Son, to Rome, as Hostages of the League, whom Augustus made a Show of at Rome. When the Armenians revolted, PHRAHATES assisted them, which made Augustus send Caius Caesar to make War upon him, who conversed together on the Banks of the Euphrates, and renewed the Peace. Caius † in his Return to Rome, and PHRAHATES was murder'd by his Son Phrabates, and by his Mother Thermusa, A. D. 4.

His Wives, 1. N. N. a noble Parthian. 2. Thermusa an Italian.

1. Seraspodes. 1. Rhodaspes. 1. Phraates. These Three, with Vonones, had been sent as Hostages to Rome, were married and had Children, but none of them succeeded to the Throne: perhaps because of their Roman Education, which in Vonones had much disgusted the Parthians.

1. XVIII. Arsaces VONONES I. call'd home from Rome by Ambassadors, and honourably sent home by Augustus, An. Dom. 6. and reign'd 9 Years, but wholly disagreeable to that Nation; rec'd he had been educated in the Court of Augustus.

2. XVI. Arsaces PHRAHATES was incestuous with his Mother Thermusa, and were both cut off by a Tumult, when the Nobles exiled Orodes.

2. XVII. Arsaces ORODES II of the Aspadian Family, but not known how, being cruel, some compassed and cut him off.

Therefore the Parthians sent for ARTABANUS King of Sepphia near the Caspian, (call'd by Josephus Media) who was descended from the Aspadian by his Mother; and he coming with an Army was first defeated by Vonones; but recruiting his Army, ARTABANUS overthrew Vonones, who fled into Armenia, where he reign'd a while after a Sort, till ARTABANUS expell'd him.

MITHRIDATES the Son of Vonones, afterwards sent from the Emperor CLAUDIUS to seize that Kingdom, was overcome by Cotatzes, who cut off his Ears, and let him go, in Scorn to the Romans.

The New Rice
N. N. married a Royal Dame of the Arsacidae.

XIX Arsaces ARTABANUS III reign'd 29 Years, sometimes an Exile, opposed by the Romans and his own Nobles, but at last restored by the Mediation of Isates, the petty King of Adiabene his Neighbour, and † in Peace. Wife N. N.

XXIII. Arsaces VONONES II King of the Medes, Atropatens, or Atropatians, the Atropatus a Governor of Atropatens, Atropatens not conquer'd by the Sons of ALEXANDER. They had Kings of the Atropatens, till Bardanes conquer'd them, and gave his Uncle Vonones the Kingdom. And now upon the Death of Gotarzes the Parthians call'd him to be their King, and he reign'd almost a Year. His Wives, 1. a Parthian 2. a noble Parthian.

ORODES whom his Father made King of Armenia in the Room of Vonones, till expell'd by CAESAR Germanicus, who crown'd Zeno call'd Artaxias the Son of Polemon I. King of Pontus.

ARSACES whom his Father made King of Armenia, upon the Death of Zeno; but the Armenians expell'd him.

Darius was by his Father sent an Hostage to the Emperor Caligula.

XX Arsaces GOTARZES reign'd almost 2 Years, but in a few Months after his Father's Death, was invaded by his Brother Bardanes, who then began to reign also.

XXI. BARDANES of Parthians, by his Brother Gotarzes's Consent became King, and reign'd 4 Years, and upon his Death.

XXII. GOTARZES reign'd again about 4 Years, till he † by a Dilemper.

GOTARZES and BARDANES had Sons, but being Minors, were exclude'd by the Parthians, who follow'd of no Minor Kings, who superstitiously adhering to the Race of Arsaces, and to the People chose VONONES II.

Artabanus cut off with all his Family by his Brother Gotarzes.

And now upon the Death of Gotarzes the Parthians call'd him to be their King, and he reign'd almost a Year. His Wives, 1. a Parthian 2. a noble Parthian.

The Offspring of Orodes, Arsaces, and Darius, are not recorded.

2. PACORUS was by his Father made King of Leffer Media.

2. TIRIDATES was by his Brother Vologeses made King of Armenia, till expell'd by the Romans, when they set upon that Throne.

CRANES the Son of Alexander, the Son of Herod the Great. But in a few Years TIRIDATES came to Rome, and was restored by NERO, upon paying publick and solemn Homage.

EXIDARES succeeded his Father, but was expell'd by Chasares King of Parthia, who made his Brother's Son Pharmanatis King of Armenia.

XXV. Arsaces PACORUS reign'd 17 Years. He imitated the Emperor Domitian with restoring the Fal's Hero of the Parthians; got a great Sum of Money for following the Title of King; and ANGUSTUS the Patriarch of Eliza. But because in the latter Part of his Reign he had involved the Parthians in Civil Wars, his Son did not succeed, but his Brother Chasares.

The Aracina King of Armenia.

PHARMANATIS the Son of Pacorus, made King of Armenia, by his Uncle Chasares. Wife N. N.

Arsaces ACHAEMENES King of Armenia, got Leave to reign from the Emperor Antoninus Pius.

Arsaces SOMAX expell'd from Armenia by Vologeses II King of Parthia, but was restored by the Romans, and † L. Vilius and his Lieutenants.

Arsaces SANATRUDES the valiant King of Armenia, defend'd himself bravely against Vologeses III King of Parthia.

Arsaces VONONES IV was confirm'd King of a great Part of Armenia, by the Emperor Septimius Severus, who kept the other Part in the Hands of the Romans; but he was most basely deceiv'd by the Emperor Caracalla, and captured. He † in Prison with most of his Children.

Arsaces TIRIDATES was exiled to his Father's Throne by the Emperor Macrinus. But when he die'd, Artabanus made his Brother, viz.

1. Artabanus King of Armenia, the Father of a new Race of Kings.

At length an End was put to the Arsacidae by a Combination of the Persians, under one ARTAXERXES, or Artarages, a Persian of a very enterprising Genius, call'd the Son of Pamens, who defeated Artabanus in two Battles, and slew him in the Third, when his Children fled to his Uncle Arsaces King of Armenia, A. D. 226. An. U. C. Marrontano 979. After the Parthian Kingdom was founded 482 Years. In the

XXVI. Arsaces CHOEROSES reign'd 26 Years, and being a Nephew Pharmanatis early, made him King of Armenia, for which the Emperor Emperors claim'd War against the Parthians; but Chasares made PARTHAMASPATES King. But after Trajan died, CHOEROSES was expelled by the Parthians, expell'd Parthians obtain'd Peace from the Emperor Marcus.

XXVII. PARTHAMASPATES King of Parthia expell'd.

XXVIII. Arsaces VOLOGESIS II the Son of Chasares reign'd 34 Years, sent Ambassadors to the Emperor Marcus to complain of Pharmanatis King of Armenia, for sending the Parthians into Media. And upon Hadrian's Death he again sent Ambassadors to Rome to congratulate Antoninus Pius upon his Accession to the Imperial Throne, with whom he liv'd in Peace; but upon his Death he expell'd Laetianus King of Armenia, who was restore'd by the Romans, who sent Vologeses in Syria, and took from him Selaucia and Chasares. Upon which the Parthians revolted, expell'd Vologeses, and chose Vologeses King, viz. Mannus, of whom They were soon weary, and chose Vologeses, who spent the Remainder of his Reign in profound Peace, and in his late Losses, and consulting the Good of his Subjects. He † N. N.

XXX. Arsaces VOLOGESIS III reign'd 25 Years, began to reign in the latter Part of the Reign of the Emperor Commodus. He had War with Septimius Severus, who only was able to take the City Ctesiphon from the Parthians. His Wife N. N.

Tiridates was made King of Armenia, but was

XXXI. Arsaces ARTABANUS IV reign'd 13 Years, was basely deceiv'd by Caracalla the Emperor, who, upon Pretence of courting his Daughter, invaded Parthia, and slew many innocent People. But ARTABANUS rais'd an Army, and after Caracalla was murder'd at Carthage, attackt the Romans under SPARTINUS, and forced him to good Terms of Peace.

Arsaces and his Brother's Reigns, but Artabanus was defeated the Parthians, and Arsaces King of Armenia.

TABLE CVI.

The Kings of the Parthians and Persians after the Overthrow of the Arsacidae.

- I. Artaxes ARTAXERXES, or Artabazus, born of a scandalous Concubination, and of mean Parents, having by a Conspiracy rais'd an Army, and slain ARTABANUS the last King of the Parthians, he restor'd the Government of the East to the Persians, in the Time of SEVERUS ALEXANDER the Roman Emperor, and he reign'd 14 Years and 10 Months. Yet to please the Parthians he would also be call'd Arsaces.
- II SAPORUS I took up Arms against Cordianus III, the Roman Emperor, granted Peace to Philip the Arabian General, took the Emper Valerianus Prisoner in Battel, and, after various Reproaches, and making him his Footstool when he mounted his Horse, he slew him alive! a cruel Prince. He enlarg'd his Kingdom, often overthrew the Romans, at last was suppress'd by Odenatus Palmyrenus: He reign'd almost 31 Years
- III. ORMISDES, or Hermisdas I. the Son of Sapor, reign'd one Year and ten Days.
- IV. VARANNES I, uncertain whether the Brother or Kinsman of Hormisdas, but He reign'd after him 5 Years.
- V. VARANNES II, the Son of the first reign'd 17 Years.
- VI VARANNES III Son of the 2<sup>d</sup>, surnamed Heganefta, immediately upon his receiving the Kingdom was overthrow'n, having reign'd only 5 Months
- VII. NARSES after Varannes III, reign'd 9 Years and 7 Months, he was the Grandchild of Sapor I. He waged War against the Roman, conquer'd Casparius the Son-in-law of Dioclesian, who afterwards gave him a great Overthrow: his Wife, Sisters and Children were taken and brought to Rome, by the young Dioclesian.
- VIII. ORMISDES, or Hormisdas II, or Misdates, the Son of Narjes, reign'd also 9 Years and 7 Months
- IX. SAPORUS II, was by the Nobility of the Kingdom crown'd in his Mother's Womb, he liv'd and reign'd 40 Years, as writes Agathias from the Annals of the Persian: altho' Zonares speaks otherwise of him and the Beginning of his Reign, affirming him to be the Son of Arsaces, and, having overthrow'n his Brethren, to have seiz'd the Kingdom. He began under Constantine the Great, had War with Constantius the Son of Constantin, and with Julian the Apollonius (who 4 of his Wound) under the Conduct of his General Merences. He sold Peace to Jobian, having receiv'd of him the Towns Nisibis and Singar, and the 5 Roman Provinces betwixt the Tigris, with a great Part of Mesopotamia, and liv'd even to the Beginning of the Emper Theodosius.
- X. ARTAXERXES II the Gerrian Brother of Sapor, reign'd after him 4 Years, as says Agathias. Therefore, when he was old he came to the Kingdom, being more than 70 Years of Age.
- XI. SAPOR III, the Son of Artaxerxes II, reign'd 5 Years. He flourish'd under Theodosius the Emper.
- XII. VARANNES IV, the Son of Sapor III, call'd Hermanasas from the Nation his Father had subdu'd, he reign'd 11 Years.
- XIII. PROCOPIUS I, the Son of VARANNES, reign'd 21 Years, and was by the Emperer Arcadius on his Death-bed declar'd to be the Guardian of his Son Theodosius the younger, as yet a Child, and was most faithful to his Pupil, as says Procopius.
- XIV. VARANNES V, the Son of Indigerres, rais'd War against the Roman, but being presently pacified, he desist'd. He reign'd 20 Years.
- XV. INDIGERRES II, succeeding his Father Varannes reign'd 17 Years and 4 Months. Agathias is silent of him, but Procopius is not.
- XVI. PEROZES succeeding his Brother, a warlike Prince, reign'd 20 Years, was an Enemy of the white Huns, by whom he was at last slain, with 28 Sons.
- XVII. VALENS call'd by Procopius BLASPH, by others OBALIS, a Man of a calm Temper and of no Renown, he is said to have reign'd 4 Years after his Brother Perozes.
- XVIII. CABADES the Son of Perozes, of a turbulent violent Nature, he endeavour'd to change the Persian Laws. After 11 Years Reign he was by the Persians cast into Prison. When he had pleas'd therein, and was for some Time banish'd among the White Huns, by the Assistance of their King his Father-in-law, he again recover'd his Kingdom, and kept it 30 Years. He had War against the Romans, in the Time of Anastasius, Julian and Justinian the Emperors. Wives, 1. Abvede his own Sister. 2. A Lady of the White Huns.
- Abvede XIX. ZAMPAS, or Zarnasp, a courteous Prince, he was King of the Persians for 4 Years, during the Imprisonment and Exile of his Brother: but He yielded the Kingdom to his Brother at his Return.
- CABADES the first born, but hated by his Father, who therefore excluded him from the Succession: after his Father's Death the Nobility inclin'd to rival CHOSROES.
- Zanres, or Sages the second Son, call'd also Zama by Procopius, a very valiant Man, yet having but one Eye, and he was therefore excluded from the Honour of the Kingdom by Virtue of a Persian Law: he was slain with his Children by his Brother Chosroes for a Conspiracy.
- Cabades was secretly prefer'd by his Father: but being discover'd, He fled to Justin II the Roman Emperer.
- XX. CHOSROES I the youngest of his Brother, but beloved of his Father Cabades, born of his Aunt dierece, was turn'd the Great Enemy of Justinian, Justin II, and Tiberius II, the Emper. He reign'd 48 Years, began in the 5th Year of Justinian, and 1 in the Beginning of Tiberius II.
- XXI. HERMIDAS III succeed'd his Father Chosroes, when he had reign'd 8 Years, waring against the Romans, he was, by the Treachery of Baras his General, betray'd by his Subjects, and being depriv'd of the Kingdom, he was call'd into Prison, and his Eyes put out, and by order of his Son Chosroes was judg'd to Death.
- XXII. CHOSROES II was by the Nobles put in his Father's Place, but offending his People, and being afraid, he fled to the Romans, and by the Assistance of Mauritius the Emperer recover'd his Kingdom. He had War with Phocas to revenge the Death of Mauritius, and took from him all Armenia, Syria, Cappadocia, Galatia, and Paphlagonia: he receiv'd great Overthrows by Heraclius, and was imprison'd, murther'd, and slain by his Son Strores, after he had reign'd 35 Years. Wives, 1. N. N. 2. Sypra.
- XXIII. CHOSROES II was by the Nobles put in his Father's Place, but offending his People, and being afraid, he fled to the Romans, and by the Assistance of Mauritius the Emperer recover'd his Kingdom. He had War with Phocas to revenge the Death of Mauritius, and took from him all Armenia, Syria, Cappadocia, Galatia, and Paphlagonia: he receiv'd great Overthrows by Heraclius, and was imprison'd, murther'd, and slain by his Son Strores, after he had reign'd 35 Years. Wives, 1. N. N. 2. Sypra.
- XXIV. CHOSROES III succeed'd his Father, whom he had slain, He reign'd but one Year, and made Peace with Heraclius, restoring the Roman Provinces taken in the late Wars, with good Towns, and a Piece of Wood a Part of Chor'sa Citadel. The Tigris was again the Boundary of the two Kingdoms. Hence the Kingdom was unsettled, until HORMISDAS Indegirdes the last King, who was of the Family and Kingdom was overthrow'n by the Sassanians.
- XXV. ADURMAN, or ADURMAN, reign'd only 7 Months, being slain by his General Barbaren.
- XXVI. ADURMAN the last King, reign'd only 7 Months, being slain by his General Barbaren.
- XXVII. BARBAREN, who escap'd the common Slaughter of Sassanians, and after the Death of Adurman, got the Affections of the Grandees, who put Sarkares to Death, and made him King in Conjunction with Indegirdes, but 1 in 7 Months.
- XXVIII. HORMISDAS Indegirdes reign'd alone about 1 Year and 3 Months, till conquer'd and slain by Ottoman, or Ozman, Caliph of the Sassanians, who resid'd at Babyl's.
- XXIX. CHOSROES III the last King, reign'd only 7 Months, being slain by his General Barbaren.
- XXX. CHOSROES III the last King, reign'd only 7 Months, being slain by his General Barbaren.

Thus the Race of ARTAXERXES ended, A. D. 632 after It had lasted 406 Years

TABLE CVII.

The Antient Kings of Syria or Damascus.

N. B. This Table should have been placed before TABLE XVIII. or the Genealogy of the Kings of ISRAEL; but was omitted by Mistake.

DAMASCUS is the oldest City in the known World, that still retains its ancient Name; and before the Days of David King of Israel, it seems to have been subject to the Kings of Syria, who near the Euphrates; for the Syrians of Damascus fought under HADAD-EZER against King David, who smote HADAD-EZER the Son of REHOB, (who seems to have been a King too) destroying to him 1000 Chariots, 700 Horsemen, 30000 Footmen. David smote next 22000 of the Syrians of Damascus, and took from them great Booty, which he dedicated to God with the Shields of Gold taken from the Men of HADAD-EZER.

But during this Calamity, the Kingdom of Damascus was founded: for I. REZON, or REZIN, the Son of Eliada, one of the great Captains of HADAD-EZER, after his Master's Overthrow, gather'd a Band of Warlike Syrians, and soon made a Settlement at Damascus, where he became their King, and made that City the Capital of his Kingdom; the other Syrians of Zoba, Rehob, Bitok, Geshur, &c. with their petty Kingdoms, being all swallowed up by this new Kingdom of Damascus, which was founded A. M. 2964. Bef. Christ 1040. In the 9th Year of David's Reign after the Death of Ishbosheth. They often annoy'd the Israelites; and their King's common Name was HADAD, and BEN-HADAD, as Pharaoh was of Egypt. This King REZON greatly distress'd Solomon in his latter Days. But his Issue did not succeed; for when he died

II. HADAD of the Family of HADAD-EZER, was call'd to reign.

III. HAZION King of Syria.

IV. TABRIMMON King of Syria.

I. K. XV. 18. We read no more of them.

V. BEN-HADAD I. King of Syria.

He was hired by Aza King of Judah to aid him in his Wars against Baashah King of Israel.

VI. BEN-HADAD II. twice invaded Israel in the Reign of Ahab, having under his Command 32 petty Kings. (Page 29) and both Times was nobly repuls'd: The first by the Sally of 7000 Men at the Siege of Samaria; the next in the Plains of Aphek, where the Israelites slew 100000 Syrians in one Day; and the rest fled to Aphek, where the Town Wall fell and kill'd 27000 more, while BEN-HADAD was in Effect Ahab's Prisoner, who spared him to his sad Cost: for in three Years Ben-Hadad's Army slew Ahab at Ramoth-Gilead, A. M. 3107. Bef. Christ 897. In the 18th Year of JEHOASHAPHAT King of Judah.

VII. HASAEL the General of BEN-HADAD, anointed King of Syria by the Prophet Elishah, slew his Master Ben-Hadad, and prov'd a cruel Enemy to Israel: He also made an Attempt upon Judah in the Time of King Joash, but bribed with the Treasures of the Temple he return'd home. He conquer'd and subdued the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the Half Tribe of Manasseh, that liv'd East of the Jordan; and, having made powerful Inroads thro' West-Israel, he open'd his Way into Philistia, took the City Gath, and became a Terror to all the Neighbouring Nations.

VIII. BEN-HADAD III. was thrice defeated by Jehoash the Son of Jehoahaz King of Israel, according to the Prophecy of Elishah: yet was not so weakened, but that he could send an Army against Judah, which defeated Joash, destroyed the Princes of Judah, and brought the great Spoils of Jerusalem to Damascus.

IX. BEN-HADAD IV. King of Syria, from him Jeroboam II. King of Israel recover'd All East Israel that Hazael had conquer'd, and also conquer'd Hamath and Damascus.

X. BEN-HADAD V. King of Syria.

XI. BEN-HADAD VI. King of Syria was overthrown by Pul King of Nineveh, who made an Inroad thro' Syria into the Frontiers of Israel, and brought the Kingdom of Israel into a Dependence upon him.

XII. REZIN II. King of Syria, join'd with Pekah King of Israel against Achaz King of Judah, which forced Achaz to send for Aid to Tiglath-Pul-Ezer King of Assyria, who slew Rezin, and added Syria to his Empire, with Hamath and Arpad, viz. in the 3d Year of Achaz King of Judah, and 20th Year of Pekah King of Israel, A. M. 3264. Bef. Christ 740. In the 8th Year of the Nabonassarian Era, and 9th Year of Acha Condita, or the Founding of Rome.

Thus the Kingdom of Damascus, from its Foundation by REZON, A. M. 2964. Lasted during Years, 300.

Until it was conquer'd by Tiglath-Pul-Ezer, A. M. 3264. Great; and afterwards of the Seleucidæ, who, tho' they had a large Empire, chose to call themselves Kings of Syria; (see their Chronological Catalogue, and Genealogical Table, and afterwards of the ROMAN Empire annexed by Pompey; and afterwards of the Saracens, till at last it came into the Hands of the Turks.

TABLE CVIII.

The Kings of Tyre.

N. B. This Table should come after the Chronological Catalogue of the SELEUCIDÆ.

THIS illustrious City was founded, according to Eusebius, Anno Abami 744. which, according to our Chronology was A. M. 2752. Bef. Christ 1252. while Deborah judg'd Israel, before the Founding of Solomon's Temple 240. when it seems to have been subject to the Kings of Phœnicia, the Successors of AGENOR and PHENIX, who reign'd on that Sea Coast, about Sidon, Tyre, and Arce, and from thence sent Colonies into Greece and Lesser Asia.

I. ABIBALUS, or Abimalus, the first King mention'd in History.

II. SARON was compell'd by David King of Israel to pay Tribute.

III. HIRAM was Confederate with David King of Israel, to whom he sent Cedars, Carpenters, and Masons, to build his Royal Palace, as he did afterwards to Solomon to build the Temple, to whom he also sent his Namesake Hiram Abif to be the Master Mason of the Temple.

IV. BALESTRATUS, or Bazarus, or Baltazar, succeeded Hiram, and reign'd

V. ABDASTRATUS having reign'd 9 Years, was slain by the 4 Sons of his own Nurse, the eldest of whom usurped the Kingdom for the Space of 12 Years.

The Usurper reign'd

VI. ASTARTUS, or Astartus, the Brother of Abdastratus, recover'd the Kingdom to his Family out of the Hands of the Usurpers, and was succeeded by his younger Brother, viz.

VII. ASTORINUS, or Astorinus, or Astorin, or Astarinus, and then the youngest of the three, viz.

VIII. PHELES, or Pheles, or Pheletes, reign'd only 8 Months, for he was slain by his Nephew and Successor,

IX. ETHIBAL, call'd in Scripture ETHIBAL, the Son of Astorinus, who regain'd his Father's Throne, before which Time he was High Priest of the Goddess Atharoth, or Ashtar: He was the Father of JAZABEL, the Wife of Ahab King of Israel, so often mention'd in Holy Writ. See Table XVIII.

X. BRIDZAR, or Bridarus, or Bazar, reign'd

XI. METTINUS, or Matginus, or Matgon, or Mettinus, reign'd

XII. PYGMALION, the Brother of Dido Queen of Carthage, after whom we read of no Successor, till Elulus and the New Race. He reign'd

Thus all the Years from the first of King HIRAM, to the last of PYGMALION, are

But in other Authors we find that PYGMALION reign'd to the Year after the Fall of Troy 315. Before the Founding of Rome 120. After the Founding of Solomon's Temple 243. A. M. 3135. Bef. Christ 869. For that then Dido his Sister fled from Tyre into Africa, and found- ed, or rather enlarg'd Carthage. See Table 49. Page 246. whereby the Years of PYGMALION are advanced 22 Years.

From the Death of PYGMALION till the New Race, we have nothing certain, except the History of ELULUS, during about XIII. ELULUS descended from a Son of Pygmalion, who bravely overthrew the Fleet of Balmanassar King of Assyria, near the Port of Tyre. See Page 54. A New Race.

I. ETHIBALUS, or Ethbaal II. or Ethbaal: in his Time Nebuchadnezzar besieged Tyre, which, after a Blockade of 12 Years, he took, deprived Ethbaal of the Kingdom, and set his Son upon the Throne of New Tyre, built on an Island half a Mile from the Shoar. He reign'd,

II. BAAL, who was tributary to the Babylonians, and reign'd,

The Total from the first of HIRAM is,

After his Death, which happen'd in the 6th Year of Nebuchadnezzar's Brutality, the Syrians were govern'd by Judges or Titular Kings, call'd Suffetes, sent from Babylon, and They are as follows.

I. Ethib-Baal the first Judge govern'd only 2 Months.

II. Ethibes the Son of Abdan, govern'd 10 Months.

III. Abbatas govern'd 3 Months.

IV. Witgon, and

V. Gerassus, or Gerassus Batus.

VI. Balatorus govern'd,

The 2 Sons of Abdan govern'd the Space of,

VII. Werbaal was sent from Babylon to Tyre, to reside there in Room of his Brother Balatorus deceas'd.

VIII. Vitromus came from Babylon to rule at Tyre, instead of his Brother Werbaal deceas'd, and † in the 3d Year of Cyrus and the Persian Monarchy.

Being in all

Tyre was just 70 Years in Captivity, according to Isaiah's Prophecy, that is, under the Domination of Foreigners, from the Time it was taken by Nebuchadnezzar, till the 19th Year of DARIUS Hystaspes King of Persia, when, for the Tyrian good Service by Sea in his Trojan War, DARIUS restored them Liberty, and gave them Leave to chuse a King of their own: which happen'd,

And I tell till ALEXANDER the Great besieged and took in Tyre, during 12 Years; for after the Death of Iphus, Sidon surrender'd to ALEXANDER, who deposed Strato King of Sidon, and made a poor Gardner King, call'd ANTONIOMUS, only for being defended of some former King. And having next took in New Tyre, ALEXANDER continued on the Tyrian Throne the King reigning, viz.

ALEXANDER descended from one Strato, the only Freeman of Tyre that had not been massacred by their Slaves some Years ago; and ALEXANDER having slain and sold most of the Inhabitants for being defended from the said murdering Slaves, plant'd New Tyre a fresh with People from the Neighbouring Countries, in order to be reckon'd the Founder of Tyre. This happen'd,

We read of no more Kings of Tyre, till after the Death of ALEXANDER. It was possess'd by PTOLEMY Lagus, afterwards King of Egypt, and belieg'd by Antigonus's Army under Andronicus, during 15 Months; and so ANTIGONUS King of Lesser Asia, was also King of Tyre, and reign'd till he † in the Battle of Ipsus.

DEMETRIUS Poliorcetes was King of Tyre, till he † divested of all Dominion, a Prisoner of SYLVESTER Nicator.

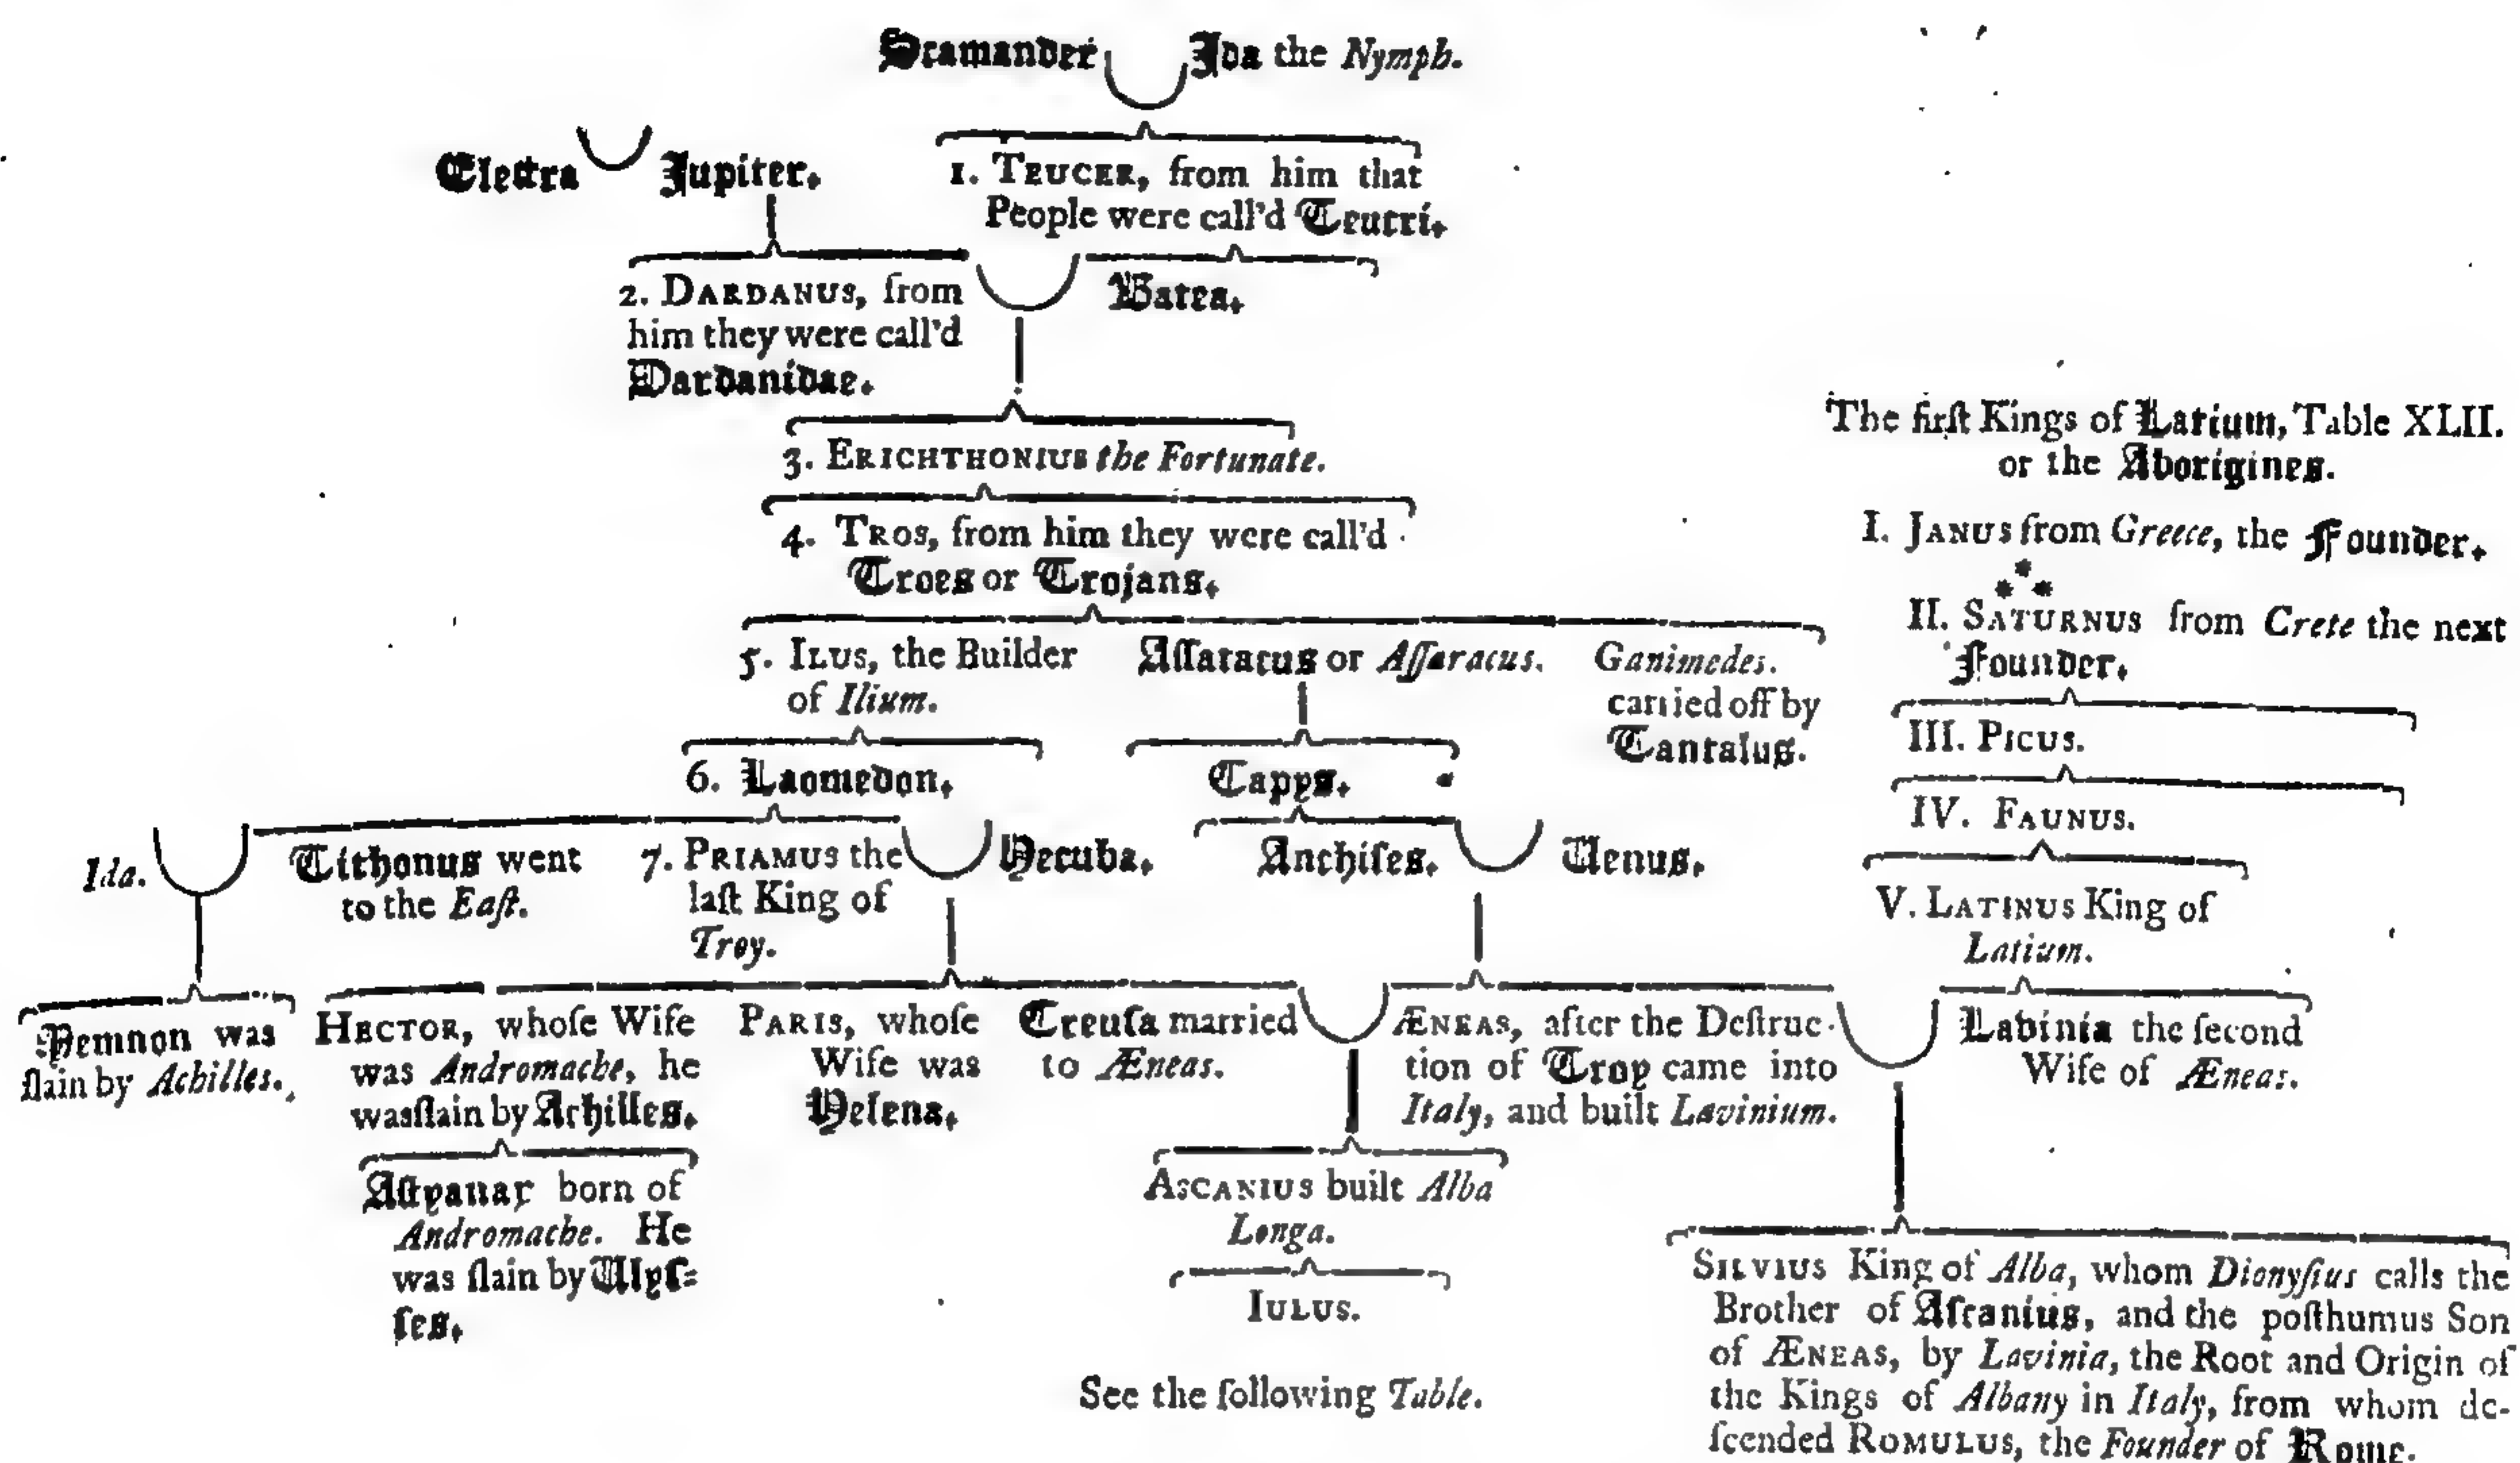

Afterwards it became tributary to the Seleucidæ Kings of Syria, till that Kingdom became a Roman Province, when Tyre became subject to Rome, and afterwards to the Saracens, and at last to the Turks.

to CONSTANTIN the Great.

The ROMAN REPUBLIC lasted from the Expulsion of the Kings to the Death of POMPEY 461 Years. See the Chronological Tables of the ROMAN REPUBLIC.

|   | Yearsof hisReign. | Begantoreign.A. D. | Whenhe diedA. D. |
|---|---------------------------|--------------------------------|--------------------------|
| I. JULIUS CAESAR the Dictator was murder'd under POMPEY's Statue: ————— A. M. 3960. Before Christ 44.   |                           |                                |                          |
| II. AUGUSTUS CAESAR began to reign alone when ANTONY and Cleopatra were dead, and reign'd45 Years, under whom CHRIST was born, began to reign ————— A. M. 3974. Before Christ 30.   |                           |                                |                          |
| III. TIBERIUS, under whom CHRIST was crucified. Reign'd —————   | 21                        | 15                             | 35                       |
| IV. CALIGULA, a vicious, tyrannical and blasphemous Emperor, slabb'd by Chereas, with other Conspirators, who gave him 30Wounds. He reign'd —————   | 4                         | 36                             | 39                       |
| V. CLAUDIUS put Chereas with the other Conspirators to Death. He arriv'd in Britain, a small Part of which he subdu'd. Atlast his Wife and Niece Agrippina caus'd her Physician Xenophon to poison him. He reign'd —————  | 13                        | 40                             | 52                       |
| VI. DOMITIUS NERO at first reign'd well, but soon degenerated into a tyrannical and cruel Monster. He rais'd the first Persecutionagainst the Christians, whom he charg'd with his monstrous Act of burning Rome. At last he † terribly byusing the Help of Epaphroditus, in cutting his own Throat with a Dagger. He reign'd —————   | 14                        | 53                             | 66                       |
| VII. GALBA, after a short Reign of 7 Months, was murder'd by certain Horsemens sent by his Successor —————  |                           | 67                             | 67                       |
| VIII. OTHO, who, to prevent the Effusion of Roman Blood, slew himself, after he had reign'd but 95 Days. —————  | 14                        | 67                             | 67                       |
| IX. VITELLIUS was a most covetous, luxurious and cruel Wretch; and after he had reign'd but 8 Months and 5 Days, he was dis-gracefully slain by a Party of the Soldiers of his Successor —————  |                           | 68                             | 68                       |
| X. VESPASIAN, an excellent Prince, tho' by some he is branded with Avarice. He built a Temple for Peace, shut up the Templeof JANUS. JERUSALEM was besieged and destroy'd by his Son TITUS. At last he † of a Flux, and wassucceeded by TITUS, his Son, after he had reign'd —————  | 10                        | 68                             | 77                       |
| XI. TITUS, who by the good Improvement of his many Excellencies, gain'd the Character of the Darling of Mankind; but † ofa Fever, and some say, he was not fairly dealt with by his Successor and Brother, viz. —————   | 2                         | 78                             | 79                       |
| XII. DOMITIAN, a proud, avaritious, blasphemous and cruel Tyrant, who rais'd the 2 <sup>d</sup> Persecution against the Christians, ba-nish'd St. JOHN to the Isle Patmos, where he wrote the Apocalyp. At last he was murder'd by his own Ser-vants, after he had reign'd —————  | 14                        | 80                             | 93                       |
| XIII. CORNELIUS NERVA abrogated his Predecessor's impious Laws, recall'd the banish'd Christians, and eas'd their Grievances.But this excellent Prince † of a Fever, having a little before adopted his Successor. He reign'd —————   | 2                         | 94                             | 95                       |
| XIV. TRAIAN, who rais'd the 3 <sup>d</sup> Persecution, and banish'd 10000 Christians, otherwise an excellent Emperor. He reduced theBritains, and repair'd the High-ways. At last he † of a Flux, tho' some say of Poison. In his Time St. JOHNthe Apostle †. He reign'd —————   | 19                        | 96                             | 114                      |
| XV. ADRIAN, was a learned and valiant Prince, tho' something proud, cruel and revengeful. He continu'd the Persecution against theChristians, visit'd the whole Empire, and came into Britain, where he built a Wall 80 Miles in Length, ex-tending from Solway to Tyne. At last he † at Baje, having before adopted his Successor. He reign'd —————  | 21                        | 115                            | 135                      |
| XVI. ANTONINUS PIUS, a courteous, merciful and peaceable Prince. Upon his reading the Works of Justin Martyr, he much fi-vour'd the Christians, against whom he was formerly severe. At last this good Emperor † of a Fever. Reign'd —————  | 24                        | 136                            | 157                      |
| XVII. MARCUS AURELIUS or ANTONINUS the Philosopher, made Lucius VERUS his Associate, (who was the Author of the 4 thPersecution) but he dying, ANTONINUS reign'd alone, and perform'd many Exploits. Then † of a Fever and wassucceeded by his Son, after he had reign'd —————   | 19                        | 160                            | 178                      |
| XVIII. COMMODUS, the very reverse of his Father, an impious Wretch. He severely persecuted the Christians for not sacrificingto him; but he was at last poison'd by MARTIA, whom, with several others, he intended to destroy, and was suc-ceeded by a good old Man, after he had reign'd —————   | 13                        | 179                            | 191                      |
| XIX. PERTINAX, for discouraging the Soldiers Rapes and Violence, they murder'd him, after a short Reign of 3 Months and a Day.XX. SEPTIMIUS SEVERUS, when the Soldiers set the Empire to sale, purchased the same, but the Senate condemn'd him to Death,and appointed the Empire to —————  | 1                         | 192                            | 192                      |
| XVI. SEPTIMIUS SEVERUS, an excellent Soldier; he rais'd the 5 th Persecution, and assum'd the Title of Britannicus Maximus,for his repairing and enlarging ADRIAN'S Wall, &c. At last he † at York. His Successors were his two Sons,XXII. CARACALLA and GETA; but they d' not long agree, for CARACALLA slew GETA, when he had reign'd but one Year andtwo Days; and being thus sol. Emperor, he spent the rest of his Reign in Cruelty and all Manner of Impiety.but he was at last slain by his Successor, after he had reign'd ————— | 17                        | 193                            | 209                      |
| XXIII. SEPTIMIUS MACRINUS, with his Son DIADUMENUS, who was not suffer'd to possess the Empire long, being with his Sonslain by Means of MEXA, who easily prevail'd with the Soldiers to confer the Empire on her beautifulGrandson HELIOGABALUS, after he had reign'd —————  | 6                         | 210                            | 215                      |
| XXIV. HELIOGABALUS the worst of all Emperors. As he was designing the Death of ALEXANDER, whom he illegally adopted,His Mother and he were both slain, thrown first into a Privy, and then into the Tiber, which secured the Empireto the said ALEXANDER. He reign'd —————  | 1                         | 216                            | 217                      |
| XXV. ALEXANDER, a courteous, merciful and wise Prince, who suffer'd the Christians to live peaceably, observing that Gospel Pre-cept of not doing to others, what you would not undergo your self; yet he was murder'd by his own Soldiers,by the Contrivance of his Successor, after he had reign'd —————  | 4                         | 217                            | 220                      |
| XXVI. MAXIMINUS, who from a Shepherd attain'd the Imperial Crown, yet without the Senate's Consent. He rais'd the 6 th Perse-cution, blaming the Christians for all the Calamities that happen'd. He was a monstrous Glutton. At last, hewith his Son, who was his Associate, were both slain by his own Soldiers, at the Siege of Aquileia. Before hisdeath the Army elected the two GORDIANS, who being in a short time cut off, the Senate made choice of —————   | 3                         | 234                            | 236                      |
| XXVII. PORDIUS and BALBINUS, both soon slain by the Praetorian Soldiers, who elected a Youth call'd —————   | 1                         | 237                            | 237                      |
| XXVIII. CLAUDIUS, who, tho' he had perform'd many valorous Exploits, yet was slain by the treasonable Cunning of his Successor —————  | 6                         | 237                            | 243                      |
| XXIX. PORDIUS, who instituted the Secular Feast. Both he and his Son were converted to the Christian Faith, and baptiz'd byPOPE FABIAN. At last he was slain by the Procurement of his Successor, after he had reign'd —————  | 6                         | 244                            | 249                      |

TABLE CXIII.

A Chronological Catalogue of the ROMAN Emperors, from CONSTANTIN the Great, to the Failure of the Western Empire, According to the Partition of the Empire.

I. CONSTANTIN I. the Great, the Son of CONSTANTINUS Chlorus, and Helena Daughter of CELSUS an E. King. He was born at York. After having repair'd B. yantium, and call'd it Constantinople, he remov'd the Imperial Seat thither, A. D. 330. after which he reign'd 30 Years, and at his Death he partition'd the Empire among his 3 Sons. He had two Wives, 1. Diocletiana, who bore to him his beloved Son CRISPUS Caesar, whose Tutor was Lactantius Firmianus, † without Issue. 2. Fausta Daughter of Maximianus Galerius, who bore to him three Sons, Constantinus, Constantius, and Constantia, and two Daughters, Constantia the Wife of Gallus, and Helena the Wife of JULIAN the Apostate. See his Genealogical Table.

II. Constantinus, Constantius and Constantia did not long agree, for Constantinus was slain by Constantia, A. D. 340. who did not long survive him, being slain in Battle A. D. 350. and now Constantius was the sole Emperor, and oppos'd the Arians in Defence of the Orthodox Faith, and did what he could to suppress the Schism of the Donatists in Africa. MAGNENTIUS usurp'd the Title of Emperor, but was totally routed, and slew himself at Lugdunum.

GALLIUS was by Constantinus declared Emperor as his Son, to manage the Asiatic Provinces, while he march'd against Magnentius. At last Constantinus † on his March in Gallia, as he was going to reduce Julian, who had been proclaim'd Imperator AUGUSTUS, and got the Diadem. His Wife 1. Eusebia, who influenced him to make his Brother-in-law JULIAN the Apostate his Colleague. 2. Faustina, who bore to him, when she † in Child bed, Faustina Postuma the Wife of GRATIAN.

III. JULIAN the Brother of Gallus, and the Son of Constantia, the Brother of Constantinus the Great, and of Pulsilla his Mother, who bore them both at Constantinople, call'd the Apostate, because of his revolting from, and persecuting of the Christians, whom in Common he call'd Seditians: as if he was wroth in a Battle against the Perjurers and Partisans, of which he †, blasphemously uttering these Words, Passi tandem Galilee, Teu last overcome me at length, O Galilean, a Name he was wont to give Christ in Derision. By his Wife Helena the Daughter of Constantinus the Great, he had no Children.

IV. JULIAN, by some call'd Tyrannus the Son of Caracalla, a great Man in Parthia, elected by the Army, shut up the Idol-Temples, and recall'd the banish'd Bishops: at last he † by the Smoak of Chalk, which had been kindled to dry his Chamber at Constantinople, after a very short Reign of seven Months. His Wife was his Daughter of Leontia, bore to him a Son Valentinianus, created Cæsar, but tho' an Infant he could never be prevail'd with to go into the Throne or Chair of State.

The Western Emperors at Rome.

The Partition of the Empire.

V. VALENTINIAN I. the Son of the Christian a Reverend in Formosa near Brugate, a Military Tribune, that had been imprison'd during Life by JULIAN, for adhering to the Christians, restored by JULIAN, and elected by the Army to be Emperor, after an Interregnum of ten Days, had excellent Parts, but his Anger was almost a Madness. When the Quadi sent to him for Peace, the Equipage of their Ambassadors was sent in full Rage, that his Passion broke an Arrow in his Bow, whereof he † on died. He had two Wives together, 1. Sextia the Mother of the Emperor GRATIAN. 2. Justina a bi-parted Arian, the Mother of the Emperor THEODOSIUS II. and three Daughters, Justa, Gratia, and Galla, who was the second Wife of the Eastern Emperor THEODOSIUS II. Then succeeded his Son, &c.

VI. GRATIAN, who made his Brother Valentinian his Associate. He was most zealous against the Heretics, vanquish'd the Huns, Alans, and Goths, and overthrew the Germani, by withdrawing above 5000 of them. He was murder'd by his Successor, and † without Issue by his Wife Faustina.

MAXIMUS, the Governor of Britain, who usurp'd the Empire for some Time, till vanquish'd by Theodosius the General of Gratia, and afterwards the Emperor of the East, and then being strip of his Imperial Garments, MAXIMUS was beheaded, as also was his Son Victor; and the Empire was restor'd to

VII. VALENTINIAN II. an excellent Youth, but was soon murder'd by Ambrosius, † without Issue, and then EDGEBERT usurp'd the Empire, but was overcome and slain by Theodosius the Great, who thus became the sole Emperor of both East and West, left the Christian Empire to his Son ARCADIUS, and the Christian to his other Son, &c.

VIII. HONORIUS, who was a Prince surrounded with many Calamities: for in his Time Rome was besieged, and taken by the Goths, and great Part of Italy laid waste. The Goths also, Sarmatians and Alans, having wash'd Gaul full into Spain, where they were pursued and overcome by Julian. He made

Constantinus a Roman Patrician his Partner, the Husband of his Sister Placidia, the Widow of Adolph the Goth. At last HONORIUS † of a Dropsy without Issue, being twice betroth'd but never married. And therefore the Empire became a Prey to any who could lay hand on it; and it was usurp'd by

JOHN, one of the Emperor THEODOSIUS's Scribes, against whom Theodosius II. sent his General Asterius, whom JOHN besieged in Ravenna, and took him. Then Theodosius sent Asterius the Son of Asterius, who took in Ravenna, reliev'd his Father, and destroy'd the Usurper, who was shortly after captivated, and beheaded, and then

IX. VALENTINIAN III. succeeded, the Son of Constantinus and Placidia. The Empire sustain'd great Loss under his Government, for ATTILA King of the Huns, call'd the Scourge of God, with 60000 Men overran Hungary and Germany, and enter'd Gaul, but was defeated by Aetius, also Africa became subject to the Goths, and the Roman left Britain, above 500 Years after their first Invasion. At last he basely destroy'd his brave General Aetius, and was afterwards destroy'd by Aetius's Soldiers, and with him the Western Empire ended, his Successors being only Usurpers. His Wife Eudoxia Daughter of THEODOSIUS II. Emperor of the East who bore to him two Daughters, Placidia and Eudoxia, who with their Mother were captivated by GENSERICUS King of the Goths.

The Successors of VALENTINIAN III.

I. MAXIMUS reign'd 3 Months.

II. AVITUS being most impotent, reign'd 10 Months.

An Interregnum for 11 Months.

III. MAJORANUS was by Leo I. sent to Italy, and made Emperor at Ravenna. He drove the Goths out of their Possessions. He was † by Ravenna, after he had reign'd 4 Years.

An Interregnum of 3 Months.

IV. SEVERUS was also possid'd by Ravenna, after he had reign'd 4 Years.

V. ANTHEMIOUS, in whose Time Rome was taken a second Time. He reign'd 5 Years.

VI. OLYBIUS reign'd 3 Months.

An Interregnum for 1 Month.

VII. GULBERTUS reign'd 1 Year and 3 Months.

VIII. JULIUS NEROS reign'd 1 Year and 3 Months.

IX. VALENTINIAN III. reign'd 1 Year.

About this Time the first Saxons came into Britain, which they call'd Angland, or Land of the Angles, the Name of the first Saxon.

Thus from the Death of VALENTINIAN the III. to the Death of VALENTINIAN the IV. there were 21 Years and 3 Months.

The Eastern Emperors at Constantinople.

I. VALENT (the Brother of Valentinian in the West) rul'd the East with great Honour and Praise, but being baptiz'd by Eudocius of Constantinople an Arian, he prov'd no Friend to the Orthodox Christians: he was at last vanquish'd by the Goths on the 9th of August, and burnt in a Castle whither he had fled, near 4 Years after the Death of Valentinian I. His Wife was Domitilla, or Domitia, bore to him a Son Gallus, who † young; and so Valens † without Issue. Then after his Death succeeded,

II. THEODOSIUS Magnus, the Son of Honorius, a noble Spaniard, and Theodantia his Lady, descended from TRAJAN the Emperor, whom he much resembled. An excellent Emperor, for Clemency, Justice, and Moderation, he conquer'd the Usurper Maximus, and shut up the Heathen Temples: and such was his Humility, that he submitted to the Sentence of St. Ambrose, enjoining him publick Penance for his Cruelty to the Thebessians. He had 2 Wives, 1. Placidia, who bore to him Arcadius and Honorius. 2. Galla the Sister of Valentinian II. who bore to him his Daughter Placidia, first married to Adolphus the Cousin of Alaricus King of the Goths, and next to Constantius the Partner of Honorius. At last he † in Peace at Milan, having left the Western Empire to Honorius, and the Eastern to Arcadius.

III. ARCADIUS and HONORIUS Brothers. Honorius in the West, and Arcadius in the East: Arcadius was but a Youth at his Accession to the Throne, was very careless and remiss, he drove out the Arians; yet thro' the Persuasion of his Wife Eudoxia, he banish'd St. Chrysostome, and † soon after. He left his only Son his Successor, and 3 Daughters, Flaccilla, Martiana, and Plutycha.

IV. THEODOSIUS II. call'd Janus, was a Prince exemplary for his Piety, and a great Friend to the Church, but of a mean Spirit, and was harass'd by many Enemies: he sent an Army against the Goths, which was defeated, and having sent another, he was forced to buy his Peace. In his Time Asparius was condemn'd by the Sentence of a General Council at Ephesus, and depriv'd. Also it is reported, that for the Confirmation of the Doctrine of the Resurrection, 7 Persons who had slept in a Cave at Ephesus for above 200 Years, awoke and confirm'd the same. His Wife Eudoxia, or Athenais, Daughter of Leontius the Philosopher, recommended for her Wit, Beauty, and Learning, by Pulcheria, to her Brother Theodosius for a Wife, who bore to him his Daughter Eudoxia, the Wife of VALENTINIAN III. At last He † at Constantinople without Male Issue, before he could repair the Injuries done the Church, by the late Council of Ephesus, that had approv'd of the Eutychian Heresy. And then by Means of Pulcheria the Daughter of ARCADIUS, the Government of the Empire was entail'd upon her Husband

V. MARTIAN, for his singular Probity and Wisdom, the Son of a Military Man: he always inclin'd to Peace, if it could be honourably obtain'd, but in the Midst of the Western Troubles he † without Issue; about which Time Rome was taken and sacked by GENSERICUS King of the Goths. Upon his Death Asparius despairing of being made Emperor himself, found Means to exalt

VI. LEO I. call'd the Great, the first Christian who was Emperor, was crown'd by Anastolus Bishop of Constantinople. He was a virtuous and wise Man, and made Choice of the ablest Men to be his Ministers of State. In his Time was Constantinople burnt, as also his Fleet of above 100 Ships of all Sorts. At last being seiz'd with a Diarrhea, which was attended with a Fever, he † in a short Time. His Wife Arina bore to him two Daughters, 1. Ariadna the Wife first of the Son of Asparius, and next of Zeno. 2. Leontia Wife of Martian, the Son of ANATHANAS King of Rome. And it is reported, that at his Death he left the Empire to his Grandson Leo, and made Zeno the Guardian of his Son

Leo I. the Great, the Daughter of Leo I. He soon † without Issue; and upon his Death his Father Zeno assum'd the Purple, and was his Son's Partner. See the following Table.

| ODOACER King of the Heruli , having depos'd Augustulus , and put an End to the Western Empire , was, on that Account, proclaim'd King of Italy ; and indeed he govern'd with much Prudence and Moderation, which gaining him the good Will of the People, made the Eastern Emperor ZENO send Theodorick with an Army against him, who, after many Battles, made Peace with him, and there-after Theodorick having treacherously murder'd him, became his Successor. The first of the |  |  | 17                  | 476                     | 492        | VII. ZENO gave himself up to all manner of Vice, yet he took special Care that others should do their Duty. BASILISCUS assuming the Title of Emperor , forc'd him to fly; but about a Year after he was slain and ZENO restor'd, who, tho' he was surrounded with Dangers, yet so addicted himself to Pleasure, that he paid for it; for as he fell into a fit of the falling Sickness, his Empress Ariadna caus'd him to be buried alive; and she soon married Anastasius , whom she exalted to be Emperor .  |  |  | 17                  | 474                     | 490        |

ANASTASIUS soon degenerated into a profess'd Heresick and impious Persecutor; and such was his Cruelty that he massacred no less than 3000 of the Adherents of the Council of Chalcedon , on which Account he was justly excommunicated by the Pope . At last he † aged 88 Years, and so made Way for   |  |  | 27                  | 491                     | 517        |
| I. THEODORICK, after ODOACER's Overthrow, became King of Italy , where he brought Order out of Confusion, by his wife Administration; and tho' he was an Arian , yet he was favourable to the Orthodox Christians , and always studied to employ himself for the good of his Subjects. He was an excellent Prince, and † aged 72 Years, having first secur'd the Kingdom for his Grand-son.  |  |  | 8                   | 526                     | 533        | IX. JUSTIN I. who recall'd the exil'd Bishops , publish'd severe Edicts against the Arians ; was crown'd by John Bishop of Rome , a Prince taken wholly up in Ecclesiastical Matters: At last, having adopted his Sister's Son Justinian , he † aged 77 Years, without Issue.   |  |  | 9                   | 518                     | 526        |

JUSTINIAN the Great was a valiant Prince, he conquer'd the Persians , by Belisarius ; his General exterminated the Gandals , regain'd Africa , subdued the Goths in Italy , defeated the Moors , and restor'd the Empire to its primitive Glory. He call'd a general Council at Constantinople which consisted of 155 Bishops wherein the Decrees of the four former Councils were confirm'd, and the Opinions condemn'd that were inconsistent with the Orthodox Faith , such as those of the Samojateni , Arians , Nestorians and Eutychians . He made a Collection of the Roman Laws , call'd CODEX JUSTINIANUS , and of his own Laws which he call'd the Novels . At last, after a long Reign he †, having before design'd the Empire for his Sister's Son, viz. |  |  | 39                  | 527                     | 565        |

THE ROMAN German EMPERORS.

I. CHARLES I. call'd Carolus Magnus, or the Great, offer'd to marry IRENE Empress of the East, but in vain; for NICEPHORUS was chosen Emperor of the East, and liv'd in Peace with CHARLES, who was a Terror to all Kings and Nations; and was the Means of converting many of them to the Christian Faith. He had 3 Sons of his Wife Hildegard, viz. Charles, Pipin, and Lewis: the first was King of France, and † in Germany before his Father, the 2<sup>d</sup> of Italy, and the 3<sup>d</sup> was made Emperor, after which CHARLES † of a Pleurentick Fever, aged 72 Years.

II. LEWIS I. call'd Adobius Pius, was crown'd by Pope Stephen V. 2 Years after his Accession to the Throne: His own Sons rebell'd and depos'd him, but the Germans forc'd his Sons to restore their Father, who readily pardon'd all the Rebels. He had 2 Wives, Irmingardis Daughter of INGRAM Duke of Saxony, and Judith Daughter of Guelphus Count of Astorf. Of the first he had 3 Sons, Lothary, Pipin, and Lewis; of the 2<sup>d</sup> he had Charles the Bald, whom at his Death he made Lord of Austria, and made Lothary Heir of all the rest, except Bavaria, of which his other Son Lewis was King, and was a valiant Prince, and came to be King of Germany. Pipin † upon his Father's Restoration. When this Emperor †, his Son, viz.

III. LOTHARY succeeded, but his two Brothers rais'd a bloody Civil War against him, that destroy'd the Flower of the French Nation, and the Imperialists were much worried. At last he turn'd Monk, and a little after. His Wife was Irmingardis the Daughter of Count Hugh, and she bore to him Lewis, Lothary and Charles: Lewis was made Emperor and Prince of Lombardy, Lothary got Lorain, and Charles got Burgundy.

IV. LEWIS II. an excellent and pious Emperor, expell'd the Saracens from Reims, at last he † at Milan. His Wife was Lungarda Daughter of WELFUS Duke of Saxia, or Snabia, he had no male Issue.

V. CHARLES II. surnamed the Bald, the Son of LEWIS I. and Brother of LOTHARY. He had 2 Wives, Hermintrudis, and Richildis, the Sister of Boson, to whom this Emperor gave Hermintrudis in Marriage, the Daughter of LEWIS II. and made him the King of a Province: Hermintrudis he had 4 Children, viz. Lewis, Lothary, Charles, and Carolemannus; and of Richildis 2 Children, who did not live long, he also had a Daughter. He † of Poison.

VI. LEWIS III. surnamed Bald, attain'd the Title of Emperor, by Means of Pope Johu, but endur'd many Calamities till He †. He had 2 Sons, viz. Lewis and Carolemannus of his Wife Angrada. But the Empire was conferr'd upon

VII. CHARLES III. surnamed the Fat, the Son of LEWIS the brave King of Germany, became also Heir of the Kingdom of Germany upon his Brother's Death. He was depos'd by the Grantees, who elected one

VIII. ARNOBUS,

XXVII. NICEPHORUS being advanced to the Imperial Dignity, displeas'd the Army, and was also unfortunate abroad; for being routed by the Arabians, he was forced to buy his Peace at 30000 Picces of Gold per Annum, besides 3000 for himself. At last he was vanquish'd and slain, by CRUMUS King of Bulgaria, who cut off his Head, and set his Scull in Silver, to drink out of it. Then his Successor was

XXVIII. MICHAEL I. surnamed Curopolates, a Prince like his Predecessor his Father-in-law, and therefore when the Army had promoted Leo, He turn'd Monk; and so without Opposition

XXIX. LEO IV. call'd Armenius, succeeded, and subdued the Bulgarians, and oppos'd Image-Worship. At last he was murder'd in his own Chapel while at his Devotions, at the Instigation of his Successor.

XXX. MICHAEL II. call'd Balbus, at first much troubled with a Civil War, by the valiant Rebel Thomas, who was at last taken and slain by Michael. The Saracens now invaded Crete which they call'd Candia, and Sicily which they call'd Calabria. At last he † of a Dysentery.

XXXI. THEOPHILUS an excellent Prince, march'd 5 Times against the Saracens, and return'd but twice Vict'or. He abhor'd all Superstition and Image-Worship. He much repair'd and beautify'd Constantinople. At last he † melancholy for the Loss of Amorium the Capital of Cilicia, taken by the Saracens.

XXXII. MICHAEL III. was made Emperor at 6 Years old, while his Mother was Regent, and restor'd the Images to the Churches, and made Peace with the Bulgarians: He was twice overcome by the Saracens, but his Uncle Petronas defeated them, took their King at Bardas, and slew him. At last he was murder'd by his Successor

XXXIII. BASILIUS, an obscure Macedonian, who was at first defeated by the Saracens at Crete, but afterwards defeated them: He broke the Power of the Spaniches; and at last † of a Diarrhea, tho' some say, that he was kill'd a Hunting. He had Three Sons, Constantin, Leo, and Alexander, but Constantin dying, XXXIV. LEO V. call'd the Philosopher succeeded. He had Wars with the Bulgarians, who at first defeated him, but by the Aid of the Hungarians he defeated them. At last he † of the Cholick, leaving his Brother to succeed him.

XXXV. ALEXANDER, who was a great Glutton; which occasion'd his Death, after a short Reign of

XXXVI. CONSTANTIN VI. call'd Parphyrogenitus, was but young when he came to the Throne, and made his Mother Zoe retire to a Monastery: He made ROMANUS LACOPENUS his Associate, whom he allow'd to be crown'd Emperor. LACOPENUS made his Sons Stephen and Constantin also Emperors, and the legal Emperor CONSTANTIN VI. was thereby made a Cypher for near 20 Years, but was again restor'd to the Imperial Dignity by Means of Stephen, who was impos'd upon to order his Father into a Monastery, which

|  | Years of his Reign. | Began to reign A. D. | He † A. D. |
| VIII. ARNOLEFUS the natural Son of Carolomannus by Carentina his Wife. He overcame the false Emperor Guido, enter'd Rome by Force, and was crown'd Emperor by Pope Formosus. At last he was poison'd. Most Authors say he had two Wives, 1. Agnes Daughter of the Emperor of the East, by whom he had two Sons, Arnolpb and Wernerus; Arnolpb was the Father of the Princes Palatine of the Rhine, and Dukes of Bavaria. 2. Jutta Daughter of Gucphus Duke of Bavaria, by whom he had his Successor in the Empire, viz.  | 12                  | 888½                 | 899½       |
| IX. LEWIS IV. a Child when the Government was committed to him, and unfortunately warred against the Hungarians till he was contemned. At last He was seiz'd with a Distemper, and †, the last of the Posterity of CHARLES the Great.  | 13                  | 900½                 | 912½       |

| X. CONRADE I. Duke of Franconia, a valiant Prince: during his Reign the Civil Wars encouraged the Hungarians to make an Irruption into Bavaria, whom he defeated in two Engagements, but they returning with Impetuosity, forc'd the Emperor to Terms of Peace. At last he †, and with him ended the French Succession of EMPERORS; and according to his Desire,   | 7                   | 913½                 | 919½       |

| XI. HENRY I. call'd Anceps, or the Fowler, Duke of Saxony to be their Emperor. He instituted the Markises, built the Town Misnia, overcame his Enemies, and in a great Measure quell'd the intestine Troubles: but as he was on his Journey to Italy, He † of an Apoplexy. He had 2 Wives, 1. Bathurga a Nun, of whom he had a Son call'd Dankwerdus. 2. Mechthildis Daughter of Didericus Sovereign Count of Ringelheim, of whom he had 3 Sons, Otto, Henry, and Bruno, the first of whom, viz.   | 17½                 | 920½                 | 937        |
| XII. OTTO I. surnamed the Great, succeeded in the Empire, and rul'd with great Applause. He was by the Pope call'd into Italy against Berengarius, and put him to Flight. He subdued the Rebellion of his Son, and one Conrade his Son-in-law, and took his Son Prisoner, who was afterwards received into Favour; Berengarius again rebelling, OTTO came and overthrew him again, upon which the Pope crown'd him EMPEROR: and after a glorious Reign he †. His Wives, 1. Editha, who bore to him 2 Sons, Ludolf Duke of Saxia, and William Bishop of Metz. 2. Adelheid, who bore to him three Sons, Henry, Bruno, and his Successor, | 37                  | 938                  | 974        |
| XIII. OTTO II. who was crown'd by Pope John XIII. a virtuous Prince. His Wife was Theophania, by whom he had 2 Sons, Otto and Hugh.  | 9                   | 975                  | 983        |
| XIV. OTTO III. succeeded his Father at 12 Years old. He was much troubled by one Creffentius, whom at last he overcame. About this Time a new Form was made for electing the Emperors. At last he was poison'd without Issue. Then they elected,   | 19                  | 984                  | 1004       |
| XV. HENRY II. Son of Henry Duke of Bavaria, a religious Prince. His Wife was Cunigunda Daughter of Sigisfredus Prince Palatine of the Rhine. He † without Issue. Then the Princes elected,   | 22                  | 1003                 | 1024       |
| XVI. CONRADE II. the Son of Hermannus, an excellent Prince both in Peace and War, and a Father to his Neighbours, † suddenly. His Wife was Gisla Queen of Burgundy, Daughter of Lothary King of France, a beautiful and pious Woman.   | 15                  | 1025                 | 1039       |

The Family of HERACLIUS Emperor of the East. See Table CXIV.

In the Time of JUSTINIAN, the Empire was invaded first by LEONTIUS, then, he being overthrown, by TIBERIUS APPSIMARUS, with his Brother HERACLIUS, and at last by PHILIPPICUS; the first of whom reign'd 3 Years, the 2d six Years, and the third having slain Justinian, some less than three Years. One ARTIMUS or Anastasius II. succeeded PHILIPPICUS, and THEODOSIUS succeeded him; and at last LEO III. succeeded THEODOSIUS. See Table CXIV.

TABLE CXLII.

TABLE CXLIII.

The Family of BASILIUS the Macedonian, Emperor of the East. See Table CXV.

BASILIUS a Macedonian, born of most mean Parents, having slain MICHAEL III. became Emperor A. D. 867. and reign'd alone 18 Years. He † 885. of a Diarrhoea, or kill'd a Hunting, as some say.

Cubaria, or Eudoxia, or Euphemia the Emperor MICHAEL's Concubine, with his Consent married BASILIUS while MICHAEL was alive.

Theodora was called Augusta by her Husband.

ROMANUS Lacopenus a Patrician, was made Partner of the Government (having laid aside ZOE) with CONSTANTIN, 919. and reign'd 26 Years. He was at last overthrown by his own Children, whom CONSTANTIN had excited against him, A. D. 944. and was by his Son Stephen thrust into a Monastery.

ZOE LEO's 4th Wife.

LEO V. call'd Philosophus, was Emperor after his Father, 886. was eagerly bent on Learning, and excellently educated. He reign'd 25 Years and 3 Months. † 910. Before ZOE he had other 3 Wives, which were all barren.

Constantin the second Son died before his most affectionate Father.

ALEXANDER the Emperor was Guardian of his Nephew Constantin. He rul'd the Empire after his Brother LEO's Death 13 Months, and † of Glutony 911.

Stephen was by his Father put into holy Orders.

Christophorus being crown'd by his Father, he † before him 934.

Theophylact, a Clergyman, was made Patriarch at 16 Years old, and Tryphon, a Monk, was made his Coadjutor.

CONSTANTIN being crown'd by his Father, was still faithful to him.

Stephen was likewise crown'd by his Father, yet he was principally concern'd in his Overthrow.

Helene Augusta married CONSTANTIN VII.

These Sons of Romanus came to nothing.

CONSTANTIN VII. the only Son of the Emperor LEO V. his Uncle ALEXANDER being dead, then but a Child, A. D. 912. yet he took upon him the Administration of the Government, under the Guardianship of his Mother ZOE, then with ROMANUS Lacopenus Partner with him; and at last He shut up ROMANUS into a Monastery, 944. he reign'd about 49 Years after his Uncle's Death. † 960. supposed to be poison'd by his Son ROMANUS.

Bardas the Emperor, Colleague of MICHAEL III.

N. N.

Christopher was crown'd by his Grandfather ROMANUS, while he was but a Child.

Theodora married JOHN Zimisces the Emperor.

ROMANUS I. junior the Emperor succeeded his Father, A. D. 961. reign'd 3 Years, He † leaving his two Sons BASILIUS and CONSTANTIN his Heirs, but NICEPHORUS Phocas was his Successor. His first Wife was reported to have been Eudoxia the Natural Daughter of Hugh King of Italy, without Issue.

Theophano the second Wife of ROMANUS, was of an ignoble Race, but of a noble Form; after ROMANUS she was married to NICEPHORUS, and having murder'd him by the Hand of Zimisces, she was thrust into a Monastery.

NICEPHORUS, call'd PHOCAS, and Calenicus the Emperor, the second Husband of Theophano, was forc'd to govern, A. D. 964. when he reign'd 6 Years and 6 Months, He was, through the Treachery of his Wife Theophano, murder'd by JOHN Zimisces his Successor A. D. 971.

JOHN ZIMISCES Emperor of the East, A. D. 971. reign'd 6 Years, was poison'd by the Eunuch Basilus near Damascus, 975. having before his Death named the two Sons of his Brother-in-law ROMANUS to succeed.

Theodora the Empress of OTTO II. the Emperor of the West.

BASILIUS II. Porphyrogenitus the Emperor succeeded JOHN Zimisces, 976. and † 1025. having reign'd 50 Years.

CONSTANTIN was old at his Brother's Death, when he became Emperor, and reign'd three Years, † 1028.

Helene Augusta the Daughter of Alipius.

THEODORA was in Opposition to MICHAEL Calaphates prockim'd Empress by the People, hating her Sister ZOE, her Consort in the Government. At last the Empire was left to her by MONOMACHUS at his Death, and she reign'd about 2 Years, till she died.

Eudoria for her Deformity turn'd a Nun.

ZOE Empress Augusta was now 50 Years of Age when she was espoused to ROMANUS ARGYRUS the Emperor; she was thrice married, a Woman burning in Lust and Ambition, she was sole Empress after her Father's Death. She † in the 70th Year of her Age, not long after her third Marriage, of a Plague. She allowed MONOMACHUS to keep a Concubine.

ROMANUS II. ARGYRUS the learned Emperor, 1029. having divorced his first Wife, married ZOE, who, with MICHAEL PAPHLAGO destroy'd him, when he had reign'd 5 Years and 6 Months. † 1034. being strangled in a Bath by the chief Eunuch, and his Brother MICHAEL PAPHLAGO, and ZOE the Empress, then in Love with MICHAEL.

MICHAEL IV. PAPHLAGO the Emperor, an Adulterer, and the 2d Husband of ZOE, was born ignoble, but of an excellent Form and Temper, yet incurring the Peoples Hatred, he became a Monk, when he had reign'd about 7 Years, 1041.

Dary was married to a Man of a most mean Condition of Life, who gain'd his Bread by pitching of Ships.

John a Eunuch was powerful in Court, He was called Oxyphastrophon.

CONSTANTIN VIII. MONOMACHUS, ZOE's third Husband, was Emperor after his Brother CALAPHATES, 1043. He reign'd 12 Years and 8 Months, and at his Death left the Empire to his Sister-in-law THEODORA, A. D. 1054.

MICHAEL V. CALAPHATES, adopted by his Uncle MICHAEL PAPHLAGO and ZOE, was call'd Caesar; and that same Uncle being dead, he was advanc'd to be Emperor by JOHN his other Uncle, yet he banish'd both his Uncle and ZOE. He was Emperor 4 Months and 5 Days, being hated by all. And ZOE being restor'd married MONOMACHUS.

N. N. Comnenus.

N. N. Comnenus the Brother of ISAACIUS. Being sick he resign'd the Empire over to CONSTANTIN DUCAS, 1060.

VI. MICHAEL STRATIOTIS the Emperor, was come to Age when he was adopted by THEODORA, kept the Empire one Year, A. D. 1056. for he was depriv'd of it by his Successor COMNENUS, who thrust him into a Monastery.

N. DUCAS did not descend from the ancient Family of the Duce.

MANUEL COMNENUS was design'd Prince and Coadjutor, being General of the Army he was taken by the Turks, and releas'd again under ROMANUS DIAGENES the Emperor.

JOHN DUCAS was call'd Caesar by his Brother CONSTANTIN. He was a deadly Enemy to ROMANUS DIAGENES the Emperor.

CONSTANTIN IX. DUCAS, was call'd Emperor by ISAACIUS COMNENUS, who spontaneously resign'd the Crown; he lately boasted of the old Race of the DUCAS, but was far inferior to them in Exploits, yet he reign'd 6 Years, † 1066.

EUDORIA the Empress swore to her dying Husband that she should never marry again, and so should be a Tutress of her Children, and Ruler of the Empire, but without Regard to her Oath, she, after 7 Months again was married to ROMANUS DIAGENES.

ROMANUS III. DIAGENES, Eudoria's 2d Husband was prockim'd Emperor. He was deposed by ROMANUS IV. call'd DIAGENES, a valiant and just Man kept under his Wife's Ambition, and when overcame his Enemies at last being betray'd by his own Men, he was taken in Hand by the Turks, but he was boundlessly entertained by ALPHEUS the Sultan, and honour'd by him.

ANDRONICUS DUCAS was the principal Betrayal of the Emperor ROMANUS DIAGENES.

Mary Anna the Wife of MICHAEL DUCAS.

MICHAEL VII. DUCAS, call'd Parapinaces, was Emperor after ROMANUS DIAGENES, 1071. He was the Scholar of MICHAEL PSELLUS the Philosopher: He was altogether unfit for the Government, depending on the Pleasure of his Uncle and others, at last he was overthrown by NICEPHORUS BOTONATES, and made a Monk, when he had reign'd 6 Years and 6 Months, A. D. 1077.

CONSTANTIN DUCAS during the Command of NICEPHORUS BOTONATES, was hail'd Emperor by the Soldiers, but was presently deserted by the same, and again banish'd by BOTONATES.

he was overthrown by the Devices of JOHN DUCAS Caesar the Uncle of his Son, who put out his Eyes, and he † miserably, when he had reign'd 4 Years, A. D. 1071.

WYRENA a Longobard, his Wife.

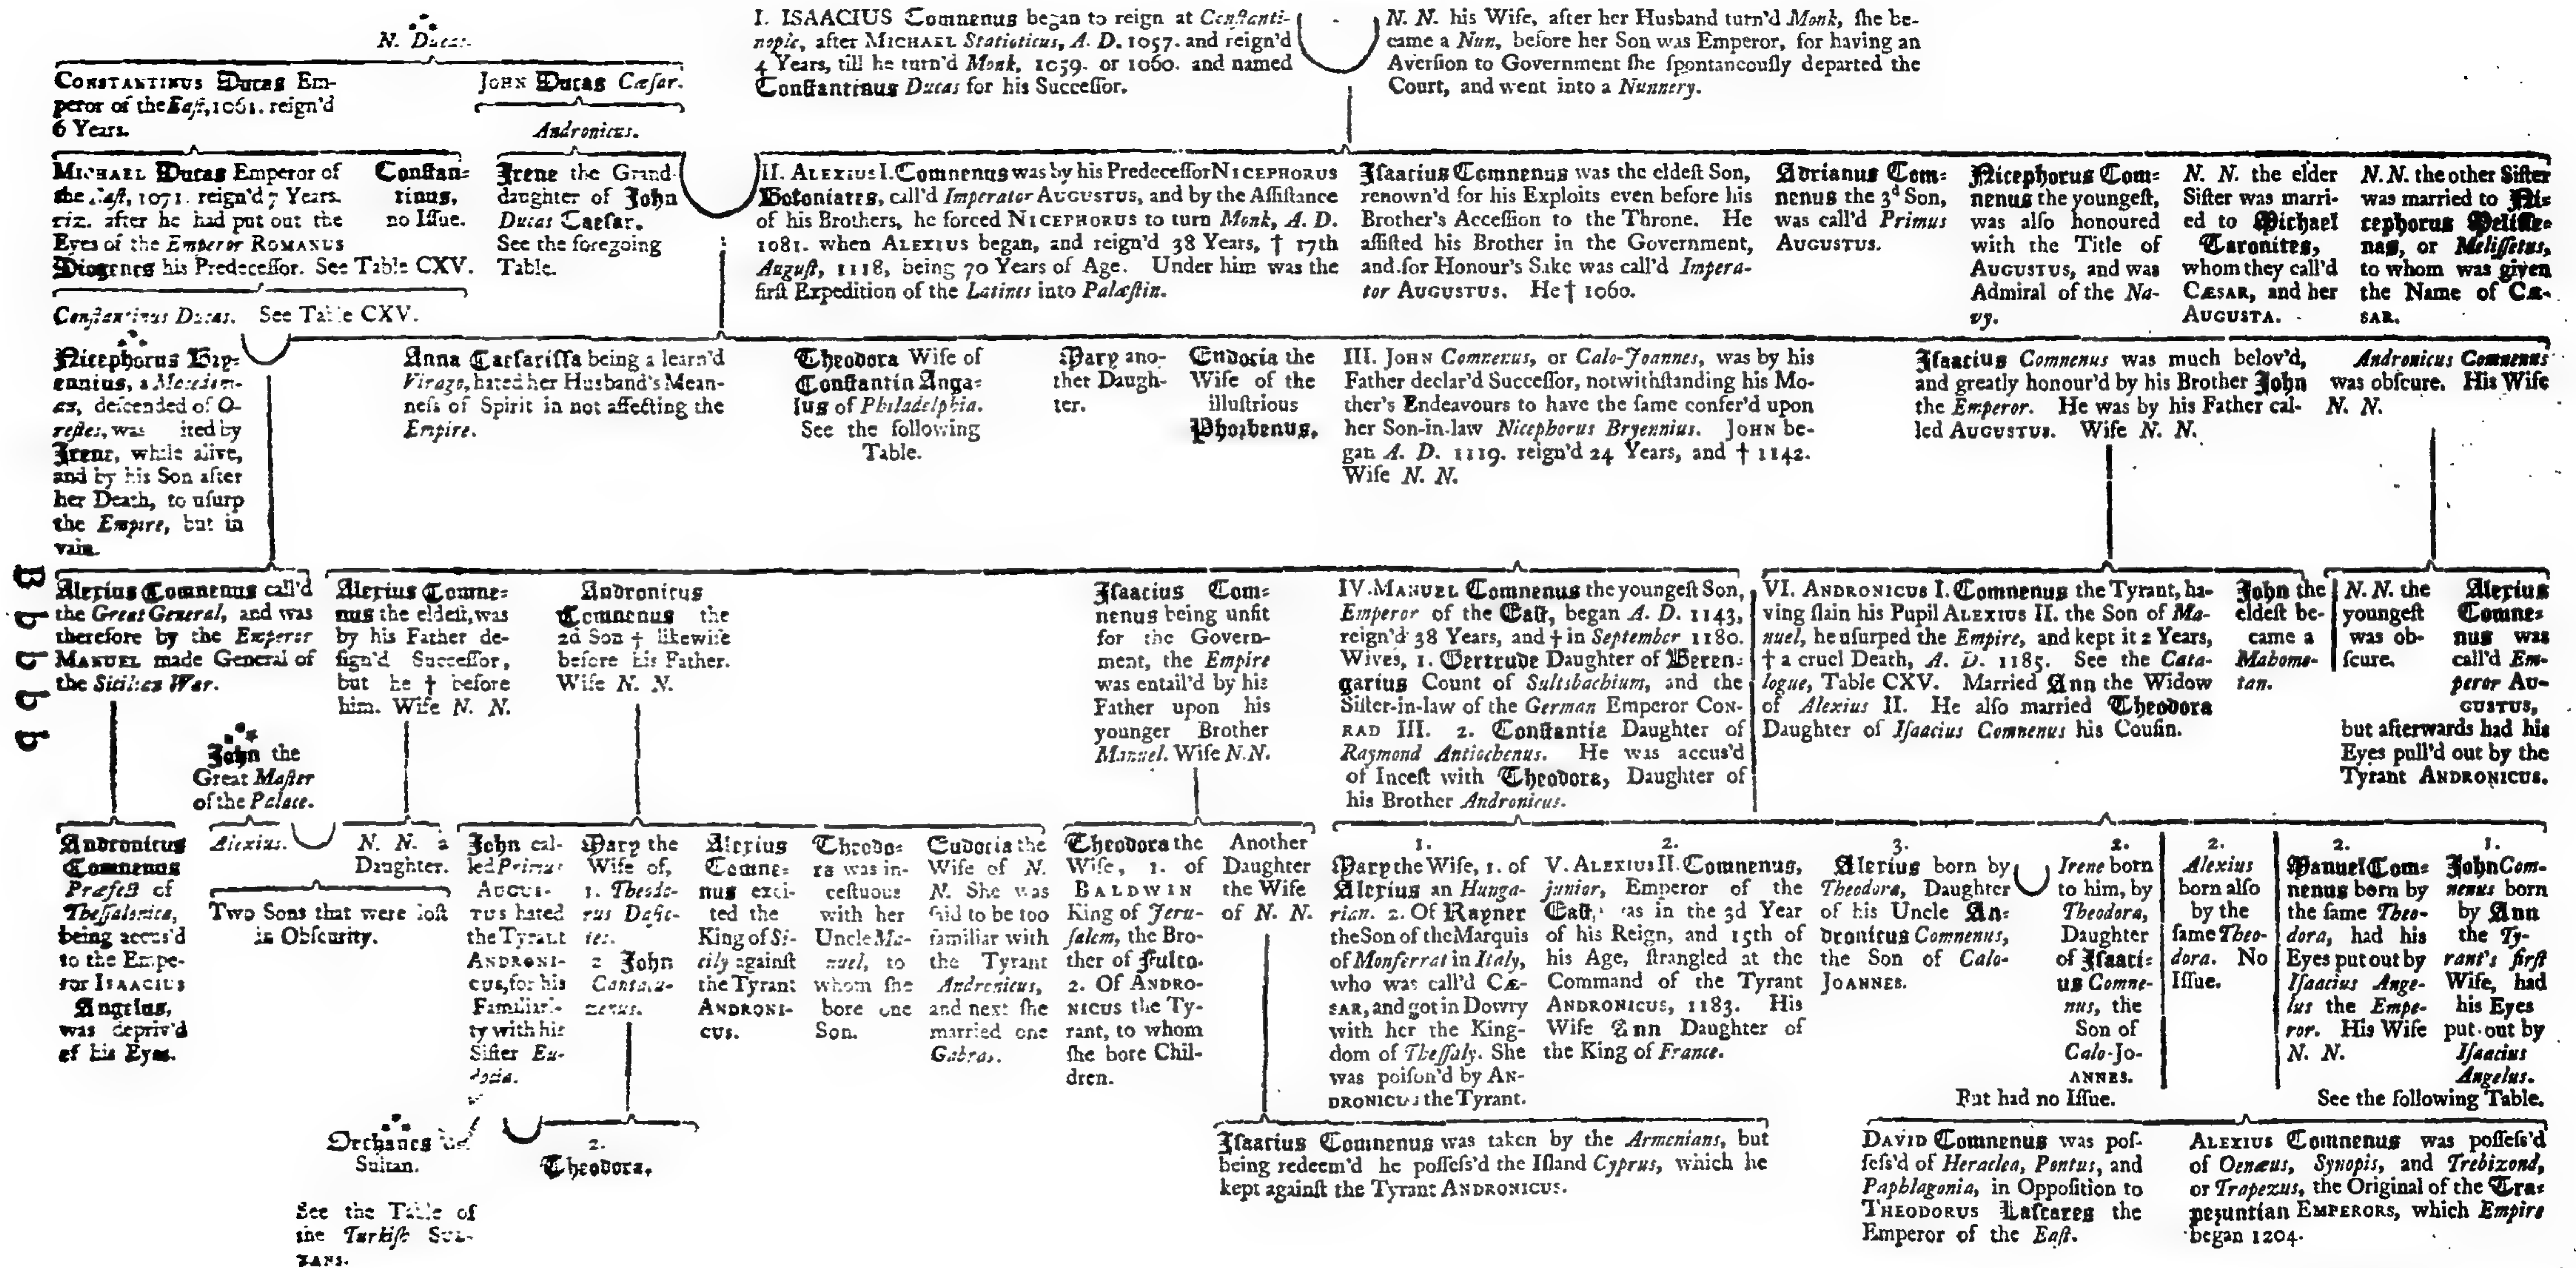

CONSTANTIN DUCAS the Son of MICHAEL, was countenanced by the Emperor ALEXIUS I. COMNENUS.

NICEPHORUS III. BOTONATES, having taken the Government in A. D. 1078, overthrew MICHAEL DUCAS, and married his Wife Mary Anna. But the Comnenian Brothers conspired against him, forced him to resign, and him Monk, when he had reign'd not quite 3 Years, A. D. 1080, and to the COMNENI began. See the following Table.

The KINGS of Persia of the Turkish, Tartarian, and Turcoman, or Armenian Race, to ISMAEL SOPHI the first of the Sophian Race.

PERSIA was subjected to the Caliphs of Arabia, by OMAR or OSMAN the second Caliph, when the Race of ARTAXERXES ended in HORMISDAS JESDEGIRD, A. D. 632. which the Saracens call'd the first Year of the Jeldigirdian Era of Persia, and continued under their Government unto the Days of TANPOLIPIX.
In the Days of Jezid I. the 7th Caliph of Arabia and Persia, who began A. D. 680. one Mutar the Governor of Persia, set up for himself; but was bravely opposed by the Caliph Abdulmelech, and at last was defeated and slain by Musubus the Brother and General of Abdulmelech.
The present SOPHIES pretend to be descended from this MUTAR.
Jezid, in the Reign of the Caliph Jezid II. about A. D. 722. took up Arms and seiz'd on Persia, but was defeated by Mafalanicus the Caliph's General.

ABUMUSLIN defeated the Caliph Merban II. about A. D. 744. and forced him to flee into Egypt.
In the Days of Basilius II. the Emperor of the East, who began A. D. 976. Chosroes a Saracen Sultan defeated him; and then INARCHUS a Persian Nobleman, animated his Countrymen to shake off the Yoke of the Saracens, and defeated Chosroes. But the Sultan by the Help of many thousand Christians defeated Inarchus.
Mabomet the Son of Chosroes being afraid of another Revolt of the Persians, call'd in the Turks to assist him, but They soon turn'd upon him under their Chief
I. TANPOLIPIX, or TUGRAL BEG, see his Genealogy in Table CLIII. who, with an Army discomfited and slew the Sultan of Persia; after which, by the joint Consent of both Armies, he was proclaim'd and made King of Persia, He was the first of the Turkish Race. See more of him in Table CLIII.

II. AXAN, or Alub Arslan, sent his Cousin Cutlu-Boses with a puissant Army against the Christians, whom he dispossest'd of a great Part of Asia Minor.
III. BALAK Sultan of Persia, flourish'd in the Beginning of the Wars in the Holy Land, undertaken by the Western Christians, against whom he is suppos'd to have sent Forces; of his Successors we can say nothing, save that He and They reign'd till the Time of
IV. CASSANES, the last Turkish Sultan, who was vanquish'd A. D. 1202. by Hocata the Son of Cinges the great Cham of Tartary, call'd JENGLUS KHAN, or Chingis Chan, and thus the whole Race of the Caliphs of Bagdat was exterminated, after it had lasted, —

Tartarian Kings.

I. HAALON, or ULAH-KURHAN, or Hablon, or Halach, was made King of Persia by the said Hocata, and reign'd there 6 Years, after an Interregnum of about 56 Years, viz. from A. D. 1258. to 1262. some say from 1260. to 1266. He not only became Master of Persia, but also took the City of Bagdat, and starv'd the Caliph to Death.

II. HABRAKAMION, or ABAGA, succeeded his Father A. D. 1262. or with others 1266. to 1282. and reign'd 20 Years, In his Reign the Egyptian Sultan invaded Armenia.
III. NICADOR OGLAN, or Taugodor, a Mahometan, and therefore call'd HAMED. He succeeded his Brother A. D. 1282. to 1284.

IV. ARGON-KHON the eldest Son, succeeded his Uncle, A. D. 1284. to 1292. for 8 Years.
V. GENIOTUKHON, or Regaplus, succeeded his Brother 5 Months after his Death, from A. D. 1292. to 1295. the Space of 3 Years. He brought into Persia the Use of Paper Money.

VII. GAZUN, or Casan, succeeded his Grand Uncle BADUKHON, A. D. 1296. and made Carbin his Imperial Seat. He reign'd 9 Years, to A. D. 1305.
VIII. ALYAPTU transfer'd the Court to Tauris, and is said to have been the Founder of Sultania, a Capital of Media. He reign'd after his Brother from 1305. to 1317. the Space of 12 Years.

IX. ABUSAID I. the last of the Race of HAALON that reign'd in Persia. He began to reign in the 12th Year of his Age, A. D. 1317. † 1337. We read also of one CARBADA, or Carbanda, but without a Date. After which the more potent Tartarian Princes seiz'd on several Parts of the Kingdom, each of them calling himself King of what he possess'd. The most remarkable of these Pretenders was one GEMPAS the Parthian Sultan, and a Native of Persia, who A. D. 1350. slew the Offspring of Carbanda, after the Tartars had continued from the Extermination of the Race of the Caliphs of Bagdat, 148 Years, threw off the Tartarian Yoke, and made himself Master of the greatest Part of Persia. In this Confusion the Kingdom of Persia continued, until the Time of TAMERLAN, who compos'd all Differences, by making himself Master of the whole, A. D. 1385. He † A. D. 1404. See the Tables of Tartary and the Moguls.

X. MIRZA CHAROCK TAMERIAN's 4th Son, succeeded his Father in Persia, A. D. 1405. He built a Town in Maurenabar, and call'd it Charok. † 1417. reign'd 42 Years.
See Tamerlan's other Sons in the Table of the Moguls.
Moroncha, or Mironcha.
Sultan Mahomet.

XI. OGLECH, or HAG-BEG was vanquish'd and slain by his own Son, after he had reign'd 3 Years, viz. from A. D. 1417. to 1450.
II. ABDALATIE having slain his Father 1450. succeeded, but was himself slain by his own Soldiers, 1451. about 6 Months after he mounted the Throne.
XIII. ABDULLA succeeded his Prother, and reign'd 2 Years, A. D. 1452. when ABUSAID his Kintman succeeded, others say he reign'd but one Year, to A. D. 1452.

KARA MAHOMET.

I. KARAISSUP, rul'd in Persia, from A. D. 1407. to 1421. 14 Years, cotemporary with Mirza Charok.

II. AMIR SCANDAR, or AMISCANDAR, succeeded his Father 1422. had continual War with MIRZA CHAROK. He was slain by his Brother Abu latb, about 1438.
III. JOONCHA, or ZEUZES, or Malanchres, succeeded his Brother 1438. reign'd alone after the Death of ABUSAID, from 1461. to 1472. in all 34 Years, when He was discomfited by USSAN CASSANES, 68 Years after the Death of Tamerlan.
Cha Ma-bamed his 4th Son.
Amir Appal his 5th Son, † before his Father.
Abnsaid slew his Brother AMISCANDER.

IV. ACEN ATY succeeded his Father but a very short Time, being also cut off by USSAN CASSANES, who conquer'd the Kingdom, and was the first of the Turcoman or Armenian Race. See the following Table
SCHENDER ASEMBEGUS.

ALIBEE, or TRACHETON CASSANES.

I. USSAN CASSANES, or Azeinbeus, or Ozem-Azamber, having slain JOONCHA, or ZEUZES, and his Son, got the Kingdom to himself, and reign'd from 1472. to 1478. the Space of 6 Years.

II. JACUN, or JACON, or Jacuppus, his 2d Son, having put by his elder Brother, succeeded his Father 1478. to 1485. when he was poison'd by his Wife, who liv'd in Adultery.
II. SULTAN Calil succeeded his Father, but was slain by JACUN his Brother within 6 Months. Some say he was slain the same Night his Father †.
Zeinalbus was slain by his Father.
Ungber Mabmet. See the following Table.
Martha the Wife of Aidar, the Father of Ismael Sophi.

III. ALIBEE and Moratchian, the two Sons of Jacub, were set aside by Ismael Sophi, A. D. 1499.
IV. ISMAEL a Kintman of JACUN, succeeded A. D. 1490. and reign'd 3 Years, to A. D. 1493. when he left the Kingdom to
V. BASISOR a Prince of the same Blood, liv'd in Adultery with the Wife of JACUN, and came to the Throne of Persia, A. D. 1493. and reign'd 2 Years, to 1495.

VI. RUSTAN, or Roflan-bek, was assaulted by AIDER, or SICAIDAR, of the Sophian Family, who then began to flourish. He was King from 1495. to 1498. 3 Years.

VII. ATAMAI, or HAGARET, or Agmalus, reign'd with CARABES the last King of the Armenian Blood, first vanquish'd SICAIDAR at the Battle of Derhent, and cut off his Head, but was afterwards overthrown and slain by ISMAEL SOPHI, A. D. 1499. the first of the Sophian Race, of whom see the following Table.

TABLE CL.

The Family of the last KINGS or SOPHIES of Persia, to our Time.
See Tables CV. and CVI. for Connection, and the foregoing Table.

The Great TAMERLAN † A. D. 1404.

But in Persia after Tamerlan the Tartars reign'd, viz.

CARAISSUF the Tartarian King of Persia reign'd 14 Years.

AMISCANDER reign'd 16 Years.

JOONCHA reign'd 34 Years, in whose Time USSUN CASSAN, or Ussun Cassan, or Ozun Azebec, of the Faction of the White Ram, Governor of Armenia rebelled against him, conquer'd the Kingdom, and was the first of the Turcoman or Armenian Race, as in the last Table, after which the Sophies succeeded, by marrying his Daughter, as in this Table.

See the Genealogy of these Kings in the last Table.

Schender-Afembegus, or Afembejes, a valiant Turk.

ALINEE, or Cassanes, Prince of Cappadocia, and ARMENIA Minor; but for Fear of BAJAZET Ottoman, he fled to Tamerlan King of the Tartars, and was by him restor'd to his former Condition.

DAVID Comnenus the last Emperor at Trebizond, was overthrown by Mahomet II. Emperor of the Turks.

SOPHY the Descendant of Muza Cain, one of the 12 Sons of Bacon, the Son of ALI, or Ha-li, the Son-in-law of MAHOMET, was famous for Wisdom and Religion. He reviv'd the decay'd Sect of HALI, and distinguish'd his People by their Capes, from the Followers of HOMAR.

Goza his first Wife.

USUNCASSAN Magnus a most victorious Prince, captivated and cut off King JOONCHA, and his Son Acen Ali, and made himself Emperor of Persia, A. D. 1472. He was an Enemy to the Turkish Emperor Mahomet II. He reign'd 6 Years, and † on the 5th of January, A. D. 1478. being 87 Years of Age. Katharine was his 2d Wife.

Despaena, or Despina-caton, his 3d Wife, was a most strict Observer of the Rules of the Christian Religion, even in her Marriage State, and her Husband gave her Liberty of Conscience.

GUINES-Sophy, the Son of SOPHY, was more famous than his Father. Wife N. N.

Dgurin-Mahomet, or Unger-Maumeth, warring against his Father, was made to flee to Constantinople; and returning in Arms against his Country, he was taken and slain by his Father.

Malubocus born of his 2d Wife, conspiring with his Brother against his Father, was bound, and at last slain by his Father.

Sultanchali was slain by JACUPPUS, the same Night his Father †. Others say he succeeded his Father in the Kingdom, and was cut off by Jacuppus, when he had reign'd but 6 Months.

JACUPPUS, or Jacobus, King of Persia, and the East, succeeded his Father, A. D. 1478. He was a peaceable Prince; yet was poison'd by his libidinous Wife, A. D. 1485. After his Death the Kingdom was for some Years unsettled.

Martha the Wife of Sicai-dar Har-duelles, with her Father's Consent.

AIDAR, or Sicai-dar Sophy, call'd Har-duelles, from the Place of his Nativity. He excelling his Father and Grandfather in Piety and Wisdom, gain'd the Favour of the whole Rast. He made a new Explication of the Al-Koran, differing from that of the Turks. He was slain by ALAMAT King of Persia, who was terrified at his Power.

After the Death of JACUPPUS,

JULAVER his Kinsman reign'd 3 Years.
BAYSINGER reign'd 2 Years.
RUSTAN reign'd 3 Years.
AGMATUS and Carabes one Year, tho' not Collegues.

Moratcham quarrell'd with his Brother Alvantes for the Succession.

Alvantes and his Brother Moratcham, quarrell'd for the Succession in Persia, and lost the whole Right, A. D. 1499. He was slain by Schach-Ishmael his Successor.

I. SCHACH-ISMAEL Sophy I. King of Persia and the East, was of the Religion of his Ancestors, and most familiar with Techelles the famous false Prophet, but was an Enemy of SOLYMAN the Turkish Emperor. He began A. D. 1500. and † 1524 Wife N. N.

II. SCHACH-TAMAZ King of Persia, succeeded his Father ISMAEL, A. D. 1525. but from an Enemy of SOLYMAN he became his Friend and Ally. He reign'd 57 Years, † 1576. having left behind him 11 Sons, which he had by several Wives.

Helcas. Becramus. Sonnez.
These three were all put to Death by their Brother.

Periaconcona the eldest of all his Children, she was appointed Executrix of her Father's Will.

IV. SCHACH-HODABENDA-Mahomet, the eldest Son, was Præfett of Asia: He succeeded his Brother ISMAEL II. in the Kingdom of Persia, A. D. 1578. He warred long with the Turkish Emperor AMURATH III. He † in December A. D. 1585. having reign'd 8 Years.

III. SCHACH-ISMAEL II. the 2d Son, succeeded his Father according to his last Will, being prefer'd to Hodabenda. He was of a different Sect of Religion from his Ancestors. He was slain in the 2d Year of his Reign, 1578. by the Treachery of his Sister and Nobles.

Aidar the 3d Son was slain in his very Attempt upon gaining the Government.

XI. Schach-Soliman II. was King 1694. but was dethron'd by the Rebellion of Miriways, 1722.

TABLE CLI.

A Catalogue of the CALIPHS of Arabia, Syria and Persia.

- I. ABUBEKER or ABUBEKER, or Abubakar, or Abubakar, or Abubakar, or Uqubakar the Son of OTMAN, commenced the Caliphate upon MAHOMET's Death A. D. 632. others say 631. and reign'd 2 Years 4 Months; others say he reign'd 11 Years, and † A. D. 642. but most Authors say he † of Poison A. D. 634.
- II. OMAR or AMMAR, or Ammar, or Ben-Omar, the Son of Abitab or Chitab, or Kitab, or Elkatef, a Commander under Abubeker, succeeded him, A. D. 634. and added to his Empire Persia, Egypt, &c. † 644. Others say he was slain while at his Devotion, by Wargatita, a Persian, A. D. 646. Others again say, he began A. D. 642. and reign'd to A. D. 655.
- III. OSMAN or Hutbman, or Haom, or Hamen, or Odmen, or Ozman, the Son of Assan or Arpban began A. D. 644. † 655. reign'd 12 Years. Others say he began 647. and reign'd 10 Years, to 656. Others again say he began 655. and reign'd to 659. He was slain by Wahamet Son of ABUBEKER.
- IV. ALI or HALY, MAHOMET's Cousin and Son-in-law, was Caliph from 655. to 660. Others say he began 660. and † 663. Others again, who make OSMAN to † 656. make MUAVIAS I. and ALI both, to begin 657. and to reign Cotemporary to 660. and then MUAVIAS to reign alone, which is the most probable Opinion; for upon the Election of ALI, the Saracens of Syria and Egypt elected MUAVIAS, as his Rival, and upon ALI's Death his Son.
- V. HAGEN or HALEN was elected by the other Saracens A. D. 660. but was slain by MUAVIAS after 6 Months, others say he being religious, resign'd.
- The Ommiade.
- VI. MUAVIAS I. or MAYIA, the Great-Grand-son of Ommias upon HAGEN's Death or Resignation, reign'd alone 10 Years; from 660. to 670. Others say he reign'd to 680. Others again say he began 664. and † 679. and reign'd 16 Years. In his Time the Saracens belieg'd Constantinople for 7 Years.
- VII. JEZID I. or ELID, or Qezid, or Qezid was Caliph from 680. to 683. Others say he † 681. He reign'd 3 Years 9 Months. He was a better Poet than a Warriour.
- VIII. MUAVIAS II. is not reckon'd among the Caliphs by most Authors, because, it seems, of the Shortness of his Reign, being only 45 Days of A. D. 683. After him
- IX. ABDALLA I. the Son of Subetrus, assumed the Caliphate, and MARVAN set up against him, which occasion'd great Wars, and shorten'd the Time of his Reign, being no more but 4 Months of A. D. 683. yet he † not 'till A. D. 693.
- X. MARVAN I. or MERVAN, the Son of HAGEN, the Grand-son of OMMIAS, was set up against ABDALLA A. D. 683. and reign'd but 10 Months. Others say he was Caliph from 681. to 682.
- XI. ABDULMELICH or HABDEMELICH, or ABDULMELICH or Hedimelech succeeded his Father from 684. to 704. reigning 20 Years. Others say from 685. to 706. and Others from 681. to 700.
- XII. WALID I. or ULID, or IZETHUS was Caliph from 705 to 714. Others say he began 707. and Others say he began 700. Under him the Saracens and *Moor*s first conquer'd Spain A. D. 709.
- XIII. SOLIMAN I. or ZULCIMEN succeeded his Brother from 714. to 717. when he † at the Siege of Constantinople. He reign'd 2 Years 8 Months. Some say he reign'd from 716. to 719.
- XIV. OMAR II. or HAUMET, or Umar the Grandson of MARVAN I. was Caliph 717. poison'd 719. Others say he reign'd from 718 to 720.
- XV. JEZID II. or Qezid, or Qezid, the Brother of SOLIMAN I. was Caliph from 719. to 723. reign'd 4 Years. Others say he began 721. † 724.
- XVI. HISJAM or HISCAM, surnamed Abul-Walid, the Brother of JEZID II. by some Authors is not number'd among the Caliphs, yet by others he is made to reign from 723. to 743. being 20 Years, some say he reign'd but 19 Years and was succeeded by
- XVII. WALID II. or EWALID, or Isamus, the Son of Waled I. He who kept the Caliphate from 743. to 744. Others say he began 742. and was slain by the People 743.
- XVIII. JEZID III. the Son of WALID I. surnamed Aluakes, reign'd only 5 Months of 744. Others say he began 743. and † 744.
- XIX. ISRAEL I. or Iyyes succeeded his Brother, but was depos'd by MARVAN II. A. D. 744. after a very short Reign of 69 Days, which perhaps is the Reason why he is mention'd but by few Authors.
- XX. MARVAN II. or MAWAN, the Son of Abuhamet, and Grand-son of MARVAN I. was the last Caliph of the Ommiade or House of Benbunetga. He began 744. reign'd 5 Years. He slew Abraham the Priest, and was himself slain in a Temple, by Salim General of the Cberasms A. D. 749. others say 750. After his Death the Kingdom was divided into 3 Parts, Abubalas or Abuhamet reign'd in Persia, Salim in Egypt, and Yahdalla in Syria.
- The Abasside or Alabetti.
- XXI. ABDALLA II. or MAHOMET ABDALLA Safa, the Son of Abuhamet the Son of ALI, the Son of ABDALLA, the Son of ABDAS, the Father of the Abasside, of which Family this ABDALLA was the first Caliph, and reign'd from 749. to 753. Others say he began 751. and † 755.
- XXII. ABUGIAR I. or ABUGERHER, or Habdalla succeeded his Brother A. D. 753. He was for his Victories call'd Almansur, and for his Covetousness Obair. He † 772. after he had reign'd 20 Years. Others say he began 756. and † 776. and consequently reign'd 21 Years. This ABUGIAR repair'd Selucia, and call'd it Bagdat, about A. D. 755.
- XXIII. MUHAMMAD MAHADIS, or MAHADIS, or MAHADIS, or MAHADIS, or MAHADIS reign'd from 774. to 785. being 10 Years 3 Months. Others say he began 777. and reign'd to 785.
- XXIV. MUSA or MOSES, or Moyses ALLADIS was Caliph 785. to 786. 1 Year and two Months, aged 25. Others say he began 786. and † 787.
- XXV. ABUGIAR II. RASJIDUS, or HARAM, or AARON Raschid, succeeded his Brother A. D. 786. † 807. or with some 808. or with others 809. He compell'd Ætenc Empress of Constantinople to pay him Tribute.
- XXVI. ABDALLA III. ALAMIN, or Abuhamet Alamin, or Imin, succeeded his Father A. D. 807. Others say 808. and others 809. and others 810. He † 813. having reign'd 5 Years and 8 Months. Others say he was slain or expell'd by his Brother 814.
- XXVII. ABUL-ANAS ALMAMON, or ABDALLA ALMAMON, or MAMON, was Caliph after his Brother 813. some say 814. others 815. after he had reign'd 20 Years and 8 Months. He † A. D. 833. In his time the Saracens conquer'd Crete and built Candy A. D. 824. Others say he reign'd but 18 Years, and † A. D. 831. He resided mostly at Babylon, and was an excellent Astronomer.
- XXVIII. MUSTASINUS BILLA, or MAHAM MOTASEN, or Mutetzam, or Mubamat began A. D. 833. others say 832. † 841.
- XXIX. HARON WACICUS or AARON WATICK the Son of Almamun, succeeded his Uncle, and was Caliph 841. to 846. others say to 845.
- XXX. GIARAF ABULPADLUS, or MUTAWAKEL, or Mutawakel, or Mutawakel, or Mutawakel, succeeded his Brother A. D. 846. was slain by Means of his Son MUSTANIR BILLA, A. D. 861.
- XXXI. ABUGIAR MUSTANIR BILLA having caus'd his Father to be slain, enjoy'd the Fruits of his Parricide but 6 Months and 3 Days; for he † of an Inflammation in his Throat A. D. 862.
- XXXII. MUSTANIR BILLA or Elmuslein, before call'd Abuhamet, the Son Malomet, and the Grand son of Almamun, was Caliph A. D. 862. to 868. But his Army mutinying upon Pretence that he *Turk*advanc'd whom they pleas'd to the Caliphate, without regard to the Abulmams, they depos'd him 865. and
- XXXIII. MUTAZZUS or MOTTAZ, or MOTAZEM BILLA, was substituted in the Room of MUSTANIR, who having reign'd about 3 Years surrender'd the Caliphate to Majstain, whom notwithstanding he caus'd to be murder'd A. D. 868. yet he himself endur'd the same Fate that same Year; for the Turks that serv'd in the Saracen Army, for wanting their Pay, slew him.
- XXXIV. MUTAHAD or MUTAHID, or MUCTADI BILLA the Son of Aaron Watik, was Caliph A. D. 868. reign'd only 11 Months, for he was slain by the Turks A. D. 869. who elected for his Successor
- XXXV. MUTAMID AL-ALLA, before call'd Almeh, the Son of Glafar Abuladus. In whose Time the Saracens made new Wars in Persia, but were beaten by the Assistance of the Turks, who never since left Asia. He † of a Surfeit A. D. 892. after a Reign of 23 Years, at the Age of 50. In his Time also the Caliphate was divided into two Parts, viz. the Caliph of Arabia, and the Caliph of Egypt, the last of which you have in a Table by themselves. This MUTAMIN was succeeded by his Nephew
- XXXVI. MUTAZID or MOKTADID, or MUTEZAD BILLA, the Son of Abuladus, or Mutakad, the Son of Abuladus, A. D. 892. He invaded Thessalonica and Sicily, took Salamena, and laid all the Cyclades desolate. But he † A. D. 900.
- XXXVII. MUCTAFI or MOKTAFI BILLA his eldest Son, succeeded A. D. 900. and † A. D. 907. the Year that the Greeks pass'd as far as Adalia, and took Cyrene.
- XXXVIII. MUCTADIR or MUKTADIR, or MUKTADAR BILLA succeeded his Brother A. D. 907. † A. D. 932. having reign'd 24 Years, 11 Months.

- XL. ACHMED or ARABI BILLA, succeeded his Brother from A. D. 933. to 939. Others say that one KATZ, the Son of MUCTADIR was Caliph at this Time, and make no Mention of the ACHMED.
- As for the Genealogy of the preceding Caliphs, see the following Table. And altho' the following Caliphs had little more than the Name, for the Sultan of the House of ASOBIA had receiv'd from the Caliph MUCTAFI the Royal INSTITUTION, yet we shall continue their Succession in the following Order.
- XLI. MUCTADIR the Brother of KATZ, was Caliph 939. † 943. reign'd 4 Years.
- XLII. MUHAMMAD RASID, succeeded A. D. 943. † 945. reign'd 2 Years.
- XLIII. MATIA the Son of MUCTADIR } Succeeded from A. D. 945. to 990. being 45 Years.
- XLIV. MATIA the Son of MATIA } Succeeded from A. D. 990. † 1031. reign'd 41 Years.
- XLV. MATIA the Son of MATIA } Succeeded from A. D. 1031. to 1035. reign'd 4 Years. Others say he began 1030. and reign'd 5 Years, to 1035.
- XLVI. MATIA the Son of MATIA } Succeeded from A. D. 1035. † 1095. reign'd 60. In his Time TANGROILPIX, who had by the Turks been proclaim'd Sultan or King of Persia, A. D. 1030. † A. D. 1071. and was succeeded by his Son AXAN the same Year. See Tables 149. and 153.
- XLVII. MUCTADIR was Caliph 1095. † 1117. reign'd 22 Years.
- XLVIII. MUCTADIR was Caliph 1117. † 1124. reign'd 7 Years.
- XLIX. MUCTADIR was Caliph 1124. † 1135. reign'd 11 Years.
- L. MUCTADIR, call'd by some Rasheed, the Son of MUCTADIR was Caliph 1135. † 1160. reign'd 25 Years.
- LI. MUCTADIR was Caliph 1160. † 1168. reign'd 8 Years. Then there was an Interregnum for 10 Years.
- LII. MUCTADIR succeeded his Father after the Interregnum A. D. 1170. and reign'd 10 Years, 'till 1180. Others say he reign'd from 1169 to 1179.
- LIII. MUCTADIR was Caliph 1180. † 1225. reign'd 45 Years. Others say he reign'd but 39 Years, from 1179. to 1218.
- LIV. MUCTADIR was Caliph 1225. † 1255. after he had reign'd 30 Years.
- LV. MUCTADIR the last Caliph of High-Priest of the Saracens of Bagdat or Babylon, was starv'd to death in his own Castle of Togdat, and his whole Posseltty loot'd out by Alkan or Alkan, or Alkan the last Tartar King of Persia 1255. and so this Caliphate ended, after it had lasted from the first Year of ABUBEKER, 'till now, 623 Years. Yet there is still some Remains of this great Body, which has a Son of a Caliph for its Head, from whom the neighbouring Princes use to receive their Diadems and Rapids as the Chagan King from the Hoque; for we find that SOLIMAN the Magnificent, after his Conquest of Chindae, Stjepanovic and Affrica, was crown'd King of Babylon by one of these potent Caliphs A. D. 1513.

| I. MELECH and DUCAT the first Turkish Kings of Damascus (by the Gift of AXAN, the second Sultan of the Turks in Persia) added to their Dominions all the rest of Syria, together with Part of Cilicia, and some neighbouring Provinces of Lesser-Asia, the same Time with CUTLU MOSES in Persia.  | 71                        | 1075                          | 1146        |
| II. N. N. the Brother of Sanguin the General, succeeded in Damascus, when the western Christians won the Holy-Land, against whom he valiantly defended his Territories, and in a set Battle overcame and slew Roger the Norman, a Prince of Antioch. And both these two reign'd in all 71 Years.  | 29                        | 1146                          | 1175        |
| III. NORADIN, the Son of Sanguin the General, and his Predecessor's Son-in-law, a noble and a valiant Prince.   | 1                         | 1175                          | 1176        |
| IV. MELECHSALA was contemn'd by his Nobles on Account of his Youth, and therefore SALADIN being elected, he was dispossest'd.   |                           |                               |             |
| Alfredin, surnamed Shiracoch, the first Turkish Sultan of Egypt.   |                           |                               |             |
| V. SALADIN or ZEB-HEDDIN the 2 <sup>d</sup> Egyptian Sultan (see the Sultans of Egypt) having vanquish'd the Persians, (who, under the Conduct of Cacobed, MELECHSALA'S Uncle, intended to restore that Prince) was secur'd in the Kingdom of Damascus; and by the Valour of his Forces depriv'd the Christians of Syria of the Holy-Land and Jerusalem A. D. 1187. others say 1190. and others 1188.   | 23                        | 1176                          | 1199        |
| Saphradin Sultan of Aleppo, was the only Son who escap'd the Cruelty of his Uncle SAPHRADIN.  |                           |                               |             |
| VI. ELADEL or EL-APHTZEL the eldest Son, succeeded his Father in Damascus, which he exchange'd for Egypt with his Brother Elaziz.   |                           |                               |             |
| VII. ELAZIZ the second Son, succeeded upon this Exchange, but was murder'd not long after by his Uncle and Successor.   | 63                        | 1199                          | 1262        |
| VIII. SAPHRADIN the Brother of SALADIN, having barbarously murder'd eight of his Nephews (the youngest call'd Saphradin only escaping, who was afterwards Sultan of Aleppo) possessed himself of the Kingdom of Damascus, which at his Death he left to   |                           |                               |             |
| IX. CORRADIN his Son or Nephew, the last Turkish Sultan of Damascus, to which all Syria and Palestine, were made Provincials; for A. D. 1262. the King of Damascus (whither CORRADIN or some Other is uncertain) being captivated by Haalon or Halach the Tartar, and brought before the Walls of Damascus, and threaten'd to be slain if the City was not surrender'd, which the Citizens refusing to do, he was torn in Pieces, and the City taken by Storm. Thus ended the Turkish Kings of Damascus, who had reign'd there the Space of 188 Years, from the Beginning of the Reign of MELECH and DUCAT. |                           |                               |             |

| Jundus, or Dunder. | Serngatin his Father's eloquent Ambassador to ALADIN I. King at Iconium. | I. OTHMEN, by others call'd OTTOMAN, or Osman, the Son of ORTHOGULES Prefect of Cilicia and Caramania, under the same Aladin, who gave him also Royal Insignia; but Aladin being dead, he settled the Supremacy on himself, and, during the Discords betwixt the two ANDRONICI Emperors at Constantinople, the Grandfather and Grandson, he settled the Seat of his Government there at Neapolis, which he called Despotopolis, or the Lord's City. He began to reign 1299. and next Year 1300. became the great Sultan, or first Emperor of the Turks. † 1328. and reign'd 29 Years, buried at Prusa in Bithynia. From him the Ottoman Family had its Name, and to him the Janisaries owe their Beginning and Institution. N. N. his Wife, Daughter of a Mahometan Priest. | JOHN Cantacuzenus the Constantinopolitan Emperor, was reduc'd by his Son-in-law JOHN Palaeologus.See Table CXLVIII. |

|--|--|---|
| ALI-BASHA, or Aladin, who readily consented to make his Brother the Emperor. | II. ORCHANES, or Urchan, call'd Ali-Ghazi, the youngest, took Possession of the Empire, and having fix'd the same in Asia: pass'd the Hellespont, and raz'd many Places in Europe. He likewise made himself Master of Nicea in Bithynia: He began to reign A. D. 1328. and † 1359. having reign'd 31, aged 80 Years. | Theodora Emanuel. Helen the Wife of JOHN Palaeologus. |

Solyman the eldest Son rul'd the Empire with his Brother AMURATH, as some think; but others more justly say, he † a little before his Father, and was the first that made a Settlement in Europe.

III. AMURATH I. or Murath, the younger Brother, he largely extended the Bounds of the Empire in Europe, and fix'd the Seat of it at Adrianople. He was good both in Peace and War, the Friend and Ally of JOHN Palaeologus the Emperor at Constantinople, and was slain after he had won a Battel, by a Christian Soldier, who stab'd him in the Field amidst his Triumph, when he had reign'd about 30 Years: began A. D. 1358. and † 1388. His Wife was a Princess of Moldavia, a Christian.

Sauces, in his Father's Stead, took Care of the War in Asia, against the rebellious Turks; JOHN Palaeologus the Emperor fighting in Europe, being his Ally: but being found guilty of a Conspiracy with ANDRONICUS Palaeologus against his Father, he was taken by his Father, and had his Eyes put out.

IV. BAJAZET I. call'd Gilderum, or Wilderim, or Lightning, He kept the Empire after his Father, was Judge of the Affairs of Constantinople: but after he had obtain'd various Victories, he was at last taken in Battel by Tamerlan King of Tartary, who was excited to take up Arms by those very Turks whom BAJAZET oppress'd, and who shut him up in an Iron Cage, where he was made to suffer many Indignities, which so vex'd him, that he † miserably, by dashing his Brains against the Cage. He began 1389. and was taken A. D. 1399. His Wives, 1. Halun Daughter of Germean Oglu, a great Mahometan Prince in Asia. 2. Mary, who after her Husband was taken was scornfully used.

Jagupes, or Jacob, call'd by the Greeks Solyman, immediately after his Father's Death, when he was yet in his prime, was strangled to Death by his Brother BAJAZET.

JOSUA, or Jesus, or Isai. his Father, being taken, laid hold on the Kingdom, 1399. was slain by his Brother, 1403. reign'd 4 Years. | VI. MUSULMAN, or Soliman I. thro' a Desire of Rule, vanquish'd and slew his Brother JOSUA, 1403. and was himself slain by Moses, 1410. reign'd 7 Years. | VII. MOSES, or Musa, overthrew and slew MUSULMAN, A. D. 1410. but was himself slain by Mahomet, A. D. 1414. reign'd above 3 Years. | VIII. MAHOMET I. by the Assistance of the Greeks, in a long War, vanquish'd and slew his Brother MOSES, and after him Mustapha, for whose Imprisonment he had long Peace with the Greeks. He restor'd the primitive Glory of the Ottoman Empire. He began to reign 1413. and having reign'd near 12 Years, † A. D. 1422. | Mustapha I. having escap'd the Grecian Prison, and being excited to rival his Brother, he thereby perisht, the pretended Son of Bajazet. | Cazan Zelebi was sent to Constantinople by his Brother Solyman. |

| MEHUMED the Sultan, who began 1445. But he was banish'd by his Nobles, and his Father Morad restor'd. But other Authors differ much from Scaliger.   |   |                      |      |                                  |                      |                      |   |  |   |   |   |  |

But these three Emperors were not exactly successive, and rather somewhat cotemporary.

ORCHAN, or Urchan, the Son of Musulman, surnamed Zelebi, after his Father's Death fled to Constantinople.

Despoina the Daughter of the Despot of Servia, and a Christian.

IX. AMURATH II. the eldest, having slain his Brother, who was his Rival, he became the sole Emperor of the Turks, A. D. 1422. a victorious Prince, he besieg'd Constantinople, conquer'd the greatest Part of Greece and Macedonia: He infest'd Hungary, and discomfited the Christians at Varna; from him the valiant SCANDERBEG revolted. He † at the Siege of Croia, after he had reign'd 25 Years, A. D. 1450. aged 85 Years. He also had to Wife N. N. the Daughter of Sponderbeus.

Mustapha the younger living with Caramanmus, after his Father's Death, at the Invitation of the Greeks, he came against his Brother, but being betray'd into his Hands he was strangl'd, because Amurath would not spill the Ottoman Blood.

The Turkish Emperors at Constantinople.

|--|----------------|--|---|---|---|
| X. MAHOMET II. surnamed the Great, took Constantinople, Sinopi, Trapezus, or Trebizond, and conquer'd the whole Oriental Empire, which the Greeks had kept all now, viz. A. D. 1453. then he vanquish'd Macedonia, Greece, and the Illyrian Country: He oppos'd Alim Callaneo King of Persia in the East, and John Hunnides in Hungary, and the brave SCANDERBEG in Epirus, who yet † in Peace, A. D. 1466. He vally extended the Empire he receiv'd from his Ancestors. He † A. D. 1481. of his Reign the 31st Year: for he began his Reign A. D. 1450. supposed to be poison'd. Mustapha call'd Caraman-Pey, a smart Youth, fought valiantly with his Father. He † at Iconium before his Father. | Achmet. | Aladin Zelebi was slain by his Father Amurath II. Others say he † by a Fall from his Horse. | Chasan Zelebi, He turn'd Christian, and at his Baptism was call'd Calixtus Osmanier. | Orchan slain by Mahomet his Brother. | Calcpinus, He was slain by his Brother presently after the Beginning of his Reign. |

These three were born to Amurath by the Daughter of Sponderbeus.

II. BAJAZET II. born 1483. succeeded his Father in the Empire 1481. was unfortunate in Asia against Calchbesus the Egyptian, but in Greece he had Success against the Venetians, and before that against the Hungarians and Illyrians at the River Savus: but he receiv'd a great Overthrow in Asia by HISMAEL-SOPHY King of Persia, He † A. D. 1512. after he had reign'd 32 Years. Wife N. N.

Zizimus, or Giemen, or Zemes, after 3 unfortunate Engagements against his Brother, which he undertook by the Aid of the Sultan of Egypt and Caramanmus, was forc'd to escape his Brother's Rage by flying to Rhodes, and from thence into Italy, where he liv'd till A. D. 1495. when he was poison'd by Order of the Pope.

TABLE CLVII.

The Mahometan SOVEREIGNS of Egypt, viz.

The Saracen CALIPHS, the Turkish SULTANS, and the Mamaluke SULTANS that reign'd in Egypt.

EGYPT was made a Roman Province by the Emperor AUGUSTUS, when Antony and Cleopatra kill'd themselves,

A. M. 3974 }
Bef. Ch. 30. } 4004.

When the Ptolemaic Kings of Egypt ended. And that Country was govern'd by a Roman Deputy. In the latter End of the Emperor TRAJAN's Reign, (who † A. D. 117.) the Jews in Egypt and Cyrene made a horrible Rebellion, and were as horribly punish'd by the Romans. The vile Emperor CARACALLA (who † about A. D. 218.) went to Alexandria, and because that People had formerly jeer'd and mock'd him, he surpriz'd them at the publick Games by his Soldiers, and slew numberless Numbers of all Ages, Ranks, and Degrees. When VALERIAN the Emperor was taken Prisoner by the Parthians, A. D. 259. JEMILIAN one of the 30 Tyrants, and the Roman General in Egypt, seiz'd on that ancient Kingdom. But GALLIENUS the Emperor sent Theodatus against him, who took him and put him to Death in Prison. When AURELIAN the Emperor, return'd from his Expedition into the East, about A. D. 273. one Firmus a Roman Commander in Egypt revolted, and proclaim'd himself King; but AURELIAN march'd against him into Egypt, and reduc'd that Country. When PROBUS became Emperor, A. D. 276. SATURNINUS a wife and valiant Commander, was by the Egyptians and his own Forces proclaim'd Emperor there, but was reduc'd by PROBUS, and slain. In the Reign of DIOCLESIAN, who began A. D. 284. Achilleus revolted in Egypt, and proclaim'd himself Emperor; but DIOCLESIAN march'd against him, defeated him, besieg'd him in Alexandria (which he took) condemn'd Achilleus to be devour'd by Lions, and put to Death the Ringleaders and Abettors of that Rebellion. After this Egypt continued under the Roman Emperors in Peace, except that in the Reign of THEODOSIUS the Great, (who began A. D. 379.) there was a bloody Tumult at Alexandria upon a religious Account, and a Quarrel between the Heathens and Christians: as afterwards in the Reign of THEODOSIUS II. (who began A. D. 409.) between the Jews and Christians, but all Things continued otherwise quiet till the Reign of HERACLIUS the Emperor, (who began A. D. 611.) in whose Time MAHOMET the great Prophet of the Saracens flourish'd, and the Mahometan Era began A. D. 622. call'd the Hegyra, or Mahomet's Flight from Mecca. When OMAR, or Omar, the 2<sup>d</sup> Caliph of the Saracens, march'd from Arabia into Egypt, where he rais'd a large Sum of Gold, and reduc'd the Egyptians to pay him yearly 200000 Crowns, A. D. 635. But after 2 Years the Prefect of Egypt refusing Payment, the Saracens invaded that Country with a powerful Army, and entirely conquer'd it, A. D. 637. or A. M. 4640. after the Death of Cleopatra, or the Conquest of AUGUSTUS, 667 Years. Thus Egypt came under the Domination of the Caliphs of Arabia, Syria, and Persia, commonly call'd the Caliphs of Bagdat, or Babylon, for 234 Years, (see the Tables of those Caliphs) till weary of their Yoke, they would have a Caliph of their own, and totally revolting, they chose and set up their own Caliph at Cairo in Egypt, to whom the Saracens and Moors in Africa did submit themselves, A. D. 870.

I.

The Saracen Caliphs of Egypt are these following.

Tolon.

- I. AACHMADES, or Achmat, was Caliph A. D. 870. An. Hegyra 249. reign'd 10 Years, until A. D. 880.
- II. TOLON, or Tolen, succeeded A. D. 880. A. H. 259. † A. D. 883. having reign'd 3 Years.
- III. HAMAR, or Hamaria, was Caliph A. D. 883. A. H. 262. † 903. reign'd 20.
- IV. ABARUN, or Abarun, began A. D. 903. A. H. 282. was slain by Muchtaphi, or Mustapha, Caliph of Babylon, A. D. 940. and in him the Family of TOLON was extind.

Tangus.

- V. ACHID, or Achid Mubamid, succeeded in the Caliphat, A. D. 941. A. H. 320. reign'd 4 Years, † A. D. 945.
- VI. AMERD was Caliph A. D. 945. A. H. 324. † A. D. 970. He was the last of the Family of TANGUS. He reign'd 26 Years. In his Time Elcain a Prince of the Saracens built Meair in Egypt, which became the Royal Residence.

A new Race call'd the Fatimide SULTANS.

- VII. MOAZ, or Meaz-Iedon Illabi, or Ledin-Illabin a Stranger, but of the Lineage of MAHOMET by his Daughter Fatima, march'd from Proper Africa, and conquer'd Egypt, and began to reign A. D. 971. A. H. 350. † A. D. 974. reign'd 4 Years. See the following Table.
- VIII. AZIZ, or Elaziz Ledin Illabin, was Caliph A. D. 975. A. H. 354. † 995. reign'd 21 Years.
- IX. ELHACHAM, or Elhachani, or Hacham, was Caliph A. D. 996. A. H. 375. † A. D. 1019. reign'd 24 Years.
- X. ETABER, or Etaber, or Taher Lauzizdin, or Leuzizdin Illabi, was Caliph A. D. 1020. A. H. 399. † 1034. reign'd 15 Years.
- XI. MUSTERATZER, or Mustenatzer Billabi, was Caliph A. D. 1035. A. H. 414. † 1094. reign'd 60 Years.
- XII. MUSTEAL was Caliph A. D. 1094. A. H. 473. † A. D. 1100. reign'd 6 Years.
- XIII. ETAMIR Babacan, or Babalam Illabi, was Caliph at 5 Years of Age, under the Tuition of Aphizala Wuzer, A. D. 1101. A. H. 480. He † A. D. 1135. reign'd 35 Years.
- XIV. ERAPHY Ladin Illabi, succeeded A. D. 1136. A. H. 515. the Time of his Reign was short, and very uncertain.
- XV. ETAPHAR, or Etzahar, was slain as soon as he was Caliph, and succeeded by his Son
- XVI. ELPHATZI, or Elphatiz, at the Age of 5 Years, under the Tuition of Ifi-Etzahdin, the Son of Tazir, he was slain by Afredin Shemach, as also was his Son, A. D. 1162.
- XVII. ETZAR Ledin Illabi, was the last Caliph of Egypt of the Fatimide Race, or the Race of Fatima the Daughter of MAHOMET. He had no Time to enjoy any Thing more than the Title, for his whole Race was routed by the Turks, under the Conduct of ASKEDIN, and then Egypt was left in the peaceable Possession of the Turkish Sultan. See the Continuation.

The TURKISH Sultans, who now began to reign over Egypt.

|  | reign'dYears. | Begantoreign. | HeDied. |
|--|-------------------|-----------------------|-------------|
| I. ASREDIN, surnamed SHIRACOH, or Sarracon , being sent by Roradin , the Sultan of Damascus , to aid Almeric King of Jerusalem , against the Egyptian Caliph , he took the Advantage and clear'd Egypt of Almeric , dash'd out the Brains of ELPHAIZ the 16th Caliph , and got the whole Kingdom to himself. He was descended of the noble Family of ARUB , and began to reign Anno Hegyra 542.  | 23                | 1163                  | 1186        |
| II. SEH-HEDDIN, or Salavine , the Nephew of SARRACON , reduc'd the Egyptians , obtain'd also the Kingdom of Damascus , and A. D. 1187. regain'd the City of Jerusalem . He justly acquir'd the Title of Great .   | 13                | 1186                  | 1199        |
| III. ELAZIZ succeeded, but soon resign'd in Favour of his Brother Eladel , obtaining in Exchange the Kingdom of Damascus .   |                   |                       |             |
| IV. ELADEL, or Elaphyzel , or Meledine , upon the said Exchange became King of Egypt . He overcame the Christians without the Loss of a Man, at the Siege of Cairo , by letting loose the Sluices of the Nile , which drown'd their Army, and forc'd them to take what Terms he pleas'd.   | 11                | 1199                  | 1210        |
| V. ELCHAMUL, of whom nothing remarkable.   | 27                | 1210                  | 1237        |
| VI. MELECH-ASSALACH, or Melech-Salah , next mounted the Egyptian Throne , he defeated the Croisado under Lewis IX. King of France , near Grand Cairo , where Lewis and his 2 Brothers, Alphonso and Charles , were taken Prisoners, and the brave English Earl of Salisbury slain, A. D. 1240. This Prince was slain by the Soldiers of his Guards, called Mamaluks , as he was going with Lewis towards Damietta .   | 5                 | 1237                  | 1242        |
| VII. ELMUTAN succeeded his Father for a Time; but the Mamaluks being resolv'd to have the Kingdom for themselves, forc'd him to fly to a Tower of Wood, which they set on Fire; from whence the poor Emperor, half burnt, leap'd into the River adjoining, and there was drown'd, which put an End to the Dynasty of the Turkish Sultans , and made Way for  | 3                 | 1242                  | 1245        |
| III.   |                   |                       |             |
| The Mamaluks , who were originally Circassian Slaves , bought by MELECH SALAH, and train'd up to be his Life-Guards, but growing powerful They slew their Master and his Son, and chose one of themselves to mount the Throne of Egypt , after an Interregnum of ten Years, viz.   |                   |                       |             |
| I. TURQUIMENIUS set Lewis of France at Liberty, yet did not perform all the Conditions agreed on between them. He began Anno Hegyra 634.  |                   | 1255                  |             |
| II. CLOTHES, or Elmutabaz , or Cothus , taking the Advantage of the Miseries of the Turks , then distress'd by the Tartars , seiz'd on most of Syria and Palestine , but reign'd not long.   |                   |                       |             |
| III. BANDOCADER, call'd Melech-Daer , that is, a vehement and bold Prince. He took Antioch from the Christians , A. D. 1268. and carried on his Arms as far as Armenia , where he committed great Spoil.  |                   | 1260                  |             |
| IV. MELECH-SAIT, or Melech-Saret , that is, an ordinary Prince, restor'd the Power of the Mamaluks in Syria , where it had been much impair'd by Edward Son to Henry III. King of England , and Henry Duke of Mecklenburg . But Edward return'd to England upon his Father's Death, A. D. 1272.   |                   |                       |             |
| V. ELPIS, or Elphis , or Alphis , banish'd his Predecessor for succeeding his Father contrary to the Institutions of the Mamaluks . He raz'd Tripolis , Berytus , Tyre , and Sidon , that they might be of no Use to the Christians . He was himself slain in the Camp by one of his Priests.  | 5                 | 1286                  | 1291        |
| VI. MELECH-ARAPHUS, or EUSTREPHUS , or Utrephus , or Melech-Seraph , a Native of Germany , raz'd Ptolemais A. D. 1291. He was slain at Hunting by his own Subjects. He releas'd Henry Duke of Mecklenburg , who had been a Prisoner 26 Years.  |                   | 1291                  |             |
| VII. MELECH-NESAR Lieutenant to Araphus his Predecessor, was defeated by Caftanes the Tartar , with the Loss of 40000 Egyptians ; but Caftanes being gone, he recover'd all Syria and destroy'd Jerusalem , for which he was made Sultan of Egypt .  |                   |                       |             |
| VIII. MELECH-ADAL is thought to be that Sultan, who reign'd in Egypt when it was conquer'd by Tamerlan .   |                   |                       |             |
| IX. MELECH-SAEIA, or Melech-Salar , conquer'd the Island Cyprus , A. D. 1423. and from thenceforth made its Kings tributary to the Mamaluks Sultans.   |                   |                       |             |
| X. CATHBEYUS much reform'd the State of Egypt , and greatly oppos'd BAJAZET II. the 8th Sultan of the Turks .   | 33                | 1465                  | 1498        |
| XI. MAHOMET was soon depos'd for fear the Kingdom should be made Hereditary, contrary to their Constitution.   | 1                 | 1498                  | 1499        |
| XII. CAMPSON I. call'd Chiarcellus , was elected to the Throne, but depos'd by ?  | 1                 | 1499                  | 1500        |
| XIII. ZANBALLAT, who not long after was dethron'd by,  | 1                 | 1500                  | 1501        |
| XIV. TOMOMBEIUS I. who was outed by the joint Consent of the Mamaluks , to make Way for   | 1                 | 1501                  |             |
| XV. CAMPSON II. surnamed Gaurus , after a prosperous Reign of 16 Years, siding with Ismael the Persian Sophy , against Selim I. Emperor of the Turks . He lost both his Life and the Day, in a Battel near Aleppo , mainly by the Treachery of Caerbepus , who revolted to the Enemy.  | 16                | 1501                  |             |
| XVI. TOMOMBEIUS II. or Tuman-Beg , was a Christian born, and then the Great Diadare , the last Mamaluks Sultan; for Selim I. overcame the valiant Mamaluks in an Engagement at Mishorea , and then besieg'd and took Grand Cairo ; and the poor Sultan himself was taken, his Hands tied behind his Back, and cloth'd with Rags, was set upon a lean Camel, and thus carried through the Streets of the City; after which, on the 13th of April 1517. he was openly strangled. And thus ended the Mamaluks Sultans of Egypt , (which afterwards became subjected to the Emperor of the Turks , of whose Succession see the last Table.) after It had lasted 272 Years. |                   |                       | 1517        |

VIII. HALI succeeded his Father 1115 and † 1121. reigning 6 Years.

IX. HACEM succeeded 1121. he was the last of the Family of Zehid; for A. D. 1147. the Franks came out of Sicily with a mighty Army, and conquer'd all unto the Plains of Caravan, and so divell'd HACEM of the Kingdom. And thus ended the Family of Zehid, of which 9 Kings had reign'd 151 Years.

V. IBRAHIM was nam'd King A. D. 1037. being no more than 8 Years and 7 Months old, and A. D. 1057. forb'd making any Prayers for the Fatimide Caliphs. But caus'd some to be made for the Abassides of Bagdat. He declar'd War against IBRAHIM his Father's Uncle, and forc'd him to beg Peace A. D. 1050.

A new Race call'd the Almohades.

I. ABUTECHIFIEN, of the Tribe of Zinagie, of the Lupstune Branch, a Native of Gurgela, assum'd the Title of Amir de Mominia, that is, Emperor of the Carthacks; hence he and his Successors are call'd the Almohades; he fixt his Imperial Seat at Agmet; and after having defracted and expell'd the Arabians out of the west Parts of Tingitana, now call'd the Kingdom of Morocco, became the first King of Africa, Tremessen and Tunis. He † A. D. 1086.

II. JOSEPH succeeded his Father A. D. 1086. and remov'd his royal Residence from Agmet to Morocco, which he himself had built, or rather finish'd what his Father had begun, where, after a short reign of 24 Years, he † at Morocco 1110. leaving his Son for his Successor. He made Wars upon and made himself Master of Fex, Tremessen and Tunis.

III. ALI succeeding his Father, built the chief Mosque in Morocco, and was defeated and slain in a great Battle by King Alphonso, where 30000 Morocs were slain; this happen'd A. D. 1145. upon the Remains of the Army set his Son on the Throne, viz.

IV. Alphonso who was call'd Amir-el-Melemin, the last of this Family whose Kings were Cotemporary with the last Kings of the House of Zehid. In this Prince's Time, the Sicilians, the old Lords of Melodia, being enticed by Alphonso to march to Caravan, he suddenly join'd the Morocs, and flew 7000 Sicilians, but could not take Melodia. Then Alphonso making War upon the Almohades was captivated and sent to Brabem, who caus'd his Eyes to be put out, and clapt him up in a Dungeon till he †, after whom succeeded the Almohades, whose Figure is follow.

A new Race call'd the Almohades or Moahedins.

I. ABULMUMEN. In his Time, because of the manifold Cominations, there were erected many petty Sovereignities, there being a King in Tripoli, Caravan, Tunis, Bugie, Algiers, Tremessen, &c. yet he conquer'd Fex and Morocco, Mauritania, Tingitana, the Numadians Citilians, Tunis, Tremessen &c. Abulmumen began A. D. 1148. † 1156. reign'd 8.

II. JOSEPH succeeded 1156. pass'd into Spain with 60000 Horse and 100000 Foot A. D. 1158. and at the Siege of Santarem, A. D. 1171. he was slain with an Arrow, others say one of his own Men that him, which occasion'd great Troubles to arise in Africa, but were composed by

III. JACOB ALMANFOR, who conquer'd all from Messa to Tripoli, which contains about 1200 Leagues in Length, and 180 in Breadth; yet, notwithstanding, his Greatness, is reported to have † a Baker at Alexandria, about A. D. 1205.

IV. BRAHIM the Brother of Jacob was elected Governor of his Dominions in his Absence, but hearing no Word of him, (for they believ'd he went to visit Abulmumen's Tomb) in a Year's Space, they set his Son MAHOMET on the Throne A. D. 1206.

V. MAHOMET CHACET after many warlike Adventures was defeated in the Battle fought in the Plains of Touluse A. D. 1212. where 60000 Morocs were slain

VII. ABULCADEM not being strong enough, others of the Family set up for themselves, and split the Empire into several small Sovereignities. Abulcaemet Budebas posses'd Tulla and Dominet. But Idia he gave to the King of Fex.

VIII. ABULCADEM was appointed his Successor, which occasion'd the Revolt of the Governors of the Provinces, and after his Death they elected his Uncle Abulcaemet.

A new Race call'd the Benimerinins

N. N.

I. ABULCADEM Governor of Fex, having defeated ABULCADEM with the Almohades, became the last King of the Benimerinins, a potent Prince.

Jacob was the Guardian of his Nephew JOSEPH, after the Death of his Brother ABULCADEM.

II. ABULCADEM Governor of Alger, or the ancient King was call'd King of Fex; after a prosperous reign A. D. 1283. Fex was sent into Spain to assist the King of Granada against the Christians.

III. ABULCADEM was King of Fex 1284. unfortunate in Spain 1291. and surrender'd Alger to the King of Granada 1294. † 1330. having reign'd 46 Years.

IV. ABULCADEM contended with his Brother for the Kingdom 1331. with good Success; was a most potent Prince; yet was depos'd by his own Sons A. D. 1346. after he had been King 15 Years, and †.

Ceyd contended in vain for the Kingdom.

V. ABULCADEM was twice sent into Spain, the last time he was defeated and † with Wounds A. D. 1339.

V. ABULCADEM having despoil'd his Father A. D. 1346. became King of Fex, which he adorn'd with beautiful Edifices. He also made the Kingdoms of Tunis and Tremessen his Tributaries.

N. N.

VI. ABULCADEM was King 1409. whether he was the immediate Successor of Abulmumen is uncertain. He was a Prince more inclin'd to Debaucheries than War. He was slay'd by AbulcaDEM his Nephew, together with his young Sons.

N. N. Christian. Spaniard.

ABULCADEM was sent by his Brother AbulcaDEM with a small band to Granada, on Purpose that he should fall there, for he was hated by his Brother for his Popularity.

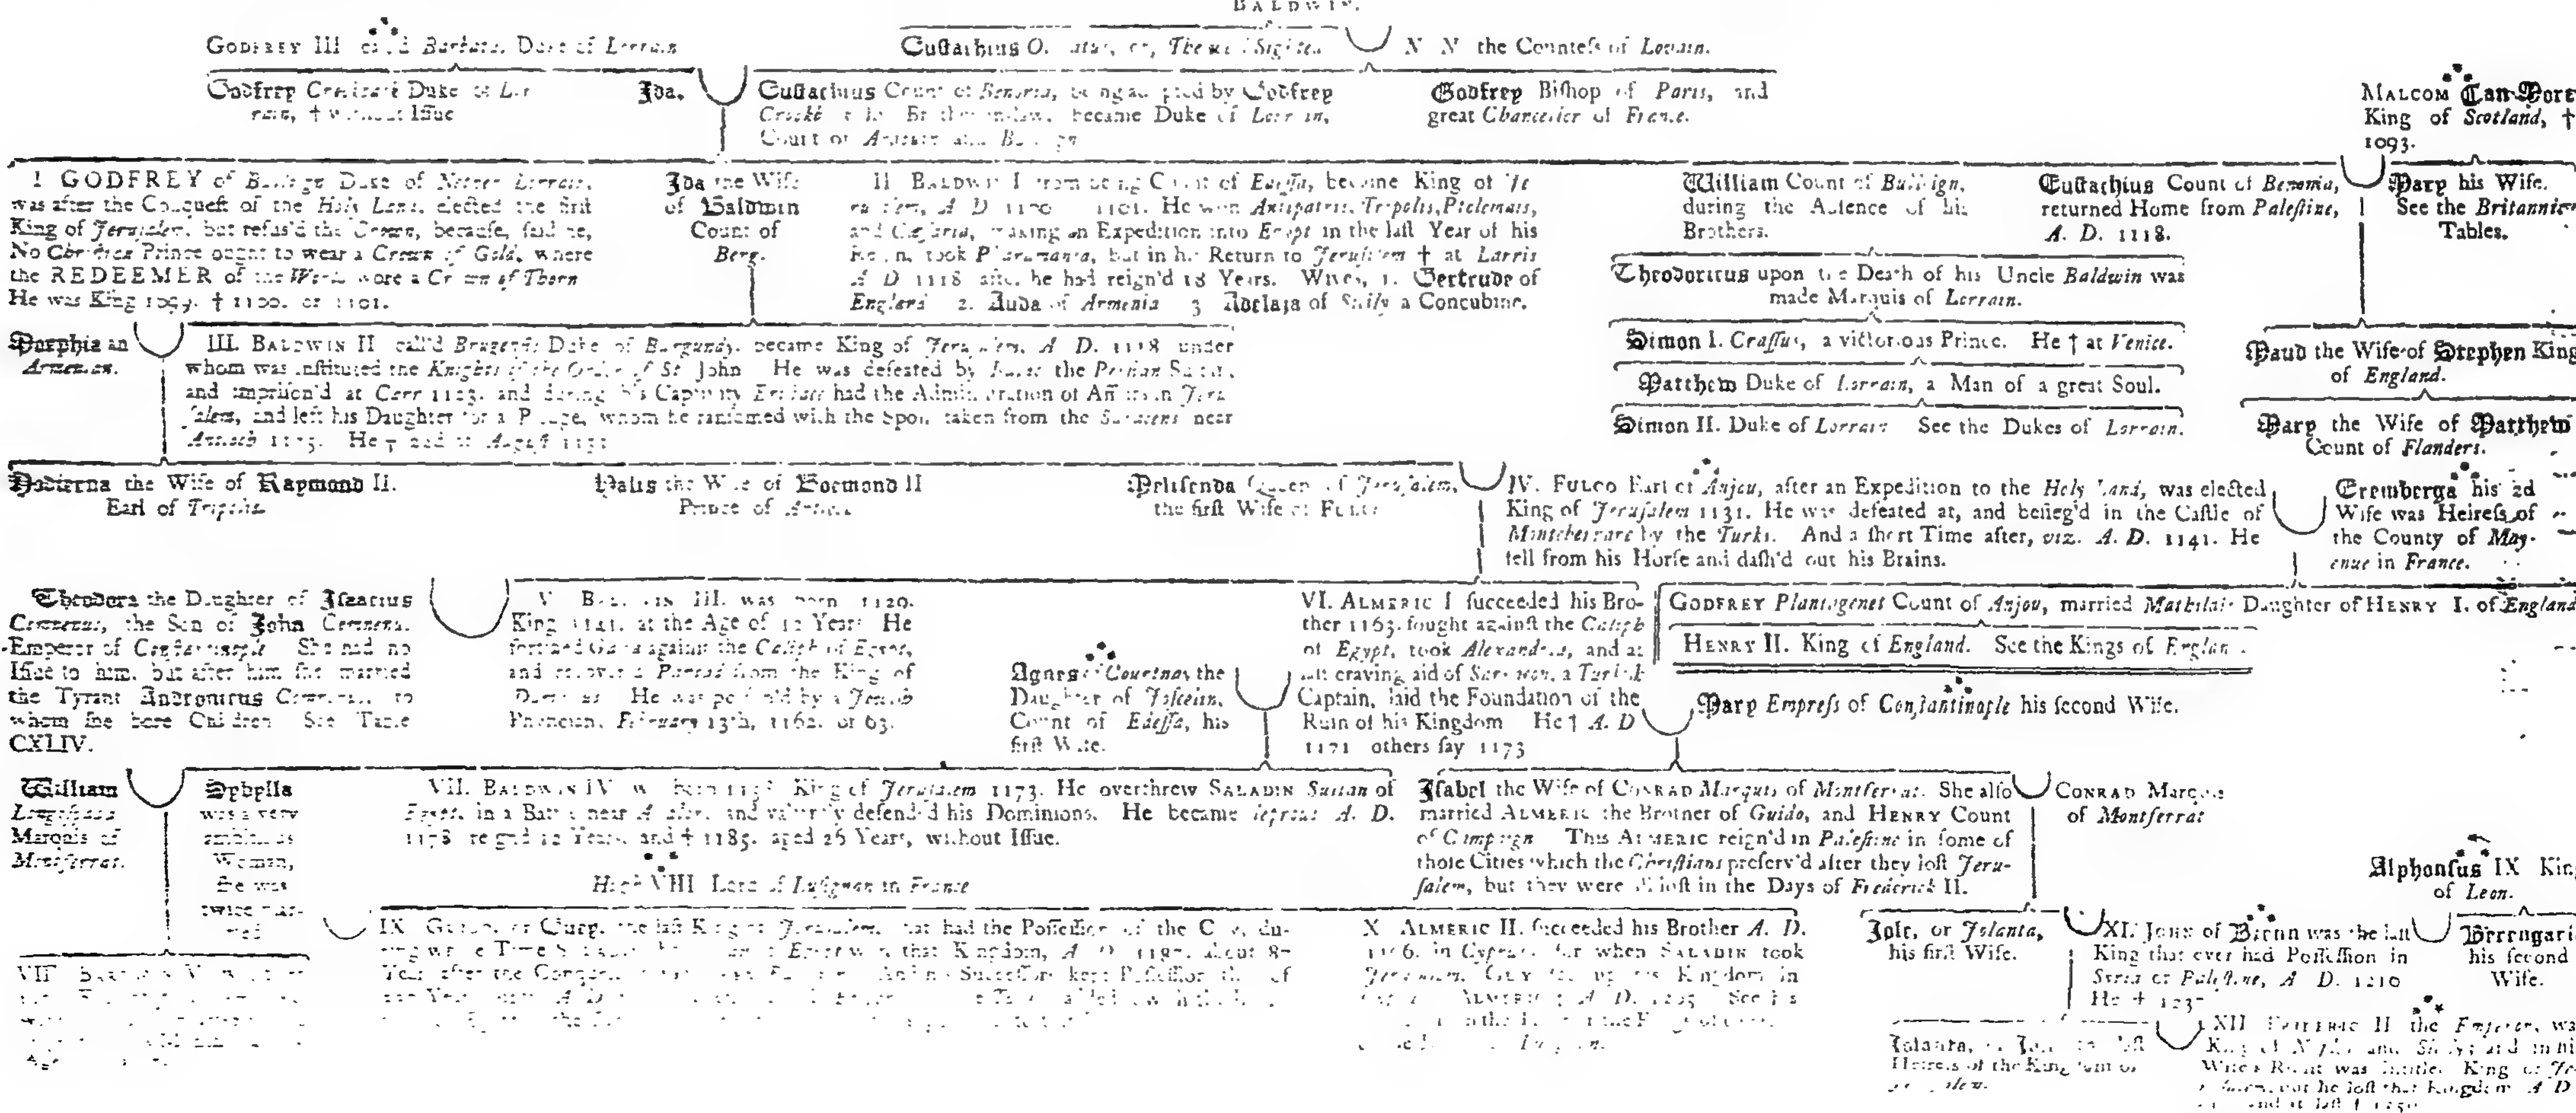

N. N. other Sons, who joyfully acknowledg'd their Nephew for King, after his Father's Death.

VII. ABULCADEM the last King of the Benimerinins, for he was assassinated by one AbulcaDEM, who got himself proclaim'd King in his stead, but was oppos'd and overcome by AbulcaDEM, who believ'd and took Fex A. D. 1471. This is the last King of the Benimerinins, who were Benimerinins, of the Race of the Benimerinins; they reign'd only in Fex, besides Alger, &c. had Kings of their own, and did not own his Authority. See the Chronicle of Africa and Kings of Morocco.

TABLE CLIX.
The CHRISTIAN KINGS of Jerusalem.

TITUS Vespasian having destroy'd the City and Temple of Jerusalem, dispers'd the Nation of the Jews, who spread themselves over the Face of the Earth, viz. A. M. 4073. and A. D. 69.
Balaſtine remain'd ſubject to the Roman Emperors, till Constantine King of Persia and Parthia, extended his Conquest westward, and took in that Country from the Emperor HERACLIUS, A. D. 615. But HERACLIUS rais'd an Army, and bravely dispos'd of CHOSROES from whom he recover'd the Cross, which he brought in great Triumph to Constantinople, as DAVID did the Ark from Kirjath-jearim to Jerusalem, A. D. 617. But A. D. 637.
Omar the 1st Caliph of the Saracens made himself Master of this Country, and then the Christians groan'd under the Saracen Yoke the Space of 442 Years, until A. D. 1099. when the Turks conquer'd the Saracens, and added Palestine to their Empire.
The Christians groan'd under the Turkish Tyranny the Space of 20 Years, during which Time PETER a French Hermit, went on Pilgrimage to the Holy Land, about A. D. 1073. where seeing how the Christians were oppress'd, receiv'd from them a Letter to Pope Urban II. to follow the Western Christians for their Relief. The Pope was glad of that Opportunity, and us'd all his Interest to forward the Western Prince, upon an Expedition to recover and relieve the Eastern Christians, for he knew that their Absence would forward his own Liberty, to play his Game at Home, according to the famous Council of Clermont was rais'd, wherein a Croisade was agreed upon, and PETER the Hermit appointed Captain General of the first Army, A. D. 1095. which had but bad Success, being beat by the Turks A. D. 1096. But GODFREY of Ballins arriving at Constantinople with a new Host, gave some Relief to PETER's gasping Army. Then they march'd from Constantinople to Bithynia, besieg'd and took the Capital City, A. D. 1097. After which they march'd toward Syria, defeated the Turks at Hattin, and were made Masters of Arach, 1098. Then they directed their Course for Jerusalem, which they besieg'd and took A. D. 1099. and by that noble Action the Christians were freed from that Yoke, under which they had groan'd the Space of 462 Years.
The Holy Land being thus recover'd, was offer'd by the Princes to ROBERT Duke of Normandy, Son to WILLIAM the Conqueror King of England, with the Title of King of Jerusalem: but he hoping for the Injoyment of the Crown of England, refus'd that Dignity, and never got her'd afterwards. Then the Princes elected GODFREY of Ballins, of whom and his Successors in Jerusalem, I exhibit the following Genealogical Scheme.

TABLE CLX.

The Genealogy of the Christian Kings of Armenia, in the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Centuries.

The Preliminary.

THIS Country was first planted by Chul or Chul, the Son of Aram, the Son of Shem; for the Town Cholna and the Region Culbene or Cholbatene, and the Place Cholbeth or Chul's House are Vestiges thereof. It had its own Kings very early, for NINUS the 3<sup>d</sup> from Nimrod, was aided in his Wars against Zoroaster King of Bactria, by BARZANES King of Armenia; but we have no continued Catalogue of his Successors.

We read next of ARAXES King of Armenia, who was drown'd in the River Heimius, from him call'd Araxes.

The next we read of is ARTAXA or Artaxius Governor of Armenia, under ANTIOCHUS Magnus King of Syria, but revolting made himself King of Armenia the Greater, and built the Capital Artaxata, was a Friend to the Romans, and was overthrown by ANTIOCHUS Epiphanes King of Syria.

The next King of Armenia we read of is TIGRANES I. whose Offspring are set down in Table XCVII. See also Table XCI. and XCVIII. where some Kings of Armenia are mention'd, who were enthron'd and dethron'd at the Pleasure of the Roman Emperors, untill TRAJAN reduced it into the Form of a Province.

But afterwards in the reign of the Emperor CONSTANTIUS, the Armenians had their own Sovereign Kings, till the Days of the Emperor JUSTINIAN II. about A. D. 687. when it was subdued by the Saracens, who kept it till the Turks took it from them about A. D. 844.

But the greatest Part of the Turks emptying themselves into Persia and Lesser Asia, the Christians in Armenia became powerful and erected Kings of their own, till again subdued by HOCATA, the Son of JENGHIS CHAN or Cinges, the great Cham of Tartary, when he invaded Persia about A. D. 1202.

Yet the Tartars settling in Persia, had not Leisure to extirpate Christianity in Armenia, nor the Christian Royal Family there, for we find the following Christian Kings of Armenia in the 13th and 14th Centuries.

N. N. an eminent Lord of Armenia, of the Christian Religion.

N. N.

Robinus subdued a good Part of Armenia, and laid the Foundation of a new Kingdom there; but was slain by the Snakes of his own Father LEO I.

I. LEO I. depriv'd his Brother of his Life, and his Daughter of the Kingdom; then he was declar'd King of Armenia by the Emperor OTTO IV. and crown'd at A. by CONTADE I. Archbishop of Mentz 1199. 1219. reign'd 20 Years.

II. CONSTANS, a celebrated Man in the Kingdom, was forced to mount the Throne after the Death of LEO I. A. D. 1219. and reign'd to A. D. 1235. the Space of 16 Years.

N. N. his only Daughter and Heiress, was inherit'd by her Uncle LEO, and married to Philip Count of Montfort in Germany.

N. N. his Daughter and Heiress, was importun'd by her Father's Successor CONSTANS, that she was oblig'd to marry his Son HAYTHON.

III. HAYTHON or Aitonius the Heir of the Kingdom of Armenia, succeeded 1225. He excited Gango the great Cham of Tartary (whom he converted to Christianity) to send his Brother Haalon a Christian, who with a great Army overran all Persia and the adjacent Countries, raz'd Bagdad; and as he took the City Rhoda, HAYTHON join'd him with 1200 Horse and 4000 Foot, and so entering into Syria, in a few Days took Alepp, which he sack'd and raz'd A. D. 1260. HAYTHON went into a Cloyster and there 1270. having reign'd 45 Years.

Sinibald a celebrated Man in an eminent Station.

N. N. Haythou the Tartarian Historian went into a Cloyster 1305.

IV. LEONARD I. or LEO II. was King 1270. A. D. 1282. reign'd 12 Years.

Theobornus was slain by the Tartars.

Frederick Prince of Antioch, the Son of the Emperor Frederick II.

Almalatic or the French House of Luhgnan, Prince of Tyros, was slain 1279.

V. LIVONUS II. or LEO III. King of Armenia, reign'd to 137. but had no Heirs.

Michael Palaeologus the Son of Andronicus the Greek Emperor. See his Offspring in Table CXLVIII.

V. LEO IV. was King of Armenia 1331. See the Kings of Syria.

VI. LEO V. was King of Armenia 1331. See the Kings of Syria.

Almalatic was slain by his Father.

IX. LEO V. was King; and call'd Frenez the Widow of his Predecessor LEO IV. to the Convention of St. Asaph, and made her, contrary to her Inclinations, his Wife. See the Table of the Kings of Naples of the Old House of Anjou. He was slain by the Mohels.

Frenez Daughter of Philip Count of Tarentum of the House of Anjou, the Kings of Naples of the Old House of Anjou.

VIII. LEO IV. King of Armenia had no Issue, therefore the Kingdom return'd to his Uncle LEO V.

X. LEO VI. the last King of Armenia 1381. was expell'd by the Turks, and in exile in France, the 29th of November 1392.

The Christian Kings of Armenia, after they had reign'd the Space of 194 Years, when conquer'd by the Turks, who kept it 100 Years.

The Armenians were made a Province of the Kingdom of Persia, by USSON CASSANUS and continued to the Space of 48 Years.

The Syrians A. D. 1515. conquer'd it, and annex'd it to the Ottoman Empire.

But the Conquest was not absolute till the Days of AMURATH III. who erected many Forts for Garrison there, about A. D. 1565.

Continuation of TABLE CLXII.

The learned Lewis Elties Du Pin, in his Universal Bibliothek of Historians, says, the Chinese pretend to have Annals of 49000 Years before FOHI; but the most Part of them agree that these Memoirs are Apocryphal, and unworthy of Credit. One of the most able Writers, call'd Tai-Fu-Cum, declares that there is no History of the Chinese before XIN their 2<sup>d</sup> Emperor: And the Compiler of their grand Annals (which contain about 150 Volumes) declares, he gives no Faith to those ancient Stories, that are only founded upon popular and uncertain Rumours; and that there are no historical Memoirs more ancient than those of XIN, their 2<sup>d</sup> King. 'Tis true, that according to their Annals the Succession of Kings between HOAMTI, the Successor of XIN, and the Christian Era are 2697 Years; to which add 250, or the Years of the Reigns of FOHI and XIN, it will make 2947 Years. This Calculation may well agree with the Time from the Deluge to CHRIST, according to the Chronology of the Septuagint; but according to the Hebrew Text, it carries it back before the Deluge 592 Years, whereby the Chinese may pretend to have Memoirs so long before the Flood. But who can be sure that these Annals were not made much later, or that they are Monuments of Antiquity? Do the Chinese alledge any Proof? Have they any Ancient Author to testify of 'em? Nothing like it; nay, on the contrary, the Chinese History, according to their own Authors, teacheth us, that in the Reign of XI-HOAMTI, about 200 Years before Christ, all the Books of the Religion of the Chinese were burnt by order of that Prince, who search'd for them throughout all the Empire, at the Solicitation of Laokijum, one of his Followers. If any Exemplars were preserv'd, they were imperfect, and have been corrupted, and others have been foisted in the room of the first. The most ancient of their Books, ascribed to FOHI, was not an History, nor a Book written with intelligible Characters, but only a confus'd Parcel of Lines and Half-Lines, differently combin'd, and altogether unintelligible; for the Kings VU VAN and CHEAN-CHU, who liv'd long after, about 1100 Years before Christ, endeavour'd to explain them in vain; and Confutius gave them a Meaning at all Hazard, with which he was not satisfied himself. The other Books of the Chinese, according to themselves, are not above 2000 Years old; and therefore we cannot say they have Monuments more ancient than the Flood; on the contrary, seeing from the Time of FOHI, the use of significative Letters and Characters was not known, the Chinese could not so early transmit Memoirs and Annals in Writing; and what they pretend to be transmitted, is altogether unintelligible; from whence it follows that the pretended Antiquity of their Annals has no real Foundation. Thus Du Pin.

The KINGS or EMPERORS in Japan.

I. DARIO, a Prince, had the only Right to the Empire of Japan, but he lost it A. D. 1550. by the Combination of his Grandees.

N. N. his eldest Son, tho' he was appointed to be his Father's Successor; yet by the Help of his Mother was made General alternatively with his Brother; but abusing his Authority, and usurping the Crown, he was put to a cruel Death by his Father.

II. N. N. the youngest Son, was made General, and after his Brother's Death came to the Throne.

N. N.

III. CUNO rebell'd against the youngest Son of DARIO, and made himself Emperor, but was slain A. D. 1564.

IV. NABUNANGA succeeded his Brother, and † A. D. 1573.

V. FAXIBA became a powerful King and routed the petty Kings.

VI. TAISCOSAMA, an Architect, succeeded NABUNANGA, before call'd Toquixiro † 1598 reign'd 25, aged 64 Years.

VII. FIDERI-SAMNIA, a young Prince, was left under the Guardianship of DAIFUSAMA, who cheated him of the Crown 1599. He was burnt 1616.

N. N. his Daughter, burnt with her Father.

VIII. DAIFUSAMA the Guardian and Father-in-law of the former King, burnt his Pupil and his Daughter 1616. and possess'd himself of the Throne to 1617.

IX. KOMBOSAMA or XOGUNSAMA, surnamed Combosama, succeeded his Father 1617. † 1631. reign'd 14. He was a Persecutor of the Christians.

X. CHIONEON, surnamed Toxogunsama, succeeded 1631. also persecuted the Christians. and † 1650. without Issue.

XI. QUANE, the Kinsman of his Predecessor, was also a minor Prince, who came to the Throne 1650. and since that Time the Names of the Emperors have been unknown.

There are many Kingdoms in the Japonic Islands, but we know nothing of them before A. D. 1542. when the Portuguese first discovered them; and we must wait 'till by Commerce we can find their ancient History. Only the Japane boast of having had a great Royal Family 1600 Years before the Portuguese came thither.

TABLE CLXIV.

The TARTARIAN KINGS.

Some are of Opinion that the Tartars are the Offspring of the Ten Tribes of Israel, but without Ground; for those Israelites gradually forgot the Religion and Language of their Progenitors, and were lost by being mingled with the Chaldeans and Affyrians; whereas the Tartars that invaded Asia, were old Scythians, who boasted of their Descent from JAPHET; and being sore pressed by Want, or oppressed by the King of Tendur, unto whom they were subject, arm'd themselves against him, obtain'd a memorable Victory, and settled CINCIS or Wenghis Chan, their chief Commander, on the Throne A. D. 1162.

I.

The old KINGS of the great Asiatick TARTARY.

I. CHINGIS-CHAN or Jenghis Chan or Cingis, was before call'd Temükin, and was the Son of one Shmiedeg. He rebell'd against the last King of Old-Scythia, call'd Ugham King of Tendur, whom he slew, and was Provoost-Marshal and King of Tartary A. D. 1162.

II. HOCATA the eldest of his 12 Brothers, was King of Tartary, which was much enlarg'd by his Son. He march'd into Persia, and made HAALON King of PERSIA A. D. 1202. See Table CXLIX. He also conquer'd Russia, waik'd Hungary, Bosnia, Servia and Bulgaria; and in his Time the Name of Tartar was first known in Europe.

III. GINUS Jachinun Battus, his Father's Captain, subdu'd Muscovy and Poland, even unto Schlesien, A. D. 1442. Cagadanus went in Person with an Army against India.

IV. MANGO-CHAN embrac'd Christianity, and was baptiz'd A. D. 1858. by the Persuasion of HAITHON or Aiton King of Armenia, who excited him to send his Brother Haalon, with a great Army against the Turks in Syria and Palestine, which prosper'd so well, that in 6 Months Time, he therewith over-ran all Persia and the adjacent Countries. MANGO † A. D. 1260.

Cingis or Chingis was put to Death by his Father.

VI. TEMUR, the last ancient King of Tartary, 1298. After his Death there was a great Disturbance in the State of Tartary, which continued a whole hundred Years.

TAMERLAN extended the Bounds of this Kingdom A. D. 1370. and conquer'd Bajazet the Turkish Emperor A. D. 1402. But he † 1404. and his large Dominions were divided among his 4 Sons. See his Genealogy Table CLXVI.

The TARTARIAN WAGORS.

I. ZINGIZ or CHINGIS-CHAN a Prince of Tartary, by Trade a Black-Smith, but being chosen General of some of the chief of the Herds or Shepherds, he with a Troop of Mogli march'd South, subdu'd the Countries as far as Mount Belgian, Part of Imaus, and so afterwards became King of Scythia, East Tartary, and signaliz'd himself by his Victories over the Russians, &c. He † at Keton-Kotan A. D. 1228. and divided his Conquests among his four Sons,

II. TUSHA-CHAN receiv'd from his Father D'bast, Capecha, Rhoz and Abugbear. He † without Issue.

III. CHACATAY-CAWN also † without Issue. He receiv'd Mairrenabar, Aygor and Ghorrazzan.

Minabonna his Wife.

IV. OGG or OCTAW-CHAWN became Heir to his two Brother's Seigniories, at their Deaths, besides Part of Bastria and Mount Caucasus, which he had of his Father before. He gain'd Part of the Persian Monarchy, as far as Babylon. He † A. D. 1252.

Tuli-Chan was Heir only to his Father's Jewels and Treasure.

V. GAYUC-CHAN an Infant at his Father's Death, under the Guardianship of his Mother, but he † when he had scarce reign'd 3 Years.

VI. MANCHU CHAWN succeeded his Cousin GAYUC and finding diverse Conspiracies form'd against him, he contracted an Alliance with some Neighbouring Princes, to whom he entrusted the Command of several Provinces of his Empire, on Condition they should hold of him in Chief; but not having Occasion to try their Fidelity, at his Death he nam'd one ULAKUC CAWN for his Successor.

N. N. his legitimate Wife.

VII. ULAKUC-CAWN delighted in Arms, and having quieted all domestick Troubles, he conquer'd Babylon, a great Part of Arabia and Aleppo, &c. over which he rul'd with great Prudence; and at his Death call'd his Sons together, and exhorting them to Unity, gave each of them Seigniories. He † A. D. 1270.

N. N. his Concubine.

VIII. HADKAY-KAWN receiv'd the Provinces of Herat, Mazendran and Korazan which comprehended the antient Media, Bastria, Hircania and Sogdiana, but † the same Year at Hamadan in Persia, and left his Son Argou to the Care of his Brother NICADOR OGLAN.

Spac-Shahmet had Aro, Adar-bayan, Part of Armenia and Iberia.

Catodon-Caton had Diarbeck, Rabaiou or Me-sopotamia.

IX. NICADOR-ONLA being made Guardian of his Nephew Argou, establish'd himself in his Nephew's Right by the Name of Hameth Caton, and oblig'd him to save his Life by flight; however he † mad within a short time, A. D. 1275.

Tergahé Caton the youngest Son.

N. N. his Wife.

XII. BALDUC-CHAN succeeded his Nephew GIOVATOR, and after a reign of 5 Years. † without Issue.

X. ARGOU-CAWN was banish'd by his Uncle and Guardian, but upon his Death was restored and crown'd by the Name of TANGADAR HADKAY ZEDDA, that is Son to HADKAY CAWN but for his Tyranny became odious to his Subject, who stir'd up the Parthians against him, by whom he was overthrow'n in Battle, greatly tormented, his Belly stir'd up, and his Entrails given to be eaten by Dogs.

XI. GIOVATOR CHAN was slain by BALDUC-CHAN, his Uncle, in the 4th Year of his Reign, without Issue.

XVI. HONARO Mirza, or Abu seid, or Bahador Chan, succeed'd Alaptu; but spending his Time in Lewdness, he † without Issue, and his Kingdom became a Theater of War; no less than 30 contending at once for the Sovereignty, therefore Necessity oblig'd the People to have recourse to

XIV. GAZUR-CHAN having slain his Cousin BADU, succeed'd, but he was speedily reveng'd; for he was wound'd to death by his own Domesticks, and his Body lay for a long Time unburied. This happen'd A. D. 1305.

XV. ALIAPTU ABUSAD or Bahomet Ben-Argou succeed'd his Brother.

XIII. BADU was banish'd with his children; but declaring himself to be a Christen, the People's Loyalty was laid up, and he was left he was the GOVAT CHAN, who succeed'd

XVII. TAMERLAN Lord of Samarchand, where he was born, who subduing the Tyrants, and settling Peace in three Months Time, was declar'd King, † A. D. 1404. Of his Sons and Successors see the following Table.

The Great MOGULS in the East Indies.

WHAT was the antient Government of these Countries, both before and a long Time after King PORUS, the Cotemporary of ALEXANDER the Great, none can undertake to shew; for all we know is, that the Foundation of this Empire was laid by the mighty TAMERLAN, who by Mistake is call'd a Shepherd, but was really the Son of a Tartarian Prince, as in this Table.

Zain Chan or Og, a Prince of the Zagatian Tartars at Samarchand, rather studied to preserve than enlarge his Dominions.

| I. TAMERLAN or Tamir Cutlu , or Tamar Chan , Prince of Samarchand , became King of Tartary about A. D. 1370. made the first Proof of his Valour against the Muscovites , whom he overthrew with the Slaughter of 25000 Foot, and 15000 Horse. He vanquish'd the King of China , and impos'd on him the Sum of 3000000 Crowns of yearly Tribute. He overcame and captivated Bajazet the Ottoman Emperor , having slain 200000 of his Men. In a Word, he made himself Lord of all the Regions and Kingdoms of both Asia's ; so that 'tis thought he subdu'd more Provinces in his Reign, than the Romans had done in 800 Years. At last he † at Samarchand , his native Seat, in Peace A. D. 1404. having reign'd 34 Years, and divided his Dominions among his four Sons. |  | N. ## TABLE CLXVII.

The KINGS of the African Ethiopia Superior, or Habassia, or Abessinia, or Abyssinia.

MAQUEBA or MAKEBA Queen of Abyssinia, is said to be that Queen of Sheba, or of the South, who came to King Solomon at Jerusalem A. M. 3012. Before Christ 992. by whom she became with Child. But 'tis only the vain Boastings of the later Abyssinians; for by her coming from the Country South of Jerusalem, with rich Arabian Presents, it appears she was Queen of that Country call'd Sheba in South Arabia. See Table XIII. Page 22.

MENELLEHE a Son of Solomon, was born A. M. 3013. Before Christ 991. and by Solomon named David, the Original of the Abyssinian Kings, who with his Offspring kept the Throne 'till A. D. 960. as they say. After this MENELLEHE they had several King, of whom we know nothing certain, only when

BASEN of the Solomonian Race, had reign'd 'till his 18th Year, our blessed Saviour CHRIST was born. And tho' it was forbidden by the Laws of this Country, that any Woman should reign after MENELLEHE, yet the Abyssinians believe, that

CANDACE Queen of Ethiopia, whose Eunuch is mention'd in Acts viii. was Queen of that Part which borders upon Egypt, call'd the Isle of Aeroe; because Pliny testifies that one CANDACE reign'd in that Island; and that the succeeding Queens assumed that Name for many Years. But others make her Queen of Ethiopia in Arabia, more justly. Now we have nothing on Record for the Space of 327 Years, 'till the Time of the two Sons of

N. N.

AKREHA and ALTZEBHA, of whom there is Mention made in the Ethiopic Liturgy in their Commemoration of the Dead, and in the Ethiopic Poet, who says that they taught the Gospel of CHRIST, and built him Temples. These two Royal Brothers must have begun to reign A. D. 367. Their next famous King was

CALU who reveng'd the Blood of the Christians shed by Dunaxas a Jew, the last King of the Sabeans, afterwards call'd Hamerites. For Dunaxas digg'd large Pits, in which he burnt the Christians in Heaps. He was, as says the Ethiopic Poet, succeeded by

GEOR MESKEL, or the Servant of the Cross. He was succeeded by

CONSTANTIN, PRESERNA and DELNOAD, who reign'd about A. D. 960. After the Death of DELNOAD the Ethiopia Scepter was usurped by another Race, call'd the

ZAGREAN Family, who enjoy'd it 340 Years. Of this Line was

NEWON CHRISTOS, or the Wealth of Christ, whom the Poet praises for building the House of God and impoverishing himself to adorn it. But the most famous was

LALIPSA, a wonderful Builder; for he did not cement Stones and Bricks with Lime, or join Roofs together with Rafter, but hollow'd whole solid Rocks, leaving Pillars where they were requisite for Ornament, the Arches and Walls being all of one Stone. He † after he had reign'd 40 Years. The last of this Race was NAACHU or LAAB in whom the ZAGREAN Family became extinct about A. D. 1300. Then the Nobility of Sheba restor'd the Solomonian Race.

I. JON IMIAC or AICUNA AMILAC, or ICON-AMILAC, a Prince of the Solomonian Race, whose Posterity is suppos'd still to be on the Throne, was restor'd A. D. 1300.

II. JABLA TURJON liv'd A. D. 1360. his immediate Successors that descended from him are unknown Yet Tellezia reckons up 16 of this Race, to ZARA JACON, who reign'd 137 Years, reckoning from the first Year of JON-IMIAC.

Continuation of TABLE CLXVII.

II. JABEA-TREJON.

XVI. AMDA JESUS reign'd until A. D. 1437.

XVII. ZARA-JACOB, or Constantin, sent Legates to the Council of Florence. He was King A. D. 1437. † 1465. reign'd 28 Years.XVIII. ## TABLE CLXVIII.

The Kings of Lower African Ethiopia.

- This Country is most properly divided into these 4 Parts, 1. Zanguebar. 2. Monomotapa. 3. Castaria. And 4. Congo.
- I. Zanguebar is said to comprehend many Kingdoms, the Chief whereof are Lamox, Mihinda, Membara, Mongalo, Mozambique, and Quilo, of whose Kings we can give no Account, for the Silence of History.
- II. Monomotapa is a large Territory, wherein is a Country inhabited by Women, who are the King of Monomotapa's best Soldiers; this by some is call'd the Amazon Kingdom. The Portuguese call this King the Emperor of Gold, because of his Golden Mines. But of the Genealogy and Succession of the Kings here we know nothing certain.
- III. Castaria is inhabited by divers Sorts of People, all subject to one King, but for their Succession and Genealogy we are entirely in the dark.
- IV. Congo, comprehends Angba, &c. and was discover'd by the Portuguese under DILCO-CHAU, A. D. 1486. their Kings being then at the greatest, call'd by their Subjects Pant-Congo, and they are these following.
- I. N. N. call'd John at his Conversion to Christianity, A. D. 1490. In Honour of John II. King of Portugal, in whose Reign this Discovery and Conversion happened.
- II. ALPHONSO, John's eldest Son succeeded, was zealous for the Advancement of the Faith, on which Account he was oppos'd by his younger Brother. He reign'd 50 Years. Panse Aquino opposing his Brother was by him overcome.
- III. PEDRO, in his Time was founded the College of 28 Canons in the Cathedral of St. Croix, in the Town of St. Savors. N. N. his Brother.
- IV. FRANCISCO the Son of PEDRO, reign'd not long.
- V. DIEGO, or James, the Cousin of FRANCISCO. In his Time Religion growing into Discredit, by the scandalous Lives of some of the secular Clergy, John III. King of Portugal sent 4 Jesuits thither, who are said to have converted in 5 Months 500 Persons, and to build 3 Churches.
- VI. This was slain in Battel against the Jesuits.
- VII. ALVAREZ I. was forc'd by the JAGGES, or Giuchis, to abandon Congo, and repair to an Island of the River Zaire, where he continued, till restor'd by Sebastian King of Portugal, having lost his Company thro' Famine.
- VIII. ALVAREZ II. much solicited Sebastian and Henry Kings of Portugal, to send him a new Supply of Preachers, the old being wasted in the Island Zaire.
- IX. ALVAREZ III. a natural Son, overthrew his younger Brother, and one of his Sisters, A. D. 1587. by whom he was oppos'd, and in the Place of the Victory built a Church in Honour of the Virgin Mary. Of this Prince's Successors we have no Account.

THE Phoenicians were first conquered by the Romans, and lastly subdued by the Emperor CLAUDIUS. Afterwards GENSERIC King of the Vandals in Spain, by taking Carthage A. D. 437. founded the Vandal Kingdom in Africa, and expelled Gunter, their last King, about A. D. 534. When Africa again became a Consular Province, during 113 Years, till A. D. 647. when the Romans were driven out by the Saracens, or Moslems, who extended their Empire to the Atlantic Ocean, which was afterwards much distressed by an Inundation of Arabians. At length THEODORIC King of the Goths fled into Phauritania, and there became an exceeding powerful Prince. He † A. H. 185. or A. D. 806.

of the River, and the other Side of the River. These two had Successors whose Names are not known; for this new Kingdom of Fez continued 270 Years, till the Family of the Almoravides, and by his Son Ismael, then famous for bridling the Arabians, who founded the City of Morocco. See Table CLVIII. These Almoravides, or Almoravides, were succeeded by the Race of the Almoravides, and these by the Race of Benimerinis at Fez, the last of whom was ABDULAC.

VIII. ARDELWILEGH succeeded his Father, A. D. 1631 and was slain by his Brother LUELLO, 1635, in the 2d Year of the Reign

IX. LUELLUD having slain his Brother ABDELMELECH, succeeded him, but in 2 Months was himself slain 1635. by his Brother MULEY SCHECK.

X. MULEY-HAMET-SHECK, reign'd prosperously for the Space of 19 Years, from 1635. till the Unfaithfulness of Laelia, one of his Wives, hasten'd his Ruin; for the falling in Love with one Cidri Kirum her Kinsman, effected the King's Death by a way unknown, A. D. 1654.

XII. Muzey L. when the Son of the Cheriffian or American Family came to the Throne, at three Years of Age, under the Guardianship of Hirum, and other Grandees, A. D. 1654. till 1661. But this Hirum put his Pupil to Death, after he had reign'd alone 6 Years. died 16, A. D. 1667. He left the Kingdom in great Confusion. F 7

But now the Country was involved in bloody Civil Wars, by several Pretors to the Crown, as Haïki Ben Boucar, and Gavian, till a new Family conquer'd all, viz.

Mulr- Mahomet, a Prince of great Authority in Namidia, said to be descended from MAHOMET, besides 4 Wives, had several Concubines.

At the other School, I saw his Brother.

Suley Bey 2, son of S. Bey, an eminent Man, but a Mulatto, his Mother being a Negro, was proclaim'd King of Tessilet. He took in Fez, then captivated Ben Bourar, and then slew Gavlan, and † A. D. 1667.

Spencer, Thomas, son of James, succeeded his Father in the Rice business in Wilmington and Fm. Co. 1677, where he was associated with his brother Henry, and during the same time, he was in

XII. MULEY ARCHY, was born 1532 and after having conquer'd many Places, he at last became Master and King of Morocco, A. D. 1569. whose King, or rather Tyrant, he used to be drawn at a Mule's Tail. At last having kept the Puffover in the Mediteranean Way, and according to custom, he in that Condition took his Horse, and coming to a Walk of Orange-trees, his Horse's head striking in a Speed, that a Branch of an Orange-tree broke his Skull to Pieces, A. D. 1672.

XIII. MULEY-ISMAEL, or Semein, succeeded his Brother in the Kingdoms of Fex, Murocco, and Tassilet, A. D. 1672. † but lately, A. D. He had numerous Wives and Concubines, who bore to him several Thousand Children.

And now the Offspring of Muley-Ismael have been for some Years: past deeply involved in Civil Wars, contending for the Crown, not yet adjuſted.

The KINGS of Tunis, Tremessen, Tripoli, Bugie, and Algiers in Africa.

I.

TUNIS.

These Places were taken by the Saracens before they reached Mauritania, and afterwards by the Arabs. But

MULEY HASSEN one of the following Kings of Tunis, affirm'd that he was the 30th King of his Family, who had reign'd successively 450 Years, directly descended from Melchior, one of the three Magi; tho' African Authors say, They were descended from the Heutetes; and others, that They came from OMAR the 2d Caliph; for which They took the Title of Amir, pretending to be the lawful Successors of MAHOMET. These Kings of Tunis invaded Sicily, and reign'd a long Time there, became tributary to the Normans, upon the Declension of the Empire of the Arabs; and then to the Kings of France, A. D. 1276. for CHARLES King of Sicily, Brother of St. LEWIS, forced Muley Poytanfa, or Omar, to pay him Tribute. But the first we read of is

ABELCHIT, the African Saracen, rose up in Arms in the City of Caruan, A. D. 1051. and was defeated and slain by the Arabians.

N. N. His two Sons fled, the one to the Kingdom of Tunis, the other to Bugie, where of they became Kings, but were oblig'd to acknowledge JOSEPH King of the Almoravides their Liege Lord. After which they and their Posterity reign'd peaceably, during the Reign of the Almoravides; but upon the Decline of the Almohades, the Arabians of this Kingdom rebelled against the King of Marocco, and press'd him so hard that

I. ABDULEDI was by the King of Marocco sent to compose the rebellious Arabians of Tun., which he did, and made himself Master of Tunis, about the Decline of the Empire of the Almohades.

II. BUZACHARIAS succeeded, and extended his Conquests as far as Tripoli, and then put Numidia and Libya, as far as the Country of the Negroes, under Contribution.

III. ABU-FEREZ, after various Exploits return'd to Tunis with the glorious Title of King of Africa, and was the first call'd King of Tunis. See his other Sons in Bugie.

IV. HUTMET also much enlarg'd his Dominions, but after his Death, the Kings of Fez became so potent, that They made all the Mohometans of Africa acknowledge them; but They had heavy Wars with the Successors of HUTMET. In Process of Time ABU-HASSEN King of Fez, forc'd the King of Tunis to flee to the Arabs in the Deserts, but returning in a short Time he recover'd his Kingdom, about A. D. 1346.

MULEY-BULA-ABEZ one of the Successors of HUTMET, was overthrown by ABU HINUN King of Fez, and incarcerated in the Castle of Centa; but was set at Liberty by his Successor. In his Time the Genoese took Tripoli.

ABU-CELEM and his Successors were in peaceable Possession until the Time of

N. N.

ABU-BARC was assassinated, together with his Sons, by Order of his Nephew Yahia.

N. N.

Yahia caus'd a Revolt from his Uncle.

ABDULMUMEN the Cousin of ABU-BARC, slew Yahia, and remain'd the peaceable Possessor of the Kingdom.

ZACHARY succeeded his Father, and † of the Plague. Then the People elected

ABU CAMEN, who, by his Tyrannies forc'd many Cities to set up for themselves.

MULEY MAHOMET succeeded

MULEY HASSEN, or Muley Hassen, or Muley Cassen, having first murder'd Mahmon his elder Brother, and put out the Eyes of 20 of the rest, he usurp'd the Kingdom, but was dispos'd of by Barbarossa King of Algiers and the Turkish Admiral, and again restor'd by the Emperor CHARLES V. A. D. 1535.

Mahmon was murder'd by his Brother Muley Cassen.

N. N. 20 Brothers had their Eyes put out by Muley Hassen.

ABDULMALIC succeeded, but reign'd no more than 36 Days.

MAHOMET succeeded his Father, and reign'd 4 Months.

This Country was anciently inhabited by the Herpidani, Taladufii, &c. But the most predominant Nation was the Masefyli, over whom reign'd SYPHAX, who joining the Carthaginians against the Romans, was vanquish'd and sent Prisoner to Rome, and his Kingdom given to MASINISSA King of the Numidians, and continued in his Line till the Death of Jugurtha, and then bestow'd upon the Kings of Mauritania, and always reckon'd a Part of that Kingdom, till reduced to the Form of a Province by the Emperor CLAUDIUS, and after the Romans It was possess'd by divers strange Princes. Once it was in the Power of the Abdulnates, a Branch of Zenetes, descended from the Magarao's, who rul'd over all Africa: These the Romans expell'd, but being assist'd by the Goths, and paying them a certain Tribute, they recover'd their Dominions, and kept the same until all Africa became subject to the Posterity of Mahomet: But within some Time the Abdulnates re-enter'd Tremessen, A. D. 986. and reign'd above 300 Years, until they were subdued by the Almoravides and Almohades, (See their Genealogy Table CLVIII.) who kept them under Subjection, until the Decline of their Empire, when one GAMARUZAN Benzyn seiz'd on this Kingdom, and left the same to his Descendants, who were call'd the Benizeynes, who afterwards were made tributary to ABU-FEREZ, and his Son HUTMET, Kings of Tunis. At last Barbarossa made himself Master of Tremessen, A. D. 1516. during the Reign of BUHAMU their King, whose Son was A. D. 1535. restor'd by Charles V. the German Emperor, and succeeded by ABDALLA, till the Turks became their Masters, a great Part of which they still enjoy. But we know not their Genealogy.

III.

Tripoli.

This was, after the Romans, subject to the Goths, then to the Arabians, after that to the Kings of Tunis, and sometimes to those of Fez, when they united that Crown to their own: But BUCAMEN tyrannizing, they advanc'd a Citizen in his Place; and BUCAMEN sending an Army against him, was poison'd by some of the Inhabitants, which Success made their King turn a Tyrant; wherefore he was slain by one of his Brothers-in-law, and succeeded by one of his Officers ABU-BARC, who rul'd until Tripoli was taken by Peter of Navarre, A. D. 1510. And A. D. 1523. Charles V. bestow'd it on the Knights of Malta, who enjoy'd it till 1551. when it was conquer'd by the Turks, under the brave Sinan Bassa, but in Process of Time it became a Republick.

II.

Tremessen.

IV.

Bugie.

This was for some Time dependent upon the Kingdom of Tunis, after ABU-FEREZ had made Tremessen tributary. ABU-FEREZ. See the Column of Tunis.

Hutmet King of Tunis. See the Kings of Tunis on the left Hand of the Table. ABDULAZIS was by his Father left in Bugie, and confirm'd King. And he and his Descendents reign'd there till the Country was conquer'd by Peter of Navarre, for the King of Castile, A. D. 1510. who kept the same to A. D. 1545. when it was taken by the Turks. It now belongs to the Regency of Algiers.

AMAR the second Son had the Province of Zeb in Numidia or Getulia; but after his Father's Death took up Arms against Hutmet, by whom being defeated and taken Prisoner, he had in his Choice to lose his Life or his Eyes, he pitch'd upon the last, and liv'd a long Time after.

V.

Algiers.

This for a long Time made Part of the Kingdom of Tremessen, and belong'd to the King's second Son. But when ABU-FEREZ King of Tunis, made a Conquest of Tremessen, he gave the Crown of Bugie to one of his Sons. Then the People of Algiers finding the Authority of their King much weaken'd, voluntarily submitted to the Government of the Kings of Tunis, and still continued a free People, except that they were oblig'd to pay some small Tribute; but upon the Decline of that Government they became totally free, and some Gentlemen that were in it, made themselves Masters of it, by the Help of the Arabs, and became their Kings; the last of whom was Selim, who was slain by Barbarossa, that took the Place for the Turks, A. D. 1515.

The Emperor CHARLES V. 1541. attempted the Conquest of this Place with 370 Ships and Gallies, 700 Foot and 2000 Horse, but lost his Fleet by a terrible Tempest.

The brave English Admiral Bodr, A. D. 1655. enter'd the Port, and burnt their Ships.

Sir Thomas Allen, A. D. 1668. forc'd the Regency of Algiers to give up, which they broke 1669. so that Captain Allen 1670. drove 7 of their Men of War to Shore, two of which they burnt themselves, and he the rest: At which Time he releas'd 250 Christians.

The same Year Captain Spencer destroy'd 9 of their Ships near Algiers, which they beg'd a Peace, and kept ever since with the English.

The French Fleet in 1785. threw 10420 Bombs into the Town, so that two Thirds of it was destroy'd, and also five of their Ships, which so enrag'd the People, that they shot at the French Consul at the Mouth of a Cannon. In Revenge of which, the French sent Algiers Officers to Death, and put their Bodies upon Hurdles of Planks, so driven ashore that their Countrymen might see them. But the next Year the French made a Peace with them, in Hopes to have their Assistance against the English and Dutch, who join'd in the great Revolution of England under King WILLIAM.

The ancient KINGS of Mexico and Peru.

FERDINAND King of Spain, and his Queen ISABELLA, rig'd out Columbus the famous Genoese Pilot, A. D. 1492. who sail'd from Palos of Moguer in Andalusia, on the 3d of August, with three Ships to the Canaries; and from thence Westward till he came into the Trade-wind, that brought him to America, so call'd from his Friend Americus Vesputius another Navigator; but by others call'd the West Indies, because the Portuguese labour'd the same Time to discover the East Indies.
This very large Continent, reaching almost from Pole to Pole, is divid'd into the two great Empires of Mexico in the North, and Peru in the South, by the Isthmus of Darien or Panama: tho' besides these there are many Kingdoms of lesser Note, of whom we have no Accounts in History, and shall therefore only insist on the Emperors of Mexico, and the great Inca's of Peru; some Accounts of which the Spaniards received by the Traditions of the old Inhabitants.

I. Mexico.

I. ACAMAPIXTILI, or Acamapitzli, Nephew to the King of Couliacan of the Mexican Blood, whose Name is not known, is by Tradition suppos'd to reign 40 Years, from A. D. 1300. to 1340. and join'd Couliacan and Tonganam to his Empire. When he † he left the Kingdom to him who best deserv'd it, yet the People out of Gratitude elected one of his Sons.

II. VITZELVITZLI, or Vitzil-Houltli, which signifies fine Feather, or Vitzovitzli. His Wife was Apamchiqua Daughter of the King of the People call'd Tapanecas. He reign'd perhaps from 1340. to 1370. being 30 Years.

IV. ISCOALT, or Iscoatzli, in his Time the Mexicans vastly enlarg'd their Conquests, and became formidable to all their Neighbours. He reign'd perhaps from 1437. to 1449. being 12 Years.

Flacaelec his Brother's General vanquish'd the Tapanecas, &c.

III. CHIMALPOPOCA was but 10 Years old when he began to reign, A. D. 1370. was slain in his own Palace, while he slept, by the Tapanecas, A. D. 1437. in the 67th Year of his Reign, and 77th of his Age.

V. MOTEZUMA I. or Motezuma, or Montezuma, was no sooner elected King, A. D. 1449. than he made War on his Neighbours. He extended his Conquests to the Northern Ocean. He † 1477. after a glorious Reign of 28 Years.

N. N. his Brother was taken Prisoner by the Chalca, who resolv'd to make him their King; and the young Prince being unable to resist their importunate Applications, he caus'd them to set up a great Tree in the most publick Place in Chalco, and to make a little Theatre on the Top of it; then with a Garland of Flowers in his Hand he went up to the Theatre, and threw himself down headlong in the Presence of all the People, and was dash'd in Pieces.

VI. TICOCIC, or Ticocicazi, succeeded his Father, for tho' Huaciltec was elected, yet he declin'd the Honour, and gave his Vote to this TICOCIC, A. D. 1477. who abusing his Authority, was soon cut off by Poison 1481. having reign'd but 4 Years; others say 12.

VII. AXAYCA, or Ajaxaca, was elected next 1481. He reign'd 12 Years, † 1492. much lamented by the People for a brave and wise Prince.

VIII. AUTZOL, or Anhico, or Ahuizotzin, one of the Electors of the Kingdom, a victorious Prince, who extended the Frontiers of his Kingdom as far as Guatimala, which is 300 Leagues. He reign'd from 1492. to 1503. He began the Year that Columbus discover'd Hispaniola, and was succeeded by a great Man, whose Progeny is not transmitted, viz.

IX. MOTEZUMA II. or the Great, before his Coronation conquer'd 44 Cities, made great Alterations in the State. In the 14th Year of his Reign, A. D. 1517. the Spaniards appear'd on the Coast, and A. D. 1521. MOTEZUMA was murder'd by the Spaniards, and Mexico taken, after a Siege of 3 Months.

II. Peru.

I. MANGO, or Manco Capac, that is, Rich in Understanding, was the first Inca or N. N. his Sister and Wife. King of Peru, A. D. 1125. He built the City of Cusco.

II. SINCHI-ROCA I. who greatly civiliz'd the Indians. He reign'd 30 Years. He subdued a great Part of Collau, as far as Chancara.

Dello, or Cora his eldest Sister, whom he married after his Father's Example, and at the Command of the SUN their great God, as They gave out.

N. N. Other Brothers and Sisters, who durst not marry as their Brother had done.

III. LOQUE YUPANQUI I. or Yupan, an excellent and victorious Prince, who vastly extended the Limits of his Empire, and † much lamented.

IV. MAYDA, or Mayta Capac, still extended his Dominions, both by his Arms and Piety, and therefore † much lamented, after he had reign'd, according to the traditional Account, 30 Years.

V. CAPAC YUPANQUI II. first made Enquiry into the Lives and Behaviour of his Officers; then encreas'd his Dominions. He † much lamented. Some say he left behind him 80 Children, which they say are not many for those Polygamists; seeing some of these Inca's have had a 100, others 200, and some confidently reported to have had 300 Sons and Daughters.

Aquitia his Brother's General.

VI. INCA-ROCA II. made a Number of excellent moral Statutes, and perform'd many valorous martial Achievements, and † in Honour.

VII. YANUAR-HUACAC, aim'd at nothing more at first, than to preserve what he had got from his Ancestors, yet afterwards extended his Dominions. He was depos'd by his Son.

Inca-Payta his Brother's General, much enlarg'd his Brother's Dominions.

VIII. INCA-VIRA-COCHA, a valiant Prince. He built a Temple in Honour of his Uncle, and made his Dominions vastly extensive.

IX. INCA-PACHACUTEC, in one Expedition enlarg'd his Empire 60 Leagues North and South. He † after he had reign'd 50 Years.

X. INCA-YUPANQUI III. resolv'd to make his Empire yet more large, and therefore he set himself to reduce Cajca, Ghili, &c. which he perform'd accordingly. Now the Southern Part of the Empire was the River Maul.

XI. YUPAC-YUPANQUI IV. subdued the Chacapuyans, &c. At his Death, according to the Custom of all his Ancestors, he call'd his Sons together, and made a solemn Discourse to them concerning their After-carriage and Behaviour.

XII. HUAYNA CAPAC enjoy'd the Empire at its full Height of Glory and Grandeur; at the Birth of his eldest Son he made a Gold Chain of 700 Foot in Length, each Link was as big as a Man's Wrist, and from it he nam'd his Son HUCSEN. One of his Concubines N. N. was a Daughter of the last King of Quito, for the last conquer'd that Kingdom. He † 1527.

N. N. two Sisters, his eldest Sister having no Children, he married the second; and by a particular Decree of the Inca and his Council, they were both his lawful Wives.

XIII. HUASCAR Inca quarrell'd with his own Brother, who commanded him to be drawn off, A. D. 1532.

XIV. ATHALIPA, or Athabalipa I. was born of the Concubine, and was made King of Quito by his Father, about A. D. 1515. about which Time the Spaniards were discover'd on the Coast. This ATHALIPA was an avaricious and cruel Prince, put to Death at the Inca's of his Blood, without Regard to Age, Sex, or Condition, but he was the last that sat on the Throne, for the Spaniards, under the Conduct of Pizarro and Almagro conquer'd Peru, took ATHALIPA Prisoner, who was sent to be strangled, A. D. 1533. But PIAZARRO to oblige the Country, gave them a new Inca, the Brother of the last, and he was called

XV. ATHABALIPA II. the Son of Huayna Capac, who, after having fallen three Days, according to Custom, for his Predecessor, he publicly acknowledg'd the Sovereignty of the Emperor Charles V. which was disdain'd by several, who were thought to have poison'd the Inca.

XVI. INCA MANCO succeeded, recover'd Cusco, and defeated the Spaniards, but afterwards lost it, and was defeated himself.

XVII. INCA TUPAC AMARU was executed by the Spaniards in the great Street of Cusco, upon a Mule, with a Rope about his Neck, and with a Man going before, proclaiming him Traytor and Rebel against PHILIP II. King of Spain. This done, the Vice-roy persecuted all the Remains of the Royal Family with Tortures and Death, and spared not the Inca's of half Blood, and the Sons of Spaniards by Peruvian Women. And so ended the INCA's of Peru.

Inca Sayri Tupac abode in the Mountains, till the Vice-roy Mendoza perswaded him to surrender himself. He † in Cusco.

TABLE CLXXII.

The Kings of Hungary.

Hungary, a Part of the large old Pannonia, was always inhabited by People more addicted to War than to Learning and Commerce: The first Inhabitants of Upper-Hungary, North of the Danube, were the Jazyges Metanaste, a Sarmatian People; and East of them liv'd the Daci, a People known but not conquer'd by the Romans. But the Pannonians, or Pleones, dwelt mostly South of the Danube, subdivided into the Azuli, Latovici, Werciani, Jassii, Ozeriates, &c. that inhabited the West Parts, or Pannonia Superior, while the Inferior Pannonia in the East, was inhabited by the Ercenneales, Bronci, Aravisci, and Scordisci.

The Pannonians were conquer'd by the Romans, Anno U. C. Varroniano 719. L. Cornificius, and Sextus Pompeius being Consuls; but were not wholly subdued till 759. or A. M. 4009. An. Era Christiana 5<sup>to</sup>. Anno Augusti, after the Death of Cleopatra 35th, and it continued a Roman Province during, Years. 380.
A. D. 373. The Huns, a Scythian People in the Fens of the Palus Meotis, by hunting discover'd a Passage into Europe, with their numerous Clans under Balamir, or Balbember, who forced Ermanaricus, or Athamaricus II. King of the Goths, to fly with his People from their North Side of the Ister or Danube, out of Hungary, cross the River, and to supplicate the Emperor VALENS for new Habitations.
386. I. BALAMIR proclaim'd himself a King; and having artfully cross'd the Danube, the Huns defeated the Romans, and so possess'd themselves of all Pannonia, in the Declension of the Roman Empire. reign'd 25.
Mundizuchus, or Bendeguz. King Balamir † after he had reign'd,

411. II. BLEDA, or BUDAS, reign'd as Colleague of his Brother ATTILA, in whose Time the Huns wasted Thrace, and aided John the Usurper, and were expell'd Pannonia, by the Eastern Emperor THEODOSIUS II. about A. D. 427. yet recover'd Strength, aided the Romans against the Goths 438. invaded Thrace and Illyria 441. wasted all Greece 442. and forced the said Emperor Theodosius to give them 6000 Pounds of Gold, and to promise 1000 yearly. But after he had reign'd about 34 Years, He was slain by his Brother ATTILA, for naming a new City Buda, and not Attila, A. D. 444. without Issue.

III. ATTILA born A. D. 330. began to reign with his Brother Bleda 411. and took to himself this Title, ATTILA the Son of MUNDIZUCHUS, Nephew to NIMROD the Great, born at Engaddi, by divine Goodness King of the Huns, Medes, Goths, and Danes, the Terror of the World, and the Scourge of God. He resided at Sicambria near Buda. But after he had slain his Brother Bleda, A. D. 444. He reign'd alone; was defeated by Anthemius the Emperor. Then being invited by Gensericus, he marched into France with incredible Power, and in his way slew Gunderic King of Burgundy, A. D. 450. He fought the great Battel on the Downs of Chalons in France against Etius, wherein Theodoric King of the Goths was slain, and ATTILA was defeated 451. but retreated well, and marched into Italy, took Milan, Venice, Florence, &c. 452. and by Pope Leo I. was diverted from Rome 453. when returning to France he was defeated; and marched home again, where he married the fair Ildica; but by drinking he bled to Death on his Nuptial Night; aged 124 Years, after he had reign'd with his Brother and alone, in all 44

His Wives, 1. Verrieha, Daughter of the Emperor Honorius.
2. Chrimchildis. By whom and by many Concubines he begat 60 Sons.

I. CHABA King of the Huns, was conquer'd by the Gepidae, a Sort of Goths in Dacia, A. D. 458. under their King ARARICUS. But Historians give to Chaba a Son call'd

I. HERAC, or Hellac King of the Huns, conquer'd also by ARARICUS.

DINZIG, or Duridius, King of the Huns, was slain by the Ostro-Goths, A. D. 469. who sent his Head to Constantinople.

ERNACUS King of the Huns, was slain by the Gepidae.

ADALRICUS King of the Huns, went off towards Asia with a Colony.

And so all the Royal Family of ATTILA being expell'd or cut off, the Goths and Gepidae of Dacia rul'd in Hungary at large, until the Emperor ZENO invited the Goths into Italy against Odoacre, or Odoacer, where They finally settled; for we read no more of the Goths in Pannonia.

Thus from the Slaughter of DINZIG the Son of ATTILA, A. D. 469. the Goths prevail'd over the Huns in Hungary, during Reckoning until their King THEODORIC slew Odoacre at Ravenna, A. D. 493. and so became the sole King of Italy. 24

Hungary thus deserted by the Goths, was soon possess'd by the Longobards, originally of Scandia, and there call'd Winnili, who, in the Days of SNIO King of Denmark, A. D. 380. were forced by a great Famine to travel in quest of new Habitations, and sail'd into the Island Rugen, which They took from the Vandals, in the Days of the Emperor THEODOSIUS I. by the Valour of their Chiefs, viz.
N. N. Gambata, or Gambara his Wife.

Abor Captain of the Longobards.

A. D. 383. I. AIO the other Captain proclaim'd himself King, and reign'd in Rugilandia, Years. 10

The Longobards enlarg'd their Habitations under their next King, as far as Hallberstadt.

393. II. AGILMOND, or Agelmund, who conquer'd the Vandals in his Neighbourhood. 33

Vegeens, or Vegeus, who is said to have return'd to Scythia, but all is uncertain about him.

He saw by Accident 7 Infants of an Harlot sprawling for Life in a Fen, or a Fish-pond, where she had dropt them, and reaching his Spear to one of them, the Boy laid hold of it, and was drawn out by the King, who call'd him Lamissus, (from Lama, which in their Language signified a Fish-pond) adopted him, gave him a Royal Education, and made him his Heir. And so

426. III. Lamissus reign'd King of the Longobards during, 3

429. IV. IABE, or Ieth, reign'd, 40

468. V. HILDEHOC reign'd, 4

472. VI. GEDEHOC, or Godobor, reign'd, 12

484. VII. Clapho, or Dapho, reign'd, 5

489. VIII. THADO, or Tado, or Tandro, or Thaco, or Thamus, reign'd 11

500. IX. WACHO, or Waches, or Vachon, or Wacherius, the Nephew of Thado. 13

He had three Wives, 1. Rantamba Daughter of the King of Thuringia. 2. Austrigosa Daughter of the King of the Gepidae. 3. Walinga Daughter of the last King of the Heruli, the Mother of his Son and Successor.

About the Time of King GEDEHOC the Longobards transplanted themselves into the Country now call'd Bavaria, and A. D. 487. Odoacre King of the Heruli march'd into Italy, and was slain there, A. D. 493. upon which the Heruli return'd to Germany, and finding their Country possess'd by the Lombards, They divid'd the Land, and agreed well, till RODULPH King of the Heruli (returning from visiting the Daughter of Tado) was slain by the Lombards; and the Heruli were so subdued, that they never had another King.

Ilendus, who became great among the Huns, but whether in Scythia or in Hungary is uncertain.

Some say that the Longobards about this Time removed to the Borders of Poland; but it was only a Colony of them.

After the Longobards had possess'd Hungary 42 Years, Sophia the Wife of the Emperor JUSTIN II. having grievously provoked HARLES (who as Praefect had ruled Italy 15 Years, after the Extinction of the Gothic Kingdom there) He in Revenge solicited the Longobards to invade Italy, who came and erected their new Kingdom of Lombardy.

After the Departure of the Longobards the Goths and Gepidae, a Sort of Goths, or very like them, recover'd Power in Hungary, but not long.

For the Avars, a Sarmatian People, as some think with Ptolemy, who calls Them Avarini; or rather with Nicetes a Scythian People near the Palus Maotis, driven out by their Eastern Neighbours the Turks, travel'd Westward, and defeated the Forces of the Emperor TIBERIUS II. near the Mouth of the Danube, about A. D. 584.

In the Time of the Emperor MAURICIUS (who began 586.) the Avars grew formidable under their King CAGANUS, or Chagan, or Cham, which is not a proper Name, but the usual Appellative of their Chiefs, who joining the Remains of the Huns invaded Pannonia, and defeated the Goths and Gepidae, and the Imperial Troops too; nay he foraged in Thracia to the Walls of Constantinople: and because MAURICIUS would not ransom the Imperial Prisoners from Chaganus, the Soldiers deposed him A. D. 601. while the Avars were Masters of Hungary, and then the Soldiers exalted A. D. 602. PHOCAS to be their Emperor, in whose Time, and in that of his Successor HERACLIUS, the Avars settled in Pannonia, and Part of Noricum (now Upper-Hungary) separate from the Boians by the River Enns, which They held 196 Years, or dwell there, tho' not always with Royal Jurisdiction, reckoning from the Death of MAURICIUS, till A. D. 796. CHAGANUS had several Successors, whose Names are wanting. But at Length

ALMUS an aspiring Genius, went and brought a new Colony of 215999 Huns from Scythia into Hungary, under seven Generals, viz. Arpadus, Zobolebus, Guila, Cbandus; Leibel, Verbulebus, and Ursus, after the Avars had been there 144 Years, and after his Family had been expelled by the Goths 275 Years; but tho' He was slain in Siegenburg, or Transylvania, his Offspring maintain'd a Royal Superiority in some Parts of Hungary: for the other Chiefs yielded to Arpadus, who flew Zoltan, or Zoltan, in his Time CHARLES the Great, began a War of Eight Years with the Huns and Avars, commencing A. D. 788. took Buda 791. where he erected a Christian Church. It seems now there were several Kings in Hungary: for we read that THUDAMUS a King of the Huns submitted to CHARLES the Great, promising to turn Christian, A. D. 795. And the other Kings being deeply engaged in Civil Wars, the Duke of Forum Julij, with PIPIN, invaded Hungary, and carried off great Spoils to CHARLES, 796. when He expelled the Avars out of Hungary, who settled in Transylvania beyond the Tibiscus, where They mingled with the Sclaves. CHARLES was crown'd Emperor of the West at Rome, by Pope Leo III. A. D. 800, and marched against Hungary 805. when he burnt its Capital City Ofen. The Hun-Avars rebelled 812. but were subdued by PIPIN. They rebelled again 818. and quell'd by the Armies of LEWIS Pius the Western Emperor, 820. when They were mingled with German Colonies to teach them Obedience.

At last the Hungarians a Scythian People like the Huns, under CUSALA their Duke, wandering in Sarmatia Europaea without any certain Abode, came into Hungary A. D. 886. when the Scythians, call'd Croati and Servij, planted themselves in Croatia and Servia, and LEO V. Emperor of the East, invited them to come against the Bulgarians, with a Promise of good Possessions; but He deceived them after his Work was done, and They invaded the Western Empire, and from thence marched into France, to be avenged on the Successors of CHARLES the Great, of whom the Huns and Avars had told them strange Things: and A. D. 892. ARNOLPH the Western Emperor obtain'd their Aid against his grand Enemy SWANTIBOIGUS King of the Bohemians and Moravians, from whom They took Transylvania, and the Country on both Sides of the Tibiscus, drove out the Sclaves and Avars, and settled in Upper Hungary, so called from them. King CUSALA being slain in an Expedition against Pannonia, at the Desire of the Imperial Court, A. D. 900. the Hungarians chose for their King, of the old Royal Race of ARVILA, and A. D. 901. an Army of the Hungarians, blended with the Goths, Huns, and Avars, now a mixed Peoples marched into Italy, and bravely defeated BERENGARIUS, who largely bribed them to return. A. D. 902. but They were surely slaughter'd by the Imperial Troops in their Retreat. The Cludals call'd Obrita, having rebelled against the Duke of Saxony, called the Hungarians to their Aid, who fought the Emperor LEWIS IV. three Days successively, and beat him too, A. D. 907. when LEOPOLD Duke of Austria, and many of the great Nobility were slain; upon which They wasted all Germany 908. slew in Battle BURCHARD Landgrave of Thuringia 909. Again the Hungarians defeated the Emperor, who was glad to purchase their Departure out of Germany with a great Sum, A. D. 910. and having beat the Franconians, They marched against the Eastern Empire, forcing many Cities in Illyria, Thracia, and Macedon to be their Tributaries, An. 911.

They had also several petty Kings, some of which invaded Italy, at the Solicitation of Albericus An. 917. and burnt Venice 921. and next Year wasted all Germany for want of their Tribute, yet concluded a Peace for 9 Years. Then by BERENGARIUS They were invited into Italy, and spoil'd Papia 924. and next Year wasted France; Upon the Expiration of the Peace An. 931. their Ambassadors demanding Tribute, are derided and abused, for which They again invaded Germany with 500000 Men, A. D. 932. but They were miserably defeated, first in Thuringia, and next at Merzburg, and were utterly expelled Germany. Another Body of them marched again into Italy, An. 937. and spoiled the Country of Benevento and Capua; but in their Return next Year They were defeated by the Marss and Peligui. Many of them were slain in Carinthia, which They had invaded 944. and They were defeated in Bavaria, An. 948. BERENGARIUS bribed King TOXUS not to invade Italy, An. 950. They invaded the Empire An. 953. to revenge the Overthrow of the Bohemians, but were all defeated near Augsburg in Bavaria, and five of their petty Kings hang'd, An. 955. There is little more said of them, till the Death of their great King TOXUS, the last Pagan King, A. D. 990. after he had reign'd about 80 or 90 Years; for being much defeated by the German Emperors, and beginning to learn Christianity, They threw off their Fierceness, and became quiet Neighbours. TOXUS was succeeded by his Christian Son

518. I. WALTHARICUS, or Valtarius, reign'd, 7

525. XI. ADONINUS, or Andoinus, who received the Country of Austria, by the Gift of the Emperor JUSTIN I. A. D. 526. And in the second Year of JUSTINIAN 528. He and his warlike Nation invaded Pannonia, where They settled during 42 Years. He reign'd in Bavaria and Hungary, in all 18

542. XII. ALBOINUS, or Albovinus, He took Syrmium in Pannonia, A. D. 549. and next Year made a League with the Avars, and next Year slew CUNIMUNDUS King of the Gepide, (after which the Gepide chose no more Kings) and made a Drinking-Cup of his Skull. He aided HARLES against the Goths, A. D. 553. and being by HARLES invited into Italy. He agreed with the Huns to leave them possess'd of Hungary, upon Condition to restore it to him and his People, if They should not prosper in Italy. And so

568. He marched with his Longobards into Italy, where he founded the Kingdom of Lombardy, commencing King there A. D. 570. See their Chronology in Table CLXIV. and their Genealogy in Table CXXXIX.

In his Time CHARLES the Great, began a War of Eight Years with the Huns and Avars, commencing A. D. 788. took Buda 791. where he erected a Christian Church. It seems now there were several Kings in Hungary: for we read that THUDAMUS a King of the Huns submitted to CHARLES the Great, promising to turn Christian, A. D. 795. And the other Kings being deeply engaged in Civil Wars, the Duke of Forum Julij, with PIPIN, invaded Hungary, and carried off great Spoils to CHARLES, 796. when He expelled the Avars out of Hungary, who settled in Transylvania beyond the Tibiscus, where They mingled with the Sclaves. CHARLES was crown'd Emperor of the West at Rome, by Pope Leo III. A. D. 800, and marched against Hungary 805. when he burnt its Capital City Ofen. The Hun-Avars rebelled 812. but were subdued by PIPIN. They rebelled again 818. and quell'd by the Armies of LEWIS Pius the Western Emperor, 820. when They were mingled with German Colonies to teach them Obedience.

At last the Hungarians a Scythian People like the Huns, under CUSALA their Duke, wandering in Sarmatia Europaea without any certain Abode, came into Hungary A. D. 886. when the Scythians, call'd Croati and Servij, planted themselves in Croatia and Servia, and LEO V. Emperor of the East, invited them to come against the Bulgarians, with a Promise of good Possessions; but He deceived them after his Work was done, and They invaded the Western Empire, and from thence marched into France, to be avenged on the Successors of CHARLES the Great, of whom the Huns and Avars had told them strange Things: and A. D. 892. ARNOLPH the Western Emperor obtain'd their Aid against his grand Enemy SWANTIBOIGUS King of the Bohemians and Moravians, from whom They took Transylvania, and the Country on both Sides of the Tibiscus, drove out the Sclaves and Avars, and settled in Upper Hungary, so called from them. King CUSALA being slain in an Expedition against Pannonia, at the Desire of the Imperial Court, A. D. 900. the Hungarians chose for their King, of the old Royal Race of ARVILA, and A. D. 901. an Army of the Hungarians, blended with the Goths, Huns, and Avars, now a mixed Peoples marched into Italy, and bravely defeated BERENGARIUS, who largely bribed them to return. A. D. 902. but They were surely slaughter'd by the Imperial Troops in their Retreat. The Cludals call'd Obrita, having rebelled against the Duke of Saxony, called the Hungarians to their Aid, who fought the Emperor LEWIS IV. three Days successively, and beat him too, A. D. 907. when LEOPOLD Duke of Austria, and many of the great Nobility were slain; upon which They wasted all Germany 908. slew in Battle BURCHARD Landgrave of Thuringia 909. Again the Hungarians defeated the Emperor, who was glad to purchase their Departure out of Germany with a great Sum, A. D. 910. and having beat the Franconians, They marched against the Eastern Empire, forcing many Cities in Illyria, Thracia, and Macedon to be their Tributaries, An. 911.

They had also several petty Kings, some of which invaded Italy, at the Solicitation of Albericus An. 917. and burnt Venice 921. and next Year wasted all Germany for want of their Tribute, yet concluded a Peace for 9 Years. Then by BERENGARIUS They were invited into Italy, and spoil'd Papia 924. and next Year wasted France; Upon the Expiration of the Peace An. 931. their Ambassadors demanding Tribute, are derided and abused, for which They again invaded Germany with 500000 Men, A. D. 932. but They were miserably defeated, first in Thuringia, and next at Merzburg, and were utterly expelled Germany. Another Body of them marched again into Italy, An. 937. and spoiled the Country of Benevento and Capua; but in their Return next Year They were defeated by the Marss and Peligui. Many of them were slain in Carinthia, which They had invaded 944. and They were defeated in Bavaria, An. 948. BERENGARIUS bribed King TOXUS not to invade Italy, An. 950. They invaded the Empire An. 953. to revenge the Overthrow of the Bohemians, but were all defeated near Augsburg in Bavaria, and five of their petty Kings hang'd, An. 955. There is little more said of them, till the Death of their great King TOXUS, the last Pagan King, A. D. 990. after he had reign'd about 80 or 90 Years; for being much defeated by the German Emperors, and beginning to learn Christianity, They threw off their Fierceness, and became quiet Neighbours. TOXUS was succeeded by his Christian Son

All the RULERS and KINGS of Poland together.

THE ancient Inhabitants of present Poland were not known to the ancient Romans and Grecians; they were call'd Arij, Heloverona, Elyfij, Nabarwali, the Descendants of the old Sarmatian scatter'd Nations that were united in the common Name of Sclaves; we find but little of them in Tacitus, somewhat more of them in the Time of the Emperor MAURICIUS; but there is nothing memorable till the Commencement of their first Duke LECHUS a Croatian.

I. The ancient DUKES of Poland.

N. N.

1. LECHUS I. a Sclavonian Prince, departed out of Croatia with his Brother, and planted himself in Poland A. D. 550. built Gnesa, which he call'd Czestochowa, from Gnieszda a Nest, because he there found an Eagle's Nest, and therefore the Castle is the Royal Ensign of Poland, and made it his Seat A. D. 551. He and his Posterity reign'd as Dukes, among whom was VISIMER, the last of the Line of LECHUS; for after him the People chose 12 Palatines or Waywods, which Government lasted many Years, until, for their ill Management it became odious to the People, who inclin'd to be govern'd by Princes again. Accordingly the first Prince that was elected, was one call'd
2. CRACUS I. A. D. 700. The Year after he was elected, he built Cracovia, and made it the Seat of his Government. The Time of his Reign is uncertain.
3. CRACUS II. succeeded but was slain by his Brother, viz.
4. LECHUS II. was banish'd for slaying his Brother, and he was succeeded by his Sister, viz.
5. VANDA or Venda, a Princess A. D. 750. She vanquish'd Ririger, a German Prince, who pretended marriage to her, and at last having by many Sacrifices devoted herself to her Gods, she through a blind Superstition cast herself into the Vistula and was drown'd A. D. 759.

T A B L E CLXXXV.

The VAIVODS or Princes of Moldavia and Valachia.

THE whole Country of Dacia, whereof Moldavia and Valachia are Provinces, were first like other Nations inhabited by the Scythians, till the coming of the Slaves and Rosses, and then for some Time was accounted Part of the Russian Empire, till the dismembring of that Empire by the Tartars. After which Moldavia was sometimes Homager to the Polanders, sometimes to the Hungarians, and was afterwards made tributary to the Turks, by Mahomet the Great, who thought it not worth his Pains; but Bajazet his Son considering how well it lay for the absolute Command of the Euxin Sea, took that Part of it call'd Bessarabia, reducing it to the Form of a Turkish Province, A. D. 1485. and increas'd the Tribute of the rest, leaving it unto the Disposol of its natural Princes, who fearing to be made Vassals to the Turks, did oft rebel against them, with the Aid sometimes of the Hungarians; sometimes of the Polanders.

BOGDANUS Vaivod of Moldavia, in the Time of Selim II. uniting himself more closely to Poland, was thereby suspected by the Turkish Emperor, who, with a great Power expell'd him his Country, and gave the same to a Native of Moldavia, call'd

JOHN, who was mostly bred up in the Turkish Court, (where he renounced his Faith, and was circumcised) but was no sooner settled in the Vaivodship, but he return'd to his first Religion; and therefore was less affected by the Turks, which being observ'd by the then Vaivod of Valachia, he endeavour'd to obtain that Dignity for his Brother, viz.

PETER, offering also to double the Tribute, and assist in subduing the Country. The Turk accepting these Offers, compounded an Army of 103000, whereof there were 70000 Valachians, 30000 Turks, and 3000 Hungarians, with which he fell into Moldavia, but was so gallantly received by the noble Vaivod JOHN, that few of them escap'd the Slaughter. But being afterwards betray'd by his old Friend Sarnieviche, and, contrary to Agreement, barbarously murder'd by the Turkish Basba, Moldavia was again united to the Turkish Empire, A. D. 1574. and the Vaivods afterwards were nominated by the Turkish Emperors. And tho'

AARON one of the succeeding Vaivods, did shake off this Yoke, yet being supplanted by Roswan, one of his own ambitious Subjects, it became subject first to the Polonians, next to Germany, and afterwards to the Turks, from whom it could never be recover'd.

Valachia was afterwards govern'd by their own Vaivods, and being protected by the Hungarian Kings, they liv'd in Peace, till fearing the bad Effects of the Turks conquering Servia and Bulgaria,

N. N. the Vaivod, in the Time of BAJAZET I. cross'd the Danube with his Forces, and having spoil'd the Turkish Territories return'd home; but Bajazet being irritated at this Invasion, came into Valachia, overcame the Vaivod, and forc'd him to sue for Peace, and become tributary; yet the impos'd Tribute was with-held on account of Bajazet's Captivity, until A. D. 1417. when Mahomet forc'd them to a new Composition, and the Payment of all former Reckonings. But they were induc'd by the fortunate Successes of Hunniades, to put themselves again under the Protection of the Hungarians, who being afterwards subdued at the Battel of Cassova, by Amurath II. the accusom'd Tribute was brought in again, which the Turks were at present satisfied with, being then sore put to it by the famous Scanderbeg. Not long after, A. D. 1462. Mahomet the Great undertook the Conquest of this Country, being advertis'd that

VLADUS the then Vaivod was to join the Hungarians against him, he being himself otherwise employ'd, set up DRACULA the younger Brother, against Vladus: and Dracala making a Party among the People, by the Turks Assistance, posses'd himself of that Estate as a Vassal to the Turks, under whose Vassalage it continued, to A. D. 1595. At which Time

MICHAEL the Vaivod, confederated with Sigismund Prince of Transilvania, and the Vaivod of Moldavia, he discomfited the Turks, yet he was at last slain in his own Tent, by the Privy and Content of Vassa the Emperor's Lieutenant.

After his Death this Country was miserably distracted by two Vaivods, the one plac'd by Rudolf the Emperor, and the other by Mahomet the Grand Seignor, till in the End they were forced to submit themselves to the Disposol of the Turks, and receive their Vaivods from them.

AN INTRODUCTION to This Table of the Royal Danes.

THE DANES or Cimbri, are supposed to be the Progeny of Gomer, the eldest Son of Japhet, that settled first near the Strait between the Euxin Sea and the Palus Maeotis, where is the Bosphorus Commericus of Ptolemy, so call'd from the Commerci, who by Contaction were called Cimbri.

The Gomer were in Time expell'd by the Scythians, and wandering Westward into Europe, after long Travels arriv'd at this Chersonesus, call'd from them Cimbria; and the Danes, call'd by Ptolemy Daucones and Gutae, soon invaded that Part of this Peninsul, call'd from them Jutland to this Day, and mixing with the Cimbri became one Nation, call'd by the ancients All Cimbri in general. But being incroach'd upon by an Inundation of the Sea, They petition'd the Romans for a Settlement in their Dominions, and the Romans neglecting them, the Cimbrians join'd the old German Nations against Rome, and by their Sword three Roman Consuls were defeated, viz. Mam- mius Sullanus, and Cepio: nay the Roman Republick was in great Danger of being over-run, and destroy'd by them, till They were defeat'd by the Consul MARIUS, who was therefore stiled the Third Founder of Rome. See Table 54, Page 27. See also Table 32, Page 174.

TABLE CXCI.

The old KINGS of Sweden, to the Union of the three Northern Crowns.

THE Swedish Historians have been at Pains to shew the World, that no Kingdom in Europe can be compared with theirs for Antiquity, which they say was sooner inhabited than any other, and the Historian Bertius gives us the following Series of their Kings.

NOAH.

KINGS before Christ.

Isaiah.

1. MAGOG with his Family first took Possession of Saccia, or Swedland, and Gothland, A. M. 1744. after the Flood 88 Years. Before the first Dispersion from Shinar 66 Years, and therefore it is justly rejected, as a vain Boasting ill told: for all Nations dispersed from Shinar. He reign'd 43 Years, to A. M. 1787.
2. SUEVUS, or Sweno, the eldest Son succeeded A. M. 1787. † 1843. reign'd 56 Years. From him and his Brother GETHAR, the Swedish and Gothick Nations were called.
3. GETHAR I. or GOG, succeeded his Brother, A. M. 1843. † 1903. reign'd 60 Years. But some think that GOG was a distinct Son of MAGOG, and reign'd more easterly among the Russians.
4. UNBO the Builder of Upsal, succeeded A. M. 1903. † 2004. reign'd 101 Years.
5. SIGGO I. was King 2004.
6. ERIC I. was King 2014.
7. UDDO.
8. ALE.
9. OSTEN I.
10. CHARLES I.
11. BIORN I.
12. GETHAR II.
13. SIGGO II.
14. BERICH was King A. M. 2493.
15. HUMULF succeeded A. M. 2533.
16. HUMBLE is reported to have given his Son DANUS to the Danes, A. M. 2673.
- DANUS is reported to have been given by his Father to the Danes, but then it must have been another Danus than their first King, for their DANUS was not King till A. M. 2964. Table 186.
17. GOTHLIAS IV succeeded, but when is uncertain.
18. SIGTAUG, or Sichtug, was King of Sweden 2758. till 2791. but other Authors more probably make him to reign about A. M. 3054. Before Christ 950. for he was slain by GRAM King of Denmark, who did not begin to reign till A. M. 3115. and conquer'd Sweden.
19. SCARIN succeeded Sigtaug, but when is uncertain. Bertius says A. M. 2791. but rather much later; seeing he was contemporary with, and subject to GRAM King of Denmark, who had conquer'd Sweden, and slain his Predecessor; and it is most probable that Sweden being at this Time at a very low Pass,
20. SUIDDAGER King of Norway took the Advantage, and march'd with an Army against Gram, defeated him, and thereby added Denmark and Sweden to his Dominions, and so was the first Monarch of the three Crowns. But Bertius says, that Suiddager was King A. M. 2831. which is not consistent with the Danish Table.
21. HASMUND succeeded in the Kingdoms of Norway and Sweden, A. M. 2891. till 2931. according to Bertius. He reign'd 40 Years.
22. UFFO King 2939. till 2983.
23. HUNDING, or Hindin, was King 2983. till 3031. Some make HUNDING and Hinden two different Kings.
24. REGNER the Brother-in-law of Frotho I. King of Denmark, was King from 3031. till 3060. according to Bertius. But according to the Danish Table, FROTHO I. was King of Denmark A. M. 3240. which was 109 Years after the Beginning of REGNER in this Table.

N. N. other two Sons.

Hadungus King of Denmark. Table 180Svanita his Wife.Frotho I. King of Denmark.

25. HOTOBROD, or Horbrod, or Hosbroth, was King 3060. to 3125. In his Time the Danes subdued Sweden. See the Danish Table, for Difference in Chronology.

26. ATISLE, or ATTILA I. was the next King, from 3125. to 3174. but that cannot be, according to the Danish Table; for he and his Brother HOTHIER recover'd the Kingdom, by paying some small Tribute; but Rolvo King of Denmark vanquish'd him, and conquer'd Sweden. Then HIARTUAR, a noble Swede, being for his excellent Qualifications favour'd by the Danish King, receiv'd the Kingdom of Sweden under the Title of a tributary Dutchy, and married Rolvo's Sister, but afterwards beheaded Rolvo, and the Danes kill'd Hiartuar.

27. HOTHIER, after Sweden had been a long Time under the Danish Yoke, rais'd an Army, and took Possession of his Kingdom, which he kept from 3174. till 3252. according to Bertius, but this Date cannot agree with the Circumstances of the History in the Danish Table; and afterwards with his victorious Arms he subdu'd Denmark, of which he became King, A. M. 3477. Before Christ 527 after the Danish Computation. But at length HOTHIER was overthrown by Waldeer a noble Dane.

28. RORIC, surnamed Slyngband, was King of Sweden, according to Bertius, from 3252. to 3336. but the Danes more probably say, that he was King of both Kingdoms, from 3519. to 3568. and at his Death having two Sons, the one was made King of Denmark, the other King of Sweden.

Wigletus was King of Denmark. Table 186.

29. ATTILA II. was King of Sweden, from 3336. to 3366. according to Bertius, but not according to the Danish Table.

Strutha married, 1. Hersant. 2. Feggo, two Brothers.

30. BOTWILDUS succeeded his Father, from 3366. to 3428.

31. CHARLES II. was King, from 3408. to 3456.

32. GRAMUS was King 3456. or rather 3689. How he and several of his Successors reign'd we do not know, and therefore we must content ourselves with the bare Mention of their Names, viz.

33. TORDO I.
34. GOTHARUS.
35. ADOLPHUS.

36. ALODUS I.

37. ERIC II.

38. LINDORNUS.

KINGS after Christ.

39. ALRIC, or ARRIC, was King of Sweden in the Time of the Emperor AUGUSTUS, he was murder'd, and succeeded by

40. ERIC III. A. M. 3929. according to Annales and Alfredus, but according to our Chronology 3986. Before Christ 18. † A. M. 4000. or A. D. 4. having reign'd 22 Years.

41. GODRICH succeeded his Father, A. D. 4. to A. D. 34. reign'd 30.

42. HALDAN I. succeeded his Brother A. D. 34. was then A. D. 70. reign'd 36.

43. FILMER King A. D. 70. to 84. reign'd 14.

45. SIWARD I. King A. D. 100. to 131. reign'd 31.

44. NORDIAN King A. D. 84. to 100. reign'd 16.

N. N. a Daughter.

Frotho V. King of Denmark. See Table 186.

46. CHARLES II. King A. D. 131. to 169. reign'd 38.

N. N. a Daughter. N. N.

47. ERIC IV. King A. D. 169. † in Battle 181. reign'd 12.

48. HALDAN II. or Bergianus, was King from A. D. 181. to 194. reign'd 13 Years. He was not careful to beget Children, and named for his Successor a noble Swede, call'd

49. UNGUIN, was King from A. D. 194. till 203. reign'd 9 Years. Some say that this is the same UNGUIN, who, in Table 186. is made the 36th King of Denmark, and Father-in-law to HALDAN II. King of Denmark, and that He was King both of Denmark and Sweden, and that at his Death he left these Kingdoms to his Son SIVARD, mention'd in that same Table. But according to this Scheme of Bertius, they must be two different Princes; for the UNGUIN mention'd in Table 186. † A. D. 155. whereas the UNGUIN mention'd by Bertius, did not commence his Reign till A. D. 194.

But

See the Continuation.

Other

In following the Historian Bertius, and the Chronologer Alfredius, we find that

49. UNGUIN was succeeded by
 50. RAGWALD, who was King from 203. till 220.
 51. AMUND I. succeeded his Father 220. till 225.
 52. HARON was King 225. till 234.
 53. SIWARD II. King 234. till 240.
 54. INGO I. King 240. till 246.

We read of none 'till we come to VANNIUS King of the Sueves, who was expell'd by JUBILIUS King of the Hermanduri, and seated himself in Pannonia. After him succeeded
HALDANUS, who was expell'd by the Nobility, but restor'd to his Kingdom by the Aid of Fridlevus King of Denmark A. D. 81.
GETRICUS the Son of Eric the Discreet, and Brother of Haldanus, rul'd over the Goths and Sueves A. D. 83.
Joannes Mignus saith that the Goths disliking the Barrenness of Pomerania, divided themselves into three great Armies, one pass'd the Mountains where their Posterity among the Helvetians or Switzers remain; another went into Scotland, of whom came the Picts, and the rest subdu'd the Ulmerigi, Curetes, Samogetes and Estones. This Partition was about A. D. 84.
DORPANEUS ruled over the Goths and Sueves in their wanderings abroad A. D. 87. who hating the Covetousness of Domitian, broke the Peace and pass'd the Danube. Then the Emperor sent Sabinus and Fuscus with two Armies against them, but were both slain and their Forces routed.
A. D. 90. the Giant Starcutterus flourish'd, of whom many Things are written; among others, that he liv'd 300 Years. Dorpanens was succeeded by DECEBADUS, who reign'd about A. D. 92. and A. D. 101. He had great Wars with the Romans in Dacia and Messia, where the Goths had planted themselves. But Trajan by a Treaty perswaded them to retire to their former Seats, and added to their Possessions the Countries of the Triballi and Vandali A. D. 103.

In the Vocables of Saxony and Hesse, there are some Vestiges of the Name Askenez, and from him the Jews call the Germans Askenez; but in the Saxonie and Italian, They are call'd Tuiscones, from Tuisco his other Name.

In the 25th Year of his Reign, He partition'd his Kingdom into Toparchies, Tetrarchies, and Governments, and brought Colonies from divers Parts to increase it. He built the City Duisburg, made a Body of Laws in Verse, and invented Letters, which Kadmus afterwards imitated; for the Greek and High Dutch are much alike in many Words.

The 20 Captains or Dukes that came with ASKENAZ, are,

ASKENAZ had a Brother call'd SCYTHA (say the Germans) the Father of the Scythians, for which the Germans have been of old call'd Scythians too, (very justly, because They came mostly from old Scythia) and Germany had several ancient Names; for that Part next to the Euxin was call'd Scythia, and the Country of the Getae, but the Parts East of the Vistula, or Weysel, were call'd Sarmatia Europea: and Helleas was call'd Gallia, Celtica, Alemannia, Franconia, and Teutonia; for the Germany comprehends the far greater Part of Europe, and those call'd Gauls were all old Germans, who by ancient Authors are call'd Celts, Gauls, and Galatians; which is confirm'd by the Historians Strabo and Aventinus, and by Afstedius in his Chronology, Page 201, &c.

ASKENAZ, or TUISCO, after his Death, was worshipp'd as the Ambassador and Interpreter of the Gods, and from thence call'd the first German Mercurus, from Tuischen to interpret.

II. MANNUS, or Manus, or Man, or Mon, began Anno Abami 31. the City Trevers is said to be built by his Son Trever, before the founding of Rome 1250 Years: but by that Reckoning It was in the Days of TUISCO, built (as others think) by Trebeta the Son of Nynus, who fled from Sauramis, with a Colony thither, and call'd it Trebetum. He reign'd

III. ISOEVON, or Ingaab, or Inwohner, began Anno Abami 97
He is thought by some to be the Brother of Mannus, and from him those Germans that lie nearest the German Sea, were call'd Ingaevones, Inwohner; for that They dwelt in the innermost Parts of Germany westward, call'd by Pliny Ungaevones, or Hogwohner, from Denmark to Dunkirk along the Coast, and up the Country into lower Saxony. He reign'd

IV. LUTYGES, or Luthab, or Luthem, began Anno Abami 142
From him came the Luthones, or Luthaevones of Pliny, Die Wuesten Wohner, a various People remote on the Rhine and Danube, call'd Celts, Helveni, Bosi, Aravisi, Treviri, Fanguones, Trebiri, Nonetes, Ulbi, Batavi, Catti Mattiari, Tencteri, Bructeri, Angrivarii, Chasuaru, and Fisiu; for all these were call'd Luthwohner. He reign'd

His Wife was Freya, or Freya, the German Venus, from whom our Friday, in German Freytag, is call'd.
In his Time Anachus founded the Kingdom of Argos, A. M. 1168. the same Year that Esau and Jacob were born.

V. HERMAN, or Hermion, or Herminon, began Anno Abrahami 192
From him Ursa Major the Constellation was call'd Der Herman's Wagen, HERMAN's Car, and the Heathen Temple destroy'd by Charlemain was call'd Hermanstal. He was the Root of the Herdevones, Hermones, or Hermandari, who dwelt in the Middle or Heart of Germany, viz. the Semnones, Narisci, Marcomanni, and Quadi, now supposed to be the Thuringi, Misnenses, Bojemi, Lusatii, Silezi, Moravi, and Part of the Polanders. He reign'd

He first order'd the Women to assist their Husbands in the Wars, and in his Time the Druids began to flourish, and make Laws. In his 46th Year Jacob run his Country, and fled to Padan Aram A. M. 2245.

VI. MARCUS, the German Mars began Anno Abami 255
When Joseph the Son of Jacob was 4 Years old.
He is the Root of the Dithmarsii and Stormarshi, and built the City Marsburg. Aventinus says that Mars king of Egypt, (call'd also Apis and Serapis) with his Wife Isis, came to MARCUS, and taught the Germans the Arts of making Beer of Agriculture, Forging, Grinding, and Medicine; and from thence went into Italy, where he subdued the Giants or Petty Kings. MARCUS reign'd
In his Time Isaac died, A. M. 2288. in Canaan, and next Year Joseph was exalted in Egypt.

VII. CAMBRIUS, or Cambisvius, or Cimbrius, or Cimbriacus, began Anno Abami 301
About 8 Years before the Death of Jacob in Egypt.
He is call'd in German Kampfer, from whom some deduce the Cimbri, Cimmerii, and Scambri; but they are better deduced from GOMER, as above. In his Time, saith Aventinus, the Pyrenean Mountains were set on fire by the Negligence of the Shepherds. He reign'd

VIII. SUEVUS

Continuation of TABLE CCXIII.

Cambrivids.

VIII. SUEVUS, the Root of the Royal Suebi of Germany, began Anno Abrami, 345
The Year before Amram the Father of Moses was born, and 18 Years before the Death of Joseph.
From him Mount Suevus had its Name, the Border of his Empire on the one Side, as the Rhine was on the other. He reign'd, 48

IX. VANDALUS, the Root of the Wenedi, or Wenden, or Vandals, began Anno Abrami, 393
Fifteen Years after the Death of Levi the Son of Jacob.
The Wandals were first known at the Fountains of the Visurgis, or Weser, next in the Countries North of the Elbe, afterwards a stout Colony of them travell'd into Spain, and after that into Africa, where They erected a noble and large Vandalian Kingdom, till It was demolish'd by BELISARIUS. See Table
CXXXVIII. The Cities of Lubeck, Rostock, Dantzic, and several more are the Relicks of those first
Wandals, who were a quite different People from the Vandals call'd Slavi, or Slavonians, Polanders,
Bohemians, and Croatians. He reign'd, 41

X. TEUTO, or Teuko, or Teutsch, (which we pronounce Dutch) began Anno Abrami, 434
The second German Mercury, from Teutsche to interpret, or from Deuten to intimate. He was the Root of the Nation call'd Teutones, and Teutonarii, now the general Name of all the Germans, perhaps because by their Learning They conquer'd the other Nations to speak their Language.
He began 9 Years after the Birth of Moses, and reign'd, 27

XI. ALEMANNUS, or Allmann, or Allmon, began Anno Abrami, 461
Or Altmann, or Altmon. He bore a Lion in his Shield, and led a live Lion chain'd with him, with the old Germans call'd Argle and Aerele, from whence He was call'd the German Hercules, and the God of War, in After-ages. Therefore the Family of Bavaria descending from him, have in their Shield a Lion chain'd. He is the last King of the Germans mention'd by Berosus the Historian.
He began the Year that Joshuah the Judge of Israel was born, 45 Years before the Exodus of Moses, 812 Years after the Flood, and 20 Years after Cecrops the Egyptian founded the Kingdom of Athens.
He reign'd, 60

Boicus, or Nero, or Noreus, or Bozheer, or Nereus, or Noreus, the Father of the Bavarians in the Noricus Tractus.
Hunnus der Hann, Father of the Hans, but see Table 172.
Helvetius the Father of the Helvetii, or Switzers.
Humbilus and Angul both obscure.
XII. BOJAS, or Bojus der Beyer, began Anno Abrami, 521
15 Years after the Exodus of Moses, and 25 Years after Teucer founded the Kingdom of Troy, 60 or in the 7th Year of Dardanus II. King of Troy. He was the Root of the Bavari, call'd the Boji, and Bijares, and Bibemi, that dwelt in the Heryvian Forest. In his Time two large Colonies went from Germany into Asia, the one of Men call'd Cambrj under Medus their General, and the other of Women, who were truly the Wives of the Cambrj, tho' They were call'd Amazoncs, by the Greeks

Amazonides, and by the Germans Bazones, from Patza a Uirago, or valiant Woman. They founded the first Temple of Diana at Ephesus, and invented Halberts and Drums. He built the City Prague, and reign'd, 60

XIII. INGRAMUS, or Ingrami, (which imports raging or burstful) began Anno Abrami, 581
After the Ingress of Josuah 35 Years, or in the 11th Year of the first Anarchy of Israel, Table VIII.
In the 33d Year of Erichthonius, the third King of Troy. Table XII.
In his 7th Year Radunus came into Greece, founded Thebes, and taught the Greeks an Alphabet.
INGRAM built Hermenio, call'd afterwards Reginoberg, or Hatisbon; and reign'd, 52

XIV. ADALGER, or Adelger, or Aldeger, began Anno Abrami, 633
After the Ingress 87 Years, in the 21st Year of Othniel Judge of Israel, and of Trois King of Troy, Table XII.
In his Time the Amazoncs were again famous, and had two Queens together, the one Lantpatis for cultivating Peace at Home, and the other Martpeis, for managing the War abroad. He reign'd, 52

XV. LARIN (the Laertes of Tacitus.) began Anno Abrami, 672
After the Ingress 126 Years, in the 2d Year of Ehud Judge of Israel, and 6th Year of Trois King of
He was a mighty Warrior, whose Armour are to this Day shown by the Rhetti and the Norici.
And He reign'd, 61
His Brother Theodo brought the Boji first into Bavaria.

XVI. ULSISO, (the Ulfes of Tacitus.) began Anno Abrami, 723
After the Ingress 177 Years, in the 13th Year of Deborah the Prophetess, the Female Judge of Israel.
In the 8th Year of Lamedon King of Troy, and 25th Year of Picus King of the Aborigines.
He built Ulfiburgum, or Achiburgum, and Emmerick on the Mayne. In his Reign the Cambrj under their Captain Guelterus, and the Amazoncs too, made an Expedition from Germany into Asia, when Lamedon King of Troy opposed them in vain, and was glad to make a League with them. Thus the old Germans before the Trojan War, possess'd no small Part of Lesser Asia.
King ULSISO, and also Ingram, Adelger, Larin, and others, are still celebrated in old Songs.
He reign'd, 53

XVII. BRENNUS, or Brenner, or Berno, or Breno, began Anno Abrami, 776
After the Ingress 230 Years, in the 19th Year of Gideon Judge. In the 17th Year of Priamus the last King of Troy, and 37th Year of Faunus King of the Aborigines.
In the 27th Year of his Reign, the Greeks laid Siege to Azop, when the Amazoncs, the Scythians, the Mechani, and other old Germans, strenuously aided the Trojans, and the Amazon Queen Penthesilea was slain by Achilles. Some say that from Brennus Mount Brennus, or Pyrenus had its Name.
He reign'd, 35

XVIII. HOCKAR, or Hpkar, or Hichter, or Hiccar, began Anno Abrami, 811
After the Ingress 265. in the 10th Year of Tolab Judge of Israel, and two Years before the Fall of TROY.
He was also call'd Hechter, from Uicken, or Hiting, call'd Hecor by the Romans, and He reign'd, 31
In his 10th Year Aeneas the Trojan founded the Kingdom of the Latins, after he had slain Turnus.
Page 219.

XIX. FRANK, or Francus, or Franco, or Francio, began Anno Abrami, 842
After the Ingress 296. In the 19th Year of Jur Judge of Israel, and 18th Year of Afcamus the Son of Ancut, King of the Latins. From him came the Frankis, or Franconians, and he reign'd, 41

TABLE CCXIV.

The KINGS of the Germans, from the Time of King WOLFHEIM Sickenger, To the Grand Revolution under the Emperor CHARLEMAIN.

|  | U. C. Fab | A. M. and Be. Christ. |
|--|-----------|-----------------------|
| After the Death of WOLFHEIM, the Royal Succession in Germany, (which had continued regular in the 20 Kings of the foregoing Table, during 1085 Years) is often interrupted during this second Period, and leaving the Posterity of WOLFHEIM to reign over the Celts, Gauls, and Illyrians, I shall trace the Kings of the Germans, as they occur in History  | —         | —                     |
| Before CHARLEMAIN,   | —         | —                     |
| The first of them occur in the Reign of Tarquinius Priscus, the 5th King of Rome, who began to reign, —  | 135       | 3320 }614 }       |
| After the Death of King WOLFHEIM Sickenger, 434  | —         | —                     |
| For then we read of these petty German Kings, viz. BELLEVOGUS der Baldowigs, SIGOVESUS der Wygmwigs, HELLIONUS der Welfs, and MEDO, under whom the Ligures, Insubres, Suevi, Senones, Sittambri, Cimæri, Charnani, and other Nations of Gaul and Germany, pass'd over the Alps, and spread themselves over the North of Italy: after whom followed King CICONIUS der Zerro, with his Boji, (that had been expell'd from Bohemia by the Parromanni, a Sarmatian Nation) and crossing the Po, They expell'd the old Etrusci and Umbri, possessing all to Ancona. They built or enlarged the Cities Comus, Bergomus, Trent, Vincentia, Mutina, Parma, and Bononia, the Capital of the 112 Tribes of the Boji, call'd by them Bojebonia. | —         | —                     |
| About the End of Tarquinius Priscus,   | —         | —                     |
| BRENNUS King of the German Suevi began a War against the Romans in Italy, that lasted 110 Years. He built or enlarged the Cities Hecbjena, Teutonia, Sent, Verona, Brixia, Tivium, and Milan, about the Time that the Capitol of Rome was built by the last Roman King Tarquinius Superbus.  | —         | —                     |
| RHEBUS a German King led the Teuts to the Alps, and there founded the Nation of the Rhetan; while the Saxe or Saxen performed great Exploits with the Grand Cyrus the Founder of the Persian Monarchy.   | 236       | 3101 }513 }       |
| LANDINUS, or Landinus der Laudin, King of the Getae and Sythians, that were the Oriental Germans, overcame Darius Hyphaspes King of Persia, who had cross'd the Danube with 700000 Men. See Page 103.  | 285       | 3540 }464 }       |
| In the Days of Artaxerxes Longimanus King of Persia, who began, —  | —         | —                     |
| We read that 300000 Germans travell'd into several Parts to find out new Settlements, among whom was the King of the Angli, in German Suebia, whose Son  | —         | —                     |
| BRENNUS led a Party into Italy, while some of them went round the Illyrian Bay, and settled in Pannonia; but King BRENNUS by an Embassy made a League with Dionysius King of Sicily, the Enemy of the Romans; and being strengthened by the Teutones, He commenced a fierce War against Rome; and the Germans that had settled in Italy before, being strengthened by his Alliance, took in the rest of the Cities of Etruria, while He with his valiant Saxe, or Senones, marched towards Rome, which being abandon'd by the Body of the People, he easily enter'd, slew the Senators in their gorgeous Attire, and laid Siege to the Capitol, but was totally routed by the brave Camillus, Page 235, and 236                      | 361       | 3615 }380 }       |
| But tho' the Roman History calls them Gauls, They were truly the German Suevi, and other German Nations, as the Gauls were likewise old Germans.   | —         | —                     |
| MAZAEUS King of the Oriental Germans, near the Euxin and the Danube, was defeated by Philip III King of Macedonia, the Father of Alexander the Great, who invaded their Country for the sake of Spoil; but in his Retreat the German defeated and wounded him.   | 402       | 3657 }340 }       |
| The Germans afterwards defeated Zopyrion, one of Alexander's Generals, sent also Auxiliaries to Darius Codomannus, and the Norici and Boji proclaim'd War against Alexander, as it is reheated in old German Songs.  | —         | —                     |
| After the Death of Alexander the Great, we find the petty German Kings, BELGIUS, BRENNUS, ARICHOPIUS, EURIDANUS, THESALUS, LOMNORIUS, (or Leomus der Lenhard) LUTHARIUS, (or Lutherus, or Lutherus der Luther) and DROMICHERS.   | —         | —                     |
| BRENNUS, Euridanus, and Thesalus, led the Celts or Cimbri into Greece; Lomnortus and Lotharius march'd into Thracia, and fought Lysimachus and Cassander; Dromichitus King of the Getae took King Lymanachus in Battel, and honourably releas'd him. Belgus invaded Macedonia, and cut to Pieces Ptolemy Ceraunus  | 420       | 3725 }0 }         |
| Here also in the Greek Histories are call'd Gauls, and were most of them cut off in attempting to conquer Greece (see Polybius) and the Remainder of them march'd into the Service of Antiochus King of Bithynia, who gave them the Country call'd from them Gallo Græcia, and Galatia, where They became terrible, Page 148   | —         | —                     |
| But the German Nations in the West were not so terrible; for the Romans began to defy them in Italy, call'd there Gauls; and tho' the Bellacæ came to their Aid, the Romans miserably defeated them, and took Prisoner CONCOBRIANUS, a King of the Gessate,  | 521       | 3779 }215 }       |
| Nay the Consul M. Claudius Marcellus, got the Romans to deny them Peace, and he was the first Roman that led an Army beyond the Apennin Mountains, and the Lake Padus  | 527       | 3787 }221 }       |
| The Gauls or Germans in Italy, or the Boji, sent for more Gessate to assist them, and besieg'd Cusidunus; but were totally routed by the brave Metellus, who slew with his own Hand VIRIDOMARUS der Widomer, or Fridmayer King of the Boji, Page 250   | 528       | 3783 }221 }       |
| We read also how those old Germans (commonly call'd Gauls) who settled in the North of Italy, at first assisted the Romans against Hannibal the Great; but They defeated Posthumus with his Roman Army, the same Year that Hannibal routed the Romans at Cannæ; that after Hannibal left Italy, Servilius the Consul attempted in vain to distress them; and afterwards the Boji defeated Appius, took him Prisoner, and took in Placentia, but that Sertius Purpurio routed them, and slew three of their Chiefs; and that Cethegus and Rutus depopulated their Borders, and that Ilerius defeated them and their Confederates near Milan, while their King or Imperator fought well, viz   | —         | —                     |
| DORUACES der Durlach, King of the Boji, who with his two Brothers BRITOMARUS der Brettmar, and ARIOVISTUS der Erndel, was overcome by the Romans about the Year, —   | 524       | 3800 }105 }       |
| But King DORUACH often fought the Roman Consuls Sempronius, Scipio Africanus, L. Quinctius, and Cn. Domitius, till at last P. Cornelius Scipio Nasica slew many Thousands of those German Gauls, broke their Courage, and made them glad to retire out of Italy, as far as the Danube and the Drave, about 400 Years after They made their first Settlement in Italy.  | 538       | 3813 }191 }       |
| And from this Time the Germans and Gauls are consider'd as distinct or different Nations in History, and They gave the Romans no Disturbance till  | —         | —                     |

Continuation of TABLE CCXIV.

The Cimbrian War began, when

|   | U. C.Fab. | A. M.andBe. Chn. |
|---|---------------|--------------------------|
| CELEUS, TEUTOBOCHUS, BOLUS, and DIVICO, four German Kings, marched a great Army of the Cimbri, Teutones, and Ambrones, over the Rhine, often defeated the Romans, and totally routed the Consul Carbo, who was glad to flee for his Life; and having wasted Illyria, They marched to the Helvetians and Tigurins, who are old Germans, and with them They overran all Gaul, pass'd over the Pyrenean Mountains into Spain, and did there what They pleas'd, till repuls'd by the Celtiberians, They return'd to Gaul marching towards Italy, and smartly defeated Silanus the Consul,   | 636           | 3891 2113 }          |
| DIVICO the German King commanding the said Confederates, defeated Cassius Longinus the Consul, with his Legate Piso, who were both slain, and the Roman Prisoners were made to pass under the Yugum, and soon after   | 640           | 3893 2109 }          |
| They cut off Manlius the Consul, and Cæpio the Pro-Consul in Gaul, and all the Roman Army, about 90000 Men, near the Rhone, to the great Disgrace of the Roman Name.  | 642           | 3897 2107 }          |
| And now nothing less than the Conquest of all Italy was design'd by them, which put Rome in great Consternation, till reliev'd by the great Consul Marius, who with a well disciplin'd Army marched into Gaul, and routed the Teutones and Ambrones in two Battles, slaying 200000 of them, and taking 80000 with their King TEUTOBOCHUS. But the Cimbri escap'd, marched over the Alps, and twice repuls'd the Consul Catulus. And next Year   | 644           | 3899 2105 }          |
| Marius and Catulus decided the Cause for Rome, by defeating the Cimbri now in Italy on their March towards Rome, slaying 140000 of them, with their Kings BOIORIX and CELEUS, and taking 60000, and the Tigurins shamefully fled away: for which Marius was declared the Third Founder of Rome, Romulus and Camillus being the other Two.   | 647           | 3902 2102 }          |
| Page 174. and 270.  |               |                          |
| Mithridates the Great, the King of Pontus, invited the Germans into Alliance with him against the Romans.   | 648           | 3903 7101 }          |
| About this Time the old German Saxons had Kings and Princes. See the following Table.   | 658           | 3913 291 }           |
| The Boji and other old German Nations, that lay next to Gaul and Italy, were indefatigable in opposing the Romans; particularly when Julius Cæsar marched into Gaul: For  |               |                          |
| NUMERIUS had brought 30000 Boji from Noricum, to their Neighbours and Kinsmen the Helvetians, who join'd to waste Gaul on that Side, and projected to invade Italy: but Julius Cæsar defeated them at Geneva, and at the Rhone, and sent home the Helvetians, and settled the Boji in Gaul,   | 691           | 3946 25 }            |
| Voccio King of the Norican Germans.   |               |                          |
| ARIOVISTUS King of the Germans, had brought a Colony of 120000 Germans over the Rhine, and wasted Gaul, but He was routed by Julius Cæsar, and fled. Cæsar slew and expell'd out of Gaul 43000 Germans of various Tribes, and marched into Germany; but was bravely repuls'd by the Suevi, the Sigambri, the Eburones, and other German Nations, and was forced by Presents to obtain a Peace with them: about  | 697           | 3952 25 }            |
| BOEROBISTAS a Dacian King succeeded Ariovistus in East Germany, greatly extended his Empire, cross'd the Danube, and distress'd the Romans about the Time that Cæsar became perpetual Dictator.   | 701           | 3956 248 }           |
| He wasted Thrace, Macedonia, and Llyricum, and became terrible to Rome itself. He dispers'd the Boji among other Nations; and not much more Mention is made of them in History; for now most great Actions come to be ascribed to the Goths, and other Nations of the old Germans.  |               |                          |
| COTISON King of the Geter, (then Germans) became so considerable, that Augustus Cæsar offer'd his Daughter Julia to him, and desired Cotison's Daughter for himself.  |               |                          |
| Augustus sent Vibius and Vinicius to subdue the Dannonians, and Lentulus to repulse the Goths and Getes, then call'd Daci, who slew three of their Leaders, particularly King Cotison. Mean while   |               |                          |
| DEDDO King of the Poessians and Basterrians North of the Danube, was routed and slain by Marcus Crassus in the 5th Year of Augustus.  | 724           | 3979 25 }            |
| MELO King of the Sicambri, or Bellofali, the Usipetes and Treucteri, invaded Gaul, and beat Lollius the Pro-Consul; tho he rallied and beat them over the Rhine.  | 733           | 3988 211 }           |
| Next Year Drusus and Tiberius the Sons of the Emperors Livia, were sent against the Germans, and entirely subdued the Rhetians about Trent; while Augustus marched into Gaul to settle that Province, and to make Peace with the Germans, by many rich Presents made to   |               |                          |
| MAROBODUS a great German King, who enter'd into an Alliance with Augustus.  | 755           | 3992 214 }           |
| But all the Germans could not be bribed into Peace; and therefore Agrippa was sent by his Father-in-law Augustus against the Dannonians, who submitted to his Terms by the Terror of his Name.  |               |                          |
| And returning Agrippa died in Campania much lamented  | 757           | 3994 212 }           |
| While Drusus defeated the Germans on the Rhine, sail'd down that River, subdued the Frisians, and was the first Roman that saw the German Sea. And next Year  |               |                          |
| While Tiberius marched against the Dalmatians and Pannonians, his Brother Drusus hunted the Catti, Sicambri, Suevi, and Cherasi, till he was almost intirared by them.  |               |                          |
| Drusus now Consul drove the Germans into their Woods and Desarts, till a German Woman of a monstrous and Gigantic Size, stop'd his Motion, by saying to him in the Roman Language, O Drusus, whither wilt thou boundless Ambition hurry Thee? the Fates have not allow'd to see all Places; retreat, for the Period approacheth of thy Life and Actions; or to that Purpose. Accordingly Drusus died in his Retreat, and obtain'd the Surname of Germanicus   | 710           | 3995 29 }            |
| Tiberius succeeded Drusus in that Command, who marched against the Marcomanni, and by Art and good Presents conciliated the Friendship of the German Nations near the Rhine; and having planted 40000 of them in Gaul, he return'd to Rome, got the Title of Imperator, and the Honours of a Triumph over the Germans.  | 742           | 4001 21 }            |
| This was the Situation of the Germans before the Christian Era, when ANSERICH the second King of the old German Saxons, reign'd near the River Elbe, as in the following Table.   |               |                          |
| HARMINIUS, or Arminius, (the Son of Segimarus) King of the Cherusci der Hertjischen, who dwelt near the Hercynian Forest, prevail'd with Libes High Priest of the Catti, with Segimundus the Son of Segusus, High Priest of the Cherusci, with Peromarus, Cattus, Egimarus, and his Son Scythicus, Noblemen of the Cherusci; and with Berthorites (the Brother of Melo King of the Sicambri) and his Son Theoderitus, to conspire against the Romans, and artfully executed the Plot. For the same Year that Tiberius, and his Nephew Germanicus Cæsar, (the Son of Drusus Germanicus) had obtain'd triumphal Honours for reducing King BETHO with his Pannonians and Dalmatians. | 41            |                          |
| Quintilius Varus, fitter for a Judge than a General, was shamefully decoy'd by the German into their Woods and Marshes, where he was cut off, and with him Three of the most complete Roman Legions at Paderborn, by King HARMINIUS, who was therefore call'd the Saviour of Germany, (lays Tacitus) as King MAROBODUS was call'd the Traitor of his Native Country, and was forced to flee like a Traitor into the hidden Places of the Hercynian Forest for Shelter; because he was so flintly attached to the Romans, and was a Pensioner of Augustus.   | 11            |                          |
| The Emperor forthwith sent Tiberius and Germanicus against HARMINIUS, but they carefully avoided the Mistake of Varus, and at the End of the Year they return'd to Rome. But while Augustus was contriving how to subdue those Germans. He died aged 76 Years.  | 13            |                          |
| In the 3d Year of Tiberius, his glorious Nephew Germanicus Cæsar defeated in several Battles the Cherusci, the Catti, the Augsturi, and other fierce German Nations between the Rhine and the Elbe, and recover'd the Ensigns lost by Varus   | 17            |                          |
| But Tiberius decoy'd Germanicus from Germany, sent him against the Parthians, and sent Piso to poison him, the same Year that he brib'd the Kinsmen of King HARMINIUS to murder him. But the Emperor being lazy and retired, The Germans, call'd Maclans and Sarmatians, took Possession of the Country of Mesia, while the more Western Germans wasted Gaul; which he never attempted to recover, and died in the 22d Year of his Reign  | 20            |                          |
| Nor were the Germans molested by the Emperor Caligula; for he made only a sham Expedition into Germany; and having seen the German Ocean at Holland, and pick'd up a few Shells at the Sea Coast, he return'd like a comical Fool as he was.  | 30            |                          |
| About the 3d Year of Claudius the Cherusci wanting a King sent to Rome to request to have for their King  |               |                          |
| ITALUS the only Relict of the Royal Race, then at Rome, by the Father defend'd from Flavius the Brother of King HARMINIUS, and by the Mother from Cathomarus Prince of the Catti; but we have not his Offspring   | 45            |                          |
| In the Reign of the Emperor Galba, the Roman Armies both in upper and lower Germany, proclaim'd Vitellius Emperor about   | 69            |                          |

Continuation of TABLE CCXIV.

In the Reign of Mespasian, Claudius Tiberius Batavus, Vrenno Caninefas Selandus, Julius Sabinus, Lingon and Cul-lius Valentinus Trevir, who was of the old Royal Race, mov'd War against the Romans in Germany, while Sido and ITALUS, Kings of the Suebi, assisted the Emperor against them

About the same Time the Sarmatae cross'd the Danube and invaded Moesia, but were bravely repulsed.

In the Reign of Domitian the European Sarmatae distress'd the Romans in Germany, but were repulsed

And in the eighth Year of his Reign the Dacians, a German People made up of Scythians, Goths and Getes, under
DECEBALUS their King, bravely and often defeated the Romans, 'till they were bribed into Peace by large Presents, that unjustly procured for Domitian a Triumph, as he had another for defeating the Catti in Germany, for which he assum'd the Name of Germanicus —
But the Emperor Trajan built a stately Bridge over the Danube, conquer'd the Dacians and reduced their King DECEBALUS to slay himself rather than be taken Prisoner; when Dacia was made a Roman Province, where Trajan built many Cities, Towns and Forts

In the Reign of Adrian the European Scythians, Sarmatians, Alanes and Dacians pass'd over Trajan's Bridge and overran
Pannonia; but upon the Emperor's approach they sued for Peace and obtain'd it

But in his Expedition towards Britain, Adrian secured the Roman Conquests in Western Germany, by taking of the Garrisons.

In the Reign of Antoninus Pius the western Germans and Dacians rebell'd, but were subdu'd by the Romans, the same Year that Frankfort upon the Oder was built by Sunno the Frank

And next Year

MARCOMIR King of the Franks in Germany repair'd Marpurg

In the Reign of Aurelius Antoninus Philosophus and Lucius Verus, the Catti invaded Rhetia, but were expell'd by Victorianus the Roman General

But the Marcmanni, the Quadi, the Sarmatians, Vandals, Suevians, and all the other German Nations joined against the Romans, seiz'd upon Pannonia and threaten'd Italy; upon which the Emperors went against them, and during the War Verus died

And so Aurelius prosecuted the German War alone very successfully, defeated the Confederates and recover'd Pannonia, but could do no more, because of the Revolt of Cassius in the East, which made the Emperor return to Italy, and leave Germany in the best State he could

But the Marcmanni and Quadi renew'd the War with more Fury, and the Romans not raising their Taxes, the Emperor sold all his Jewels and rich Furniture to raise an Army, and march'd against the Enemy, cross'd the Danube by a Bridge of Boats, defeated them at first, but was drawn by them into a dangerous Situation, where he and his Romans had perish'd if God had not sent great Showers to refresh them, upon which they obtain'd a great Victory

In the reign of Commodus the Dacians and western Germans too were curb'd by his Lieutenants, to whom he left all Things.

The Emperor Caisaralla overcame the Germans in Rhetia

OSTROGOTHA King of the Goths in Germany, became terrible to the Roman Empire in the Reign of Mariminus, when a noble Goth appeared eight Feet high who eat every Day 40 Pound Weight of Flesh and drank 5 Gallons of Wine, and his Lady's Bracelets did fit only his Thumbs.

OSTROGOTHA expell'd the Vandals, and greatly enlarg'd his Kingdom

The Emperor Merius expell'd the Goths out of Moesia and Thrace

FASTIDA King of the Gepidae, a Sort of the Goths, was the same Year defeated by King OSTROGOTHA, who died next Year, and was succeeded by

CINNA or Chiea, or Omiba, who slew Decius and his Son.

and made the Emperor Gallus his Tributary

RESPA } two Gothick Princes, wast'd Pontus, Greece and Macedonia, and burnt the Temple of Ephesus and VEDUCA }

They march'd into Bithynia, spoil'd Chalcedon, Nice and Ilium, and return'd laden with Spoil

CANNIBAS King of the Goths was defeated at the Danube by the Emperor Aurelian, who recover'd the old Roman Territories, and slew Cannibas

HILDERICUS Omiba King of the Goths, reign'd 'till the Time of Constantin the Great, and legan

Aurelius suppress'd the Bosi, who had wast'd Vindictia; but not being able to keep Moesia, he remov'd the Romans into Dacia

The Emperor Aurelius Probus recover'd Gaul from the Germans.

He beat the Almans and slew 40000 of them at the River Nectar, next Year: and he subdu'd the Sarmatians in Illyria, and the Goths in Thrace

Diocletian subdu'd also the Sarmatians, and having repuls'd the Goths in Pannonia, he built Forts on the Frontiers.

The Emperor Galarius defeated the Wartarnae in Sarmatia

The Emperor Constantius recover'd Belgium from the Franks, and Rhetia from the Almans, slaying 60000 of them

And now after, by the Aid of the Goths, the Romans had suppress'd the Quingentians of Africa, they began to slight the brave
Goths.

Constantin the Great made a Bridge to pass over the Rhine at Cologne and subdu'd the German on the Frontiers and subdu'd the Sarmatians, pass'd the Danube and wast'd Pannonia

RAUSIMELUS King of the Sarmatians was slain in Battle by Constantin the Great

ARARICUS } were Kings of the Goths during 12 Years and AURICUS }

and again subdu'd those Gothick Kings who had invaded Moesia and Thrace and oblig'd them to reside beyond the Danube, promising to assist him with 40000 Men upon all Occasions; but when they were expell'd by their own Soldiers, Constantin gave them Pannonia

GERICH King of the Goths, warr'd against the Emperor Constantin

Cassian overcame the Germans

But next Year the Germans wast'd Cologne, and the Sarmatians wast'd Pannonia

CHODON Sarmian the chief King of the Germans was taken Prisoner at Strasburg by Julian in the Reign of Constantius

And Constantius forced the Germans to sue for Peace

VADOMARI King of the Germans, was taken Prisoner by Julian's Army

The Germans in Gaul defeated and slew Valentinian's Generals, but were repuls'd bravely the same Year

RAUS King of the Germans took in Mentz, and carried off many Captives; but Valentinian's Army defeated them with great slaughter

ATHALANUS King of the Goths was put to flight by Valens Emperor of the East.

Severus subdu'd the Sarons.

The German Quadi defeated the Romans encroaching upon them

MAURANDUS King of the Germans made Peace with Valentinian Emperor of the West

The Burgundians settled on the Rhine, and the Goths in Thrace

Gratian Emperor of the West slew 35000 Germans near the Rhine

ALARIUS King of the Ostro-Goths in Thrace, submitted to the Eastern Emperors

But he invaded Greece for not being paid his Pension

The Suebi were now famous every where, and the Huns in Germany.

ALARIUS invaded Italy and besieged the Western Emperor Honorius in Ravenna, 'till overcome by Stilico, who reliev'd his Master the Goth was slain and 100000 of his Men by Stilico, when ALARIUS reign'd alone

MORIGIUS King of the Wandals and Alani, wast'd Germany, cross'd the Rhine and invaded Gaul

ALARIUS having invaded Italy took in Rome and spoil'd it

ATHALANUS King of the Ostro-Goths married Placidia the Sister of Honorius the Western Emperor, invaded France and Spain, warr'd with the Vandals, and founded the Kingdom of the Wisco-Goths at Tboles

But for making Peace with the Romans his own People slew him

And also his Son Segericus for the same Cause next Year, while the Suebi and Wandals are famous in Spain.

The Goths invaded the Roman Empire, but were repuls'd by Atius

Theodosius the Eastern Emperor recover'd Pannonia from the Huns.

The Burgundians rebell'd against the Romans, but were quell'd by Atius.

The Huns aided the Romans against the Goths.

ATTILA and BLEDA Kings of the Huns having invaded Moesia, Thrace and Illyria, wast'd all Greece and forced the Eastern Emperor Theodosius to purchase Peace for 6000 Pounds of Gold, and an annual Pension of 1000 Pound,

TABLE CCXV.

The old KINGS and PRINCES of Saxony until WITEKIND the Great,
With the four fruitful Branches of his Family.

THE ancient Inhabitants of present Upper Saxony, were the Lombards of Magdeburg, and Part of the Corufii about Manfeld and Wittenburg; but being overcome by the prevailing Saxons, They came to be call'd by their Name. But the old Saxons were natural Germans, a Part of that most populous and potent People the Suebi; and in Ptolemy's Time possess'd the Parts beyond the Elbe, and thence extended to the Eyder; and as They increas'd in Time of the later Roman Emperors, crossing the Elbe, They possess'd the void Places abandon'd by the Franks or French, (then busied in conquering more fruitful Countries) and gave their Name to all their conquer'd Countries: So that at length They extended their Bounds from the River Sala on the East, to the German Sea on the West, and possess'd the Countries now call'd Holftein, Luneburg, Braunswig, Bremen, Verden, Hildesheim, Halberstadt, Magdeburg, the Marches of Brandenburg, the Countries of Manfeld and Westphalia, both the *Friesland*s and Overyffel, with as much of Gelderland and Holland as lay on that Side of the Rhine. Consequently the present Electoral Family does not possess one Foot of old Saxony; for upon the Turns of the Family, their Seat and Patrimony was moved into Upper Saxony, which was call'd Saxony for that Cause alone.

The first we read of is,

TABLE CCXVI.

The Family of CHARLEMAIN, or CHARLES the Great, the Patriarch of the Carolinian Emperors of Germany, and Kings of France.

CHARLEMAIN King of France, having conquer'd WITKIND the Great, the last King and first Duke of the Saxons, subdued the Slavonians and Hungarians, fortify'd South France, or Gallia Narbonensis, against the Invasions of the Saracens, made Peace with IRENE Empress of Constantinople, and conquer'd most of the Italian and Spanish Nations, became the greatest Conqueror that had appeared for many Ages, enter'd into Alliance with distant Kings, particularly with ACHAIUS King of Scotland: and marching triumphantly into Italy, He assisted Pope LEO III. against his Rebels; for which LEO solemnly crown'd him at Rome EMPEROR of the WEST on Christmas Day, A. D. 800.

The same Year that EGBERT King of the West Saxons in Britain began to reign, who in Time destroy'd the Heptarchy, and so became the first Saxon King of all ENGLAND, first so call'd by him, after the old Angli, or Englesmeu, that came into Britain 352 Years before, under King HENGST, A. D. 448. See the Britannic Tables.

CHARLEMAIN made the Saxons, and all other Heathen Nations whom he conquer'd, to receive the Christian Faith, and so made the Grand Revolution of Europe.

XI. CONRAD I. Emperor 912. † 918. without Issue. There is a Dispute about his Wife, whether she was Placentia Daughter of Lewis junior King of Germany, or Cunigunda the Widow of Luitpold, and Mother of Arnolphus Malus Duke of Bavaria, and Daughter of Ekengerus Count of Suabia. He was call'd Emperor for his Valour, by Advice of Otto Duke of Saxony. In his Time the Great Dukes of Saxony, Bavaria, Suabia, and Lorrain, attempting to be Independent, Conrad not able to prevent it, and fearing a Revolt, advised on his Death-bed the German Princes to prevent it, by electing HENRY Auceps Duke of Saxony to be Emperor of Germany, the Son of the said Otto. And thus began the Saxon Emperors in the next Table.

Lewis III. King of France 879. and † 882.

TABLE CCXX.

The Elected EMPERORS of the West, during the Great Interregnum in the 13th Century, or the Confusion that lasted about 27 Years.

THE Pope, or the Court of Rome, artfully rent the Empire, by inflaming the Princes of Germany against the learned Emperor FRIDERIC II. who refusing to restore Sardinia to the Pope, was excommunicated A. D. 1239. but FRIDERIC not much regarding it, the Pope pretended formally to depose him: upon which FRIDERIC invaded Italy 1245. whereby the Italians were divided into Guelphs, or the Pope's Party, and Ghiblins, or the Emperor's Party: And next Year the Great Interregnum, or Confusion of the Empire properly commenced, when HENRY Raspo had Friends to assist him in setting up for the Imperial Crown, 1246.

III.

The House of Schwabia itself.

FRIDERIC I. Barbarossa, Emperor.

Henry VI. Emperor.

Philip Emperor.

FRIDERIC II. Emperor, † 1250. under Excommunication.

CONRAD IV. upon his Father's Death, claim'd Succession to the Imperial Throne, 1250. which he obtain'd, and asserted as well as he could about four Years, till 1254. when his Brother Manfred poison'd him. While WILLIAM of Holland pretended to reign in the Netherlands.

Wife Elizabeth Daughter of Otto the Pfaltzgrave.

CONRADINUS the Heir of Sicily, Apulia, and Calabria, or Naples, after the Death of his Uncle Manfred, rais'd great Forces in Germany, and with FRIDERIC Markgrave of Baden, and Heir of Austria, marched into Italy to recover his Father's Kingdoms of Naples and Sicily, that had been usurped by CHARLES Count of Anjou, who had been proclaim'd at Rome by the Pope 1263. and crown'd 1266. who slew King Manfred 1268. and the same Year beat CONRADIN and FRIDERIC out of the Field, 22d August, or with others 28th November. And having got them into his Clutches, CHARLES first basely insulted them, and then by Advice of Pope Clement IV. He caus'd them to be try'd, condemn'd, and beheaded with an Axe at Naples, 29th October 1269. against the solemn Protestation of the brave Robert Count of Flanders, who forthwith kill'd the Prothonotary that read the Sentence, and the Hangman that executed it, that They might not brag of it, nor do such a Thing again.

CHARLES also found Means of captivating FRIDERIC Prince of Antioch, the Bastard Son of the Emperor FRIDERIC II. whose Eyes he caus'd to be put out, and then hang'd him like a common Criminal: And so the whole ancient Schwabian Race, famous at home and abroad, in War and Peace, became extinct by the Arts of the Roman Pontiffs, after They had been Emperors during 115 Years, and Kings of Sicily and Naples 72 Years. But just Providence avenged the Royal Swabians, by the Sicilian Vespers, 1st April 1282. See Sicily.

The Original of the old Counts of HABSPURG.

WITHIN the Limits of Switzerland, and in that Part of it which is call'd Argow, did sometimes stand the famous and renown'd Castle of Habsburg, first founded, as some say, by OTBERT I. about A. D. 700. or as others by RATBODUS Son of Landrianus. It was preserv'd in Memory by the Lords and Princes of it, who were descended in a direct Line from THUDOLBERT King of Austrasia or Mentz, who were first settled here by CLOTHART II. King of France, as Dukes of Upper Alsatia: afterwards they were call'd Counts of Habsburg after that Castle. The Genealogy of these Counts is as follows,

|--|--|--|---|--|--|
| THEODOSIUS II. King of Mentz . See the Merovingian Kings of France .  |  |  | Erckembaldus was Major Domus , or Steward of the Household of the Merovingian King CLONOVIVS II. 646. † 661. His Wife Leudefindis . See the Original of the Counts of Zollern .                          |  |  |
| Sigebert Duke of Alsatia , or Germany , Anno 630.  |  |  | Landilius was Steward of the Household of THEODORIC III. King of France , and † in the Year 680.   |  |  |
| Othert, or Ottobert I. the first Count of Habsburg , in Brisgau , the Founder of the Castles of Altemburg and Habsburg .   |  |  | Erthicus, or Atbicus, surnamed Adelricus , was Duke of Elzas , or Alsatia , and † 720. Wife Bersvinda Sister of Bihbildis , or Blidibildis , Wife of CHILPERIC II. King of France . |  |  |
| Babo, or Bibo, the last Duke of Upper Alsatia , which Title he changed for Count of Habsburg , Anno 688.   |  |  | Wife Bersvinda Sister of Bihbildis , or Blidibildis , Wife of CHILPERIC II. King of France .   |  |  |
| Ampricus, or Rothericus, or Robert Count of Altemburg   |  |  | Hugh. Bataco. St. Othilia.  |  |  |
| Othert II. or Hertspert, Count, liv'd at Brisgau , Anno 724.  |  |  | Hatto Bishop of Strasbourg 763. † 773.   |  |  |
| Rampertus, He procur'd the Canonization of St. Trupertus , 814.   |  |  |   |  |  |
| Othert III. the last Count of Habsburg of this old Line.  |  |  |   |  |  |
| Hiltrudis Heiress of the County of Habsburg , but her Husband and she leaving no Issue, the Estate of Habsburg came to his Cousins, the Sons of Alberic Count of Alsatia , as in this Table. |  |  |   |  |  |
| Welfus. See the Welfish Table of Saxony and Bavaria .   |  |  | Thassilo the first Count of Zollern , See his Table.   |  |  |

Now come to the Genealogical Tables of the Six Temporal ELECTORS of the Roman German Empire, without regarding their Dignity or Precedency in the Electoral College or Dyet, about which and other Things relating to them, there are many Controversies that properly belong to Historians and Civilians; therefore I have chosen to treat of them in the following Order, viz.

I. OF BOHEMIA.

1. BOHEMIA the Great Cupbearer.
  2. SAXONY the Great Marshal or Constable.
  3. BRANDENBURG the Great Chamberlain.
  4. BAVARIA Grand Master.
  5. PALATINE Grand - - -
  6. HANOVER the Great Treasurer.
- Of the German Empire.

The Word Bohemia signifies the Dwelling of the Boji, an old Nation of Gallie-Germans, who, under the Conduct of Sigentius Nephew of Ambigetus, in the Days of Tarquinius Priscus King of Rome, about the Year before Christ 587. expelled the Hermundures and the Marcomanni from this Country, situated in the Bottom of Germany, surrounded with the Hercynian Forest, whose Description I leave to Geographers. Afterwards MARABODUS Chief of the Marcomanni, in Time of the first Roman Emperors, designing to make himself King of the Old Bucht, chose Bohemia as a Place of Safety from the Incursions of the Romans, and expelled thence the Boji, whom he forced to retire to the Country of Bayern or Bavaria, still so called after them. The Slaves that came from Scythia (where the Muscovites and Tartars now dwell) about A. D. 454. having made themselves terrible by their Successes over the Eastern Empire, were join'd by the European Scythians, and other Nations, and marching Westward, they invaded Poland and Germany, and dividing their Conquests among them, they founded two new States, viz. Poland and Bohemia: for a Sclavonian Prince call'd Lacus, march'd from Croatia into Poland; where he founded that Sovereignty, A. D. 550. while the same Year his Brother Czechus march'd into Bohemia, and founded that Sovereignty, calling the Country Czechozeme, or the Land of Chez, or Czechus: but the first Name Bohemia was still remain'd, even by those Sclavonians, as to this Day. But according to others, Czechus could not well be the Brother of Lacus; for They make the Reign of Czechus in Bohemia to commence only A. D. 644. which is more probable.

TABLE CCXXXVI.

Now come to the Genealogical Tables of the Six Temporal ELECTORS of the Roman German Empire, without regarding their Dignity or Precedency in the Electoral College or Dyet, about which and other Things relating to them, there are many Controversies that properly belong to Historians and Civilians; therefore I have chosen to treat of them in the following Order, viz.

1. OF BOHEMIA.

1. BOHEMIA the Great Cupbearer.
  2. SAXONY the Great Marshal or Constable.
  3. BRANDENBURG the Great Chamberlain.
  4. BAVARIA Grand Master.
  5. PALATINE Grand - - -
  6. HANOVER the Great Treasurer.
- } Of the GERMAN EMPIRE.

The Word Bohemia signifies the Dwelling of the Baii, an old Nation of Galli-Germans, who, under the Conduct of Sigisvultus Nephew of Ambigatus, in the Days of Tarquinius Priscus King of Rome, about the Year before Christ 587. expelled the Harmandures and the Nemetes from this Country; seated in the Bottom of Germany, surrounded with the Herzog Forest, whose Description I leave to Geographers. Afterwards MARABODUS Chief of the Partomani, in Time of the first Roman Emperors, designing to make himself King of the Old Bucht, chose Bohemia as a Place of Safety from the Incursions of the Romans, and expelled thence the Baii, whom he forced to retire to the Country of Bayern or Bavaria, still so called after them. The Slaves that came from Scythia (where the Muscovites and Tartars now dwell) about A. D. 454. having made themselves terrible by their Successes over the Eastern Empire, were join'd by the European Scythians, and other Nations, and marching Westward, they invaded Poland and Germany, and dividing their Conquests among them, they founded two new States, viz. Poland and Bohemia; for a Slavonian Prince call'd Lechus, march'd from Croatia into Poland; where he founded that Sovereignty A. D. 550. while the same Year his Brother Czechus march'd into Bohemia, and founded that Sovereignty, calling the Country Czecheme, or the Land of Czech, or Caschus; but the first Name Bohemia was still retain'd, even by those Slavonians, as to this Day. But according to others, Czechus could not well be the Brother of Lechus; for They make the Reign of Czechus in Bohemia to commence only A. D. 644. which is more probable.

The Old DUKES of Bohemia.

1. CROCUS the Seleucus of Croatia, having founded this Sovereignty, was the first Duke of Bohemia A. D. 644. reign'd 17 Years. † 661. Some say that CROCUS his Successor was his Son; but That does not appear.

Interregnum from the Death of CROCUS 661. to the Commencement of CROCUS 670. during 9 Years.

2. CROCUS, or Cracus, a noble Croatian, call'd the Lycurgus, or the Lawgiver, was of the same Family perhaps with Czechus, and became Duke A. D. 670. reign'd 39 Years, and † 709.

Bohus. Rascha the eldest Daughter. Uetke the Middle Daughter, married one Slavofus.

5. LIBUSSA was elected Duchess of Bohemia 710. But the Bohemians being weary of her Government, they elected a common Ploughman, call'd PREMISLAUS, A. D. 722. and made him her Husband. She † 734. reign'd alone 12, and with her Husband 12 Years.

4. PREMISLAUS I. was elected Duke of Bohemia, 722. after this Manner, viz. LIBUSSA having many Suitors, it was agreed that whoever he was before whom a Horse purposely let loose, did first make a Stand, should be the Husband to the Lady, and Duke of Bohemia; accordingly this fortunate Ploughman had the Respect put upon him by the Horse, and so was elected their Duke. He † 745. reign'd 23.

Burka the Wife of Rascha.

Subram Lord of Bilia.

Pruta Lord of Bilia.

Others say that Uetke was succeeded by Clotinus, and he by Mercurius, and he by Bela, and he by Radsticus, and he by Berthelms the first Christian Prince. But the other Line of Descent is more probable and plain.

5. NEZAMISLUS, or Beramisilus, was Duke 745. † 783. reign'd 39. Wives, 1. Hruba. 2. Lidomira.

6. MNATHA Duke 783. Cotemporary with Charlemain, † 804. reign'd 21 Years.

11. BORIVORUS I. or Borivojus, the first Christian Duke of Bohemia. Cotemporary with the Emperor ARNOLDUS, A. D. 890. depos'd by the Infidels 895. restor'd 898. was forced to resign to his Son 905. † 910. He built many Schools, and much advanced the Interest of Christianity.

13. BRITIGANTUS I. or Slingsman. Duke 905. to 907. reign'd 2. He was more favourable to the Heathens than his Father.

14. WRATISLAUS I. Duke 907. † 916. reign'd 9 Years. He was a pious Prince, and during his Time Drabomira dissembled her natural Enmity to the Christians.

15. LWENCESLAUS I. surnamed the Saver, being under the Tuition of his Grandmother Ludomilla, was educated a Christian; and after her Death was Duke 921. he was made the first King of Bohemia 937. which so incited his wicked Mother Drabomira, that she contriv'd his Death: Accordingly she invited him to the Baptism of her Grandson Boleslaus Padicus, where she got his Brother Boleslaus Saver to slay him 28th September 946. reign'd 17 Years. Some say it was A. D. 929. Others 945.

16. BOLESLAUS I. Saver, or the Cruel, slew his Brother, and became Duke of Bohemia 938. and immediately caus'd serve an Edict, that all Christians and Clergy who did not depart Bohemia, should be put to Death, and their Carcases made Food for the Dogs. At last he † 967. reign'd 29, aged 38.

Pruma a Duchess of Saxony, † 1006.

18. BOLESLAUS III. was Duke 959. was blinded, and depos'd 1003. reign'd 4 Years, but liv'd after his Deposition, and † 1037.

17. BOLESLAUS II. Padicus, Duke 967. He was a great Advancer of Christianity among his People. He † 999. reign'd 32.

19. JAROMIRUS, others call him the Son of Boleslaus III. Duke 1003. to 1004. reign'd 1.

Dambysdoka, or Dobrawka, † 977.

Blieslaus I. Duke of Poland 965. whom she converted to the Christian Faith.

Estimilus.

22. CONRAD I. of Zem, D. R. 1033. to 1034. † 1034.

23. SPITIGENTUS II. Duke 1035. † 1061. reign'd 6.

24. WRATISLAUS II. the second King of Bohemia. See his Posterity in the following Table.

25. LEOTICLAUS II.

The Old LANDGRAVES of Thuringia, or Düringen, before its Union with Meissen, or Misnia.

THE ancient Inhabitants of this Country were the Chasuaris mention'd by Tacitus, and after them the Thuringii, call'd by some the Turcilingi, suppos'd to be the Tirangetae mention'd by Ptolemy, who, with the Heruli, under the Conduct of ODOACER conquer'd Italy, not heard of in this Country till Chilbert I. King of France, when they took up the whole Provinces of Hesse and Thuringia, under one BISSINIUS their King. They were overcome at the great Battel of Zulp near Cologne A. D. 493, where they join'd with the Almans, and were afterwards totally subdued by Theoboric the French King of Mentz, when their King HERMANFRID was taken, and most perfidiously slain; Part of their Country was taken from them and given to the Saxons, becoming subject for the rest to the Kings of France; but so that for some Time they had Kings of their own; BADERIC and HERMANFRID two Brothers, Kings hereof successively, being the Uncles of Madegunda a pious Princess, the Wife of Clothary I. King of France, Anno 559. In Process of Time it was united to the Empire by the Emperor Henry I. whose Son the Emperor Otto I. confer'd it on his Son WILLIAM, then Archbishop of Mentz, which he left to his Successors in that See, govern'd by their Vidames or Provincial Officers, till the Time of the Emperor Conradus Salicus, when Lewis Barbatus, one of these Vidames, or Vice Domini, made himself the Proprietor of it, and left the same to his Children after his Decease. But in the Time of the Emperor Conrad II. the Issue of this Lewis either failing or being dispossest'd, the Emperor confer'd this Estate upon Lewis Barbatus.

T A B L E CCLXIII.

The Ducal, now the ROYAL House of Prussia.

PRUSSIA bounded on the East by Lithuania and Poland, on the West by Pomerania, on the North by the Baltick Sea, and on the South by Poland and Maffovia, was anciently inhabited by the Venedi, the most potent Nation of this Tract, extended all along the Coast of the Baltica, and whole Kings were descended from ARTHURIUS I. the first King of the Heruli on the East Sea or Baltick, who reign'd A. M. 3684. before Christ 320. See Table 138. These Armeni were so powerful, that they kept under them the Gythiae, Phini, Suani, Phrangudiones, Avarini, the Sodini and Galinde, whose Name the Dukedom of Galindia still retains.

The Bojami a People inhabiting the Foot of the Riparian Mountains, being weary of their own cold and barren Habitations, remov'd into the western Parts, and vanquishing the Venedi and those other Nations, possess'd themselves of this Country, which they call'd Bojussia, now by Contraction Prussia, which was partition'd into 12 Provinces or Dukedoms by Tenedus, one of the Borussian Princes, who having 12 Sons, gave each a Part, and in this Condition it continued till the coming of the Marian Knights or the Knights of the Teutonic Order, sent hither by the Emperor FRIDERIC II. A. D. 1215. by whom the Dukedoms of Sadavia, Michelow and the most of Naxavia were made desolate, and the rest submitted themselves and embraced Christianity, and continued in their Obedience till A. D. 1419. when, weary of the Extortions of their Governors and the continual Change of Masters, they revolted to JAGELLO King of Poland, and A. D. 1457. the Garrison Soldiers sold Marienbourg and several other Towns to CASIMIR IV. King of Poland. But the Knights disdaining such Usage, and refusing to swear Allegiance to the King of Poland, a bloody War ensued. At first LEWIS, then Grand-Master of the Teutonic Order, beat the King out of the Field, routed his whole Army, slew 30000 of his Men, and took 156 of his principal Nobility: nor was he vanquish'd at last but by the Treachery and Rebellion of his own People. In short, both Parties being wearied with so long a War, ALBERT of Brandenburg Grand-Master, having for 14 Years valiantly maintain'd the Honour of his Order, and for the four last Years importun'd in vain the Assistance of the Emperor and Princes of Germany, began to think of some Expedient to compound the Affair. He favour'd Luther's Doctrine, and secretly practis'd with SIGISMUND King of Poland to finish the War to the Advantage of both Parties; accordingly an Agreement was made, by which ALBERT was to relinquish his Order and surrender all Prussia into the Hands of the King of Poland, and the King possessing the Western Parts with the Town of Marienbourg and the Sovereignty of Dantzic and Altenburg, should invest ALBERT with the Title of Duke of Prussia, granting to him and his Heirs the Eastern Moiety, containing the Provinces above specify'd; and finally, that ALBERT and his Heirs should hold the same Estate as Himagers, to the Crown of Poland, taking Place in all Assemblies at the King's Right-Hand. According to this Agreement A. D. 1525. Nov. 22.

ALBERT arriv'd in the complete gorgeous Habit of Grand-Master of the Teutonic Order, presented himself on his Knees before SIGISMUND on his Throne at Cracaw, who raising him from the Ground caus'd him to put off these Robes and attire himself in a Ducal Habit; and so he was created the first Duke of PRUSSIA, whose Genealogy and Successors are as follow, viz.

T A B L E CCLXIV.

The first Dukes of the Boiarians in Bavaria before CHARLEMAIN, call'd the Old Agilofingian Race.

BAVARIA was anciently inhabited by the Cimbri, (call'd from them Vindelici) a People so bent to maintain their Liberty against the Incroachments of the Romans, that when Diusus the Son-in-law of Augustus, and Father of Germanicus Caesar, made War upon them, their very Women took the Alarm, and, when their Darts were spent, threw their Children at the Heads of the Romans. After Them, in the Declension of the Empire, succeeded the Boiarians, some of the many Tribes of the Boji, the most durus'd and numerous People of Gaul and Germany, inhabiting the Dukedom of Bourbon, from whence some of them pass'd into Germany, and mingled themselves with the Taurisci, a People then inhabiting those Parts now call'd Saxony or Stiria: Others of them advanced farther among the Norici, and some retir'd into the Shetters and Fasting of the Boiarian Forest; and being expell'd thence by the Marcomanni, they fell into the Countries of the Hermunduri and Norici, (now the Upper Palatinate) who mingling into one Nation with them, took the common Name of Boiarians; by which Name They were first known in the Time of CLODOVEUS I. King of France, by whose Persuasion A. D. 508. They pass'd over the Danube, and possess'd themselves of Vindelicia, with some Part of Noricum, to which they gave the Name of Boiaria, now call'd Bavaria.

This People were govern'd first by Kings whose Names and Dates are wanting in History, except ALDIGERIUS, (and he the last King) who was slain fighting with the Almans against the French, or Franconians, at the great Battel of Zulp near Cologn, A. D. 473. where the Boiarians were overcome.

Reginopriga his Wife. THEODO I. abandoning the Name of King, because not pleasing to the French, or Franconians, who had newly conquer'd the Boiarians, assum'd that of Duke, and, at the Persuasion of CLODOVEUS I. King of France, boldly crossing the Danube with his brave Boiarians, took from the Romans the whole Province of Rætia Secunda, or Vindelicia, A. D. 508. He † 511.

THEODO II. call'd the Great, expell'd the Romans from Noricum and Vindelicia, and whatever they held on the German Side of the Alps, A. D. 520. † 537.

THEODO III. Duke of Lower Bavaria 537. † 565. He is call'd by some the first Christian Duke, who affirm he was converted by St. Rupert, the first Bishop of Worms, A. D. 539. then Bishop of Salzburg; but others make THEODO IV. to be the Man, as on the Right Hand.

THEODOBERT I. Duke of Lower Bavaria 565. † 584.

GARIBALDUS I. Duke of Lower Bavaria 584. † 592.

GUNDOALDUS, or Guntolus, THEUDELINDA † 625. Wife of Gunthar in Italy by the Lombards 615. He was the Patriarch of several Kings of the Lombards in Italy. Table 139.

THEODOBERT IV. Duke † --- Lambert † --- St. Emmeran Uta was made pregnant by a Gentleman call'd Sigebald.

Desiderius the last King of the Lombards in Italy.

Leopoldus † --- Table 139.

OTTO Duke of Upper Bavaria, † 545.

THEODOWALDA Duke of Upper Bavaria, † 567.

THASSILO I. Duke over all Bavaria, † 598.

Theodobert II. King of Austrasia

Gela of Friaul.

GARIBALDUS II. Duke 598. † 612.

Reginotrudis, the very much forwarded her Husband's Conversion.

THEODO IV. Duke of Bavaria 612. † 630. He is reckon'd by some to be that very THEODO who was converted to Christianity, and baptiz'd by St. Rupert.

THEODOBERT II. Duke 630. † ---

THASSILO II. † 650.

HUGOBERTUS Duke † 735.

UTILO Duke of Bavaria 735. † 761.

UTILO, or Odilo, a Military Hero, having done good Service to Theobert I. King of Austrasia against the Danes, then grievously infesting the Coasts of Lower Germany, was by that King made Warden of those Marches, and Markgrave of Antwerp, and got fair Possessions in that Tract.

Theobert King of Austrasia or Mentz.

Wichilda.

N. N.

N. N.

N. N.

St. Arnulph the first Mayor, or Major Domus under CLOTHARY II. King of France, is by some Historians said to be the 4th from Utilo, tho' by others with more Probability to be descended from PHARAMUND King of France.

Alegisus Major Domus.

Pipin Heristallus Major Domus.

CHARLES MARTEL the Bastard of Pipin Major Domus, Duke of Brabant, and King of France. See the Carolinian Kings.

| IX. The Princely Families descended from HENRY the Lyon Duke of Braunschweig-Luneburg  | 284 |
| X. The LADIES of various Families who by Marriage have conveyed the Blood and Genealogy down from HENRY Leo to King GEORGE II. | 285 |

THE antient Inhabitants of this Country were the Dugublini of Tacitus, with some of the Chauci and Cherusci, who shamefully routed Quintilius Varus and cut him off with his three Roman Legions; which greatly afflicted the Emperor AUGUSTUS, and made him ravingly often say, Vare redde Legiones! O Varus restore my Legions! They long maintain'd their Independency (for the Romans became afraid of them) and were early blended with the Saxons, making one general sort of People inhabiting a Part of the Kingdom of Old Saxony, whose Kings are together in Table 215. of whom the fourteenth King. viz.

14. Hengst or HENGIST, upon the Invitation of the antient Britons, came to their Relief against the Scots and Picts in the Declension of the Roman Empire, and arrived in the little Isle Thanet, A. D. 448. with his Brother Horsa and his Army of Angles, a People from Gottorp, Hamburg and Luneburg, or first Englishmen, founded the Kingdom of Kent, and † A. D. 474. being succeeded in Saxony by one of his Sons call'd

15. HARTWAKER Prince of the Saxons in Germany, † 480.

16. HATTWIGATE Prince of the Saxons in Germany, † 524.

17. HULDERIC King of the Saxons, † 540.

18. BODICUS Prince of the Saxons, † 586.

19. BERTHOLD King of the Saxons, † 633.

20. SIGHARD King of the Saxons, † 691. Ufultanda Billung King of the Vandals.

21. DIETERIC King of the Saxons † 740. Dobrogera.

22. ETHELHARD King of the Saxons.

23. WERNICKE King of the Saxons, † 768. Gunilda of the Isle of Rügen.

24. WITEKIND the Great the last King of the Saxons conquered by CHARLEMAIN 785. and consenting to be baptized, the Conqueror made him the first Duke of Old Upper Saxony, or on the Weser, and † 807.

Sladbed King of Friesland.

Heila.

Albion was baptized with his Cousin WITEKIND the Great 785.

Herman slain by CHARLEMAIN 798.

WITEKIND the Great was the Patriarch of most great Families in Europe, who all think it their Honour to be descended from him. (See his four fruitful Branches Table 215.) and among the rest, This of Braunschweig-Luneburg is descended from WITEKIND, as in the next Table.

It remained a Part of the Great Old Dutchy of Saxony, till HERMAN BILLUNG Lord of Luneburg was by the Emperor OTTO I. made Duke of Lower Saxony or on the Elb, even that Part of the Old Dutchy of Saxony that comprehended the Country of Luneburg, A. D. 960. as in the next Table.

But the Male Issue of this great Family is from Azo III. Markgrave of Este, whose Wife Cunissa was the Sister of WELPHO IV. (III.) and Heiress of Lower Bavaria; and by her this Family is descended of the WELPHISH Race also. Azo's Son by Cunissa, or WELPHO V. (IV.) was the Father of HENRY Niger who married WOLPHILDIS Heiress of the Lower Saxony on the Elb, the last of the Race of Herman Billung (as in the next Table) whose Son HENRY Superbus married Gertraut the only Daughter of Lothary and Richenza, the last of the Branch of WITEKIND the Great, and Heiress of the Upper Saxony on the Weser, which contain'd the Lands of Braunschweig, as in the next Table.

Thus HENRY Superbus had all Bavaria, vast Dominions in Italy and both the Saxonies; but the Emperor CONRAD III. took all from him except Saxony which he kept by Force of Arms; and his Son HENRY the Lyon, (who married Maud Daughter of HENRY II. King of England) possessed vastly large Dominions, but by the Emperor FRIDERIC Barbarossa he was deprived of all, except his Allodial Estate of Braunschweig and Luneburg which was possess'd by his three Sons, viz.

HENRY Longus who got Zelle. | WILLIAM of Winchester who got Luneburg. | OTTO who got Braunschweig and † without Issue. | Maud Wife of Henry Prince of the Vandals.

And from HENRY, WILLIAM and Maud are descended most of the great Families in Europe, as in Table 284.

And as this eminent Family has given Emperors to Germany, it has at last produced the present Royal Family of Great Britain descended from King JAMES VI. of Scotland and I. of England, whose Daughter ELIZABETH Queen of Bohemia was the Mother of the Princess SOPHIA Electrice of Hanover the first Protestant Heir and Mother of King GEORGE I. the Father of King GEORGE II. and the present Queen of Prussia.

1. Frederic Son of the Emperor CONRAD III Table 219.

2. Canute Son of WALDEMAR I. King of Denmark. Table 187.

II. HENRY V. the Lyon born 1129. Duke of Saxony 1139. recover'd Bavaria 1156. when Henry Jasemargott relinquish'd it, as in Table 223. and it was conferred on HENRY the Lyon by the Emperor FRIDERIC Barbarossa. He conquer'd Mecklenburg and Lauenburg from the Slaves, and became so Great, that he was wont to say in Ostentation,

*HENRY the Lyon is my Name,
Thro' all the Earth I spread my Fame,
For from the Elb unto the Rhine,
From Hartz unto the Sea, All's mine.*

*HENRICH der Low bin ich genant
In aller Tadel und Meit bekant,
Von den Elbe bis an den Rhein,
Vom Hartz bis an die See, war mein.*

See the Chronicle of Julius, Pag 310.

But neglecting his Benefactor the Emperor Barbarossa, and confederating with the Pope against him, the said Emperor proscribed him A. D. 1180. and by the help of the neighbouring Princes that were envious of Henry's Grandeur, the Emperor depriv'd him of Saxony and Bavaria 1182. WILLIAM with the large Foat reign'd alone over Lüneburg after his Brother Otto's Death, to which he granted many Privileges, and in him ended the lineal Male Issue of JOHN the Handsome; which occasion'd much Contest about his Succession; for the Emperor CHARLES IV. espoused the Pretensions of Otto Duke of Saxony, WILLIAM's Son-in-Law, to which WILLIAM at first consented. But seeing Lewis his other Son-in-Law the Son of Magnus Pius Duke of Braunschweig, and Brother of Torquatus had a better Right by vertue of his Descent from ALBERT the Great the Brother of JOHN the Handsome, WILLIAM declared Lewis his Heir upon his Marriage 1355. upon which Homage was paid him by the Cities and States, and he was publicly owned as Duke; and after him it was to go to his Brother Magnus Torquatus Duke of Braunschweig. But the Emperor CHARLES
IV. patroniz'd Otto of Saxony, and Lewis dying before his Father-in-Law without Heirs, a bloody War ensued between Torquatus and Otto and his Son Albert for the Succession of Lüneburg, in which Tor-quatus was worsted, and the Emperor CHARLES IV. put WILLIAM under the Ban of the Empire, who † 23
